day, May 2nd. Interment was in the United Church Cemetery at Burnaby, B. C.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING—Soil analysis was the chief matter discussed at the regular meeting of the Summerside Board of Trade which was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening. Mr. G. S. Merriam presided. Mr. Donald Baker chairman of the Agricultural Committee stated that he thought something should be done whereby farmers could get their soil analyzed in Charlottetown. He had been informed that farmers were unable to get this service. He, speaking as a farmer, considered it of vital importance that farmers should be able to get this service and steps should be taken to see if it could not be arranged. He thought the Experimental Farm should have this service available for the farmers of the Province. He gave an instance of a man who saved 10 dollars a year by using fertilizer and got a better crop after having his soil analyzed. The scarcity of chicken especially for canning was another matter discussed. Canners had to import their chickens and even chickens were imported. Mr. Baker thought many farmers should go in more for chickens. Mr. Baker also said that he was told that you could not buy canned chicken in Ontario. He thought there was a wonderful market lost to the farmers. Mr. H. T. Holman also gave facts showing the scarcity of chickens in the Province. Mayor Campbell for the Marine Committee said that the New Northland was due to arrive on June 15 and 27 and would inaugurate motor trips for the passengers from Summerside to Charlottetown, stopping at Cavendish Beach for lunch. It was just an experiment and he hoped that it would be successful. Three fertilizer boats were expected within the next week. The District Engineer who had charge of the alterations at the Queen's Wharf had decided against lengthening the pier and intended to dredge inside the wharf, which he considered would make a basin large enough to accommodate all the shipping that would come in there. Mr. C. R. Rogers stated that a resolution supporting the Lundenburg Board of Trade in asking for assistance for the fishermen of the Maritime Province had been drafted and sent to the proper authorities. Mr. Arnett, chairman of the Music Committee appealed for funds for needed repairs of the Maritime Province instruments. It was decided to have a committee wait upon the Town Council to see if they could get a larger grant. S.

political consideration in central Europe and that Italy thinks more highly of her responsibilities toward the Axis than to other friendships. In diplomatic quarters it was being said that Italy had turned on the green "go light to Reichenau" Hitler so far as the Free City of Danzig and possibly other questions are concerned. It was recalled that only a few weeks ago Foreign Minister Count Ciano of Italy visited Warsaw for what seemed to be a most hearty discussion with Foreign Minister Beck of Poland. The Milan communique was Italy had balanced her two friendships and had chosen to support Germany. The Milan announcement caught the German public unawares. Even senior officials said they did not expect a military accord with Italy and offered no immediate comment.

Relations Improved
Informed sources said the feeling that Germany's relations with Russia were to undergo a definite improvement soon was no obstacle to Italian cooperation with Germany. Italian relations with Russia, despite the Anti-Comintern Pact of which Italy, Germany, Japan, Hungary, Manchukuo and Spain are signatories, were said to be a little better than they were a few months ago. It was regarded as significant that on May 3 an Italian-built destroyer was delivered with a flourish of polite diplomatic speeches to the Russian Fleet at Odessa. Yesterday intimations came from informed quarters that the German suggestion for an Polish to the solution of the whole Polish problem might be a plebiscite in the Free City of Danzig.

Today, however, an impression was gained that Russia might not approve such a solution—knowing what closer the preponderantly German Free City would, under any circumstances now conceivable vote to become a part of Germany.

As a result, speculation today resolved about other proposals which might be offered to Russia. The most far-fetched of these, which no one in authority would discuss, was a partition of Poland.

The Anglo-Polish Mutual Assistance Pact stood in the way of such an action, not to mention the Polish Army, but commentators observed that certain diplomacy with a little Russian good will might accomplish the aim. A German view was that Russia had made a gesture of good will through the departure of Maxim Litvinoff from the post of commissar of foreign relations and that vague feelers in the direction of a rapprochement were entirely within the realm of possibility.

might be to cause France to stiffen her attitude perceptible in her internal unity and her readiness for war if it is necessary. Basically the attitude of Poland toward Germany showed no sign of weakening.

Methods of Action
Informed observers here saw Germany now debating between two possible methods of action. One would be a policy of delay with an attempt to isolate Poland and an effort to subject her to a period of nervous strain as well as the continued expense of maintaining the big offensive machine in a state of constant readiness.

The other method would involve direct action against the Free City of Danzig and Pomorze (Polish Corridor).

There was a feeling in Polish circles that should Hitler resort to the latter action he would move in a manner calculated to force the Poles to consider an unjustified examination.

Tension between the two countries found expression in many ways. Polish travellers arriving from Germany reported trains were being delayed by what the Poles considered an unjustified detailed German customs examination.

reflects great credit also on the leaders and instructors of the troop.

In the department of household arts the 7th Company of Girl Guides from Trinity United Church exhibited a wide range of articles in knitting, sewing, crocheting and indicating on the part of the girls splendid progress and skill in this phase of their programme.

In the details of arrangements from day to day at the Little Theatre, the committee wishes to express its sincere appreciation of the interest shown and help given by Wm. McParlane who was in charge of the hall throughout the week.

The Hobbies Exhibition Board also expresses grateful thanks to the numerous friends who so thoughtfully and diligently carried out the work of judges in the various competitions.

To teachers, group leaders and mentors who have so kindly cooperated again this year in the promotion of entries for the exhibition, the Directors wish to extend their grateful thanks. In the department of music in particular the interest, assistance and attendance of teachers has been very much appreciated. Their help in committee service and in encouraging entries has been responsible in a very large measure for the success thus far achieved.

The 5th Annual Hobbies Event has been held and a review of its programme and competitive features indicate points to be considered for its improvement and further value in the future.

One particular handicap for the present auspices under which the exhibition is presented is the necessity of going into a second building for some part of the exhibiting. The real success of such an undertaking can only be assured when the community has a building large enough and with such appointments as to adequately provide for an educational project of this kind—under one roof. The Hobbies Exhibition and the difficulties under which it has operated this year is held but one illustration of the urgent need of a new, modern Y. M. C. A. Building in the City.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
The Albany Pleasant Circle Institute held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. George MacKay on Thursday afternoon, April 13. In the absence of the president, Mrs. H. Program re-appointed. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Gamble roll call to be answered by methods of removing stains. It was moved and seconded that mention be made of the preponderantly committee purchase more material for a quilt. Quite a number of quilt blocks were completed and received by committee. Collection was taken and a tea served by the hostess assisted by Miss Margaret Butler. After a social hour the meeting adjourned.

As for the Deficit (of $120,773) the people were very much concerned about that. The question they are asking is, WHAT DID WE DO WITH THE MONEY?—Patriot, April 19, 1938.

MR. WADE HUGHES, 5th Kings:
"If we didn't fulfill our promises, did we do at least as much as we could? I DON'T THINK WE DID. . . . It was afraid that unless there was a COMPLETE CHANGE OF METHOD we are going to be ON THE ROCKS FINANCIALLY. . . . There is yet time to see that it does not happen, but I am fully convinced that if we go on going behind year after year, in a very few years, whatever government is in power in this Province will find NOT ONLY THE TREASURY EMPTY, BUT THE CREDIT OF THE PROVINCE EXHAUSTED."—Patriot, April 13, 1938.

MR. W. F. A. STEWART, 1st Queens:
"The dawn of a new day had broken (in 1935) and we were TO BALANCE OUR BUDGET ANNUALLY. Have we done so? And there was to be a reduction in the number of officials. EVERY MEMBER in the House had given HIS PERSONAL ASSURANCE THAT THESE PROMISES WERE TO BE CARRIED INTO EFFECT. . . . I believe that had Mr. Lea lived and carried on as Premier this Province would now be on a sound financial basis. . . . The course we are proceeding on for the last number of years leads surely TO A REPUDIATION OF DEBTS. No country could be following on as we are doing without a state of affairs that is EPITOMIZED BY THE FARMERS CREDITORS ARRANGEMENT ACT."—Patriot, April 11, 1938.

HON. T. W. L. PROWSE, 8th Queens:
"With regard to balancing the budget annually," said Mr. Prowse. "I DON'T REMEMBER THAT STATEMENT BEING MADE IF WE ROBBED THE SINKING FUND, but that would be bad business."—Patriot, April 11, 1938.

MR. TRAINOR, 8th Queens:
"The only way to balance the budget would be by increasing the revenue by increasing the taxation, and it has been pointed out THAT WE HAVE TAXED THE TANGIBLE AND INTANGIBLE."—Patriot, April 19, 1938.

Another year goes by: PREMIER CAMPBELL:
"Our SO-CALLED PROMISE to balance the budget. . . A"—Patriot, April 6, 1938.
