

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS CONVENTION

Orders From Three Maritime Provinces And Newfoundland Meet in Moncton.

(Canadian Press)

MONCTON, Aug. 7.—Oddfellows and Rebekahs from various sections of the three Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland converged on Moncton today for the 76th annual session of the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., and the 31st annual session of Rebekah Assembly.

Today's sessions were in the nature of preliminary meetings in preparation for the business of the conventions which will officially open tomorrow.

This evening the trustees of the Maritime Oddfellows Home at Picotou met to receive the annual reports of the home, while a committee of the Grand Lodge also held a session at which reports were received showing the Grand Lodge to be in a sound financial position.

A special session of the Rebekah Assembly was also held this evening at which Mrs. Ruby Houle, Charlottetown, President of the Assembly, presided. The session was for the purpose of receiving candidates in the assembly and about 100 received the assembly degree, Miss Mable Taylor, Moncton, Grand Warden, giving the charge to the candidates.

The Rebekah Assembly will hold its first regular session tomorrow morning.

THE DYING ROSE

To mark the dying rose that falls decaying to the ground; I think to human hearts it calls, 'Thou' fave heard the sound: 'So passes man's brief sojourn here, Today life's rose will bloom, Tomorrow, marred by time and care, He hastens to the tomb.'

Let all our thoughts be kind and good, Since life's brief day soon goes; And may we learn as Christians should, A lesson from the rose.

Pacific Nations Debate Problems

BAIRDF, Alta., Aug. 7.—(C.P.)—Firmly of the belief that only through informal discussion can a basis of international understanding be arrived at, the fifth biennial meeting of the Institute of Pacific Relations will meet here Aug. 20 to 28. The institute embraces all nations bordering on the Pacific and was founded in Hawaii in 1925. The Institute has gained the position of being the most important unofficial discussion centre of Pacific problems.

In the last eight years the institute's meetings have promoted a greater feeling of international understanding. National organizations in each of the countries will send representatives here. Great Britain is represented by the Royal Institute of International Affairs, Canada and Australia by their Institutes of International Affairs while other countries have formed councils of the Institute. Soviet Russia, also to be represented, sponsors its delegation officially insofar as financing is concerned. Others are backed by subscription.

At biennial meetings results of continuous research are presented for approval. To the conference is entrusted the work of knitting together research of half a dozen countries during the intervening years. This year the major topic to be discussed will be "Economic Conflict and Control in the Pacific." No findings are made at the conference nor are any results announced. The discussions are purely informative and at all times frank and candid.

Round table discussions upon the fact of conflict and the different forms in which it emerges will be followed by discussion of the international machinery now in existence or to be formed which can adjust differences of view and solve the emergent problems. Canada, acting as host for the first time since the institute's foundation will be well represented by men prominent in both political and social life. Included in a delegation 30 strong will be Rt. Hon. N. W. Rowell, K. C., Sir Robert Falconer,

HEADACHE SUFFERERS

How Many of the Ordinary Tablets do You Take to Relieve a Headache or a Pain?

Some take as many as six tablets at a time; there are cases where as many as a dozen tablets are taken to relieve a headache or a pain. It is not necessary to take that many if you take the better tablets. Why not use ASCO tablets?

ASCO tablets are only double in size but are many times more effective than the ordinary five grain tablets. All you need is one or two ASCO tablets to relieve the most violent Headache, racking Neuralgia, Rheumatic and other pains, including periodic pains; just one or two ASCO—that's all you need. You will find ASCO tablets amazingly better—quick and safe—no harmful or habit forming drugs, does not produce gas on stomach as the others do.

If you are a user of headache or pain tablets—switch to ASCO. These tablets will help where others fail, because every safe pain-soothing and pain removing ingredient known to modern science is in them.

ASCO tablets are for sale by all reliable druggists and dealers in Red, White and Blue boxes also in trial packets. Be sure to get the genuine ASCO, each tablet is stamped A-S-C-O.

UNEMPLOYED MEN DISCUSS SITUATION

Unemployed men held a largely attended meeting last evening at the Union hall. The meeting was called to order by Mr. D. Coughlin, Chairman. Mr. Coughlin reported an interview with the Mayor on Saturday morning. Mayor Stewart had told the committee that the Councilors had voted $120,000 for the city to distribute each month.

This amount, with the Government's share, would mean an expenditure of $360,000. The city had not asked for an increase as yet. His Worship said he had not the authority to increase this amount, if an increase were needed the city would have to apply to the council.

The Mayor was willing to call a meeting any time that the Councilors would ask him. The Mayor would not commit himself by saying whether or not the Council would vote any increase at the present time. Mr. Coughlin explained that the Mayor appeared willing to talk the matter over and leave it entirely to the Council to deal with. He was not going to take all the blame if the amount voted for relief was not sufficient, but he expected that expenses for this purpose should be curtailed as much as possible for the summer months as the city finances were in a bad condition at present. The report was unanimously adopted.

Several speakers then took part in the meeting. There were several complaints about applicants being refused by clergymen and in some of those cases the applicants were on the point of starvation. Other complaints were that the amount of groceries given were by no means sufficient. The meeting was becoming very noisy and the chairman had some trouble in keeping the meeting under control. Some men suggested an unemployment parade, others wanted a rough demonstration. The meeting, however, proceeded to appoint some committees and order prevailed. Everyone present favored more relief for the unemployed.

The committees were requested to investigate when a needy applicant was refused relief. Another matter reported was non-residents of the city coming in and working at the building of houses, etc, while city carpenters and laborers were idle. The meeting then adjourned.

CONCLUDING SESSIONS OF CONVENTION

Final Meeting of Churches of Christ Convention Held Sunday Evening at Summerside.

The third day of the Convention of the Prince Edward Island Churches of Christ in the Summerside Christian Church opened with the Bible School, presided over by the Superintendent, Mr. Amos Hubby.

Mrs. Ora Leigh Shepherd and Mr. H. B. Kilgour addressed the classes in two groups.

At eleven o'clock the usual church service opened with a duet by Mrs. Edwin Estey and Mr. Sharp. Pastor W. L. Outhouse of Charlottetown preached the Convention sermon, taking as his subject, "Excuses" and in an eloquent sermon pointed out that the world today is still making excuses for not listening to God's message and invitation to come to Him and partake of the Lord's Supper, and to assume the responsibilities of the Christian life.

At noon a large congregation received Communion. The table was presided over by Elders E. S. Norton, James MacCallum and A. P. Wells.

AFTERNOON SESSION

At two o'clock the Young People held their session, Mr. Theo Ling, the president who presided, gave some useful information on summer camps. The devotional period was led by Ira Crozier. The subject was Youth's loyalty to the teachings of Jesus.

Miss Irene Wyand, the secretary gave an excellent report on the year's work. The secretaries of the different young people's classes also gave encouraging reports.

A solo by Mr. Benjamin Schurman closed that part of the proceedings.

Mrs. Ora L. Shepherd delivered an address on foreign Missions. Miss Nan MacKay rendered a solo very pleasingly.

Rev. H. B. Kilgour, B. A., then spoke to the young people congratulating them on their work during the past year.

His address was an inspiration to the young people and gave them courage to face the world in spite of the distressing times through which the church is passing. He urged them to live up to the teachings of Christ, who lived for others and not for Himself; in so doing everyone will find his true self and find also happiness and peace and the worth-while things of life.

Resolutions were submitted for consideration. It was decided to hold the Young People's annual convention at Cross Roads on the first Saturday and Sunday of October, the final decision as to place to rest with the executive.

EVENING SESSION

Sunday evening the devotional service was conducted by Mr. G. A. Jeffrey, whose subject was Loyalty to our attendance at the Lord's Table.

This was followed by the report of the Felicitations Committee who brought in the following resolutions:

The thanks of the Convention to the Summerside Church for their hospitality; Thanks to the press for their publicity; to the visiting speakers for their eloquent addresses and to all those who had contributed in music and song to make this convention a success. Solo by Miss Amanda Cannon.

Major McKay then introduced Dr. Corey the speaker of the evening.

Dr. Corey is an eloquent speaker and it is seldom that Summerside has the opportunity to listen to a man of his ability.

Representing the Church as a bride and chaste virgin, the bride of our Lord Jesus Christ, He explained that the Church is an individual and a personality, not a body of men as we are apt to think of it. The Church will not triumph until she has character. She must recover her Divinity, the Church is God, we are a part of God and that we must always remember. We must never forget the heritage of the past, the martyrs and those quiet people who work unobtrusively for their church; they have preserved the church for us. We must not worry too much about the younger generation. Each generation has had to stand on their own feet and the young people of today like their fathers and grand-

Lindbergh Faces Forced Stay In Greenland

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who is at Angmagssalik, Greenland, on an aerial mapping expedition, may encounter difficulty in leaving there on account of insufficient fuel supplies, reports from Greenland said today.

Fuel stores at Angmagssalik have been promised by the government to John Grierson, British aviator who was at Reykjavik, Iceland, on his leisurely flight from England to New York. Governor Oldendow fears supplies are not sufficient for both the Lindbergh and Grierson planes.

As a result of the situation, it is believed here that Colonel Lindbergh's projected trip to Iceland will be cancelled.

kind and it is for us as servants of the church to be up and doing, to find God in our lives, to do his will and to go to the ends of the world to bring the Kingdom of God to all mankind. We must have love if we are to have unity in the church.

We must realize the suffering of Christ upon the Cross. Suffering brings beauty and character into a face and before God's Church can triumph the suffering, the beauty and grandeur of the Cross must be put into every face on earth.

Dr. Corey closed his eloquent sermon with a short prayer and entreated the people to do their part to bring the Kingdom of God to all mankind.

The Central Street Christian Church Quartette closed the service with the hymn "Have Thine own way Lord." The congregation sang "Just As I Am," and the service closed with a Missal Service conducted by Major C. L. McKay.

SATURDAY EVENING SESSION

This session was devoted mostly to business. Pastor H. R. Bell of South Lake Church led a short devotional period. The resolutions were submitted and after some discussion adopted.

Major C. L. McKay presented his report of the years work, which was very encouraging. The speaker of the evening was Dr. John H. Booth who chose for his subject "The program and purpose of a Christian."

RESOLUTIONS

I. In as much as religious teaching is generally lacking in our public schools in the province. Be it resolved that a committee from this convention approach the necessary authorities with a view to encourage the reading of the Bible in our schools. And to approach other Christian bodies to enlist them in this effort.

II. It is recognized that a national Church paper is needed and whereas the Canadian Disciple has ceased to be published because of the lack of financial support we recommend that an honest effort be made to put in circulation such a journal.

III. This Committee goes on record as being quite in favor of the World's Convention of Churches of Christ in Leicester, England, and urge that it be given due publicity in our churches and conventions with the view of interesting as large a delegation as possible.

IV. This Convention declares itself decidedly in favour of an All Canada Convention in 1934.

V. We recommend that this Island Convention respond to the request of the Pension Fund leaders to appoint a committee on the Ministry by appointing the following as the Island Committee: E. S. Norton, Montague; M. F. Schurman, Summerside; Brenton Dickenson, New Glasgow; C. L. McKay, Charlottetown; M. Watterworth, Montague; W. L. Outhouse, Charlottetown; Miss Bertie Stewart, Charlottetown.

VI. We express ourselves emphatically in favor of a College of the Bible for the education of young men for the ministry. This Committee recommends highly the adoption of all our people of the cent a meal slogan and accept it as a practical project.

VIII. Be it resolved that this Convention go on record as advising strongly that the Ministers or leaders of the congregations keep other congregations informed as to the removal of their members to other communities or congregational charges.

AUSTRIA SEEKS INCREASE IN HER MILITIA

Vienna Govt. Asks Permission of Larger Poewers to Increase Military Strength.

(Associated Press)

ROME, Aug. 7.—Austria wants to increase her military strength and has privately asked the governments of the United Kingdom, France and Italy for permission to do so, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

Her present long-term professional army, the Austrian Government explained in making the petition, limits the number of young men doing military service very narrowly and thus reduces the national spirit among Austrian youth.

A much shorter enlistment period is desired by the Vienna Government in order that a larger number of men may serve in the army in successive classes, thus considerably increasing the number of trained men at any given time. The army strength of 30,000 prescribed by the treaty of St. Germain, would not be enlarged.

The Austrian authorities expressed the belief that building up the national spirit would assist Austria to maintain her independence and prevent the growth of sentiment toward Anschluss, or union with Germany.

The Anschluss argument, it was believed in well-informed circles, would be a strong argument with Great Britain, France and Italy in favor of granting the Austrian petition.

Lobster Season Extension

"As regards the extension of the lobster fishing season I have in fact received a good many requests from Prince Edward Island. But I may say that most of those requests were against the extension. The fishermen and packers of the province claim that the proposed extension would be most harmful as it proved to be in 1917 when it took four years for the fishery to recover. I have met a good many fishermen this afternoon at Rustico and I have found only one who favored the extension."

"I believe," Mr. Duranleau continued, "the Trade Treaty with France will be highly beneficial to the fishermen of the Atlantic Coast. All the reports we have received so far in Ottawa from various points lead us to believe that the Treaty will give us an important market for our lobsters in France."

The Federal Minister arrived in Charlottetown yesterday morning on the C. G. S. "Lady Grey," accompanied by Mrs. Duranleau, their sons Rene and Aime, and daughter Miss Claire, Mr. and Mrs. John Bumbray of Montreal, Miss Yvette Guertin, Mr. Wilfred Ducaup, and Mr. Pierre Vigeant, private secretary. They left at midnight by the "Lady Grey" for Tormentine. They will probably visit Moncton, Richibucto, Shediac and other Maritime centres before returning to Montreal, which port they left last Wednesday.

On arrival of the "Lady Grey" at the Marine Wharf at 9 a. m. yesterday the visiting Federal Minister was welcomed by a delegation consisting of Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M. P., Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, Mr. D. F. Bethune, M. L. A., Mr. W. A. Stewart, M. L. A., Farrell Fisher, George D. DeBlois and Farquhar McRae.

The party then called on His Honour Lieutenant Governor Dalton and visited the Confederation Chamber and other centres of interest in the city. Yesterday afternoon Hon. Mr. Duranleau, Mr. Duranleau, Jr., Mr. Bumbray and Mr. Ducaup were taken on a motor trip to North Rustico. The party included Hon. John A. Macdonald, M.P., Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P., Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, Acting Premier, Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, Minister of Public Works, Mr. David F. Bethune, M. L. A., and Mr. W. A. Stewart, M. L. A.

Visit To Rustico

At North Rustico the Federal Minister met and discussed with the fishermen the local problems connected with the industry. He was introduced by Mr. McLure, and made a short address in both French and English. He assured them that the Federal Department

Shows Increase In Number Of Guests

MONTEAL, Que., Aug. 7.—If guests continue to arrive at Jasper Park Lodge, Jasper, Alta., at the present rate, the great summer mountain resort will experience once of its best seasons. There has been a good list of new arrivals each day and many interesting bookings have been made. The comfortable and delightfully informal atmosphere that has always existed at Jasper Park Lodge continues to be a feature at this rendezvous in the heart of the Canadian Rockies. In referring to the popularity of Jasper Park Lodge, Walter Pratt, Jr., General Manager of Canadian National Hotels, Sleeping and Dining Cars, stated on his arrival in Wainipleg recently in commenting upon the tourist prospects at Jasper Park Lodge, "We are ahead of last year and our bookings for August and September are the most encouraging we have had in years. It is not so much the conventions holding up, but the big increase we have noticed in family holidays. Although the Totem Pole Golf Week is not until September 3rd, many well known players, already have sent in entries and, with the generally lower rates, we are quite confident that this year's event will bring out a larger list of players than the record year of 1932. The weather has been magnificent in the mountains lately and August looks like a record month."

existed to promote the best interests of the industry and as head of the Department the welfare of the fishermen was his first concern. It was both a privilege and pleasure to meet the fishermen of Prince Edward Island and to hear at first hand the nature of their problems and in what way they considered the Department could help them. Mr. James Blaquiere referred to the requests for a second lobster season, and said the fishermen of Rustico were not favourable to suggestion, as they believed it would not be in the interests of the industry.

Hon. Mr. Duranleau: "Are you unanimously against it?"

Mr. Blaquiere said he believed he spoke for nine out of ten fishermen of the vicinity.

Hon. Mr. Duranleau: "We have received petitions for and against the second season. Those who are against it say that it would injure the future of the industry, that the market would be damaged for three or four years and that it would lower the price of your fish. We have others who are asking for it because they claim that the season was not very good and that they need it for their living. The question is a very important one. Two or three weeks ago I discussed the matter with my Deputy Minister and officials. We have not come to a conclusion yet. We shall have to weigh all the circumstances pro and con, and we will give a decision in a few days. I will take into consideration the fact that the majority of fishermen at Rustico are against the request for a second season."

Mr. Duranleau: "I respect the opinion of everybody, I shall be very pleased to grant any reasonable request that will help you in your livelihood. On the other hand, I would not like to do something that would injure your industry for years to come. I may say that in other parts of the Province and in Nova Scotia we have had requests for a second season."

On return to Charlottetown the Minister and party visited the fox ranch of Messrs. McLure and MacKinnon, and were greatly interested in this feature of the trip.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Duranleau and party were guests of honour at an enjoyable dinner at Beach Grove Inn. Brief after-dinner addresses were made by Hon. Dr. MacMillan, Acting Premier, who presided; Hon. Mr. Duranleau, Hon. J. A. Macdonald, M. P., Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M. P., Mr. E. M. Bumbray, K. C., Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, Hon. H. F. McPhee, Mr. D. F. Bethune, M. L. A., Mr. A. Duranleau, Jr., Mr. W. A. Stewart, M. L. A., Mr. R. R. Bell.

The visiting Minister, in the course of his after dinner remarks, expressed the greatest pleasure at the outcome of his visit to Prince Edward Island. He commended the activities of Mr. McLure, whom he said he knew very well at Ottawa, as Mr. McLure was very often in his office on business connected with the Marine and Fisheries interests of his constituency. The Minister and party sailed by the "Lady Grey" at midnight for

Urge Payment Treaty Money

(Canadian Press)

REGINA, Aug. 7.—Several hundred Sioux Indians, fugitives and children of fugitives of the Custer massacre in the United States Indian wars last century, now living in Canada, are being urged to join their brothers still in the United States in a united effort to obtain $300,000 back treaty money. The Indians are members of the Sisseton Sioux, originally from South Dakota and now scattered over the western states, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

David Johnson, Fort Peck, Montana, Sioux, is now at the Standing Buffalo Reserve in the Qu'Appelle Valley. Executive board member of the Sioux Indians in his state he plans to organize Canadian members of the band. Their fight is based on the breaking of a treaty made in 1851 when the Sioux agreed to peace. They received nine payments of $10 a person. At that time there was 8,000 in the band.

"Everything was all right until war started over a silly little thing," Councilor Johnson explained. He speaks English excellently and has spent five years with the United States army in Mexican wars. "Three men of our tribe went to a house where the whites lived. One was to go and ask for something to drink. He went and they chased him away. But the others had gone into a barn and one happened to step on a nest and broke an egg.

"It just happened, that's all, but the whites shot at them. Then the white soldiers came, saw another band and shot them. Then war began. The Custer fight followed and resulted in the Indians being scattered. Many of them came across the border and settled here in Canada."

Standing Buffalo, survivor of the Custer massacre, died near Qu'Appelle a year ago. His son, Julius Standing Buffalo, is now chief. There are 160 members of the band on the Standing Buffalo Reserve under his charge. Griswold Man, has a band of 260; Pipestone, a band of 60 while another group is located at Birtle, Man.
