3 MESQUITEERS AT CAPITOL

ROBERT LIVINGSTON, BOB STEELE, RUFFE DAVIS IN "UNDER TEXAS SKIES"

There are those of us, and it is questionable if we in the minority, who want the old-fashioned down-to-earth entertainment, with no frills but plenty of excitement, it's next to impossible to beat the plain old Western pitcher, better known some places as a horse open. Anyway, that UNDER TEXAS SKIES, starring those Three Mesquiteers, Robert Livingstone, Bob Steele, and Ruffe Davis, which started yesterday at the Capitol Theatre and continues today and Saturday.

Those sons of the saddle are off to new adventures in the west as they challenge the organized might of a rangeland dictator! There's shooting, fighting, comedy, and music. More couldn't be given, so don't miss UNDER TEXAS SKIES, starring the Three Mesquiteers at the Capitol.

The Capitol's program also includes the LAST chapter of 'The Adventures of Red Ryder,' a comedy, and a Popeye cartoon entitled, 'Popeye Meets William Tell.' Shows at the Capitol are at 2.30, 7.00, and 8.45.

The Capitol Theatre management tells us they are looking forward with keen anticipation to their new serial starting next week, "JUNIOR G-MEN," starring the Dead End Kids, and the little Tough Guys. Sure sounds like something!

Review Red Shield War Services Dept.

TORONTO, Jan. 2.—Canadians in uniform in Canada, Iceland, Newfoundland and overseas, visited the Salvation Army's Red Shield war service centres 5,649,423 times from the date these were opened after the outbreak of war till October 31st, 1940. It is revealed today in a report issued here by Brigadier Wm. Dray, secretary of the war service department.

The first Red Shield centre for this war was opened at Edmonton, September 28th, 1939. On November 30th last year 93 had been built or acquired, equipped, staffed and placed in operation at various military camps and training centres across Canada. Also, as at November 30th, 1940, 90 were supplied in 1939 and 1940 by the auxiliary service supervisors with the first and second divisions Overseas. Twelve mobile canteens had been put in service "over there" and the "West Central Hotel" had been opened for Canadian troops in London, England.

Total actual expenditure by the Red Shield department to November 30th, 1940, had amounted to $238,927. Another estimated $189,052 will be required to complete the financing of this department alone till March 31, 1941, according to Brig. Dray.

Items in the above total of over half a million actual expenditure include: wool and materials for soldier comforts and evacuee clothing, $28,751.18; Overseas services to Canadian troops, $176,249.22; buses and canteens in Canada, $259,298.95; film service, $2,513.74; mobile canteens, $12,000; emergency assistance, $2,502.59; hostels, houses for soldiers' wives or relatives visiting them in strange cities, $20,336.74; and stationery for troops, $15,327.62.

Up to the end of October last year, Canadian soldiers in use 7,358,875 sheets of letter paper and 5,652,430 envelopes in writing to relatives or friends from Red Shield service centres of the Salvation Army.

For the same period, 8,475 articles of clothing, sweaters, socks, mitts and so forth, had been given free to soldiers who asked for them, and 2,351 articles of clothing had been mended or adjusted in Red Shield service centre sewing rooms manned by volunteer women.

Free meals, refreshments, chocolate bars, coffee, and other refreshments had been given free of charge to 2,297 Canadian boys, and 227 family problem cases had been dealt with through war service officers only.

Outdoor games to the total of 1,097 events had been staged under the direction of Salvation Army officers with the troops, and 2,383 indoor events had been arranged in the 83 centres. For the same period, 367 religious services, 402 concerts and 313 movies had been offered, with total attendance in each case of 87,986, 167,649 and 153,083 respectively.

Twenty-seven libraries have been established in connection with war service centres, and 15,998 books were in circulation for this period. Twenty-five thousand, four hundred and fifty-four magazines and 6,227 newspapers were distributed.

"Remember, of course, that these figures apply only to our new department set up as a result of the war. In peacetime, we have 421 centres, 564 "outposts" or centres, 74 social institutions and 69 schools throughout Canada, and these are all doing their share to take care of the added burden that war brings to our social life," Brig. Dray concluded.

FORECAST U.S. Factories will Break records

(By Claude A. Jagger, Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(AP)—United States mills and factories in 1941 will turn out a volume of goods breaking all past boom-time records. That is the almost unanimous prediction of economists, business analysts and forecasters as the country enters the new year.

It is not a difficult prediction to make, they say, since the production records of glittering 1929 were broken in 1935 as measured by Federal Reserve Board statistics. And it is not improbable, in the opinion of some, that national income may hit over the golden peaks of fabulous 1929.

The reserve board's index of production for 1940 is expected to show an average of approximately 121 per cent of the 1935-39 average, but for December alone is estimated around 135. The 1929 average was 110.

The national income for 1940 is placed at about $74,000,000,000, nearly 11 per cent over 1929, but the general price level during the last year has been about 16 per cent below that of 11 years ago.

If industrial output is kept at an accelerating clip in 1941, and if the price level, lately inclined to rise, works higher, it is not beyond the realm of probability, some analysts say, that a record dollar level of national income might be reached by the end of the year.

Yet all qualify predictions by pointing out that the current business cycle is fired by the billions of British and American arms spending, and that it is not technically influenced by the fortunes of war.

Defeat of Britain, many say, would offset Britain's aid, but presumably the United States would accelerate even the present defence measures to protect itself in a totalitarian world. British arms orders would no doubt be quickly taken over.

A British victory is generally expected to take time. What some refer to as an "outbreak of peace" is not figuring much in calculations, for any peace that the forecasters can foresee in the near future, they say, would presumably be an armed truce, in which arms-making would go on apace.

A real peace with disarmament would bring up the vast problems of transition from wartime to peacetime economy.

THE UNION JACK

Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
That you rest beneath its folds;
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
That your allegiance binds.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
That waves o'er nations free;
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
Where it lies there's liberty.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
That floats o'er land and sea.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
The herald of victory.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
The grand old Union Jack.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
On it will you turn your back?
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
The banner of the free;
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
The symbol of unity.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
Emblem of Britain's might.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
As it waves in Freedom's light.
Three cheers for the flag of Britain.
Ye Canadians one and all;
Ye are no dictators thrall.
O.E.E.

SILVER FOX BRINGS GOOD PRICES. Silver fox and mink raw furs, which were on exhibition at the Mount Royal Hotel 10 days ago, on behalf of the Silver Fox Breeders' Association of Canada, were sold by auction Monday at the Bleury street premises of Montreal Fur Sales Company, Limited. A spokesman for the firm reported: "The furs were sold 10 per cent with American buyers taking most of the offerings. Prices ranged from $64 to $175 per skin, which was 50 per cent higher than expected. There was very keen competition on the part of the buyers."

FAREWELL PARTY. On Saturday night, Dec. 28th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Creve, of the community of Sealton, gathered to tender a farewell party in honor of Gunner Eldon Sobey who, after twenty-five years of service, leaves on Monday to rejoin the 105th unit in the R. C. A. at St. Stephen, N. B. A suitable address was read by Mr. Frank Bell and Mr. Neil Bradshaw presented Mr. Sobey with a lovingly written set to which he fittingly replied. Games and instrumental music whittled away the evening after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. A vote of thanks was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Creve for the use of their home, and the party dispersed to the homes wishing Eldon the best of luck.

IN MEMORIAM
STANLEY ALEXANDRA NICHOLSON

There passed away suddenly at Otwell Cove on Dec. 11th, Stanley Alexandra Nicholson son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Nicholson, aged 2 1/2 months.

He had been quite well until a few days before his passing and all that medical skill and loving nursing could do was of no avail. He went to be with Jesus who said: Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. The funeral took place on Thursday, Dec. 12th, the service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Wadland. The hymns sung were, Safe in the Arms of Jesus and When He Cometh the little body was laid to rest in Belfast Cemetery.

A sorrowing father and mother and two brothers Donald and Glenn, mourn the loss of a loved one.

IN MEMORIAM
"Ah, those little Irish mothers passing from us one by one who will write the noble story of the good that they have done? All their children may be scattered and their fortunes windward hurried. But the memories of their charity and their love 'round the world."

Such thoughts as these must have filled the minds of many of our many friends who knelt in silent prayer around the mortal remains of the grand old lady who had passed to her eternal reward on November 3rd, at the advanced age of 96 years.

Mrs. E. E. McQuaid, a native of St. Teresa's, P. E. I., was a much-loved character in the parish where she was born and where she spent her many, beautiful years of a Christian life. Her intelligent mind, keen wit, her humorous touch of the "blarney" and above all, the warm simple affection with which she met young and old, in joy or in sorrow, endeared her to all.

Recall the hospitality with which they were received in former days in the old home at the corner and the cup of tea which never failed to see that Irish welcome.

Her husband, James, and three of her children, Patrick, Rose and Sister St. Veronika, S. M. D., predeceased her. Five of the family remain to mourn her loss: Sister Mary Rufina, Minnesota; Peter, Michael and Annie (Mrs. McCabe), Boston; and Margaret (Mrs. Joseph Cullen), St. Teresa's West. One sister, Mrs. Thomas Murray, is still living.

Life Insurance Will Aid National Security

TORONTO, December 31.—Not only does life insurance enter upon the New Year as Canada's greatest single contributor to national war funds, but its 9,500,000 active policy owners continue to express their confidence in it as a bulwark of individual and national security.

In 1940, the life insurance industry in Canada, through the Canadian Life Lancer, President of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association and Managing Director of the Continental Life Insurance Company, expressed satisfaction today at the splendid position maintained by life insurance in Canada, under all the exigencies and demands of the greatest war in history.

While contributing in due measure to war finance, life insurance in Canada during the past twelve months has returned to its policyholders an estimated $165,000,000, of which some $47,000,000 only was paid in cash claims. Mr. Lander announced: "The balance went to living policyholders for matured endowments, annuity and disability claims, dividends, etc. Were it not for the savings represented by life insurance, the danger of many people becoming burdens upon the state would be greatly increased, he stated. "The payments constituting a contribution to public welfare which continues to run well in excess of the total paid by federal, provincial and municipal governments for unemployment and other relief."

"Despite twelve months of war and the increasing pressure of taxation, savings represented by life insurance continued to grow. Life insurance in force in all companies operating in Canada—Dominion, Provincial and the Dominion Life—reached a new high of over seven billion dollars; and total sales of new insurance in 1940—life, group and industrial—were only a fraction of one percent under those for the preceding twelve months and totalled, on a conservative estimate, well over $600,000,000.

"The Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association represents practically every life insurance company in Canada, British and American—doing business in Canada and the co-operation through-out the Dominion of individual members of the company staffs at Headquarters in Toronto, presents a great contribution to a vital part of government financing. A large share of the success of launching and continuing the nation-wide sale of War Savings Certificates must be credited to the voluntary efforts of life insurance men. They have given unstintingly of their time especially in the development of the War Savings Plan."

The very ownership of life insurance is an indication of the thrift which it is only good sense that should be urged upon all Canadian citizens on the home front at this time and I am confident that policyholders will continue to help the nation to war effort which is represented by the virtue of thrift. They will, I am sure, increase their holdings in War Savings Certificates as well as take care of their income tax obligations, and maintain their insurance protection in full force in the new year. The eight months' payment of the bonus by the Dominion Government will be hoped to enable Canadian citizens to meet their income tax payments from current income, without drawing upon resources already set aside for the protection of their families and for provision for their own old age."
