Non British Delegation to Russia

(Dom. Press Special.)

LONDON, May 11.—Appointment by the League of Nations of commission to Russia, which will not include delegates from England and France, who will be objectionable to Lenine, is unofficially predicted here. At the same time it is pointed out that the Soviets may find some new excuse to refuse to receive the commissioners.

Lenine's argument against the move is considered well grounded by a majority of statesmen here, although it is a fact that Poland was not warring upon Russia when the original request was made. As matters stand, the Soviets are not enthusiastic over the idea of being investigated, but neither are the League officials enthusiastic over tackling such a non-constructive undertaking. Final decision will be made at Rome.

Pirates Hold Up French Packet

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 10.—Pirates held up the French packet Souiras, which left Batum May 6, for Marseilles and after robbing the passengers, went ashore in boats which they compelled members of the crew to man. Among those robbed were several women whose husbands are connected with relief work in Armenia. They were fleeing before the Bolsheviki advance and were compelled to give up their money and jewelry at the point of the revolver.

The pirates boarded the steamer at Batum, either as passengers or members of the crew. At nine o'clock, on the night of May 6, fifteen men sprang up from various parts of the ship, covered the officers and passengers with pistols and took possession. The women passengers were later taken off by a French destroyer. They arrived here yesterday.

Money Market Looks Easier

NEW YORK, May 10.—The loss in reserves by the clearing house banks is not much of a factor as they can always strengthen their position by discounting.

Taking into consideration the appearance of some time money last week and the comparatively moderate call money rate, it now seems probable that a condition of fairly reasonable ease is ahead, which may very well form the basis for some stock market recovery after the long decline.

Mexican advices report the complete success of the revolutionary movement with little bloodshed.

Carranza is in flight and the rebels are said to be in possession of Mexico City, Vera Cruz and practically all important points.

The department of agriculture estimates of winter wheat is not encouraging as a yield of less than 500,000,000 bushels is indicated which is one third less than last year.

The steel tonnage report for May first is due this afternoon and should make a good showing as the railroad strikes have undoubtly hampered deliveries greatly.

International Loan to China

(Dom. Press Special.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The State Department announces an agreement authorizing England, France and Japan to make loans to the Chinese Government; each government has authorized the formation of private Banking groups, which will have the diplomatic support of its Government. The four groups will co-operate

The agreement terminates two years of negotiation. The plan for the loan was suggested by America to provide China with a fund to enable her to proceed with economical and industrial development.

General Flores Joins Rebels

(Dom. Press Special.)

SONORA, Mexico, May 11.—General Angel Flores today started to march down the West coast of Mexico to join the rebels forces holding Mexico City, following his successful capture of Mazatlan, yesterday General Calles announced today.

Flores took General Hubbe, Federal commander and General De Santiago prisoner and captured 700 Federal soldiers in the operation at Mazatlan, reports reaching here today said. Eight hundred Federal troops, a few miles south of Mazatlan, were reported to have surrendered to General Flores. The West coast is now clear as far south as Tepic, revolutionists said.

Was Missing Man Victim of Robbers

TORONTO, May 10.—In connection with the continued absence of A. J. Small, the millionaire theatrical manager, who has been missing for five months, the Toronto World today carries a rather sensational story. The World says: "It will be remembered that Mr. Small was the holder of $350,000 worth of Victory Bonds and these were placed in a safety vault at the Dominion Bank for safe keeping. On the day before he so mysteriously disappeared, Mr. Small sent a messenger to the vault for the bonds, and that they were duly handed to him is proved by subsequent events. Two hundred thousand dollars out of the $350,000 worth of bonds are satisfactorily accounted for. $100,000 was given to Mrs. Small and $100,000 handed to the Dominion Bank to be sent to Ottawa to be transferred into registered bonds. The remaining $150,000, which were bearer bonds, were to be returned to the safety deposit vault. Whether or not this was done, could not possibly be ascertained until the safe was opened.

"The World has reason to believe that the vault was opened during the latter part of last week and that some if not all of the bonds were discovered to be missing.

An effort undertaken by some of Mr. Small's friends who think he may have been the victim of foul play is very soon to be made, to try and find his body. As a commencement the Don River is to be dragged so that if his body had been weighted down to prevent its rising to the surface it may be caught up in the irons and brought to the surface. Other localities may be similarly explored."

Sinn Fein Kill Police Patrolmen

DUBLIN, May 11.—The death of Adrian Redmond released Sinn Feiner, who died following his hunger strike in Mount Joy prison, was "Accelerated" by his imprisonment, cornorers jury investigating case decided the immediate cause of death, the jury, said, was an operation for appendicitis, "accord ing to medical evidence."

Police patrol near Timole Ague County Cork, was ambushed yester day afternoon and a sergeant and two constables shot dead, a third constable was wounded seriously. No arrests were made.

The patrol riding bicycles was near Timole Ague when it was fired on, all the police fell at the first volley and assassins escaped, Sergeant MacDonnell was shot and killed near Goelds Cross, 10 miles of Churle, in county Tipperary he recently led the police in repelling Sinn Fein attacks.

ROYALTY URGES SIGN PAINTING.

LONDON, May 8.—Prince Albert calmly told the Royal Academy the other night that it ought to turn its attention to sign painting.

"I would not dare to tread on the threshold of the temple," he said, "but there is a field of art that I venture to call to your attention—the painting of signs."

A horrified gasp was barely suppressed around the table, and the Prince went on: "The revival of motoring has to a certain extent revived the highways of stage coaching days. Many is the traveler who would like to know the name of the village he passes. Why not restore the old, beautifully wrought painted signs proclaiming the names of the villages to the passing tourist?"

Academicians and distinguished guests good-naturally applauded. Though the remark, as it stood was attributed to the Prince's youthful love of joy-riding, his later remark dispelled this trivial interpretation.

"It is important that all should strive to make life as beautiful, convenient, and comfortable as possible for all the people."

This came as the echo of many tours that the Prince, his brothers and their father have made among the great industrial and munition areas established through the war. As distinguished from the undeniably Royal reign of Edward VII, with its notable entertainments and sports and important influence upon the diplomacy of the whole continent, King George's household figures more and more as the exemplar of the domestic virtues and internal welfare of the Empire—a direction in which they are rapidly followed by hundreds of important families whose fox hunting and magnificent town and country establishments have been practically wiped out by the war, and the subsequent taxation which has been most cutting against big, unearned incomes.

KILLAM MADE PERFECT SCORE

ST. JOHN, May 9.—At the St. John Trapshooting Club's range, on Saturday afternoon, what was probably the finest shooting ever recorded in Canada in a competition of this nature, was witnessed, and perhaps the all-Canadian record by Oscar J. Killam. The Maritime record was broken,

In the trial contest for places on the Olympic team Mr. Killam made a perfect score, hitting every one of the hundred targets thrown. Not content with this he kept right on running his score up to one hundred and nineteen without a miss. He did, however, miss the one hundred and twentieth bird, but got five more before he stopped making 124 out of a possible 125 with a straight run of 119 which, so far as is known, established an all-Canadian record, and will no doubt assure Mr. Killam a place on the Canadian trapshooting team to the Olympic games.

Up to this time the long run record had been held by J. T. Egan of Halifax, who broke ninety consecutive targets on Thanksgiving Day last year at the tournament held by the Dartmouth Rod and Gun Club. A few minutes after making this record, Mr. Killam took on another hundred targets and hit ninety-six of them. On the local range, on Saturday, four men entered in the Olympic trial, those in addition to Mr. Killam being J. McLaughlin, of Halifax, who scored ninety out of a possible hundred; Harold D. Payson, and H. W. Berry, each of whom scored eighty three.

NOT SURE

Dinah was a product of New Orleans, a big, plump "yaller gal," who could cook the finest dinners for miles around. One day a new butler appeared upon the scene, and Dinah's mistress noticed that she took a great interest in the man. At last her mistress could stand her curiosity no longer and asked: "Dinah, do you know that new man?" Dinah took another long and scrutinizing look and then slowly and reminiscently replied: "Well, I dunno, Miss Alice; but I think he was ma fust husband!"
