A Wonderfully Tempting Dainty! Grape-Nuts Cookies

HERE'S a cooky dainty you'll find wonderfully delicious for any occasion. Grape-Nuts Cookies!

Delightfully distinctive in flavor—wholesome and nourishing. Easily and readily made by the recipe given here. Simply take some of the Grape-Nuts you use for your morning cereal, or get a package from your grocer, and make a batch of cookies with a temptingly different flavor from any you've ever had.

Grape-Nuts Cookies are proving popular in many places. R. W. Maddell, baker in Norwich, Ontario, says that they are his largest sellers, outselling all others by two to one. W. R. Simmerman, baker at 1381 Main St. East, Hamilton, is enthusiastic after the first time he offered them to his customers: "Completely sold out in a short time. A fine line—went over big."

Your family will enjoy these cookies just as well as hundreds of others do. Fill the cooky jar with them often. Grape-Nuts Cookies are particularly nourishing, because in them you get the concentrated nourishment which makes Grape-Nuts so valuable a food. Most folks know how delicious and economical (because it is so highly concentrated) a cereal Grape-Nuts is. Now try Grape-Nuts in this recipe. Order Grape-Nuts with your other groceries.

GRAPE-NUTS COOKIES

1 egg, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup Grape-Nuts, 1/2 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 1/2 cups flour (good measure).

Break egg into mixing bowl, beat; add sugar and shortening, and beat again; add Grape-Nuts softened in the sour milk, vanilla, and soda sifted in the flour. Roll very thin and cut with small, fancy cutter. Sprinkle with sugar, with raisins or scattering of Grape-Nuts on top. Bake in quick oven. Put on lower grate and finish on upper grate. If desired soft instead of crisp, roll thicker. This recipe makes twenty-five cookies.

Middle Age? Reading Glasses

All, everybody, at middle age require reading glasses. A simple test is the way the print blurs, jumps round and floating specks appear before your eyes after reading some time. The eye lens hardens as time goes on and glasses are the only means of keeping the correct focus in safe comfort. Have your Eyes examined. H. J. MABON, Optometrist, Montague, P. E.
