Woodland's program on Saturday night was worthy of the bumper house that greeted it. The new reel, "The Samaritan's Courtship," contained many a laugh, in addition to showing all the troubles of a good samaritan who helped a young lady out of an awkward predicament. The comedy element prevailed in the program, and was thoroughly appreciated. The music was excellent, and the song and specialty by Bud Cannon good. It is to be regretted that this sweet singer is soon to leave us, but no doubt the supply will be satisfactory.

A party from Church Road, Lot 40, who forged the name of a gentleman in Milburn, recently sent The Guardian a number of news items from that place. The envelope bears the "Head of St. Peter's Bay" Post Office stamp with March 25, 1910 thereon. The Post Office Inspector has been interviewed in the matter and he states that no effort would be spared to bring the guilty party to justice and that all rural postmasters are being instructed and reminded that it is part of their duty to promptly send any communications to the Inspector that are under suspicion of containing forged signatures or any unreliable news items for a newspaper.
