

A Laxative Cure for La Grippe and Cold

Ninety-nine in every one hundred remedies for colds, contain Quinine.

There are a good many people to whom Quinine is not the best medicine to give.

It causes ringing noises in the ears and sometimes brings on most unpleasant and annoying headache and a feeling of general prostration.

Foster's Laxative Cold Cure is agreeable to everybody—to those who cannot take Quinine as well as those who can.

It is a pleasant and safe tablet treatment for the relief of colds, and is one of the most prompt and efficacious; it will cure an ordinary cold in a day and night. Try it.

A WILD MAN OF THE WOODS DISCOVERED.

Half naked his head and face covered with hair, armed with a club and barking like a fox when approached, Arthur Britton, forty years old, who has been missing from his home for more than ten years, was found recently living in a cave in the Pawling Mountains. This afternoon he was committed to the Hudson River State Hospital, and the physicians there say that he is a veritable wild man.

Britton, because of his wild life, had almost lost the art of speaking. His mind is shattered, but although he is thus, he possesses the strength of a giant. He lived in a hole in the rocks on the side of a mountain, and it required four hours of work to induce him to come forth. It was the calling of his brother, Irving Britton, that finally impelled him to come out. Then officers fell upon him and bound him. Justice Silas L. Davis, of Dover, sent Britton to the asylum.

Britton's mind became affected while serving in the Philippines during the Spanish-American War. Soon he began to stay several days at a time. Finally he made his home in an open and seldom returned home.

White organdy has been revived for neckwear, and it is almost invariably edged with wash footing, a kind of net which was in popular use over a century ago, and has now come back into fashion with the return of pleatings and pinkings and ruchings.

A few days ago a prominent fox rancher took the trouble to call on James Callaghan, tailor, to inform him that the clothes he made for him were the best cut and tailored garments that he had ever purchased on P. E. I. Now gentlemen if Mr. Callaghan can supply such foxy men as the above there is no reason why he cannot give you the best to be had in the city. He has a full supply of the very latest fall goods of every description and the latest from J. McNeill's fashions, the foremost publisher of men's fashions in America and the most up-to-date workmen. His prices are moderate and if you favor him with your order you will be sure to get good fit, good workmanship, good goods and good trimmings. Mr. Callaghan also does the work of cleaning and pressing suits and overcoats—prices from 75c to $1.00. James Callaghan, 478 Queen St., Charlottetown.

There is a new kind of collar which is made of shadow lace, quite high at the back, and turned over in front in two points, something on the order of a man's collar. It is boned, and finished with a quarter-inch turnover of black chiffon cloth. There is a rabat of knife-plaited shadow lace, deeper at the left side than at the right, and edged with an eighth of an inch of black.

Plain frocks are decorated with groups of bar bows. A dark frock can be made much more gay if the bows are of contrasting color.

There is a new material called voile negre. It is distinguished by its quaint snowflake effect; it is of supple texture and exceedingly dainty.

Pleated effects in children's dresses are as fashionable as ever. While the dress of one material throughout is most desirable, there are many combinations of two materials, such as a Norfolk of plain blue with checked skirt in blue and white.

Some of the new effective flouncings are of linen, and they show floral patterns in blind work, with an occasional lace medallion.

THE LIMPT.
(Chicago News)

It is alleged that in one of the recent state elections the time came when the managers on one side needed twenty thousand dollars, and turned to a corporation source of supply.

The need was explained by a banker, who was interested in politics. The money man said: "Well, I'll give you twenty thousand dollars, but I don't want to make a check for it. Just cut $20,000 in your bank to the credit of the machine, and I'll get the currency in a few days and hand it in."

That was satisfactory. In about eleven days the money man of the corporation walked into the bank, with the twenty thousand dollars in cash, turned it in and started away.

Hold on! said the banker. There's a little matter of sixty-eight dollars' interest on the amount I put to the party's credit some days ago.

What's that? roared the corporation man.

There's sixty-eight dollars' interest due on that.

The corporation man put his hand to his forehead and gasped: "Great Jeez, this is the limit! Here you get a contribution of twenty thousand dollars from us and then want us to pay sixty-eight dollars for the privilege of contributing it."

TO BOOM MARITIME PROVINCES.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, in this week's issue, have started a boom for the Maritime Provinces. They point out that the Western Provinces are growing by hundreds of thousands per year and there is no reason why the Maritime Provinces with even more favorable conditions should not get a big share of the new settlers. They have mapped out a programme to accomplish that end, and are inviting hints and correspondence from these Provinces to assist them. The Family Herald, with its immense circulation and influence, can do a lot for our territory, and their efforts will be watched with interest. In their annual announcement, we notice they are giving, as a premium picture, this season, entitled "Mother's Treasures," a comic picture to last year's picture. With such a picture and such a grand paper as The Family Herald and Weekly Star at one dollar a year, one cannot go wrong giving it a trial.

WHERE TO SHIP

SMELTS AND EELS

The business stand of R. F. Hall & Co., 37 Fulton Market, New York, is situated right in the heart of the business centre and they can handle to best possible advantage large consignments of smelts and eels from Prince Edward Island shippers, as can be seen by their ad elsewhere in this issue. They make a specialty of smelts, scallop, eels and lobsters and also handle salt cod and hard dried cod for the Italian trade.

Shippers of smelts and eels in Prince Edward Island are asked to send their consignments to N.S. Bates Co., No. 3 Fulton Market, New York, whose ad is given elsewhere in this paper. There is an excellent market offered and shippers will be given prompt attention, quick returns and the highest price the markets afford. Stencils will be sent on application.

Are you expecting a landslide this year? asked one campaigner.

"No," replied the other. "There has been so much mud throwing that there won't be any loose land left."

THE CHILDREN OF KING GEORGE.

Among the most studious and best brought up boys and girls in all England are the six children of the Royal family. Even in the summer, when the family goes to the Royal Castle at Balmoral, Scotland, there is a corner in one of the gardens set aside for nature study. Each child has a piece of land, where he digs and plants and sows. They are earnest, hard-working little farmers.

When the Royal Family is at home in London, at Buckingham Palace, the King often goes with the children to a large lake in the park, where they have a fleet of little ships which they learn to manage. King George also frequently accompanies the children on long walks, and takes them to see football games. The King loves his family devotedly, and they are all very affectionate and happy.

Prince John, the baby of the family, is a sturdy little fellow, now almost six years old. Next comes Prince George, nine years, and Prince Henry, eleven. The only daughter is Princess May, who is fourteen and is said to rule her brothers with a rod of iron. She is described as a fearless little lady, with a strong will of her own, and she is very fond of study. Prince Albert is sixteen, and Prince Edward was eighteen on June 21.

As her apparent, Prince Edward is studying very hard to prepare himself for his future duties. For two years he has been one of the best pupils at the naval school at Dartmouth. He fares as do the rest of the students, eating, playing, working just as they do. He is fond of all sports, swims like a fish, boxes and plays football. The Prince is a manly young fellow, and is said to have a heart of gold. His kindness towards animals was shown one day, when he said when I am a King, nobody shall cut puppies' tails. Edward who was a great favorite with his grandfather, Edward VII., is altogether a charming young prince, handsome, full of popular spirits and humor. He is extremely popular, for his kindness and perfect courtesy and his unaffected way makes him loved by everybody.

SHE DIDN'T BELIEVE IT.

Passing a swimming school in a small city one day two country women read this sign at the entrance—

"25,000 Gals. In and Out every Month."

"That's all nonsense," said one of the women; "there ain't that many women in this whole town."

B. F. KEITH'S HARLEM OPERA HOUSE, NEW YORK, WEEK OF OCT. 21st.

An attraction out of the ordinary is slated for F. B. Keith's Harlem Opera House, commencing Monday afternoon, October 21st. It is that most virile and interesting of all modern dramas, "Mother" by Jules Eckert Goodman. This will be its first presentation up town in stock and the popular organization is sure to add to its present enviable reputation of being the best of its kind in New York.

The story of the play is one of vital moment and theme. It's characters are true to life and the moral that the piece conveys is as far reaching as it is uplifting. It shows how a mother can rear her little flock through the barrier of inevitable adversity and still keep her family within the bounds of temptation. We got our first insight into her noble character as she tries to hide the true condition of affairs from her children. How with stoic fortitude and without apparently sacrificing her honor she endeavors to make the world believe that her children are the best in the world, and that when they do deviate from the right path how easy it is for her to reclaim them.

One of her boys, her favorite, goes wrong and rather than jeopardize his career she takes the blame for his downfall on her own frail shoulders and bears it alone. It is all so human and so real that we are compelled to smile and cry in turn.

The piece was well cast. Lydia Knott will appear as the mother, while Miss Louise Hamilton will make her first appearance in the jovial part of "Bess," a chorus girl. "Will," the boy that causes his parent untold suffering will be essayed by W. R. "In buying shoes for children here parents have unlimited variety from which to choose. Goff Bros. 10-21 Mt.

ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.

It is to be taken for granted that most girls are anxious to be charming. True charm of manner often comes from a happy temperament, a pleasant disposition. There is no doubt that charm may be cultivated by true politeness, a sincere wish to please, an unwillingness to hurt another person's feelings by word or act.

The cultivation of good manners sweetens and strengthens the character, makes one thoughtful and considerate of others, unselfish in doing little kindnesses; firm in the determination to live up to high standards of conduct.

It is in the power of every girl to form their manners so that she may be a nobler woman, with an influence that is far-reaching, and by her sincere politeness, true kindness and fine ideals of life make the world a pleasant place for those whom she meets on her way through it.
