The game on a whole, although a little one-sided, was a very good exhibition for a starter, the Methodists showing good judgment in shooting for the baskets and played better combination than their lighter opponents, who nevertheless fought gamely to the final whistle.

The score at the end of the first half was 19 to 6 in favor of the Methodists, "Sure-Shot" McInnis scoring 16 out of the 19 points of his team.

GEORGE WALKER'S SPLENDID VICTORY LAST SATURDAY

Breaking the old record by 25 minutes, George Walker, the brilliant young rider from Charlottetown, won The Herald and Mail Windsor to Halifax bicycle race, a distance of 45 miles in 2 hours and 43 minutes. Saturday defeating a field of 101 riders. It was a wonderful performance on the part of the young Island rider, who allowed Raymond Dauphinee, of Glen Haven to set the pace for 30 miles. Sidney Coakley, who established a record for the course last year, was second beating out Raymond Dauphinee 400 yards from the finish.

Roads that were hardly fit for motor cars, were encountered outside of Mount Uniacke and the record breaking drive, makes Walker's feat all the more wonderful. At one point, Walker and Dauphinee alighted from their wheels and waded through the mud. Later on they had to carry their wheels over the road of newly broken stones.

The old record for the 45 miles was 3 hours and 8 minutes and were amazed when announcement was made that Walker had shattered the record by 25 minutes.

Walker lived up to all expectations. He came to Halifax with a reputation of being a great all-round athlete and he proved beyond doubt that he is one of the best bike riders in the east. He represents the Abegweit, of Charlottetown, and his friends backed him heavily to win the big event. Former champion Sidney Coakley rode the same kind of a race last year; he remained in the back until the final ten miles and passed several riders on the race, in one of whom was Raymond Dauphinee, who proved to be the sensation of the day.

EMPEROR AND WIFE ARE STILL PROSPEOUS

VIENNA, Oct. 26.—The former Emperor Charles and his wife are still interned in Castle of Count Esterhazy at Tatavardos, according to Austrian official advices. They were in charge of Colonel Sieman Filvy, Commander of the National Army. Members of the Charles Cabinet and other prisoners have been removed to military prisons in Budapest. Besides the members of cabinet there are being held prisoners, a large number of Royalist officers and prominent legitimists including the Prince Ludwig Windisch Graetz. It is reported documents of utmost importance and a quantity of jewelry have been taken from the prisoners.

When Mayor Slack gave the word "go," Howard Shaw, 54 years old rider of Windsor, went into the lead and set a terrific pace for 200 yards. On the first turn Raymond Dauphinee took the lead.

He went over hills, down hills and over boulders at a terrific pace, with none of his rivals with in hailing distance. He carried the Glen Haven smile and did not seem to worry over his opponents. Walker was in second place, riding cautiously. In making a sharp turn, Dauphinee fell, but he was soon going in at top speed again.

Six miles out of Windsor, Dauphinee was leading Walker by 100 yards. At the ten mile mark, Walker opened out and caught Dauphinee on a sharp turn in the road. Side by side, the rivals rode for many miles, with both waiting for an opportunity to get away to a lead. Dauphinee reached Mount Uniacke, 17 miles from Windsor in 1 hour, 10 minutes.

It was at this point of the race that Walker started a terrific sprint in his effort to overhaul his youthful rival, from down the shore. Dauphinee's big lead was rapidly reduced. Walker was abreast of his rival at the 30 mile mark, with both men riding close strong.

On the junction road, Walker opened out and took a 50 yard lead on Dauphinee. This did not worry the country boy, and came back and was with the Islander again at the 38 mile mark.

Walker's bike showed up to advantage on the smooth road and he pulled out in front and was never headed. "Who is he, who is he," hundreds of suburbanites asked each other as Walker sped through Bedford, Rockingham and Fairview. Hundreds stood on the road with Hearld's and checked off the numbers on the back of the riders.

A number of motorists from Prince Edward Island went out several miles to meet Walker and they informed him that he was several minutes inside of the record, he started a sprint along Kenmpt Road. He crossed the line 10 minutes ahead of Sidney Coakley, whose heart breaking sprint of 400 yards from the finish, landed him ahead of Raymond Dauphinee.

Walker was in good shape at the finish and appeared not the least bit fatigued after his long grind. Coakley and Dauphinee were also in fine shape. The Charlottetown rider was given a big ovation at the finish and was carried away in the arms of admirers.

Coakley and Dauphinee who came in fast, were loudly cheered, as both beat the old record.

Youth and father time defied the dangers of the big grind. Frank Adams, age 70, who rode when wooden spokes were popular, was game to the core. Adams was as peppy as a "two year old" and was well up with the lead at the finish. And even the wee boys were in the race. Willie Dunphy, Halifax, and Gerald Crowell, Windsor, both 15 years of age, were on the line smiling all over their countenances. Crowell finished 31st while his Halifax rival was a few positions back.

Walker came in as fresh as a daisy and it seemed as if he could never have been through the grind—and it was SOME grind. When asked about the condition of the course, he laughed and pointed to his mud-covered feet. The recent rains had made the course very bad. Walker, in his modesty (which is a mighty nice thing in an all-round likeable chap) paid high tribute to his rivals.

Dauphinee, who finished a close third to Coakley, had led him for 20 miles. It was a pretty sight to see this well-built, clean-cut and pleasant-faced athlete wheel across the line.

His time was remarkable and it was made on a tough course. Walker is a type of athlete who does much to make athletics what they are.

28 COMMUNISTS IN A DRIZZLE SYLVIA'S PARADE PROVES FIZZLE

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Sylvia Pankhurst this afternoon attempted to lead her Communist cohorts against the American Embassy in London, to protest against the sentences of Sacco and Vanzetti, the Massachusetts murderers.

The drizzling rain and sudden chill of London's weather fanned her at Whitechapel addressing twenty-eight hide-bound Communists, who under their umbrellas, listened for a while to her harangue. Then they decided that home was better than the dampness outside of Belgrave Square, where Ambassador Harvey's official residence is situated.

Sylvia confessed that she expected at least 10,000 hearers, and was somewhat disappointed at only having twenty-eight.

New York City Hall Flies no Union Jack

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Considerable controversy has developed over the absence of the Union Jack from the flag pole over the City Hall during the civic welcome to Admiral Lord David Beatty. Two days before the arrival of the British Admiral, General Diaz, Italy's war hero, was given the freedom of the city, and in addition to being included in the entrance decorations the flag of Italy was flown from the flag-staff on the roof of the City Hall. Yesterday the Stars and Stripes and the city colors occupied the places of honor. The British flag was used only in the entrance decorations.

A recorder for the New York World interviewed Mayor Hylan and asked the reason for the apparent discrimination. The mayor is quoted as saying: "Don't bother me. Don't be a nuisance." Another New York reports a civic official as stating that a civic ordinance had been discovered which prevented the flying of a foreign flag over the City Hall. This obscure civic measure had not been discovered, he said, until after the welcome given General Diaz on Wednesday.

While the Union Jack did not occupy the position of honor at the city hall, it fluttered from that position on the flagstaffs of Broadway buildings for the first time in many months.

King Is Important As Link of Empire

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Reuter cables from Wellington, New Zealand, show that the feature of a discussion in the House of Representatives on the Imperial Conference was the emphasis laid on the importance of the King as the connecting link of Empire, even the Laborites disclaiming any desire to exchange His Majesty for a President. This attitude is attributable to the impression made by the Prince of Wales on his tour, and general appreciation of the personal interest shown by the King in the Dominion. In this connection Premier Massey stated that the King disapproved Government proposals in detail, and "sometimes, when His Majesty takes a different point of view, he is able to induce even the Cabinet to change their opinion to some extent. There is very little going on, even in the Dominions, with which the King is unacquainted."

Greater Activity In Immigration By The Government

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—Immigration activity by the Canadian Government in Great Britain, on a more extensive scale than has prevailed since the outbreak of the war, is said to be the object of a visit by W. J. Black, Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization, to England at the present time. Mr. Black will spend some time in the United Kingdom and will also probably visit Northern Europe for the purpose of studying conditions at first hand. It is unlikely that the restrictive measures now in force will be removed, but greater efforts to secure agricultural settlers will be made. It is foreshadowed that these efforts may not be confined to public, and agency activities overseas, but may involve colonization schemes in Canada of a nature not previously attempted in immigration work.

Brighton Fastest Town In The World

BRIGHTON, Eng., Oct. 25.—This popular city by the sea, where thousands of Londoners are wont to spend their week-ends, is declared by Rev. Dr. Downes, a prominent Wesleyan minister to be the "fastest town in the world." By that he means the wickedest.

Rev. J. Dixon, another Wesleyan minister backed him up in his denunciation of the immortality of Brighton.

"There's not a town in England in greater need of Methodism," I said. "Nowhere else can you see such a display of the vagaries and follies of fashion."

RUTH'S HOUSE GLOUCESTER TO BE DEDICATED

The most expensive move of baseballs ever sold, realizing more than $30,000, was purchased by Indiana Knights for the benefit of the home. The balls were autographed by Ruth, and State Deputy Joseph Nurre of the Indiana K. C. broke all records by paying $500 for one of the ball. Supreme Knight James A. Flanerty headed the visiting Knights from ten states at the ceremonies. The home cost $250,000 and is named after Indiana's pioneer missionary.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 25.—The Manta Club, of Gloucester, will construct a vessel to race for the trophy next year. This vessel will be about 135 feet overall, 100 foot waterline, and about 135 gross tons. She will be slightly larger than the Elsie but along much finer and faster lines.

A well known naval designer will draw up the plans immediately and construction will be started shortly so as to give the new craft a season's fishing on the banks, thus making her eligible for next year's international series.

Captain William Thompson, head of a large cold storage concern, is president of the club.

Paris Fort on Fire And Shells Explode

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Soldiers tonight hurriedly compelled the evacuation of the population in the vicinity of the fort at Aubervilliers, two miles outside Paris, when fire broke out and caused the explosion of gas and other shells. The fort is one of the chain of 40 forts surrounding Paris. It is situated to the northwest of the city. Shortly after the fire broke out the flames reached a portion of the ammunition stores, and when the shells began to explode fire apparatus from Paris was sent to the scene, and troops were sent out to compel the people in the danger zone to evacuate.

"Man of Mystery" Is Identified

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 25.—The "man of mystery" who committed suicide last Thursday night in a local hotel was identified tonight as Warren C. Spurgin, missing president of the Michigan Avenue Trust Company of Chicago, by W. F. Bennett, of Miami, former Chicago broker, and intimate friend of Spurgin.

The body, identified at first as that of C. Hayden, of New York City, was found Friday morning when employees of the hotel forced an entrance to the room. A bullet wound in the forehead and a revolver containing one spent cartridge supported the theory of suicide.

Spurgin apparently had taken considerable cautions to obliterate every mark on his clothing which might have led to identification. Even parts of the living in his shoes had been cut out and could not be found.

Wardrobe of Passing Show Burns

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Electrical apparatus and stage wardrobes stated to be of a value of $250,000, belonging to the Passing Show of the 1921 Company were destroyed today in a fire that broke out in a baggage car on the train that was conveying the company from Toronto to Montreal. The fire was discovered when the train was near Collins Bay and it was stopped while the unavailing efforts were made to quench the blaze. Owing to the loss of their effects, the theatrical company has been compelled to delay its opening until Tuesday next.
