GOLD CASKET TO HOLD ADDRESS

Splendid Piece of Workmanship Wrought Out in Gold, Silver and Enamel, Bearing Numerous Designs.

MONTREAL, July 21.— The gold casket which is to contain the address of the city of Quebec to the Prince of Wales at the Tercentenary is of special interest, not only on account of its artistic merits but because it is claimed that it is the first piece of decorative gold and enamel work of this size and class ever executed in Canada in all its phases.

The casket is ten and a half inches high, and about seven and a half long and deep. With a view of permanent utility, the Quebeckers have had it lined with cedar, which will make it available for an excellent cigar box.

The top bears a medallion portrait of Champlain from authoritative sources, executed in enamel painting upon enamel over silver, surrounded by a plain frame of gold, with the enamel lettering, "Champlain, 1603," and that in turn surrounded by gold laurel wreath and maple leaves.

The front bears three enamel decorations. The center one is a heraldic picture of Quebec, in the guise of a togaed matron, seated at the foot of her impending cliff, with the fortifications, and a ship in the background. She has the horn of plenty in her right hand, the left is extended in welcome, the Canadian beaver reposes at her feet, with a beehive and a shield bearing what is stated to be the coat of arms granted to the city by the crown of France, a lion holding a key, in token that Quebec is the key of Canada. The enamel inscription is "Condita Quebeconse, A. D. MCVIII., Civitatis Regimine Donata, A. D. MDCCCXXXII." A gold laurel wreath surrounds the medallion, twined with the motto, "Natura fortis industria crescit," and surmounted by a mural crown. Beneath is a ribbon reading, "IIIe. Centenaire de Quebec, 1908."

To the left of this are the "Ich Dien," and grey ostrich feathers of the Prince of Wales in enamel, and to the right the Prince's coat of arms, which are the royal coat of arms with two additional signs imposed upon them in extra relief—the peculiar bar indicative of the eldest son across the chief, and the arms of the House of Hanover in the center of the shield. The crown above is the same as the King's except for the absence of the gold inside.

On the right hand side of the casket is an enamel of Champlain's well-known drawing of his first "habitation" at Quebec, within a frame of mussel-shells in gold, with gold laurel leaves and ribbon.

On the left is a similar enamel of the Don de Dieu, Champlain's ship.

The back bears the presentation inscription in gold lettering on blue enamel—a very fine piece of work, in an ornate frame of pierced old scroll work, with maple leaves in the corner.

The dedication reads:

"Addesse des citoyens de Quebec a Son Altesse Royale le Prince de Galles. Presentee le 23 Juillet, 1908, a l'Ouverture Officielle des Fetes du IIIe Centenaire de la Fondation de Quebec par Samuel de Champlain."

The casket rests on feet of eagle's claws clasping a ball at each corner, and the corners of the box are decorated from top to bottom with acanthus leaves. The whole decoration is in gold with the exception of the enamel, which is in rich color, and the general effect is most impressive.

Aquiri

40,051

Aquiri is a beautifully gaited, level-headed natural born trotter. The rich inheritance of speed and all other race winning qualities that he has received from both Sire and Dam should enable him to become the most successful Sire of early and extreme race-winning speed in the Maritime Provinces. Most of the disappointments in breeding trotters are the results of foals throwing back as it is termed, and inheriting the characteristics of some no-account ancestor, three or four and sometimes even more generations away. Not a single no-account animal can be found among the ancestors of Aquiri, hence when a foal by him inherits the characteristics of some of his remote ancestor it cannot be otherwise.

You can get a living foal from Aquiri the coming Sire of futurity winners) for only $15 $10.00 cash when mare is bred.
