HAVE YOU WRITTEN TO MOTHER?

Pray, may I ask you, worthy lad, Whose smile on care can smother, Though busy life throbs round about, Have you written home to mother? Have you forgotten how her arm Stole round you to caress you? Have you forgotten those low words: "Good-by, my son; God bless you?" Oh! do not wrong her patient love; Save God's, there is no other So faithful through all mists of sin;

Fear not to write to mother. Tell her to keep the lamp of prayer. A light beacon burning; Those beams shall reach you far away Shall live your soul returning. Tell her you love her daily still For fear some sad tomorrow Shall bear away the living soul, And leave you lost in sorrow. And then, through bitter falling tears, And sighs you may not smother, You will remember when too late You did not write to mother. By—Jane Ronalson,
