

Live News from All Parts of the World Brought by Special Cable

RICH WOMEN PLAN ENDOWMENT FOR ALLMOTHERS

"All Children Are a National Asset" Is the Motto of Anti-Race Suicide Society

ADOPT SHAW'S PRINCIPLES

Radical Members Suggest Payment to Women as Stork Approaches

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—A remarkable "anti-race suicide" movement has been making rapid progress in West Germany.

The society adopts the principle of G. Bernard Shaw that all mothers should be rewarded by the state, and claim that when the state neglects its duties private benevolence should supply its place.

The women point out that Germany's heavy illegitimacy rate at present results in thousands of infants dying of neglects and of thousands more growing up as criminals, loafers or as physically unfit.

A further demand is made by these women that all factories where young mothers are employed shall equip rooms in the immediate vicinity of the workshops where children can play, and that their mothers shall be compelled to cease work for a short period several times during the day in order to attend to their offspring.

INJUNCTION MAY BE APPLIED IN THE AIR

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The legal right of one man to fly over another man's property is prophesied as a future enactment of international law by Roger Wallace, K.C., a London barrister, who is a prominent member of the Aero Club and British delegate to the international aeronautic conference.

"At present," said Mr. Wallace, "by the common law no one has a right to fly across occupied land. The world is still governed by the ancient Roman law, neque ad coelum (up to the sky). That was trampled, of course, in days when no one could anticipate the present conquest of the air, and it must be amended. It means that every land owner has a right to the air above his land as far up as he chooses to go, and can get an injunction to restrain any one flying across it."

"So far, no one has attempted to put the law in force. When a man is flying across your land it is too late to get an injunction. After he has done it is no use unless he has done damage which can be assessed. But it may happen that a land owner joining the practise ground or starting point of aero flights will object to the use of the air above his land. He could then get an injunction under the present law.

Feeding and nursing the wounded in Messina.

CHURCHGOERS STRIKE

Ended by Intervention of Perfect and Bishop

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A novel strike has come to an end after having lasted ten years. During 1898 a quarrel broke out between the vicar and the schoolmaster of Haystatt-le-Haut.

The vicar and the schoolmaster have both been replaced, and today the church was re-opened for public worship.

NORWEGIANS CATCH FISH BY TELEPHONE—HERRING WHISTLE, THE COD GRUNTS

Microphone, Shut Up in Steel Box, Collects and Sends Sounds to Receiver in Boat

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Catching fish by telephone is the latest invention of a Norwegian, which is now employed by the fishermen of his nation.

CONDEMNED MEN IN ANGUISHING SUSPENSE

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The president of the republic is confronted with a grave problem. Something like 32 men are in prison, having been condemned to death, and the question is, "What will be their fate?"

The chamber, by a large majority, is in favor of the maintenance of capital punishment, and in these circumstances the presidential pardon may not be given.

All the prisoners are aware of this vote, and they are wondering whether the guillotine will deal with them. As can be imagined, the uncertainty in which they are living is terrible.

CANVAS OFFENDED FRENCH

So Germans Take "Insult" from the Reichstag's Walls

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The French flag is no longer insulted on canvas on the walls of the Reichstag. The picture which hung behind the president's chair represented a scene after the battle of Sedan, showing the emperor—William I, the Crown Prince, Bismarck, and Moltke riding over the battlefield, with the French flag under their horses' feet.

KAISER WILL LEAD THE SIMPLE LIFE

People Wish the Monarch to Have More Reserves—He Will Accede to Their Wishes

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—Sulking like a child who has received a scolding, the Kaiser has decided to avoid the publicity of Berlin and will continue to lead a simple and secluded life in quiet Potsdam.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, at Messina.

NEW CONSTITUTION IN TURKEY HAS WROUGHT WONDERFUL CHANGES

(By Lady Henry Somerset)

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Nothing in the history of Europe has been more startlingly romantic than the new era which has just opened in Turkey, and the accounts of the assembly of the parliament at Constantinople read more like a fantasy from "The Thousand and One Nights" than a serious piece of newspaper intelligence.

The two people who have probably brought about the result were the pope of the Mohammedan church, who upheld the revolting officers at Salonika, and declared that the demand for the constitution was agreeable to the holy law of Islam, and to Sir Edward Grey, who by his prompt and splendidly adroit management of the situation, contributed largely to the liberation of Turkey.

The sultan, who has so long stood as the dark shadow of ill luck over the liberty of his land, is old and terrified, and the appearance of the dead, his court scattered, his minions dead or banished, and all the machinery of autocracy lying broken at his feet.

This is the man who had to stand before the parliament and admit that thirty-two years ago the constitution had been granted, but that events occurred which led to his accepting the advice that should suspend its operation.

General Strike Ordered

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Because the Hungarian minister of the interior has arbitrarily dissolved two workmen's federations that country is now in the throes of a general strike, ordered by the socialists. As soon as the order was issued 90,000 workers at Budapest stopped work and every factory in the city was shut down. In many of the principal towns not a newspaper is printed, and altogether some 400,000 men are idle.

Exciting Ox Fight

Furious Beast Rushes Through Streets But is Despatched

PARIS, Feb. 5.—An exciting ox-fight has occurred in the streets of Pantin. The beast escaped from the goods station at Pantin, and rushed through the streets. The animal first attacked the horse of a cabinet maker and then upset a man with a handcart, injuring him seriously.

Duke Forbids Kissing on Stage to Please His Wife, Once an Actress

Court Attendant Feels Disobedient Leading Man by Making Juliet Hold Pin Between Teeth

MEININGEN, Saxony, Feb. 5.—The Duke of Saxe, who is also manager of his great court theatre, lately issued an order forbidding kissing on the stage. It is claimed that Duke George's morganatic wife, the singer actress Helene Franz, being fond of the young performers, caused this highness to make the order.

Professional Talk Which Came High

PARIS, Feb. 5.—An interesting case affecting doctor and patient, came before the Seventh Chamber of the Tribunal. A doctor, who made a speciality of neurasthenic cases, came to the conclusion that this malady was simply a disease of the will.

Wanted to See Her Feet

Chinese Lady Teaches Englishwomen Sharp Lesson in Manners

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A lesson in manners has been given in a London drawing room by a Chinese lady to a crowd of English society women. Among the guests invited by a prominent London hostess to a dinner party was the wife of a Chinese diplomat, and when the ladies had retired to the drawing room, the hostess asked her guest if she would be "so sweet as to show her little feet."

Poor American Man!

American Women Do Not Want Him, Says Truth, Nor Do Europeans

LONDON, Feb. 5.—"The American man problem puzzles all," says Truth. "The American man is, apparently, objectionable to the American woman, for when the latter is sufficiently rich she generally marries a European. Through the pick of European men are prepared to marry rich American women, the European woman can seldom be induced to marry an American.

Brilliantcy Runs in This Family of Nine

Seven March Boys and Two Girls Achieve Fame—King Edward Sat for One

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Nine young geniuses—the March family—have been discovered at Farnborough, Kent, doing splendid work in various arts and crafts. Every member of the family of seven boys and two girls has some talent, ranging from monumental sculpture to art jewelry, and all are constantly employed.

Mensdorf Loses; Aehrenthal Wins

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Count Mensdorf's unexpected reassignment of his post as Austrian ambassador to London is interpreted in diplomatic circles to indicate that for the present the position of Baron von Aehrenthal, as Austrian prime minister, is secure.

Sea Swallowing Up Village

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Steady encroachment of the sea has laid a part of the village of Pakefield in ruins.

Boycott Pilsener Beer

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—An amusing result of the anti-German agitation in Prague and other places in Bohemia is a severe boycott of Pilsener beer in various parts of Germany, especially in the Rhine. German brewers, of course, are doing all in their power to foster this absurd boycott, pointing out that not only is this a patriotic duty of German beer drinkers, but that the substitution of good German beer for the Bohemian article from Pilsener is a duty which one owes to one's health and digestive organs.

Seven March Boys and Two Girls Achieve Fame—King Edward Sat for One

All Wrought Memorial

Talents Range from Monumental Sculpture to Work in Fine Jewelry

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Nine young geniuses—the March family—have been discovered at Farnborough, Kent, doing splendid work in various arts and crafts.

Exciting Ox Fight

Furious Beast Rushes Through Streets But is Despatched

PARIS, Feb. 5.—An exciting ox-fight has occurred in the streets of Pantin. The beast escaped from the goods station at Pantin, and rushed through the streets.

Duke Forbids Kissing on Stage to Please His Wife, Once an Actress

Court Attendant Feels Disobedient Leading Man by Making Juliet Hold Pin Between Teeth

MEININGEN, Saxony, Feb. 5.—The Duke of Saxe, who is also manager of his great court theatre, lately issued an order forbidding kissing on the stage.

Professional Talk Which Came High

PARIS, Feb. 5.—An interesting case affecting doctor and patient, came before the Seventh Chamber of the Tribunal.

Wanted to See Her Feet

Chinese Lady Teaches Englishwomen Sharp Lesson in Manners

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A lesson in manners has been given in a London drawing room by a Chinese lady to a crowd of English society women.

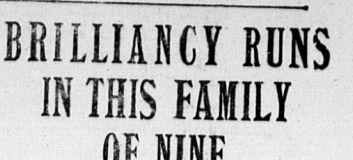

Poor American Man!

American Women Do Not Want Him, Says Truth, Nor Do Europeans

LONDON, Feb. 5.—"The American man problem puzzles all," says Truth. "The American man is, apparently, objectionable to the American woman, for when the latter is sufficiently rich she generally marries a European.

Boycott Pilsener Beer

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—An amusing result of the anti-German agitation in Prague and other places in Bohemia is a severe boycott of Pilsener beer in various parts of Germany.

Mrs. Winston S. Churchill, wife of the president of the English Board of Trade, who was the victim of a vicious tongue lashing in a London restaurant by a woman suffrage advocate.