P.W.C. And Saints In Scoreless Draw

Intercollegiate Title Opener Provides Fans With Close, Rugged Battle

In one of the fastest and most ruggedly fought encounters staged this season Prince of Wales College and St. Dunstan's Intermediate squad battled to a scoreless draw Saturday afternoon in the first game of the Intercollegiate football series, a series that is to be decided by the best out of three games.

Stout defensive work and ability of both teams to capitalize on costly fumbles by their opponents when in scoring position led to the scoreless deadlock as the City Collegians started out in defence of the title they captured last year. Both lines were threatened on many occasions but each time the attacking team were thrown back without getting across that last white stripe.

It was a close-knit battle all the way. Prince of Wales had the better of the tough battling practically the entire first half but in the second session the challengers for the crown threw on an offensive that kept the defending champions deep in their own territory most of the time.

Despite the gloomy predictions a few weeks ago that Prince of Wales would not be able to field a team in defence of their intercollegiate rugby crown, the showing of this year's squad on Saturday afternoon showed plainly that not only were they able to get a team together but that they would be strong factors inded in the race for this season's title.

• • • •

Of course there was plenty of room for a dismal outlook when the season started. Players, in fact the team as a whole, were not showing up to expectations, but since that time, with the boys practising as if a world title were at stake, the team has shown a marked improvement, so much so in fact that today they rule as even favorites to come out on top for the second straight year.

• • • •

There was little to choose between the pair of rivals on Saturday afternoon. They were as two equally matched teams as one would want to see in action; the first half it was Prince of Wales but the tide changed in the second half to the red and white clad outfit.

• • • •

Judging by this first encounter football fans evidently are in for one of the most bitter series in past years. Rivalry that has always marked meetings between these two teams for years was much in evidence and it seems that when they meet they both fight harder to attain victory.

• • • •

One notable feature of Saturday's tussle was the hard, jarring low tackling employed by both squads. It was indeed a treat to watch players being hauled down to earth by the heels and the senior teams in this respect, could well take a lesson from the two squads that performed on Saturday.

• • • •

In fact the brand of football exhibited was every bit as good as the seniors. A good majority of the players were lacking in experience but nevertheless they kicked and passed the ball in a manner that showered credit both on themselves and their coaches.

• • • •

Both teams were decidedly weak however when close to the opposing touchlines. Times without number it seemed as if scores could not be avoided so close were they to the line but overanxiousness, poor passing and fumbles nullified all the chances. However this will probably be ironed out before the next encounter, an encounter which should provide one of the closest of rugby matches.

Date of the second game of the series hasn't been announced but it is likely the encounter will take place some time this week.

P. W.C. Press in First Half

Saints, kicked off to their opponents as the game got underway and right away the red and white clad team started an offensive that carried them deep into P.W.C. territory. For the first three minutes Saints appeared as if they were heading for an early lead but the P.W.C. team stiffening its defence threw back three attacks in a row and gradually by kicking and dribbling worked play into Saints territory. Parked on the S.D.U. five yard line P.W.C. were forced back twice in a row with the Saints finally dribbling back to midfield. Again P.W.C. roared back with Saunders going to the 20-yard line on a dash through a broken field but his well-directed pass was fumcled and the champions lost a great chance. At this stage Prince of Wales College was displaying an effective passing attack that kept Saints continually on the defensive. Prince of Wales were awarded a penalty kick but Cantwell's placement attempt from 35-yards out was low. McEntee fast wing quarter of the University squad relieved the pressure on his team as he went 30 yards on a solo effort; McLellan of the Saints gathering in a punt sped to the P.W.C. five before being brought down but another penalty kick to P.W.C. relieved the pressure and from there on they again worked the ball into scoring position but again the Saints fought off the attack. As the half ended the Saints had again worked the ball out of their danger zone.

Second Half

Saints started their big offensive from the opening whistle of the second half of the game. From the kickoff they raced to within fifteen yards of a try only to be turned back. Again they came back but this attempt failed when P.W.C. got a drop out from the twenty five yard line after gathering a loose ball kicked over their line. From the drop-out the red and white went back to their opponent's ten and very nearly had a try on a blocked kick only to see P.W.C. recover. Two minutes later P.W.C. on another penalty kick again brought the ball out of danger as Murphy of the Saints was within inches of a touchdown. As play raged around centrefield Beck, rugged P.W.C. forward went twenty-five yards through the Saints team to take play deep into S.D.U. territory but a penalty to the Saints relieved matters here. As P.W.C. pressd back loose work by the backfield saw Saints get over their five yard line once more but again the defence of the defending team was too stout. P.W.C. showing a new lease of life kept the Saints bottled up for the next few minutes, with McLeod attempting to plunge over from five yards out after Sterns had kicked in touch with a lovely boot.

As the game drew to a close the game turned into a see-saw battle with Landrigan, Saints' fullback looking dangerous on two occasions as he gathered in punts to go racing down field for long gains. On this last attempt Landrigan appeared to be headed for the open spaces but was stopped by the low tackling of Jerry Foster, P.W.C. backfield man. Foster was knocked out on the play and had to retire from the game with Forsythe replacing him. In the final minutes as the Saints again were within feet of a try, two fumbles and poor passing spoiled their chances for pushing over what would have been the winning try.

SATURDAY'S GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 — (CP) — The Rangers came home for the first time this season last night and pulled out a 4-3 National Hockey League victory over Montreal Canadiens to show the home fans they weren't as bad as their first two games indicated.

Alf Pike's goal midway through the overtime period convinced 15,800 fans that Rangers, after dropping their first away games by lop-sided scores, could still win hockey games.

The defence that allowed 18 goals to trickle through in the first two games still was porous at times and on at least one Montreal tally rookie goalie Steve Buzinski looked rather bad, but the Rangers looked fully as good as Canadiens who were somewhat short of mid-season form themselves.
