DUCE FORGETS CAPORETTO, REMEMBERS ONLY 'PUSHOVERS'

YOUNGER SON of Il Duce, Bruno Mussolini, served in Spain as a lieutenant in Italy's air forces. He led a squadron of 25 bombers, raided Valencia.

SUCCESSOR to Mussolini as Italy's dictator will probably be Count Galeazzo Ciano, Il Duce's son-in-law and foreign minister, who cultivates the traditional Roman scowl.

ELDER SON of Mussolini is Vittorio, also an air force officer. He bombed native village in Ethiopia, reported it was "great fun" to see natives scurry.

REASON TO SMILE had the dictators as they drove through Munich to a conference room and a bloodless victory for the Rome-Berlin axis. Less easy is the victory Mussolini and Hitler seek today against the world's awakened democracies. "Appeasement" and its proponents have been relegated to the background in the Allies determination to stem the tide of aggression.

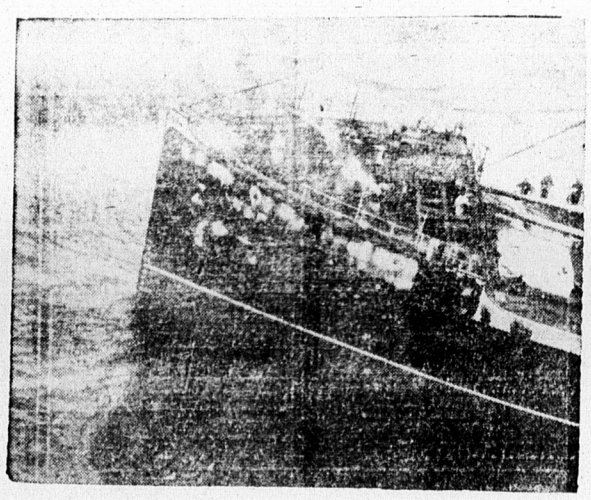
KING-EMPEROR is the title of Victor Emmanuel, shown with his gradson and namesake, Prince of Naples. But Mussolini rules kingdom and Empire.

LEOPOLD'S SISTER is Princess Marie Jose. Reports said her influence had much to do with the Belgian king's decision to capitulate.

CROWN PRINCE of Italy is Umberto, who will inherit the throne while Ciano inherits the power. Royal family is said to dislike Il Duce's militarism.

HAILE SELLASSIE, here reading a newspaper in English exile, lost his title as emperor of Ethiopia to King Victor Emmanuel III, of Italy, after a five-months' military campaign had brought the African kingdom into the Italian empire. Queen Wilhelmina, King Haakon knows how he feels.

Nazi Tactics Didn't Work



The bow of the Capo Noli is afire (RIGHT) and large "blisters" can be seen on her side. Still smouldering, the Italian freighter was run aground on the island of Bic, and Capt. Giuseppe and his crew were taken to Rimouski, 10 miles away. A fire tug from Quebec put out the flames.

MYERS-MacDONALD. — A garden wedding of much charm took place at the Eyrie home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacDonald, Crapaud, at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, June 8, when their eldest daughter, Flora Jean, became the bride of Ralph E. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Myers, Hampton. The bride looked very lovely in a street-length dress of rose and mauve with corsage of talisman roses, and small flowered hat in matching colors with velvet streamers. Preceded by a group of girl friends in rainbow colored frocks, she came down the stairs to the strains of Mandelssonn's wedding march, and was met by her father, who escorted her to the lawn where the groom awaited under the blossom-laden apple tree. The Rev. W. H. McLean, of the United Church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by about forty relatives and friends. The perfect June day, the spacious green lawns and softly waft ng apple blossoms made a beautiful setting for the ceremony. Following the happy felicitations of their friends and during the signing of the register, Mrs. (Dr.) Calloeck, of Crapaud, who played the wedding march, sang very sweetly "O Promise Me." The bride's mother wore a navy and rose redingote ensemble, and the groom's mother was gowned in dust with flower-trimmed hat. Tea was served in the living room, which was decorated with tulips and other spring flowers, and on the verandah and lawn. The bride's table placed before the cozy fireplace was centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with a posy of pink and blue with the same flowers around the base and flanked with tall tapers. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. John Nicholson, Mrs. Arthur Simmons, Mrs. B. C. Wood, Mrs. Kenneth Muttart, Miss Mildred Smith, Mrs. G. Macdonald, and the Misses Annilea MacDonald, Doris Myers, Gladys Trowsdale, Mae Yeo and Ruthie Macdonald. The happy young couple showered with apple blossom confetti, left on a short honeymoon trip. The bride travelled in navy and white ensemble with black patent accessories and fox furs. Previous to her marriage, the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower in the Crapaud Community Hall, where she received many beautiful gifts. The popular young couple have the best wishes of their many friends as they go to their new home in DeSable.

"KING FOR A DAY"

King for a day is Daddy!
Today we will try and please,
And for the other three-sixty-four
We will try by every wheeze!

Frills and laces and Fol-de-dols:
He keeps us dressed up fine:
If he worries making the two ends meet,
It shows not at the time.

With all the paraphernalia,
He buys for us at school,
To start us right on life's highway,
With the good old "Golden Rule."

Tired he comes from the toil of day,
We may not be there to see,
Where are the children, Mother?
The first question is sure to be.

He may sit long into the evening;
Stay pondering far into the night,
About the mortgage or taxes,
And how he can win the fight.

For the road is not easy for him you know,
He may take it all with a grin,
But we do not know of his worries
When the money is hard to bring in.

Many things that to us would be puzzles,
He can quickly master with ease,
We think our Dad is a marvel,
No wonder we try to please.

So today we'll think of Father,
Yes we'll even forget our play,
Have his paper and slippers ready,
And wait on—"The King for a day"—

And we'll make all tomorrows, today, Sir,
Procrastinate never will we,
Without Dad like a ship in the harbour,
I don't know wherever we'd be.

—John.
