

— SPECIAL —

MOTOR OIL — 79c per gallon

Guaranteed 100% Pure

BRING YOUR OWN CONTAINERS

LAWLOR'S AUTO SALVAGE

Phone 383 245 Fitzroy St.
(Opposite Forum)

The Back Stretch

(Continued From Page 8)

Spencer 2.10½ and the two recent imports, Guy Majesty 2.12 and Speedwell Guy 2.13. William Profit has a four-year-old colt by Kalmuck 2.15½, dam, Edith Aubrey. George Brookings has the good trotter Buddy Moko 2.12 that won so frequently on the island circuit last season. He is being jogged by Will Warren. His great trotter—our Island hope a-broad—Christie Budlong 2.06¾, is under the tutelage and care of Earle Avery, Woodstock. Our promising potato grower and dealer, James E. McNeill, has Lorraine Hope 2.07¾, which made such a good campaign in Willard Kelly's stable last season and distinguished herself over the ice this winter. She is expected to be better than ever this year.

Linus Gorman has a three-year-old by Abner T. Clegg 2.04½, dam by Premier Witt, and Edgar Bryenton has three colts by Calumet Budlong, Neil Simpson, Hamilton, has two colts, one by Abner T. Clegg and the other by Calumet Budlong, dam, Nellie Gray. George Crozier has three colts, one by Calumet Budlong and two by Abner T. Clegg, all out of Mignonette, Peter McMahon, than whom there is no more enthusiastic horseman in the country, has the good race mare Belle McEwen 2.09½ and her year-old

Baseball Results

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Boston	110 040 102-9 8 0
Philadelphia	100 000 020-3 7 3
Ferriss and Wagner; Savaae, McCallan, Christopher and Rosar.
Cleveland	000 000 000-0 3 0
Detroit	000 000 100-2 4 1
Embre and Hegan, Lopez; Trucks and Tebbets.
St. Louis	000 000 000-0 5 0
Chicago	100 000 000-1 8 0
Potter and Moss; Rigney, Papish and Tresh.
New York	013 001 110-7 14 1
Washington	000 000 000-0 8 1
Reynolds and Robinson; Newsum, Harris, Candini and Evans.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Philadelphia	430 000 000-7 9 2
Boston	800 100 100-10 9 1
Judd, Jurisic, Donnelly and Solminick; Barrett, Lanfranco; Johnson and Mast.
Brooklyn	011 000 020-4 7 1
New York	013 002 040-10 12 3
Lebarde, Chandler, Behrman and Braden; Koslo and Cooper.
Cincinnati	000 221 042-11 15 2
Pittsburgh	101 172 000-12 15 4
Beggs, Lambert, Malloy, Polivka and Mueller; Ostermuller, Herling, Heintzelman, Bonham and Jarvis.
Chicago	000 001 000-1 8 1
St. Louis	103 000 000-4 5 0
Schmitt, Lee, Erickson and Scheffing; Breechen and Rice.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Rechester	000 002 001-4 9 3
Newark	020 000 100-3 12 1
(11 innings)
Byerly, Mikan and Marshall; Peck, Caccurullo, Schmidt and Lollar.
Toronto	000 032 201-8 12 1
Baltimore	001 000 227-5 11 1
Brown, Simonds and Desautels; Post, Belton, Cave, Podgajny and Lem.

colt by Simcoe Harvester 2.04½. Peter has hopes that this one will be real.

Our thought on reading the above is that this garden Province has been truly named "the Kentucky of Canada." As our readers are aware, over 60% of the leading thoroughbreds (runners, trotters and pacers in America are bred in Kentucky, and as we pointed out some weeks ago, that in the list of Maritime champions of 1946 a large percentage were bred in this Province. Last week Marie Kennedy told us about the colts in the western part. Now "Big Jim" gives a list of those around Kingston, and these are only two sections. Similar lists have been given of promising well bred colts around Charlottetown and vicinity and all the way to Souris, in fact to Chepstow. Just the other day we were told about a wonderful colt by Real Money 2.09, brother to the world's champion Cold Cash 1.58, that has been turned over to Pat McKenna for training. With good sires in this Province like Simcoe Harvester 2.04½, Abner T. Clegg 2.04½, Real Money 2.09, Calumet Budlong 2.02½, Pagliacci 2.09½ (don't overlook him as he was sired by Lord Jim 2.09½), and his dam was the dam of Peter Astra 2.01½, one of the greatest money winners of all time), Squire Hanover 2.08, Playdale 2.04½, Kalmuck 2.15½, King Spruce 2.08, Abbe Wortley 2.04, and others whom we cannot recall, the future is bright for the production of good harness horses here.

There is money to be made in raising them now and will be for many years. There is not only our local market but the American and the European market to cater to. Remember that a resident of impoverished Italy received $50,000 for Doctor Spencer 1.58½, which will be used as a sire of trotters in that sunny clime. However, just this last word and it is, it takes more than breeding of sire and dam to produce a good trotter or pacer. The brood mare must be fed properly, likewise the colt. Care must be taken of his feet and protection given against unsoundness. In fact there are a great many things to be looked after, and as we can say—here is one that will do.

Leonard Barreau, Centre Acadia, announces the arrival of a lovely filly by Protector, dam, Jeanne 2.10½. Many think that Jeanne's colts will not be surpassed by those of Volo Ray 2.05, Elsie Louise 2.09 or Leah Guy 2.04½, all high class brood mares owned by Mr. Barreau.

We were indeed saddened last Monday when we picked up The Guardian and read a despatch from St. Stephen stating that our local hero, Bob Webber, had passed away and the funeral had been held on Saturday, April 12th. Mr. Webber had been a horse lover all his life and for many years acted in the capacity of starter at meets in New Brunswick and Maine, also at Charlottetown. He was characterized by great honesty and conscientiousness and a dislike of being sent off really worried him. His friendship was of the enduring kind and he possessed a facile pen which gave interesting descriptions of incidents of harness horse lore and races of the past. We will miss him from our columns and he will be missed by thousands like us. To his wife we extend the sincere sympathy of ourselves and horsemen friends throughout the Maritimes, in the loss of a loving husband and a devoted friend.

Bowling

HOLY NAME ALLEYS

Big Four League

Old Timers—
R. Duncan	173 132 176
J. Cameron	134 194 136
V. Coyne	214 177 217
A. Bentley	229 213 144
Rev. P. McMahon	177 283 107
Total—2766.
Five Aces—
G. Stewart	228 199 226
G. McDonald	173 156 171
E. Robb	204 246 223
H. Craxwell	224 265 141
J. Lawlor	188 263 204
Total—3211.
High single J. Lawlor 294.
High three J. Lawlor 755.
Points: Five Aces 5; Old Timers 0.
Monday Night All Stars vs. Five Aces.

ASK PATIENTS REVIT

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Kirkland Lake District hospital board has decided to launch a campaign to clean up bad debts. A check-up showed patients' delinquent accounts running into thousands of dollars.

SAFE DEPENDABLE PROMPT

The TOWN TAXI

At Your Service 24 HOURS Per Day

PHONE 1600

Under Sole and Efficient Management of

WEE CHAPPELL

180 St. George St. Charlottetown

Dressing Room Fuss Sharing Spotlight

By FRASER MacDOUGALL Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, April 18—(CP)—The question of who gets into what dressing rooms and when has stirred up a fuss which now ranks a close second to who wins the games in this current Stanley Cup struggle between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

Leafs, who held aloof from this question while Canadiens barred their doors to Toronto newspapermen, crashed the debate today with a vehement denial of a story that they closed their door last night to Montreal newspapermen. The Montreal dispatch said that a uniformed Forum usher stood guard at the door and refused to let Montreal writers get by. A Canadian Press representative was in the room before the players arrived and the usher ordered him out. Once he got out, the usher refused to let him in again.

Coch Hap Day of the Leafs, a man with a cheery smile but few words, came out with a flat denial that he or anybody else connected with Leafs had a hand in this door-barring incident. Ed Pitkin, club publicity director, went a step further and openly put the finger on the Forum management, which just means that he's blaming the Canadiens.

Anyway, say Ed and Hap, the welcome sign is on the Toronto dressing room door for any and all hockey writers. They can come in after the game, talk to anybody and write as they please.

All this dressing room fuss started last Saturday night in Toronto when Canadiens kept their door closed on Toronto sport writers on the trail of a bit of gossip. This ban did not extend to any Montreal writers.

Tests Will Determine Can. Entries

MONTREAL, April 18—(CP)—Tests over Olympic standard courses will be held at Mont Ste. Anne, Que. next December to determine whether Canada will enter cross-country runners in the winter Olympic games next year, it was announced here.

An announcement by the Canadian Olympic ski team selection committee said that since the Canadian team was announced "complaints have been received because no cross-country runners were included."

"It has therefore been decided by the Olympic ski team selection committee that during the training period at Mont Ste. Anne next December further cross-country tests will be held on carefully measured olympic standard courses."

Lauri Huuki of Sudbury, Bill Johnson of Sudbury and Gault Gillespie of Montreal, who finished first, second and third in the cross-country competition at the Canadian championships... will be asked to compete.

"In addition, Tom Dennie of Quebec, who has been outstanding all year but who was ill at the time of the championships, and Jack Pratt of Vancouver, will be invited to compete with certain members selected from our team."

"If it appears from the times made that specialists in cross-country should be included on our team, further consideration will be given to this matter."

Would Change Rules Of Big Steeplechase

By Larry Rambo

LONDON, April 17—(Reuters)—The current plan for revision of Grand National Steeplechase rules could be prompted by those who lost their shirts when unknown Caughoo romped home over the second largest field in the history of the classic—but the howls may bring results.

Many experts believe that conditions of the world's toughest steeplechase should be changed to limit the size of the field.

Proposals are being made for the race to be run either in two divisions, with the best horses in the first division and others running with "bottom weight" in the second division, or that the race be run in one division with "bottom weight" horses eliminated.

Supporters of this suggestion maintain that lower class horses clutter up the field and make the race more of a lottery than it ought to be. They stress that horses carrying the minimum 140 pounds—twice Caughoo did—have won only two in the last 30 years.

On the other side of the fence are those who believe luck will always play a great part in this unique 4 1/2 mile chase.

Those who hold this view say they are more than willing to take their chances that an unconsidered outsider will come up every now and then to add lustre to the event and money to their pockets.

This group also maintains it is a fallacy to think that the bigger the field, the greater chance for mishaps. For instance, this year 17 horses—and jockeys—officially completed the course, or about 30 per cent of the field of 57.

Suggest Eight Changes

British boxing fans are another group of sports lovers who appear eager to see an alteration in sporting rules.

Main sore points are the color bar and bad decisions—both of which were emphasized by a light-weight battle between the Negro Cliff Anderson and British champion Al Phillips last month.

This fight brought an immediate demand from fans that all color bar obstacles be removed from fights for British boxing crowns, but the earliest rule changes may be made to improve the efficiency of decisions.

Jack Solomons—king of British fight promoters—has set his stamp of approval on a plan that may do much to avoid unpopular decisions in the future.

The system—invented by a former British boxing champion and advocated by Solomons—would include the installation of a scoring indicator outside the vision of the fighters. This, advocates say, would show the marks awarded each fighter at the end of every round and afford the spectators a true picture of what the judges thought.

The indicator would also prevent onlookers from forgetting that a man who had outclassed his opponent in early rounds could still win a fight on the basis of points even though he faltered in the closing rounds.

Burt Shotton Takes Over Durocher's Job

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, April 18—(AP)—

Burt Shotton, a grey-eyed, grey-haired, mid-talking gentleman of 60 years, appeared somewhat diffidently on Brooklyn Dodgers' bench just before today's game at the Polo Grounds and officially took over the job that was shot out from under Leo Durocher nine days ago.

About four hours previously he had been notified by President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers that he was the team's new manager.

"I haven't signed a contract or even talked about one yet," he said. "I've worked for Mr. Rickey off and on for many years and I never had a contract."

The circumstances of Shotton's appointment led to the conclusion among baseball observers that he had agreed to fill in for Durocher for the season and that his choice by Rickey meant that Leo would be back at the old stand a year from now.

Shotton, who survived a five-year span as manager of Philadelphia Phillies, scouted high school players in Florida for the Dodgers last year after having gone into semi-retirement because of poor health.

He had turned down a job as Brooklyn coach for the same reason. Because of his precarious health, it was not believed that Shotton would have agreed to serve more than one season.

Although he was officially in charge of the flock today, Shotton made no attempt to direct play. He just sat on the bench among the new players and watched proceedings through his gold-rimmed glasses.

"Whenever I think I know something about the club and think I can help, I'll start to work," he promised. "Until then I'll just watch. I haven't been around the Dodgers and have handled but one man on the club, Rube Melton. I had him when I managed Columbus."

It must be admitted, however, that the device still might not make the judges decision popular with the fans even though it would give them an insight into the judicial point of view.

Halifax By-Election Probable In July

OTTAWA, April 18—(CP)—The Government will probably call a by-election in Halifax in mid-summer to fill the only vacant seat in the Commons, it was learned today.

Informed sources on Parliament Hill indicated that the Liberal Party would pick their candidate within the next month or so to stand for the seat, held by W. C. MacDonald until his death last fall.

The party had been waiting until the Progressive Conservatives picked their man and, how that "Big Alex" MacDonald has been chosen by them, one of the last barriers to a Liberal choice has been removed.

Although no definite date has been set for the vote, July is not considered an unlikely month.

Interesting Talk On Red Cross Visiting Homemaker Service

Miss Marjorie Bell, O.B.E., addressing an interested and representative audience at the Canadian Legion Hall Thursday night on the Red Cross Visiting Homemaker Service emphasized the fact that the average mother in the home has no understudy. If she returns home after being in hospital, she must take up all her duties in many cases undoing the good done by her hospital treatment. Although many studies have shown the value and importance of diet in speeding recovery after an illness, many of these mothers fail to eat all the essential foods. Visiting Homemakers are trained to go into homes and take over the preparation of meals, the care of the children, and the many other duties which make up a mother's work. They are also able to teach the mother the importance of a good diet and help her budget for such adequate nutrition.

Miss Bell also spoke to the Provincial Red Cross Executive on Thursday afternoon on the same subject.

Visiting Homemakers originated some 25 years ago and are operating successfully both on this continent and in Great Britain. The service arose in response to a need which Public Health Nurses discovered was not being filled by existing nursing service. In Canada, Red Cross has established Visiting Homemakers in many of its Branches. The Homemaker Service lends itself admirably to the fulfillment of the Red Cross purpose of the "improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering."

At both the afternoon and evening Miss Bell's broad experience with her subject and her easy manner of presentation absorbed the full attention of her audience. The generosity of the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society in sending Miss Bell to Charlottetown in the interests of the Visiting Homemaker Service which she directs was much appreciated by all.

Murchison Case Heard In Private

(By The Canadian Press) SAINT JOHN, N. B., April 18—Circumstances involved in the serving of a city tax execution at the home of Rev. John M. Murchison were discussed this afternoon at a private session of the City Council. The city's executive director previously had expressed hope the matter would be considered at an open session.

Officials declined to give any details of the discussion but reliable sources reported that the City Solicitor had been instructed "to consult further" in the matter.

"We're not going to try that case in the papers," Mayor James D. McKenna said after the closed meeting.

Counsel for Mr. Murchison recently wrote to the City requesting unspecified damages for alleged assault and battery and false arrest in the attempted serving of an execution for tax arrears.

Mr. Murchison claimed he had been roughly handled by City marshals and police at his home last June when he refused to be taken from the residence.

Announcement was made tonight that Mr. Murchison had forced Mr. Murchison to resign as field secretary of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada and Newfoundland. The announcement, after a meeting of the Society's executive board, said the resignation was "reluctantly accepted."

Found Scalded To Death In Bathroom

VANCOUVER, April 18—(CP)—

Norman Tucker, 65-year-old farmer from Vermilion, Alta., was found scalded to death in a bath tub in a downtown hotel late last night, police reported today. He is believed to have suffered a heart attack.

He was found by other tenants after one of them heard groans coming from the bathroom. The tub was filled with water and the hot water tap running.

T. B. Vaccinations Begin At Halifax

HALIFAX, April 18—(CP)—T. B. vaccinations as protection against tuberculosis have been started at the Halifax Tuberculosis Hospital and about 150 persons have been treated. Medical Superintendent Dr. C. J. W. Beckwith said today. Undergraduate nurses and medical students had been the first to be vaccinated.

LYNESS, Orkney Islands—(CP)—This naval base in future will have only admiralty and naval properties and personnel. An auction was held to dispose of property owned by the last civilian marine salvage firms on the Orkneys.

Discuss Hard Coal

An order exempting imports of anthracite coal into the Maritimes from customs duties set off a brief debate. Charlie Gillis (COP-Cape Breton South) objected to the order and said United States coal was entering the Maritimes in direct competition with the basic industries of those two coal-producing provinces.

Reconstruction Minister Howe said the order was being continued because steel plants in the Maritimes were consuming most of the coke supplies available there and anthracite was needed as a substitute. Furnaces which used coke and anthracite could not use the soft coal mined in the Maritimes. He said the American anthracite was not entering in competition with the Maritime soft coal. It could be used only in industrial plants.

SCOTLAND SEEKS MINERS

EDINBURGH—(CP)—Scotland needs 90,000 miners—10,000 more than a year ago—if its coal shortage is to be overcome. A Moffatt, president of the Scottish area of the National Union of Mineworkers.

LYNESS, Orkney Islands—(CP)—This naval base in future will have only admiralty and naval properties and personnel. An auction was held to dispose of property owned by the last civilian marine salvage firms on the Orkneys.

ENABLING BILL

(Continued From Page 1)

Mr. Morley Bell: "They collect it and keep it."

Hon. Dr. MacMillan: "This is part of the agreement. You wouldn't have got the $2,185,000 unless you did this."

Mr. Hughes: "Did I make that statement?"

Dr. MacMillan: "That is what it is."

Premier Jones: "It's $2,285,000."

Dr. MacMillan: "That's only your estimate." He figured that on the basis of last year's Dominion corporation tax collections, this tax would bring in about $100,000.

TO TAKE VOTE

(Continued From Page 1)

Ballot being extended for one year. Eleven of the orders have been accepted and passed.

Plan Wild Life Week

At the night sitting before returning to study of the control measure, members approved establishment in Canada of a national wild life week to begin each year on April 10, the birthdate of the late Jack Miner, famed Kingsville, Ont., wild life conservationist.

After the House opened, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said there has been some indication of the "willingness" on the part of Russia to have Canada and other smaller allies take part in the making of the German peace. However, the extent to which the Soviets are willing to go has not yet been regarded as satisfactory by the western powers and no agreement has been reached.

Labor Minister Mitchell said the Government's promise to move unemployed Nova Scotians to jobs in Central Canada did not reply to a question by Mr. Macdonnell, showing that before the war there were 75,000 civil servants. Today they number 150,000 and this figure does not include special boards.

Mr. Wright: "I suppose we have a proportion of those in this Province."

Mr. Hunter: "We certainly have this is where our taxes are going, rather than into public services." The bill was reported agreed to.

Halifax By-Election Probable In July

OTTAWA, April 18—(CP)—The Government will probably call a by-election in Halifax in mid-summer to fill the only vacant seat in the Commons, it was learned today.

Informed sources on Parliament Hill indicated that the Liberal Party would pick their candidate within the next month or so to stand for the seat, held by W. C. MacDonald until his death last fall.

The party had been waiting until the Progressive Conservatives picked their man and, how that "Big Alex" MacDonald has been chosen by them, one of the last barriers to a Liberal choice has been removed.

Although no definite date has been set for the vote, July is not considered an unlikely month.

Tests Will Determine Can. Entries

MONTREAL, April 18—(CP)—Tests over Olympic standard courses will be held at Mont Ste. Anne, Que. next December to determine whether Canada will enter cross-country runners in the winter Olympic games next year, it was announced here.

An announcement by the Canadian Olympic ski team selection committee said that since the Canadian team was announced "complaints have been received because no cross-country runners were included."

"It has therefore been decided by the Olympic ski team selection committee that during the training period at Mont Ste. Anne next December further cross-country tests will be held on carefully measured olympic standard courses."

Lauri Huuki of Sudbury, Bill Johnson of Sudbury and Gault Gillespie of Montreal, who finished first, second and third in the cross-country competition at the Canadian championships... will be asked to compete.

"In addition, Tom Dennie of Quebec, who has been outstanding all year but who was ill at the time of the championships, and Jack Pratt of Vancouver, will be invited to compete with certain members selected from our team."

"If it appears from the times made that specialists in cross-country should be included on our team, further consideration will be given to this matter."

Would Change Rules Of Big Steeplechase

By Larry Rambo

LONDON, April 17—(Reuters)—The current plan for revision of Grand National Steeplechase rules could be prompted by those who lost their shirts when unknown Caughoo romped home over the second largest field in the history of the classic—but the howls may bring results.

Many experts believe that conditions of the world's toughest steeplechase should be changed to limit the size of the field.

Proposals are being made for the race to be run either in two divisions, with the best horses in the first division and others running with "bottom weight" in the second division, or that the race be run in one division with "bottom weight" horses eliminated.

Supporters of this suggestion maintain that lower class horses clutter up the field and make the race more of a lottery than it ought to be. They stress that horses carrying the minimum 140 pounds—twice Caughoo did—have won only two in the last 30 years.

On the other side of the fence are those who believe luck will always play a great part in this unique 4 1/2 mile chase.

Those who hold this view say they are more than willing to take their chances that an unconsidered outsider will come up every now and then to add lustre to the event and money to their pockets.

This group also maintains it is a fallacy to think that the bigger the field, the greater chance for mishaps. For instance, this year 17 horses—and jockeys—officially completed the course, or about 30 per cent of the field of 57.

Suggest Eight Changes

British boxing fans are another group of sports lovers who appear eager to see an alteration in sporting rules.

Main sore points are the color bar and bad decisions—both of which were emphasized by a light-weight battle between the Negro Cliff Anderson and British champion Al Phillips last month.

This fight brought an immediate demand from fans that all color bar obstacles be removed from fights for British boxing crowns, but the earliest rule changes may be made to improve the efficiency of decisions.

Jack Solomons—king of British fight promoters—has set his stamp of approval on a plan that may do much to avoid unpopular decisions in the future.

The system—invented by a former British boxing champion and advocated by Solomons—would include the installation of a scoring indicator outside the vision of the fighters. This, advocates say, would show the marks awarded each fighter at the end of every round and afford the spectators a true picture of what the judges thought.

The indicator would also prevent onlookers from forgetting that a man who had outclassed his opponent in early rounds could still win a fight on the basis of points even though he faltered in the closing rounds.

Burt Shotton Takes Over Durocher's Job

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, April 18—(AP)—

Burt Shotton, a grey-eyed, grey-haired, mid-talking gentleman of 60 years, appeared somewhat diffidently on Brooklyn Dodgers' bench just before today's game at the Polo Grounds and officially took over the job that was shot out from under Leo Durocher nine days ago.

About four hours previously he had been notified by President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers that he was the team's new manager.

"I haven't signed a contract or even talked about one yet," he said. "I've worked for Mr. Rickey off and on for many years and I never had a contract."

The circumstances of Shotton's appointment led to the conclusion among baseball observers that he had agreed to fill in for Durocher for the season and that his choice by Rickey meant that Leo would be back at the old stand a year from now.

Shotton, who survived a five-year span as manager of Philadelphia Phillies, scouted high school players in Florida for the Dodgers last year after having gone into semi-retirement because of poor health.

He had turned down a job as Brooklyn coach for the same reason. Because of his precarious health, it was not believed that Shotton would have agreed to serve more than one season.

Although he was officially in charge of the flock today, Shotton made no attempt to direct play. He just sat on the bench among the new players and watched proceedings through his gold-rimmed glasses.

"Whenever I think I know something about the club and think I can help, I'll start to work," he promised. "Until then I'll just watch. I haven't been around the Dodgers and have handled but one man on the club, Rube Melton. I had him when I managed Columbus."

It must be admitted, however, that the device still might not make the judges decision popular with the fans even though it would give them an insight into the judicial point of view.

Halifax By-Election Probable In July

OTTAWA, April 18—(CP)—The Government will probably call a by-election in Halifax in mid-summer to fill the only vacant seat in the Commons, it was learned today.

Informed sources on Parliament Hill indicated that the Liberal Party would pick their candidate within the next month or so to stand for the seat, held by W. C. MacDonald until his death last fall.

The party had been waiting until the Progressive Conservatives picked their man and, how that "Big Alex" MacDonald has been chosen by them, one of the last barriers to a Liberal choice has been removed.

Although no definite date has been set for the vote, July is not considered an unlikely month.

Interesting Talk On Red Cross Visiting Homemaker Service

Miss Marjorie Bell, O.B.E., addressing an interested and representative audience at the Canadian Legion Hall Thursday night on the Red Cross Visiting Homemaker Service emphasized the fact that the average mother in the home has no understudy. If she returns home after being in hospital, she must take up all her duties in many cases undoing the good done by her hospital treatment. Although many studies have shown the value and importance of diet in speeding recovery after an illness, many of these mothers fail to eat all the essential foods. Visiting Homemakers are trained to go into homes and take over the preparation of meals, the care of the children, and the many other duties which make up a mother's work. They are also able to teach the mother the importance of a good diet and help her budget for such adequate nutrition.

Miss Bell also spoke to the Provincial Red Cross Executive on Thursday afternoon on the same subject.

Visiting Homemakers originated some 25 years ago and are operating successfully both on this continent and in Great Britain. The service arose in response to a need which Public Health Nurses discovered was not being filled by existing nursing service. In Canada, Red Cross has established Visiting Homemakers in many of its Branches. The Homemaker Service lends itself admirably to the fulfillment of the Red Cross purpose of the "improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering."

At both the afternoon and evening Miss Bell's broad experience with her subject and her easy manner of presentation absorbed the full attention of her audience. The generosity of the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society in sending Miss Bell to Charlottetown in the interests of the Visiting Homemaker Service which she directs was much appreciated by all.

Murchison Case Heard In Private

(By The Canadian Press) SAINT JOHN, N. B., April 18—Circumstances involved in the serving of a city tax execution at the home of Rev. John M. Murchison were discussed this afternoon at a private session of the City Council. The city's executive director previously had expressed hope the matter would be considered at an open session.

Officials declined to give any details of the discussion but reliable sources reported that the City Solicitor had been instructed "to consult further" in the matter.

"We're not going to try that case in the papers," Mayor James D. McKenna said after the closed meeting.

Counsel for Mr. Murchison recently wrote to the City requesting unspecified damages for alleged assault and battery and false arrest in the attempted serving of an execution for tax arrears.

Mr. Murchison claimed he had been roughly handled by City marshals and police at his home last June when he refused to be taken from the residence.

Announcement was made tonight that Mr. Murchison had forced Mr. Murchison to resign as field secretary of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada and Newfoundland. The announcement, after a meeting of the Society's executive board, said the resignation was "reluctantly accepted."

You Can't Top This Coat!

THE COAT WITH A FUTURE

MOORINO

Mid-season Weight

THE COAT WITH A FUTURE

This Spring, wear The MOORINO Mid-Season coat—the newest men's outercoat. Superbly styled for luxury and comfort by skilled craftsmen... fine in texture... easy to wear. Truly, a gentleman's coat.

At leading men's stores across Canada.

Price $45.00

S. A. McDONALD

TO TAKE VOTE

(Continued From Page 1)

Ballot being extended for one year. Eleven of the orders have been accepted and passed.

Plan Wild Life Week

At the night sitting before returning to study of the control measure, members approved establishment in Canada of a national wild life week to begin each year on April 10, the birthdate of the late Jack Miner, famed Kingsville, Ont., wild life conservationist.

Discuss Hard Coal

An order exempting imports of anthracite coal into the Maritimes from customs duties set off a brief debate. Charlie Gillis (COP-Cape Breton South) objected to the order and said United States coal was entering the Maritimes in direct competition with the basic industries of those two coal-producing provinces.

SCOTLAND SEEKS MINERS

EDINBURGH—(CP)—Scotland needs 90,000 miners—10,000 more than a year ago—if its coal shortage is to be overcome. A Moffatt, president of the Scottish area of the National Union of Mineworkers.

ENABLING BILL

(Continued From Page 1)

Mr. Morley Bell: "They collect it and keep it."

Hon. Dr. MacMillan: "This is part of the agreement. You wouldn't have got the $2,185,000 unless you did this."

Mr. Hughes: "Did I make that statement?"

Dr. MacMillan: "That is what it is."

Premier Jones: "It's $2,285,000."

Dr. MacMillan: "That's only your estimate." He figured that on the basis of last year's Dominion corporation tax collections, this tax would bring in about $100,000.

TO TAKE VOTE