LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

Dear Mrs. Smith:—The W. M. S. of the United Church of Cavendish wish to express their heartfelt sympathy for you, in the great loss which you have recently sustained.

Mrs. Irving will be greatly missed in the home, the church, the Sunday School, and the Missionary Society of which she was a charter member. The offices of President and vice-president she held for several years, where she was always a faithful member, a willing worker, cheerfully and patiently performing her duties. While we sympathize with you and your father we feel that words fail to express our feelings at such a time.

Graced on behalf of the W. M. S. Grace Bishop, Pres. Mary MacNeill, Secy. Jennie McKenzie, Treas.

In Memoriam

MRS. JOHN T. MACLEOD

In the early hours of the morning of October 28th, there passed on to the Higher Life a much respected resident of New Glasgow, P. E. I., in the demise of Mary, the beloved wife of John T. MacLeod.

Mrs. MacLeod was the daughter of the late George and Agnes Smith, and was born seventy-four years ago at New Glasgow. She was of a most kindly and lovable disposition, and through all the years of girlhood and womanhood spent in her native village had won the undying respect and admiration of her many acquaintances.

In the home her whole-hearted hospitality, her perennial smile, her constant and unselfish devotion to her family, and her highest ideals of Christian character and service, will ever stand out as a pattern of beauty, imprinted on the minds and hearts of those who are left.

Besides her devoted husband she leaves to cherish a fond mother's memory one son, and two daughters, Rev. W. J. MacLeod, of New Glasgow, Mrs. J. E. Haslam of Springfield, and Mrs. Ernest MacNeill of Cavendish. The remaining sisters are Mrs. James Arthur, of North Rustico, and Mrs. Eldon E. MacKay, of New Glasgow, and one brother, W. W. Smith, of Summerside. Three sisters and one brother pre-deceased her.

The funeral was held from the residence on Wednesday, Oct. 30th. The Rev. Mr. Bishop, pastor of the United Church, of which she was a member, conducted the service, and was assisted by The Rev. Mr. Armstrong, of New Glasgow, and the Rev. Mr. Chapman of Hunter River.

In response to a request of the deceased made some years ago, the Rev. John Stirling of Montague, a former pastor was present and gave a very helpful address comparing the departed to the Psalmist who said: "I have set the Lord always before me; because he is at my right hand I shall not be moved."

Mr. F. W. E. Haslam, of Springfield, sang very feelingly: "He wipes the tear from every eye."

The funeral cortege to the New Glasgow cemetery nearby, testified to the large place the deceased held in the hearts of the people from far and near. While the autumnal rays of the setting sun glistened on the home of so many years, and on the open grave on the hillside, she was tenderly laid to rest beside her two daughters, Evelyn and Marion, and one son, Melvin, who had gone before her.

Gathering home, gathering home, Crossing the river one by one, Gathering home, gathering home, Yes, one by one.

The pall bearers were James Arthur, Eldon E. McKay, James Andrews, Dewitt Brown, Allan Moffat and Kenneth MacLeod. The floral tributes were beautiful and consisted of a crescent from W. W. Smith, a spray from the New Glasgow Women's Institute, a wreath and crescent from Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haslam, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacNeill, and a pillow from the family.

MRS. MARY IRVING

On Wednesday, October 30th there passed from this world one whose departure meant not only sorrow for her immediate friends and relatives, but also a great loss to the work of God's Kingdom. Mrs. Mary Irving, the daughter of the late Alexander Laird and Jane Lockerby Laird, was born in Cavendish during the month of October 1858. For a number of years after the death of her father she lived in Charlottetown, and while there was closely connected with the work of Zion church.

In 1911 she married the late James Irving of Richibucto, N. B., and lived there with her husband until his demise. Since 1921 she has lived in Cavendish at the home of her brother, Mr. John Laird, and her niece, Mrs. Wesley Smith.

The late Mrs. Irving was one whose life was constantly overflowing with Christian zeal and a great love for the church of God. A Presbyterian before the Union of 1925, she carried with her into the United Church her unquenchable ardor for the advancement of His Kingdom. For many years Mrs. Irving was president of the local Women's Missionary Society, of which she was a charter member and a tower of strength. As a faithful member of the choir she delighted to sing His praise, and as a teacher of a class of girls in the Sunday school she endeavored to mould young lives according to the principles and teaching of Jesus Christ. Her greatest joy was to labor for her Master.

In August of this year her health began to fail, and despite the efforts of loved ones and the medical profession, she rapidly grew worse until her spirit was taken to the realm where there is no more pain or sorrow. As she realized her life was nearing the end her soul was filled with great faith and peace, and she eagerly looked forward to the time of her departure.

"Fold up the tent!
I hear a clear voice calling, calling clear—
'To rest! To rest!
And I am glad to go,
For the sweet oil is low,
And rest is best."

The funeral was held at the home on Friday, November 1st, and was conducted by Rev. H. S. Bishop, minister of the Cavendish United Church. The sermon was based upon the words of "I am the resurrection and the life he that believeth in me, tho he were dead yet shall he live." "A solo, 'Sometimes We'll Understand'" was sung by Mrs. Chester Simpson of Malpeque.

Three brothers are left to mourn: John, of Cavendish; Rev. George, of Broadview, Sask.; William, in Vancouver. A brother David, and a half-brother James predeceased her. Her only full sister was the late Mrs. Albert Laird of New Glasgow, P. E. I.; two half sisters being the late Mrs. William Simpson, Malpeque; and the late Mrs. Janet Graham, Boston.

Flowers were received from the following: present: Fred and Mimmie, spray Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Smith, wreath the girls of her Sunday School class, spray the Avonlea Women's Institute, and spray the Cavendish Women's Missionary Society.

Hampton and Vicinity

The light snowfall and cold wind of Monday night reminds us of the fact that old man Winter is lurking just around the corner, and with Christmas just five weeks away we are already beginning to hear talk of Santa Claus amongst the younger folks and the older ones are looking serious as they think of the gift problem.

Mr. Webster Marchbank and young son of Montrose are visiting in Hampton the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dixon. His many friends here are pleased to see him again and renew old friendships.

Mr. Mark Cameron, Hampton, is enlarging his fox ranch and intends in the near future to go in for fox farming on a larger scale.

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Patrick, DeSable, who is well past the four score mark, are pleased to know that she is still able to enjoy a buggy ride, and is at present visiting friends in Hampton.

The new hall at Crapaud, which is nearing completion, will be a splendid addition to this thriving village. The Masons are looking forward with pleasure to the holding of their annual banquet in this very up-to-date building.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Dan McNeill, DeSable, on the fifty-fourth anniversary of their wedding day.

Mr. Stanley Stewart has returned to Victoria after convalescing at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Wallace Stewart, Amherst, N.S., for the past few weeks. Stanley is always willing to take part in the various activities of the community and his friends here are much pleased to see him return.

The writer understands that a number of the residents of Victoria intend installing radios. No doubt they will enjoy some splendid entertainments of a high class order.

Yeo's movies, which are shown in Victoria Hall every Wednesday night are well patronized. People around these parts interested in this line of amusement are looking forward to hearing the "Talkies" which are to be shown in Charlottetown at an early date. All depends on the condition of the roads, which are at present wonderfully good.

Friends round and about here were pained to hear of the sad news from the Canadian West of the death of Mrs. Pierce, Trowsdale, who died from shock a few days after receiving the horrifying news that her two young grand-children had been burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home. The youngest, a child of about one year, was saved by the hired man, who was asleep in the house with the children. The fire had made such headway before they became awakened that he had barely time to escape with his own life and that of the youngest child, the other two perishing in the flames. The mother and father were away at the time. Mrs. Trowsdale and her husband, before moving West, resided in Victoria for a number of years, and friends here deeply deplore her death. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones in their double sorrow.

Auto riding is indeed a great pleasure when all goes well, but the other night when one of our local sports was seen limping sadly homeward, towed by a horse and cart, we cannot help but think there is always something "taking the joy out of life." A few days before this another of our good sports had to call upon the good old horse to take him back home also, which goes to show that in our day of fast flying machines the horse can still take his place. Cheer up, boys, nothing so bad but what it might be worse.

The severe earth tremor of Monday evening was noticeably felt by a large number of the residents of these localities. Dishes rattled in the cupboards, pictures were shaken and various other articles swayed, showing signs which caused some alarm. H

London Sale Of Fox Skins

C. M. Lampton & Co., Ltd., report as follows:—

We have the pleasure in giving here-with Report on our Public Sale of Silver and Cross Fox Skins, just concluded.

SILVER FOX. As is usual at this time of the year the offering was not an attractive one, containing no fine skins and a large proportion of somewhat stale and inferior kinds.

Owing to the exceedingly unsatisfactory financial conditions at present prevailing all over the world, the demand for Silver Fox Skins, in common with most other furs, was not good, and we were only able to dispose of the offering at a considerable decline on the price realized at the Sale in May.

The decline was most marked in the case of the poorer sorts. We feel fairly confident, however, that had we offered any really fine skins they would have again sold well and would have brought prices only slightly lower than those realized in the Springs.

The inferior kinds, of which the Catalogue contained a large proportion, were distinctly neglected and these are in some cases almost unsaleable.

As to the future, it is exceedingly difficult at this time to make any reliable forecast, as so much depends on the quantity of skins available next year. We believe, however, that the demand for this popular fur is likely to continue, especially for the finer skins. The level of prices, however, will undoubtedly be somewhat lower than that ruling during last Season.

The following are the detailed results of the Sale, prices being compared with our May Sale:—

Total number of skins offered, 1,550

Black: Declined 10%; number of skins sold, 33; average price, £9; highest price, £14.

Slight Silvery: Declined 25%; number of skins sold, 86; average price, £9; highest price, £15.

¼-Silvery: Declined 10%; number of skins sold, 212; average price, £14; 10: 0; highest price, £24.

½-Silvery: Declined 25%; number of skins sold, 306; average price, £17; 10: 0; highest price, £21.

¾-Silvery: Declined 20%; number of skins sold, 306; average price £18 10: 0; highest price, £22.

Silvery: Declined 25%; number of skins sold, 95; average price, £16; highest price £28.

Inferior sorts: Declined 40%; number of skins sold, 383; average price, £4; highest price, £12; 10: 0.

CROSS FOX, of which the collection was small, sold well and were only slightly lower than at the Spring Sales.

The Dark skins, as usual, were in best request and brought full May prices.

The average price realized for Canadian skins was about £9 10s., the highest price being £24. The next Sale of Silver Fox Skins will take place about February 17th, 1930.

Nearly 6,000,000 telegrams were transmitted in Mexico during the last Fiscal year.
