Queen Quality

WILL YOU TRY IT?

Are you ever irritable? Many a woman can trace her irritability to ill-fitting shoes. It is hard to be cheerful, isn't it, when all the time there is a drag and pinch upon the feet.

But there is one shoe that is different in this matter of fit.

It is not made like a box into which the foot is thrust, but on the plan of a bandage wrapped around the muscles to strengthen and sustain them.

That Shoe is the "Queen Quality."

Boots $3.75, Oxfords $3.00. It makes walking easier for thousands of women. Will you let it?

ONE of those events which are enjoyable and yet which are more or less solemn in their nature took place at the home of William Stavert, Kelvin Grove, on the evening of June 30th, when his daughter, Ella I. was united in marriage to Rev. M. J. MacPherson, M. A. of Esquimaux, P. Q., and formerly of Uxg, P. E. I. Just as the shades of evening were falling the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Alfred McLean, sister of the bride, were heard sounding out on the calm evening air. In response to the music the wedding procession formed into line and soon the parlor was reached where the bride was given away by her father. There in the course of a few moments and in the presence of the assembled guests the nuptial knot was securely tied by Rev. D. B. McLeod of Zion Church, Charlottetown.

The bride, who looked charming in a beautiful cream suit was attended by two of her cousins, Miss Ella J. Walker of Kensington, and Miss Ruby McMurdo of Kelvin Grove both of whom were gowned in white. The beauty of the attire of the bride as well as that of the bridesmaid's was enhanced by the elegant bouquet carried by each. The groom who is a recent graduate of Pine Hill College, Halifax, and who was very successful as a student, was supported by R. Henepay Stavert, B. A. of Wilnot Valley, and student of Pine Hill, but who at present is located at De Wolfe, N. B. After the marriage ceremony, the guests, who were about seventy in number sat down to a carefully prepared repast. Before all had partaken of the delicate viands under which the table fairly groaned, the sound of the charivari's horns were heard in the distance. Ere long, by the great din this motley crew made their arrival known, and, having had their wants attended to, they departed in peace. Silence being again re-established the guests spent the remainder of the evening in music, games and speech making. Not long after midnight, all, after having wished the bride and groom much success and prosperity in life, departed to their respective homes, feeling that to them the evening had indeed been a pleasant one. Many and handsome were the presents given. These bear a silent but powerful testimony to the high esteem in which the bride was held. Miss Stavert taught school for several years in P. E. I., and also for three years in New Lennox, Mass, but wherever she went, she by the combined influence of her kind disposition, her cheering smile, and her beautiful character became a favorite with all. Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson left on Thursday on a short tour through the Maritime Provinces after which they will settle in Esquimaux, P. Q. into the Presbyterian congregation of which place Mr. MacPherson has recently been inducted.

E. L. Skillings, Traveling Passenger Agent for the International Division of the Eastern S. S. Co., was in the city yesterday. The direct steamer service on Tuesday and Saturday evening of each week from St. John to Boston is much appreciated.

HEATHEN DIVISION, LONG CREEK.—Last Saturday was the day appointed for the annual picnic of this institution, and fortune proved a kind master, for the day dawned clear, and cool, and at an early hour the youth and beauty of Long Creek and some surrounding communities could be seen assembling gay in colours, and in smiles that betokened light hearts and friendly emotions. As the village clocks tolled the hour of ten, the long line of wagons gorgeously decorated with lilacs and forest-foliage, moved at a lively rate out of Long Creek by way of Argyle. The happy pleasure seeking band were bound for the sea-washed shores of Hampton. They passed through Shonaw, here joining some members of Try Agate Division, and about noon their wished for destination was reached. A fairer resting place could not be found. The place was a part of Samuel Camerons farm. Beautifully situated on the Strait, and having a splendid hardwood grove, on one side as well as large vacant buildings, which were generously thrown open to the visiting strangers, so all that could be desired was secured. Through the fields in bands the happy crowd amused themselves with games too-varied to recall. Music wafted through the air mingled with joyous shouts, laughter and song, while candy, oranges, ginger ale etc. flew round in murgled profusion. Towards evening they of the Heathens were joined by some Crapaud visitors and truly the latter did not dim the brilliancy of the occasion. But the hours flew by on golden wings, and too soon the sun declining in the west told the votaries of pleasure that now the day was done and they must retreat for home. With mingled emotions of gladness and sorrow they departed, but though all got home the truth was plain that many a gallant heart still lingered in the sunny faces and sweet smiles of Crapaud.

"I GAINED FIFTEEN POUNDS And Was Cured of Nervous Exhaustion, Indigestion and Heart Trouble by Ferrozone.

The Case of Mrs. J. Cross Proves Ferrozone a Marvellous Remedy for Ailing Women.

From Wakefield, Ont., comes news of the remarkable cure of Mrs. Cross. She suffered from nerves that had been shattered and almost ruined by poor health. Numbers of skillful physicians failed to alleviate her suffering. Almost every remedy was tried without avail. As a last resort Mrs. Cross turned to Ferrozone. This was a most important selection as it benefited from the first tablet taken. The following statement should be a guide and help to thousands of women in a similar condition who would quickly become strong by using Ferrozone. Mrs. Cross says: "I was in poor health nearly all last winter. My appetite was variable, and I was weak and unfit for work. I suffered a great deal from nervous headache and palpitation of the heart. My digestion was always out of order. By spring I had lost flesh and color and had a bad cough. The doctors didn't help me, so I decided to try Ferrozone. I did not ever so much good in one week. I quickly gained strength, looked and felt a lot better. When I had used six boxes of Ferrozone I weighed myself and found a gain of fifteen pounds. Ferrozone is worth its weight in gold to every weak woman. It cures quickly and saves big doctors' bills."

(Signed) "MRS. J. CROSS." Ferrozone is a strengthening medicine. It ironizes the blood and purifies the system. One Ferrozone tablet after meals weakens up a tired appetite, helps digestion, braces the nerves. Ferrozone is just the proper tonic to take at this time of the year when the blood is sluggish and impoverished. It builds up the entire system and keeps away spring sickness such as fevers, disordered liver and biliousness and headache.

Tausands owe renewed health and happy old age to Ferrozone. It is a safe, reliable tonic for the blood, brain and nerves that is easy to take, sure to benefit, and not expensive. Price 50c per box.
