KITCHENER PLAN TO GO THROUGH

War Office Will Give Him Time To Work Out Indian Defence

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Lord Kitchener is going to remain on in India for another three years. Strictly speaking, his command of the British military forces in that dependency expires next November—that is to say, eleven months hence. Resulting, however, that his reorganization of the army and of the defence of the Indian frontier will not then have made sufficient progress to enable his successor to take over the work, the King and the authorities, both at home and in India, see that he should be permitted to complete in person the elaborate scheme which he has devised, and to which the nation stands committed. Sounded as to whether he would be willing to remain on in India until the end of 1909, Lord Kitchener has expressed his readiness to stay, but will probably come home for a brief furlough next winter. He has written to this effect, and also about his remaining on in India, to some very old friends in London. Incidentally, I may mention that Lord Kitchener has lately begun the establishment of an elaborate system of wireless telegraphy along the entire frontier of India, which will enable the military posts hitherto maintained in order to keep up the line of communication, which will now be furnished by means of this wire as telegraphy.

GIRL STOWAWAY ON BRITISH SHIP

Tried to get From London to the Colonies, But is Sent Back

LONDON, Dec. 27.—A girl stowaway scarcely 10 years of age, has just landed at Tilbury Docks from the Royal Mail steamship Okeana. It seems early in November the girl was missed from her home in London. She had made her way to Tilbury and boarded the Okeana. In the crush of people ascending the gangway, she was not noticed, and got on the ship and saw it leave its berth without any question being put to her. Mixing with the third class passengers, of whom there were several hundred on board, she contrived to evade attention. If she was noticed, it was taken for granted that she had come with relatives. Just after leaving Plymouth, however, the suspicions of the ship's authorities were aroused, she was questioned, and, of course, being unable to give any explanation, she was ordered to be put under observation until it was decided what should be done with her. When the ship reached Marseilles she was disembarked and transferred to the Orient, which was on its homeward passage. On the Orient she made herself very popular. Asked why she had run away from home she said she was ambitious. She wanted to make her way in the world. On arrival of the ship at Tilbury the girl's address was obtained and a telegram sent to her mother, who arrived a few hours later.

WAR ON THE CLAIRVOYANTS

Legislature of Illinois to Introduce Bill against Magicians

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—A bill for the suppression of clairvoyants, mediums, and the many varieties of fake fortune tellers that infest Chicago by the hundreds, is to be presented by the legislature at once. Aroused by the recent crimes in the city, which have implicated several of this class of swindlers, notably the Vex I murders, which have led to the arrest of the fortune teller Herman Billick, the state legislature expects to take some action to prevent continuation of conditions as bad as the witchcraft and superstition of the middle ages. "Black art," magic, charms, amulets, potions—these are the means used by hundreds of impostors to fleece credulous dupes. United States District Attorney Sims is now investigating the question of the ability of these swindlers and will, if possible, prosecute them under the United States postal laws.

REDUCING THE KING'S EXPENSES

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Further reductions are to be made in the staff of royal servants at Buckingham Palace and Windsor, the plan still being economy. Several of the servants who are to be

OIL EQUAL TO PENNSYLVANIA

MONTREAL, Dec. 28. Further facts were received by L. O. Armstrong, colonization agent of the C.P.R., today which deal with the discovery of oil in Manitoulin Island, Lake Huron. It is now known that 100 wells have been sunk at a cost of about $500 each and as a result the discoverer believes that they have an even greater oil ground than Pennsylvania had in its greatest days. To add to this, St. Joseph's Island, which is of the same geographical formation as Manitoulin, is known to have the same oil qualities. In Pennsylvania it used to cost $1,500 to sink a well as against $500 in Canada today. There is a belief in many quarters that this is the beginning of a great rival to the Standard Oil Company, which today controls the world's products of petroleum.
