In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Charles Kelly, who departed this life January 13th, 1947.

There are times when the world grows dark and cold and sorrows make our life-path bleak.

When we look in vain for the smile of old, and miss the voice that has ceased to speak.

And then let us turn our thoughts towards Him whose name is solace and peace and rest.

Let us say when the care cup is filled to the brim, "Tis hard to drain it, but God knows best."

Sadly Missed by Her Daughters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Wallace Wheatley, who departed this life January 13th, 1946.

Fond are the memories that linger. Dear is the one that is gone. In memory we hold you dear.

As long as the years roll along inscribed by William, Woodrow and Carrie.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear father, John A. Campbell, who died January 10th, 1944.

Dearest father, dearest friend I have loved you to the end. When you love, it is hard to part. The parting breaks one's heart.

The years may wipe out many things, But this they wipe out never: The memory of the happy days. When we were all together.

Pleasant smile, a heart of gold. The dearest Father the world could hold. Memories fond and true. From one who thought the world was yours.

Sadly Missed by His Son Cecil and Family.

The District-Governor reminded the membership that as Gyros there were three outstanding principles to remember—Friendship with fellow members; friendship to the community; and particularly to exhibit a spirit of friendship for his fellow man less fortunate than himself.

The District-Governor congratulated the members of the new executive and also paid tribute to the retiring president for his splendid efforts during the year and the high standing of the club in the District.

During the evening a sing-song was led by Walter Hyndman. A piano and violin duet by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Melver was warmly applauded.

Contestants, Mrs. Eric Found, Mrs. Herb Pletch, Walter Hyndman and Charles McQuaid in a game "20 Questions" guessed all answers and stumped the experts. Frank Curtis was master of ceremonies.

Following the dinner meeting the Gyros and Gyrettes adjourned for a pleasant get-together, the first day and judging will continue until the 17th.

R. C. Parent Is Guest Speaker At Meeting

Trinity Men's Association was privileged on January 12th to have at their regular monthly meeting Superintendent R. C. Parent of the Charlottetown Experimental Station.

Every person is ready dependent on the soil of this Province, its chief resource. Indeed, the very existence of people here depends on the soil, unfortunately, however, the soil is wearing, out as is evidenced by decreasing yields, excepting in that of potatoes.

The speaker then, at some length described the various set-up of Station departments, including some plans contemplated for future action. Mr. Parent declared his avowed intention of keeping up the agricultural record of his Station, stating that if at all possible, the past record would be broken.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Stewart Wright in a few appropriate remarks. On behalf of the Association, Mr. Percy Turner in his usual humorous form, extended the thanks of the men of Trinity.

Following the address of the evening, the customary sing-song was conducted by Mr. V.A. Almsworth, assisted by Prof. Kendall at the piano.

The committee of Attendance Committee, John MacNair, informed the meeting that the membership is now approximating the 150 mark, a very creditable showing. A large number of guests was also introduced.

Col. L. T. Lowther, reporting on behalf of the Affiliated Lawnmowers Association of the City, stated that the annual census of the inter-denominational census is being borne by the combined churches of Charlottetown. A Council for Youth Guidance is being contemplated as a future project of the inter-denominational council.

Mr. A.R. Gillis read a history of the contemplated plan as presented by Mr. Roy Somers. Mr. Ted Chandler explained the mechanics of the project and gave the various possible choices of incentive.

Mr. MacLennan closed a most enthusiastic meeting.

POLSON'S COUGH SYRUP

Describes Modern Metal Container Industry At Rotary

The Charlottetown plant of the American Metal Container Company makes about seventeen million cans a year, of which about 60 per cent are used in this Province. This was one of many interesting facts given by Mr. Frank Charbonneau, of the above-mentioned company, in an address to his fellow club members at Rotary luncheon yesterday.

His subject was "The Industry of Metal Containers." During the last war, Mr. Charbonneau said, there was a great shortage of tin. Only 40,000 tons were held in North America and some method had to be found to stretch this amount. Formerly 1-2 to 3 1/2 pounds were necessary to cover 36,000 square inches of plate, but through a new process of electroplating the steel sheets, 1-2 lbs. will cover the same area.

Sheets arrive in Charlottetown coated with any of eight different lacquers and after cutting to size and inspection are fed into the machines which turn out 65 million a minute. This is not as fast as the high speed machines in operation at the companies plants in Montreal and Simcoe, but it is expected that the new machines will soon be available for the Charlottetown plant.

The American Can Company, said $28,000,000 worth of containers each year. Former profit is about $14,000,000 which is about 50 per cent of the invested capital. At present about 93 cents of each dollar remains in Canada and in a short time when their new Canadian company is formed this amount will be even greater.

The modern metal container for food products is not only clean, it is sterile, said the speaker. For this reason, it is much better to leave the unused food in the can rather than place it in another dish. The belief that poisoning will result from food left in the can had its origin before the turn of the century and has been perpetuated without reason, as the canning industry has for the past forty years provided adequate protection through new methods of sealing.

The chairman of the auction committee, J. M. Montgomery reported that receipts this year reached a new high of $547,200 of which $900,000 was contributed by the company of former Expenditures amounted to $745,000. The net proceeds to be turned over to the Red Cross will be higher than last year by about $950,000. Messrs. R. K. Clements and D. MacLaren, Montague, spoke briefly of the very successful auction held in Montague. Other guests included Mr. W. A. Gaudet and Mr. J. V. Reid, Charlottetown.

Mr. R. L. Cootan was chairman.

In a peacetime budget message. But it would not be the largest amount actually spent in a peacetime year.

Actual expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1947, set a peacetime record of $42,505,000,000, although Truman started off with a budget estimate of only $35,800,000,000.

The President is counting Federal revenues next year of $44,477,000,000. He estimated they should reach that total provided business incomes, employment and prices stay about where they are and Congress supplies "an effective anti-inflation program."

For this year he estimated receipts would hit a peacetime record of $45,210,000,000.

Use of the surpluses this year and next to slash the debt would bring it down to $246,200,000,000 by mid-1950. To that goal, he said, along with a $40 tax reduction for every taxpayer and dependent, Truman again urged Congress to host corporation taxes by $3,200,000,000. This is the amount he estimated the $40 cut would cost.

Republican leaders are talking of chopping taxes as much as $5,000,000,000, with a percentage cut for everybody.

Although the new budget is $2,000,000,000 higher than this year's, Truman said in a statement that it is seven more realistic than the "hard-boiled" budget it was designed to achieve "maximum economy" that it would have been only $34,000,000,000 "if no new legislation were required."

He said it is higher largely because of an international program which "is our answer to an unprecedented challenge."

"The plain fact is that our budget must remain high until we have met our international responsibilities and can see the way clear to a peaceful and prosperous world. Prudence demands that we plan our national finances in full recognition of this fact."

There are items in the budget for universal training, health insurance, greater help for schools, a long-range housing program, enlargement of home, plants, and improvements in "strategic" Alaska. A new sea-level canal to hook up the Atlantic and Pacific is listed for future attention.

A Big Borrower

The International Bank of Reconstruction and Development announced that it has received a letter from the Yugoslav Ambassador, Mr. Sava N. Kozanovic, requesting a loan of $500,000,000 to the Government of Yugoslavia. The Bank has education as well as a token of initiative in their various communities. The most outstanding example of this is in London, Ontario, where the London Little Theatre now has a membership of over 9,500, approximately 10 per cent of the City's population and is obliged to stage ten performances of each play produced to accommodate its membership.

"Previous to the outbreak of the last war, the City of Charlottetown had a Community Theatre in the Little Theatre Guild, the record of which might also be pointed to with pride by our citizens. The Guild conducted two sub-regional festivals in two succeeding years, open to any group in the Province and guild plays were first place in both of these festivals in competition with other groups from Summerside and Charlottetown. Previous to this, the Little Theatre plays represented the Province at the two New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Regional Festivals held in St. John and won first place at one of them.

In two occasions Little Theatre plays have represented New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island at Dominion Drama Festivals in competition with leading groups from all parts of Canada. In the City, the amateur Theatre in the community has been fully realized by the Women's Institutes in this Province and they have made extensive plans for holding regional and final festivals for rural groups. If a proper place is provided, there would appear to be no reason why the final competitions should not be held in this City.

"At one time the Little Theatre Guild had a play-house of its own in what was known as the Old Lyceum on Prince Street, but this building was condemned as a fire hazard unless certain changes and improvements were made, which the landlord refused to make and which the Guild did not feel it should be asked to undertake. During the 1938-39 and 1939-40 seasons, therefore, Guild productions were staged in Prince of Wales College and church halls, sometimes in the homes of members.

"The following year, however, found so many Guild members in the services and otherwise engaged in wartime activities, that it was necessary to make arrangements to carry on activities and the Guild ceased to function.

"Last year, a number of requests were received to have the Guild re-organized and this was undertaken by a number of the older members late last season. Two performances were staged before the end of the season. This season, the Guild has staged one major production in the Prince Edward Theatre at considerable cost and has planned for four productions before the end of the season, in the Spring.

"Since the loss of the Old Lyceum, which was more or less make-shift at best, the Guild has been badly handicapped by the lack of a suitable place for the production of plays. Such a place, our president and another member of our executive motored to St. John last fall to consult with Mr. F.G. Spencer of the Spencer Theatre, Limited, to see if satisfactory arrangements could be made for the use of the Empire Theatre located in the Market Building. Mr. Spencer has been most generous and co-operative and has agreed to allow the Guild the use of the Empire at a minimum cost.

"It has been necessary, however, for the Guild to provide a main curtain and to make other improvements and additions to the stage lighting system.

"In view of the foregoing and considering that there is no other suitable auditorium in the City, together with the fact that the Guild is, or will be making other improvements to City property, we, the executive of the Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown respectfully request that the Mayor and Council of the City of Charlottetown give favourable consideration of Guild activities in the City.

"Should the above request be favourably considered and a grant of $500, be made to the Guild, the Guild might be prepared to vest ownership of the main curtain and track together with any electrical installations, presently planned, in the City. Furthermore, out of funds received from the said grant, the Guild would be in a position to purchase a full set of drapes for the stage, which would make the Empire Theatre stage suitable for any of the usual functions of a stage for performances of plays, concerts, etc.

Messrs MacDonald informed Messrs Large and Lawson that there were no provisions in the existing estimates for an expenditure of $500. The Mayor, however, assured them that their request would receive favourable consideration in the near future. The Council concurred. Upon the request of Mr. Large, permission was given for the Guild to proceed with the lighting installations.

Council Commended

The following letter, written to the Mayor and Council by Mrs. G.M. Avars, secretary of the School Improvement League, was read by the City Clerk:

"As a group who are very interested in the welfare of our City, the School Improvement League wish to express our grateful acknowledged receipt of this letter and is advising what data will be required before consideration can be given to the request
