

CATARRH sufferers

Ask your druggist today about the

LANTIGEN "B"

TREATMENT FOR

CATARRH, SINUS AND ANTRUM TROUBLES

with resultant BRONCHITIS AND BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

He will tell you that these disorders are commonly due to a group of bacteria. Lantigen "B" is a solution of antigens derived from these bacteria. Taken as directed, it will help relieve present misery and build up your resistance to these infections.

LANTIGEN "B"

A dissolved vaccine to be taken by mouth

PRICE $6.00 PER BOTTLE

OBTAINABLE AT ALL DRUG STORES

Cook's Corner

CREAM CHEESE FROSTING FOR GINGERBREAD

1 package cream cheese
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Soften cheese with wooden spoon and blend with confectioner's sugar and grated orange rind. Spread on top of hot gingerbread just before serving.

WAFFLES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter
2 cups flaked or grated cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup milk
2 egg yolks
Combine butter, cheese and seasonings in top of double boiler and stir until cheese is melted. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating until thoroughly blended. Pour over hot waffles.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 cup bran
1/2 cup milk
1/3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 ounces (2 squares) unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
METHOD: Place the bran in a bowl and allow to stand for 5 minutes. Combine the soft shortening, sugar, salt and vanilla in a bowl and mix until very well blended. Add the eggs one at a time, and beat well after each addition. Stir in the chocolate which has been melted over hot water, then add the bran mixture. Beat until the mixture is smooth. Pour into a greased square cake pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F) for about 30 minutes.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Private Rev. M. Matheson, killed in Action on April 28th, 1915, in Leer, Germany.

Not a day do we forget him in our hearts he is always near. We who loved him, sadly miss him. As it dawns another year.

Lovingly Remembered by Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

$200 CASH EVERY MONTH

What's the misspelled word in this sentence?

CUE CANNOT IRRITATE GUMS
RULES: Send your answer to Cue, Dept. T, 64 Natalie St., Toronto 2. Every month the first ten correct entries drawn from all entries received each win $10 CASH—doubled to $20 if accompanied by a boxtop from Cue Dental Clinic. Send as many entries as you like.

CUE

Modern Liquid Dentifrice

CUE TASTES ORANGE—children love Cue's delicious taste and bright ruby-red colour.

CUE IS SAFE—no abrasives or irritants tender gums.

CUE SAVES MONEY—you need only 1-2 drops at a time to clean teeth, sweeten breath.

MAKES TEETH SPARKLE SWEETENS BREATH

20c 35c 50c

CENTRAL GUARDIAN

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a newsy nature may be inserted at five cents a word strictly pay-

JIMMIE'S TAXI. Phone 525.

HOWARD McINNIS' Fit. Footwear at 175 Queen Street.

CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE.

AT YOUR SERVICE, Arnaft Coal Company. Phone 2498.

MATINEE PERFORMANCE.—Time for "I Like It Here" will be 2:30 as advertised. Don't miss seeing the play of the year.

RED CROSS crippled children's clinics conducted by Dr. Acker at Red Cross House, Charlottetown, Tuesday, May 6; in Town Hall, Summerside, Friday, May 9. Adults contact Red Cross for appointments, other dates.

ISLANDERS PARTY—Mr. Finlay MacKinnon has returned to his home in Charlottetown after a successful business trip to Montreal and Toronto. On his way home he spent a few days in Boston visiting friends and relatives, and attended a party given by his sister, Mrs. Etta Drummond, in Newton Centre, where he renewed acquaintance with some old friends. Among those present were the following former Islanders: Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacLeod, formerly from Charlottetown; Miss Alma McLean, Kingsboro, P. E. I.; Mrs. Ethel Collins, Brookfield, P. E. I.; and Miss Annie MacDonald, O'Leary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tidmarsh, city, are visiting in Montreal.

THE STARS SAY—

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE For Tuesday, April 29

CONFLICTING sidereal operations point to this day as one demanding due preparation, with reasonable plans and objectives carried out by means of astute, shrewd, efficient and practical as well as constructive work. Pause to count the cost, not only in assets, outlay and resources but in physical energies and personal responsibility. Good work, sound principle and attention to detail should evoke staunch support from those in authority or financial standing, whence expanding dividends may be assured. Adversity, though whose birthday it is may enjoy an expansive, productive, and gratifying year, with special rewards or recognition for work well and astutely done, possibly against discouragement or want of cooperation. Keen insight and initiative may break this down, with public as well as private prestige and popularity, assuring growth, influential contacts and social as well as sentimental values of lasting worth and happiness. A child born on this day will have much ability and ambition, attaining position and prestige through its own shrewd efforts.

LAKEVILLE AND VICINITY

A very enjoyable evening was spent at Elmira Hall on March 17, when Lakeview Women's Institute presented a St. Patrick's Concert. It was very largely attended by young and old. At the close of the programme lunches were sold. One and all departed to their homes after spending a very pleasant evening.

The many friends of Mrs. Allan Cummings are pleased to learn she has returned to her home after undergoing an operation in the City Hospital.

Fishermen are now returning to North Lake Harbor for the Annual Fishing season.

Mr. Cyril MacDonald has returned home from Charlottetown where he has been going to U. C. C. college.

Mr. Elmer McInnis has returned home from Charlottetown where he has been going to U. C. C. college.

THE KIRK PULPIT

Preaching yesterday morning on the theme "We Believe in the Holy Ghost," the Minister, the Rev'd T.H.B. Somers, said: "We cannot read far in the Epistles of the New Testament without bumping into this article of the Creed: 'I believe in the Holy Ghost.' That gift in the early Church was deemed essential. 'Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?' It was not enough to believe in Christ; they must pray God for the Pentecostal grace. Then what is the work of the Holy Ghost? Why is this gift needed, especially when Christ is risen from the dead? The Holy Spirit is the Interpreter of Christ. The record of His words can be read in an hour. If only we had the other sayings, the lost sayings!— His conversation with His mother in the Nazareth evenings, or with His disciples round a fire, or with Simon of Cyrene when Simon was made to carry the Cross. If only we had the thousands of sayings never spoken, but mentioned when He said sadly: 'I have yet many things to say to you, but ye cannot bear them now!' If only we knew what He would say in our time! Within one week I have read these remarks: one from a college president, 'If only I could talk to Jesus about education!'; one from a business man, 'Jesus said nothing for a machine age!'; and one from an editor, 'If only He could talk to us about the United Nations!' Then listen to the appendix of that sad remark about 'many other things... but ye cannot bear them now.' 'Howbeit, when He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth. For He shall take of Mine, and shall shew it unto you.' That happened in the early Church, and still happens. The Spirit moved them to preach to the Gentile world when that policy seemed disaster. The Spirit has moved the Church in our day to social passion, ecumenical longing, and a return to the centralities of faith. The Holy Spirit is Christ's Interpreter.

The Holy Spirit is Christ's Apostle in our life, if we believe. The loss of His words seems irreparable. But what of the loss of Christ Himself? That line in one of our hymns is pathetic: 'I would like to have been with Him then.' But Jesus said bluntly that it was better for us that He should disappear from sight. Why? That He might become universal, not for those only who could reach Him in the flesh; that we should not be children all our lives, running to Him at every challenge, and living by the rote of His command; that we might walk, not by the bondage of eyes and ears, but by the venture of the Spirit of God. That is why He said, 'I will give you another Comforter... for He shall be in you.' That gift is given. Therefore Christ remains, now universal. You may see His Cross in the jewelry tray at Wellington's Woolworth's—a Galloway, become Life. Watch people as they look at a picture of Christ: He is no Stranger. Why has He remained? Because His promise of the Holy Spirit has been fulfilled: 'He shall glorify me; for He shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.'

"Within our heart of hearts In nearest nearness be: Set up Thy throne within These own: Go, Lord, we follow Thee." This is a new kind of sculpture: Christ fashions us, not from without by word and hand, but from within by indwelling light. Members of the Oddfellows and Rebekah Lodges of Charlottetown attended in a body the services yesterday morning.

SOMERS-NICHOLSON NUPPIALS A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. and the late Bruce Somers on March 26, 1947, at 5 p. m., by the Rev. W. B. MacPhail of Bradabane United Church when her youngest daughter, Reta Irene, was united in marriage to John Stirling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodrick Nicholson of Shamrock.

The house was gaily decorated with white bells and pink and white streamers, flowers banked one corner of the parlour to form a beautifully decorated arch. The lovely young bride was a charming picture as she entered the parlour on the arm of her brother James attractively gowned in a blue suit and black accessories.

She was attended by Florence MacNevin who was becomingly attired in pale rose crepe. The best man was Lorrie Nicholson, brother of the groom.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold pendant with an amethyst setting, and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet, to the best man, a gold tie set. The bride and groom received many lovely gifts, also some substantial cheques.

A delicious supper was served to immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

The supper table was beautifully decorated with a lace tablecloth with pink tapers in silver candlesticks, and centered with a three-tier wedding cake. The toast to the bride was made by Rev. W. B. MacPhail and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Elmer Burt assisted by Mrs. Earle Reeves, aunts of the bride poured tea while Mrs. Willis Warren also aunt of the bride cut the ices and was assisted in serving by Mrs. James Somers, Mrs. Everett Somers, Mrs. Elton Somers and Mrs. Ivan Somers.

Later in the evening a group of serenaders arrived and after bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

SALE

CHESTERFIELDS

Time Payment By Arrangement SALE

YOU NEED A NEW CHESTERFIELD WE HAVE MORE THAN WE NEED SO TO BALANCE CONDITIONS WE ARE SETTING up the following BARGAINS -- YOU benefit SO do WE

Snyder's Wine Striped Velour

2 Piece	Value	369.50
	Sale Price	269.50
ONE SUITE ONLY	You SAVE	100.00

Braemore Mauve Flowered Tapestry

3 Piece	Value	275.00
Including One Blue Chair	Sale Price	195.00
ONE SUITE ONLY	You SAVE	80.00

Skyline Wine Closeclipped Mohair

2 Piece	Value	275.00
	Sale Price	195.00
ONE SUITE ONLY	You SAVE	80.00

Superior Wine Closeclipped Mohair

3 Piece	Value	295.00
	Sale Price	205.00
TWO SUITES ONLY	You SAVE	90.00

Superior Rod Closeclipped Mohair

3 Piece	Value	295.00
	Sale Price	195.00
ONE SUITE ONLY	You SAVE	100.00

Snyder's Blue Tapestry

2 Piece	Value	349.50
	Sale Price	259.50
	You SAVE	90.00

NuBilt Blue Repp with Wine Chair

3 Piece	Value	215.00
	Sale Price	160.00
	You SAVE	55.00

Snyder's Green Mohair

2 Piece	Value	260.00
	Sale Price	185.00
	You SAVE	75.00

Skyline Wine Repp

2 Piece	Value	275.00
	Sale Price	195.00
	You SAVE	80.00

Braemore Striped Brown Repp

2 Piece	Value	215.00
	Sale Price	160.00
	You SAVE	55.00

CROCKETT & STOREY

LIMITED

"DEALERS IN RELIABLE FURNITURE"

131 QUEEN STREET

CHARLOTTETOWN

PHONE 834

Just like new again!

POLISHES FURNITURE beautifully...and HIDES SCRATCHES! —both at the same time!

IT'S FURNITURE POLISH PLUS!

Old English POLISH

25¢

three-tier wedding cake. The toast to the bride was made by Rev. W. B. MacPhail and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Elmer Burt assisted by Mrs. Earle Reeves, aunts of the bride poured tea while Mrs. Willis Warren also aunt of the bride cut the ices and was assisted in serving by Mrs. James Somers, Mrs. Everett Somers, Mrs. Elton Somers and Mrs. Ivan Somers.

Later in the evening a group of serenaders arrived and after bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Prior to her marriage the bride to be was tendered a miscellaneous shower, at her home where many beautiful and costly gifts were received. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers by her girl friends.

The bride to be was escorted to the seat of honor by Myrtle MacLeod, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Miss Mary Morrison. The presents were opened by Jean Cousins and the humorous verses were read by Phyllis Woodside, and arranged on the table by Mrs. Wendell Mayne. The heavy laden baskets were carried in by Mildred MacLeod and Lois Abbott. The bride then thanked all for their lovely presents and invited all to visit her in her new home. After a show-bouncing the bride and groom and wishing them many years of wedded bliss, the happy couple left for their home in Shamrock, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH The service of morning worship at the Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a.m. was conducted by the Rev. Dr. A.D. MacKenzie, with sermon "Lamed Into Living." The principle of true co-operation is expressed in the lives of the great Booker T. Washington and his brother John. Booker was the thinker and planner, John the man of great practical ability; the one inspired his race, the other expressed his principles in practical service as they worked together. In the book of Genesis we find the story of the man of power and success who wrestled with the unknown until break of day and in the touch of his opponent's hand was lamed into life, into vision of greater and better living, into the success that is selfless and rich. Jacob has done well with Laban and in his own purposes returns, but God tells him "I have not underwritten your contracts." Jacob ELLEN'S DIARY (Continued from Page 2) there got a he funerals? N' what for have people got a die? And I found it difficult to answer the latter to the satisfaction of a five year old. So many times adults have puzzled over the same question. Some of Jamie's attentions in recent days has been taken up with the arrival of Tabby's kit cats and many a trip has been made to their snug nest in a bird left to visit them. I have Jamie's word for it that there are two—'one exactly like herself' another all white but little spots above; 'ish-like, jes' a few though for it mostly white.' Only the insistence of today's work kept me from scaling to the heights with Jamie, an appointment I am bound to keep with him as he says "tomorrow." Until tomorrow — Diary — Good night.