Lead Dog Pilots Team Over 41-Mile Course

QUEBEC, Feb. 19.—A keen memory, coupled with instinct, characteristics in a well-bred and thoroughly trained dog, was demonstrated here when "Shorty" Russick's lead dog "Murphy" for the first time after an absence of one year piloted his team of eight wolf bound huskies over the hilly 41-mile course of the Quebec international dog derby without a word or gesture given as to direction on the part of Russick, his driver and trainer.

This feat is the more remarkable when it is learned that not one of the eight dogs led by "Murphy" had ever been within 2,000 miles of the district before.

"Haw" and "gee" as these other dogs would, continually tugging at their leader, "Murphy" in an effort to divert him from the course, no attention would this redoubtable canine pay them. But on he galloped, swerving neither to left nor right and finally wound up his journey in proud fashion as an undaunted trail-finder.

The stage is all set for the 1926 Quebec International dog sled derby and thousands of derby fans are daily flocking into the ancient capital for the event. Only one day intervenes between the starting of the race with 21 teams.

Betting on the winner soared in to four figures today upon the arrival of H. I. Sutton, of Chicago, leader of the "Shorty" Russick team of wolfhound huskies from The Pas, Manitoba. Sutton posted $1,000 at even money against the field that Russick would win. Earl St. Godard, winner of last year's race, had held the board at 3 to 1, but Sutton's arrival shot Russick's team from the doubtful class into a fish army in Soudan and took part in the battle Kharoum and was mentioned in dispatches. He also won distinction in the war in South Africa.

even money. Quebec interests which sponsor local teams were not slow to grab this money by backing various drivers who made creditable showing a year ago, especially on the youthful 14-year-old Irish-Canadian driver, F. Nolan, who has demonstrated his ability as a breeder and "musher" to fit him as a competitor against the older Derby contestants.

Gleanings From Tryon And Vicinity

Business of every kind is at a standstill. There is a considerable quantity of potatoes to be shipped, but the conditions of the roads makes it almost impossible to get them away. The main difficulty is the passing, there is no bottom to the snow and when a horse steps off the road he is about buried.

There is a large quantity of hay on the marsh of which the farmers are in great need, but with so much snow it is impossible to get on the marshes.

The same conditions prevail in the woods, fuel is very short, and very little is being brought out. Everybody is hoping for a thaw that will reduce the snow by a half at least.

The display of northern lights on Wednesday evening was greatly admired by nearly everybody, many declaring it was the finest ever seen here, there were two large sections that were as red as blood.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Somers is improving in health.

Mrs. Wallace Tombs, who has been ill with pneumonia, has passed the crisis, and her complete recovery is now looked for. She has been cared for by Dr. Boyver and Miss Millie Gamble, et. N.

John Gamble of the Branch is in poor health. Mr. Gamble is one of our old men, and has been very active until recently.

There are many complaints of poor service with the Rad's, only one in a while is the service satisfactory. Those who profess to know say it is the bad atmospheric conditions. A number of outfits that were put in have been taken out.

Miss Mildred Lefurgey, who went to Boston last fall is having an unpleasant experience. After being there several months it is found her papers of admission to the "land of the free" are not satisfactory. She has written home for certain certificates, if these do not satisfy the powers which be, that she is British born, of good character and a whole lot more of whereas and so forth, she will have to return to Canada and start all over again. Moral do not go to the U. S. A.; if you do go, be sure you have everything according to the law in letter and spirit.

IN LOVING MEMORY

MRS. JAMES BYRNE, WATERVALE

Many friends will regret to learn of the sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. James Byrne, Watervale, which occurred at the Charlottetown Hospital on January 14th following a serious operation. Although during her brief illness she had the best medical attendance and skilful nursing it was evident that her life could not be prolonged.

The late Mrs. Byrne was in her 60th year. She was a woman of splendid character—ever devoted to the interests of her home, always ready to speak a good word, ever willing to do a kind act. Her death is indeed a distinct loss not only to those by whom she was held so dear but to everyone who had enjoyed her friendship.

The funeral which was exceptionally large took place on Sunday afternoon, January 17th, to Vernon River. The service at the church and at the grave was performed by the pastor the Rev. P. D. McGuigan, who also attended her many times during her illness.

The pall bearers were Messrs. John C. Wisener, James Trainor, Patrick McGuirk, James McAdam, Augustine Wisener, and John T. Grimes.

Besides a bereaved husband there are left to mourn four sons and two daughters, namely, Joseph and Plus, Boston, Mass., Annie, Cambridge, George, John, and Rose at home. All the family members who were absent had the mournful privilege of being present at the last sad rites. One brother Mr. Edward Boylan, Dromore and two sisters, Mrs. P. Trainor, Charlottetown, and Mrs. T. Cumiskey, Cambridge, also remain.

We deeply sympathize with the family and friends in their great bereavement, and join with them in offering a fervent prayer for their eternal rest.

Spiritual offerings were given by the following:

Mass Cards—Family, Mrs. Marie Trainor, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boylan and family, Mrs. John Boylan and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hennessey, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Garland, Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Boylan, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wisener, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Wisener and family, Mr. Fred Cass, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. James McAdam and Margaret, Mrs. Margaret Hayes and family, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Callaghan, Misses Genevieve and Blanche Walsh.

Spiritual Offerings—Family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cumiskey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Latadovich, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. George McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes and Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sinnott, Miss Katherine Fraser, Miss Sadie Kelly, Misses Agnes and Irene Kelly, Misses Catherine and Gertrude Kelly, Anna and Plus.

fancies the vogue of the Valentine remains as great as ever. The most popular valentine this year seemed to be one combining sentiment with humor of a palatable kind and many happy greetings were exchanged between old and young.

The Intercolonial Club of Boston has been very gay during the past two weeks. On the 16th they enjoyed a lecture on The Romance of Canada, delivered by Captain J. Milton State, which was well illustrated with Canadian views familiar to many in the audience. On the previous Friday they had a good old-fashioned get-together party and the dances included Quadrilles, Scottches, Duchesse Polka, etc. to the good old tunes that Henry Ford has brought back to stay. The Club members include the following Islanders: President, Lieut. A. F. Campbell, Treasurer, John Kieley, Secretary, John N. Chaisson, Com. Fred W. Christopher, D. D. S., Peter B. Gaudet, W. M. Curtis, Cor. Secty, Max J. Chaisson and Wendell H. Gordon, Executive Secretary.

The popular New York hotels offer many ideas in dacing costumes. Of course, everyone is certain by this time that chiffons and velvets are the ruling fabrics for evening wear. Young women prefer chiffons whereas matrons appear to best advantage in velvets or soft brocades. This week a new note was stressed when several girls appeared in tulle or chiffon frocks posed over gold or silver slips harmonizing with their dancing pumps. The slip in most cases was slender-lined while the sheer overdresses of tulle or chiffon in lovely pastel shades were circular or ruffled.

Buckles of every description are being stressed for footgear of dressy type. Bright silver buckles are worn by many although most women feel that cut-steel or bronze are quite as lovely and less conspicuous than silver metal. These large buckles are worn, of course, with pump shades. Strapped shoes merely use tiny buckles through which the straps may slip and the buckle in this case is worn at the side covering the shoe button. Small bow-knots in cut steel or bronze are seen as strap clips.

The many friends of Mr. W. L. Cotton regret to hear of his indisposition of the past few weeks and hope to see him about again in the near future.

Song Controversy Renewed by Death

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Who wrote "The Prisoner's Song?" The death of Guy Stapleton Massey, 27-year-old sailor songwriter, has revived the controversy, the music publishers of Broadway claiming that Massey, who died in Texas last week, plagiarized the song, which is so popular now in night clubs and with radio singers.

Massey, during his illness, said the song was written "from my own heart," and the tune picked up when he sang for prisoners in jail. Authorities on folk songs contend the ballad was known as a cowboy favorite thirty years ago.

Reports from San Antonio, Texas, say the song was written by Massey while he was in New York and was inspired by love for a Texas girl from whom he was separated by a "Prison" of ill-health. Just prior to his death he wrote the words of "The Requiem" which he asked to be sung at his funeral.

Paul Mollenkern, vaudeville star, claims he featured the tune with different words fifteen years ago. Anyway, the controversy has not been settled, and the man who claims he wrote it died in poverty, having assigned his royalties to an

NEW METHODS FOR THE NEW YEAR

By Barbara Brooks Home Economics Dept., Kellogg Co. Of Canada, Ltd., London, Canada.

Nearly every home-maker has certain pet resolutions which she brings out for observation the first of each year. Although she may replace some of them without more than a thorough dusting, others are put into practice and the result is a saving of time and energy.

Perhaps there is no part of the home which needs reorganizing more often, and which gets it less frequently than the kitchen. This is the last place in which heirlooms are discarded. How many of you are giving space to a pointless paring knife, a dull pair of scissors, or a broken egg beater? Are there pans on the higher cupboard shelves which are never used, or neat piles of odd plates and saucers? Is your recipe book a jumbled collection of clippings and papers?

A good place to begin your New Year's changes is with your recipes. If it is not convenient for you to have them typed, they can be pasted on cards of uniform size. Decide on the size you like and buy a box into which the recipes will fit. There are several good recipe files on the market. The recipes are accurate and well classified and there is room for additional cards bearing recipes which are home favorites. The index headings are arranged in alphabetical order beginning with "Beverages" and ending with "Vegetables".

The following recipes have been chosen from this file:

- 8 cups Flour
 - 1 cup Bran
 - 1/2 teaspoon Soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon Salt
 - 2 teaspoons Baking Powder
 - 1/2 cup Raisins or Nuts
 - 2 cups Sour Milk
 - 1 tablespoon Sorghum
 - 1 Egg
 - 1/2 tablespoons Fat, melted
- Mix and sift the flour, soda, salt and baking powder; add bran, raisins or nuts. Beat the egg and add to it sour milk and sorghum. Combine the liquid and dry ingredients, add the melted fat and stir until smooth. Bake

Quick Transportation of Oranges

(Special to the Guardian)

MONTEREAL, Feb. 19.—What is thought to be a record in the transportation of oranges from the seaboard and the conversion of the fruit into marmalade at the factory was established in connection with the shipment of oranges moved from St. John to Hamilton by the Canadian National Railways last week.

The shipment aggregating 10,000 cases was placed on board a train of 56 refrigerator cars at St. John late on February 4th and the train left early the following morning being delayed meanwhile by bad storm conditions. It made good time to Hamilton, where most of the fruit was unloaded and taken to the factories and manufactured into marmalade which appeared on the shelves of retail stores in Hamilton on February 11, or just one week after the oranges were loaded on board train at St. John.

In previous years the oranges had come to Canada via the Buffalo Gateway but this year D. O. Wood, Foreign Freight Traffic Manager of the National Railways secured the traffic for a Canadian port. The satisfaction expressed by the shippers and manufacturers of the service given indicates that the traffic has been secured permanently for the all Canadian route.

"BEST AND MOST OUTSTANDING"

The Manager of one of the foremost Upper Canadian ranches writes us as follows:

"We would not think of using any other biscuit but IMPERIAL as we consider it the BEST AND MOST OUTSTANDING biscuit on the market today."

This is the consensus of opinion of our leading Canadian Fox Ranchers and accounts for the national use of IMPERIALS as an all-the-year-round Fox Food.

The cost of food is so small compared with the value of the Silver Foxes that ranchers consider it only a matter of good business common sense to feed the best which is always the most economical.

Do not experiment with cheaper foods. Feed IMPERIALS and get the best results in healthy foxes and largest litters.
