CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE

NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE — Mrs. Vernon Rodd, 22 Bishop Street, received a cable on Saturday from her son P.O. Keith Rodd announcing his safe arrival in the Middle East.

QUIET WEEK-END—The police report a very quiet weekend with all the station cells empty. One drunk was taken in over the weekend and later released on bail.

REPORTED WOUNDED — Mrs. George Arsenault of Village Green has received word from the Minister of National Defence that her son, Tpr. John Henry Dunn, was wounded in Italy. Tpr. Dunn went overseas in 1941. He has a brother Maurice in Belgium.

FIREMEN CALLED—The firemen were called to the ruins of Frank Clarke's warehouse yesterday morning at two o'clock to extinguish a stubborn blaze in some bails of bags that had been smouldering ever since the warehouse was destroyed last Thursday night.

AT ST. PAUL'S — An especially large congregation attended the celebration of Holy Communion at St. Paul's Church on New Year's Eve, the service beginning at 11.30. A large number of young people were present including many members of the R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. The pastor, the Rev. J.T. Ibbott delivered a brief but inspiring address on the proper observance of the new year.

HOLY HOUR — The Church of the Holy Redeemer held a Holy Hour on New Year's Eve which was largely attended. Supplication was made to God for His blessing on the country and the Armed Forces for the year 1945. The Te Deum was sung and thanks were given for God's blessings during the past year. The Rev. Father A. MacDonald, C.SS.R., officated at the service. All Masses the following morning were celebrated by the Rev. G. M. Crowley, C.SS.R.

GENEROUS ACTION — That there are still those who demonstrate in a practical way their belief in the principle of man's humanity to man, was shown last Saturday night when an RCAF pilot officer from Three Rivers, P.Q., but now stationed in Charlottetown, dropped into the Police Station and inquired if there were any needy families to whom he could be of assistance. Accompanied by a police officer, the R.C.A.F. pilot went out and purchased a generous supply of groceries which they took to a needy family in the east end of the city.

MISSION BAND MEETING — The annual meeting of the Bradalbane Mission Band was held in the school room of the church on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 9th. Despite the stormy afternoon, a large number of children together with a number of ladies were present. The president, Mary Morrison, presided while an interesting program was carried out, consisting of Christmas recitations, songs, and exercises. The lesson was taught by the Supt., Mrs. D. J. Morrison. Following the program the president treated the children to fruit and nuts from a prettily decorated Christmas tree. There were also a number of awards presented to the members, who had had perfect attendance through the year. A special feature of the meeting was the opening of the Mission Band apron, with its numerous patches. The coins were counted by Mrs. J. J. Todd and Miss Isabel MacKay, with the result that seven dollars was added to the funds. At the conclusion of this part of the program, all enjoyed dainty refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. P. E. Murray on behalf of the visitors thanked the superintendent, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Hugh MacKay and Miss Isabel MacKay, who assisted, for making the afternoon such a pleasant one for both the children and the visitors present.

PRESENTATION

On Friday evening, December 15th, 1944, a large number of friends from Clyde River met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boyle to honor them on the eve of their departure to take up residence in Cornwall. Mr. Edward MacPhail was the genial chairman for the occasion. Mrs. J. Heber MacPhail and Mr. Hugh J. MacLean escorted Mr. and Mrs. Boyle to the living-room where a complimentmentary address was read by Mrs. George M. Dixon. The presentation of a substantial sum of money on behalf of those assembled was made by Mr. Kenison MacKinnon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Boyle made fitting replies, thanking the Clyde River folk, not only for their kindness at this time but also for the many kindnesses received during the years they had lived in Clyde River. They also extended a hearty invitation to one and all to visit them in their home in Cornwall. After the singing of "For they are jolly good fellows" both were bounced and the remainder of the evening was spent very pleasantly in conversation and games. Toward midnight a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Boyle assisted by Mrs. Robert D. Matheson, Mrs. Kenison MacKinnon and Mrs. J. Heber MacPhail. Then the gathering dispersed after singing the King and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Boyle the best of everything in the years to come.

Following is the Address:

Dear Friends:—We, your neighbor and friends from Clyde River have gathered here this evening to visit you for the last time before you go from our midst, to dwell in a neighboring district. At this time we would like to convey to you some idea of the great respect and esteem we have for you both and to tell you also how much we regret your departure, your going away from us will make a vacant place in our community life, that will be hard to fill. Words cannot express how much we, who are older, and who have been privileged to come down the years with you, shall miss you. Your ideal home life too amid the toils and cares of farming has been such that the numbers who have enjoyed your excellent hospitality have gone away strengthened in body and refreshed in mind and heart. Children and young people too delighted to visit you who have always understood their interests and who have the happy faculty of ever remaining young at heart. But evan when we shall miss you from the home and community, where you have spent your married life, we remember your retiring to less trying activities is for your good and come as a fitting reward after many years of faithful and untiring work. We now ask you to accept this purse of money as a small token of our appreciation. May the happiness and prosperity you have had in Clyde River go with you and may a kindly Providence grant you both good health to enjoy life together in your Cornwall home for many years to come.

Signed on behalf of the Clyde River community.

JOHN A. MURRAY,
KENISON MacKINNON.

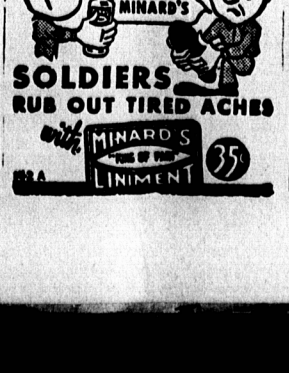
Auto Stand Competition

OSHAWA, Dec. 29—An architectural competition for the design of automobile dealers' places of business in which $55,000 in prizes will be awarded by General Motors has just been announced. Entries from Canadian sources will be eligible.

The competition was decided on by General Motors after many dealers had indicated their post-war plans included enlarging their present buildings or building new places of business. The purpose of the competition is to acquaint architects and builders with the dealers' problems, in order that future building plans will take into account the complexities of an automobile dealer's business.

A total of 60 prizes is being offered. Five prizes of $5,000 each will be awarded for first place in the five major award classifications; five of $2,500 each for second place; five of $1,000 each for third place, and five of $500 each for fourth place. In addition, there will be 20 honorable mention awards and 20 special awards of $250 each.

The competition is open to anyone in the United States or Canada with the exception of employees of General Motors, the Architectural Forum or their advertising agencies.



THE KIRK PULPIT

Preaching on Sunday morning the Minister, the Rev. T.H. Bussell Somers, said: Today in the good providence of God we have reached the last day of another year. We have won to it in safety and in security because of a goodness that has never failed us and a mercy that is everlasting. Another spring has come and passed away with its rich promise and its joy of life. Another summer has gone with its long days of gladness; another autumn with its mellowing of beauty. And now we are at the closing of the year, not ignorant of the mercy which has guarded us; for it is of the Lord's long suffering kindness that we are not consumed, and because His compassions fail not. That is one great office of such days. They bid us halt a moment as we journey. They interrupt the stealthy lapse of time, like the stone flung into the silent stream. On such a day even the lightest mind cannot but think a little of his past, of all he has won and lost, and done and suffered, since the bells rang in the New Year twelve months ago.

Now in the year just drawing to its close there is many a season you cannot but remember. There are experiences of sunshine and shadow that pass before you in vision as I speak. Some of you have been crushed by deep sorrow. Some of you have been filled with a great joy. There is some hour for you in these twelve months that is finely and indelibly enregistered. For others the year has been marked rather by those slow and silent changes, which, in their movement hardly realized, leave men so strangely altered in the end. Such remembrances of bygone things you call to the "session of silent thought" today. You remember all the way that God hath led you to test and try you and see what was in your heart. And sure I am that no one can do that without a deepened sense of the Eternal and a certain wonderment of quiet gratitude for the goodness and mercy of the road behind us.
