

RUSSIANS AND PERSIANS HANGING AT TABRIZ.

TABRIZ, Jan. 5.—The hanging of Fidals by the Russian continues. Three Fidals were hanged last night and their bodies were displayed on the gallows.

Many arrests are being made and several houses of the Fidals and Nationalists have been blown up.

PEKIN, Jan. 5.—Additional treasure to that contributed to the Government by the Empress Dowager has been forthcoming from the Palace, and the Empress Dowager has issued an edict addressed to the Princess commanding a loan from each of them for the Imperial cause. This has resulted in further contributions of a few thousand taels.

BOYS DROWNED WHILE COASTING. WINCHESTER, Mass., Jan. 5.—Four boys were drowned yesterday, by a double runner coasting sled breaking through the ice on the Contoocook river at East Jaffray.

WINCHESTER, Mass., Jan. 5.—Four boys were drowned yesterday, by a double runner coasting sled breaking through the ice on the Contoocook river at East Jaffray.

WINCHESTER, Mass., Jan. 5.—Four boys were drowned yesterday, by a double runner coasting sled breaking through the ice on the Contoocook river at East Jaffray.

KEEP WELL-DESPITE THE WEATHER

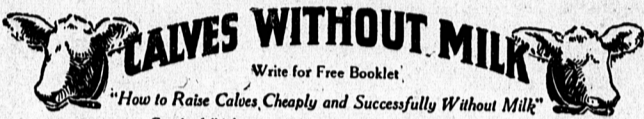

by toning up your system with Bovril. It is a great energizer and producer of vitality. All that is good in beef is in Bovril hardens the gums, whitens the teeth and makes far healthier mouths. Try a tin 25c.

BOVRIL

Rexall Tooth Powder

The MacKinnon Drug Co. Cor. Gt. Geo. and Kent Street.

Blatchford's Calf Meal—The Perfect Milk Substitute

Three or four calves can be raised on it at the cost of one where milk is fed. No mill feed. The only calf meal manufactured in an exclusive Calf Meal Factory. Established at Leicester, England, in 1800.

AULD BROTHERS, CHARLOTTETOWN P. E.

Milk and Cream Wanted

The Charlottetown Condensed Milk Co., Ltd., are now prepared to handle any quantity of fresh full cream milk, also good fresh cream. Delivery can be made at factory or any railway station. Price terms and conditions made on application, by letter or at the factory office. Highest prices paid.

The Charlottetown Condensed Milk Co. 1-5tdstddt.

Renewal Notice

All renewal notices have been sent out. If your subscription expires on Dec 31st please renew at once and avoid the loss of any papers.

To The Charlottetown Guardian Charlottetown.

Enclosed please find $..... for my subscription to The .....Guardian new or renewal.....

Name.....

Post Office.....

The "Special Votes" due from the above subscription

please credit to.....

District No..... in your Piano and Organ Voting Conte

Clearance Sale of Hockey Skates

We want to clear our entire line of skates out this week and are offering price reductions that should make them go in a hurry. Here is your chance to get a splendid pair of skates at an unusual bargain.

- 16 pairs, Dunn's Special, sizes 10 to 11 1/2, $5.00 for.....$4
7 pairs, Boker's Tube sizes 9 1/2 to 11 1/2, 4.50 for.....3.50
30 pairs, Hero, sizes 9 1/2 to 11 1/2, 1.75 for..... 1.25
12 pairs, Ideal, sizes 10 1/2 to 11 1/2, 3.50 for..... 2.75
36 pairs, Novo, sizes 9 1/2 to 11 1/2, 3.00 for..... 2.25
2 pairs, Dunne's Tube, sizes 10 and 11 1/2, 5.00 for... 4.00
14 pairs, Dominion, sizes 9 1/2 to 11, 2.00 for.....1.65
4 pairs, Meteor, sizes 10 and 11 1/2, 4.00 for..... 3.25
6 pairs, Beauty, sizes 9 to 10 1/2, 2.00 for.....1.55
3 pairs, Charm, sizes 8 and 8 1/2, 1.65 for.....1.25
1 pair Norweigen Racers, 4.50 for.....3.75

The Rogers Hardware Co. LIMITED.

CHARLOTTETOWN AND QUEEN'S COUNTY

It pays to buy in this Province.

Mrs. Geo. S. Inman will be at home 155 Euston Street, Friday, 12th January.

Miss Ella Hudson, Cascumpec, is visiting at York, the guest of Rev. E. A. and Mrs. Westmoreland.

Clarence Tidmarsh, City, left yesterday on a short visit to Summerside.

Today's music is entitled Polly of the Circus. Next Saturday's song and music will be July Forgot.

Mrs. James Dickerson, New Glasgow, is in the city the guest of Mrs. F. S. Mitchell, Euston St.

The Guardian regrets to learn of the serious illness of Thomas Mobbs an aged and respected citizen of Cove Head Road.

Miss Dora Simpson has returned to her home at Cavendish after spending the past week in New Glasgow, the guest of Miss Evelyn Stevenson.

Louis and Mrs. Ruprecht who have been spending a few weeks with C.H. B. and Mrs. Longworth, city, left by the Earl Grey yesterday morning en route to their home in New York.

Rev. J. F. Floyd will complete his series of sermons tomorrow evening in the Central Christian Church on Christian Baptism when he will take for his subject, "What is Christian Baptism for?"

A lecture on Orangelism will be delivered by Rev. George Orman, Provincial Grand Master, L.O.A., in the hall, Brookfield, on Monday, the 8th inst., commencing at 7.30 p. m. A collection will be taken in aid of the Orphan's Home.

The Rev. Z. L. Fash will preach at both services in the Baptist Church, City, tomorrow. In the morning the subject of the sermon will be Looking to the Hills. In the evening the sermon will be appropriate to the first Sunday in the year 1912, and the subject will be Have I Had My Last Chance?

The following registered at the Victoria Hotel, City yesterday.—H. H. Cox, Morell; H. D. McEwen, Morell; John McLean, Souris; Mrs. C.E. Pratt, St. Peters; Miss Pratt, St. Peter's; E. H. L. Sark, Lenox Island; W. H. Doherty, Cape Traverse; H.F. Lawrence, Port Hastings; B. McKenzia, Montserrat; G. R. Montgomery, Montague; Frank McDonald, Mrs. Sarah McDonald, Calgary, Alta; Miss Margaret Gillis, Clear Springs; J. A. McDonald, Cardigan; G. A. Pratt, Cape Traverse; and M. Deegan, Cape Traverse.

The Guardian News Department greatly regrets that its issue of election returns missed some of the Thursday containing the Provincial early morning mails owing to an attempt to insert too large an amount of news in the time available. All subscribers thus inconvenienced are respectfully asked to accept this explanation and the assurance that such an error will never be made again by the News Department. This statement is made in justice to the subscription and other departments—none of which are in the least to blame.

The Union services of the Week of Prayer begins on Monday evening, Jan. 8, 1912, and continue each night next week except Saturday. The following is the program of the services. On Monday evening the subject will be "Our Country's Needs and Opportunities." At Zion Church Rev. T.W. Murphy will speak. At Central Christian Rev. W. Harrison will speak. On Tuesday evening the subject will be service at the Baptist Church in the interests of the British and Foreign Bible Society. The Rev. A. F. Newcomb, M.A., B.D., Secretary of the Bible Society for N.S., N.B., P.E.I. and Newfoundland, will give the main address. Mr. Newcomb is a fluent speaker. Rev. D. McLean will also speak. On Wednesday evening the subject will be "The Awakening World and the Church's Duty." At St. Paul's school-room the Rev. R. G. Strathie will speak, and at Grace Church the Rev. J. F. Floyd will speak. On Thursday evening the meeting will be at the First Methodist Church and the subject will be "International Peace Movements." The speaker will be the Rev. T. F. Fullerton. On Friday evening the subject will be "The Call for Personal Faithfulness in Christian Service." At St. James' Church, the Rev. J. Heaney will speak, and at the People's Church, the Rev. Z. L. Fash will speak. An offering will be taken at each service in aid of the P.E.I. Hospital. On Tuesday evening the offering will be for the Bible Society. The services will begin promptly at 7.30 o'clock each night. The subjects are important and timely and the discussion of them by the speakers will be popular. Last year the services were very popular and largely attended. The offering for the Hospital was the largest for many years. It is expected that the attendance this year will exceed that of last year. Everybody is most cordially invited to attend the services.

The following registered at the Queen Hotel, City, yesterday.—F.G. Lang, Tryon; L. Wood, Mt. Herbert; John Jardine, Summerside; M. Deegan, Cape Traverse; Prof. Singleton, Pictou; J. J. Morris, Prince Rupert; B. C.; J. P. Richard, Montreal; J. Anderson, Kensington and F. W. Sawdon, Sackville.

Rev. Mr. Newcombe, Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society for the Eastern Provinces, will preach in Grace Church tomorrow morning at the usual hour. Mr. Newcombe succeeds Rev. Dr. Campbell and is proving himself a capable and worthy servant of the great society which he represents.

A handsome colored moonlight scene is the frontispiece of a 1912 calendar received from Burnett & Keeney, 9 Fulton Fish Market, New York, the well known buyers of smelts and eels in this Province. The picture is from the original painting of Moonlight on Summer Seas, by James Gale Tyler, and is considered one of his finest studies. The firm has exhibited exceedingly good taste in the selection of the subjects and no doubt their efforts will be highly appreciated.

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

Miss Adele Palmer, city, has gone to visit her sister, Mrs. John Reay, Lachine, Que.

Tonight at the People's Theatre Foley and Dean appear for the last time.

There will be good ice and excellent music at the Big Arena this afternoon.

Dr. T. E. E. Robins, City, has returned after a business trip to Montreal.

P. F. Hughes, Secretary of Emerald Cheese Co., was in the city yesterday attending the Car Ferry meeting.

Jack Deegan, Cape Traverse, was a visitor to this city yesterday to attend the Car Ferry meeting.

Tickets for the Leap Year whist and flower dance Monday night can be had at Reddins Drugstore and a few can be obtained at the door.

Harold Palmer, son of H. J. Palmer leaves this morning for Fort William, Ontario, where he will enter the office of Swinburne & Co and continue his studies in law.

All should join the happy throng in the Big Arena this afternoon. There will be good ice and the 4th Rest. Band from 3.30 to 5.30. Skating 25c promenade 10c.

Rev. T. F. Fullerton, will preach in St. James church at both services tomorrow. In the morning his subject will be Christ's Last Message, (Communion) and in the evening, Expectations for coming days.

The following registered at the Queen Hotel, City, yesterday.—F.G. Lang, Tryon; L. Wood, Mt. Herbert; John Jardine, Summerside; M. Deegan, Cape Traverse; Prof. Singleton, Pictou; J. J. Morris, Prince Rupert; B. C.; J. P. Richard, Montreal; J. Anderson, Kensington and F. W. Sawdon, Sackville.

Rev. Mr. Newcombe, Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society for the Eastern Provinces, will preach in Grace Church tomorrow morning at the usual hour. Mr. Newcombe succeeds Rev. Dr. Campbell and is proving himself a capable and worthy servant of the great society which he represents.

A handsome colored moonlight scene is the frontispiece of a 1912 calendar received from Burnett & Keeney, 9 Fulton Fish Market, New York, the well known buyers of smelts and eels in this Province. The picture is from the original painting of Moonlight on Summer Seas, by James Gale Tyler, and is considered one of his finest studies. The firm has exhibited exceedingly good taste in the selection of the subjects and no doubt their efforts will be highly appreciated.

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

The Montreal Herald, referring to the recent death of Prof. Leigh R. Gregor, Professor of Modern Languages at McGill, says: "The death of Professor Leigh R. Gregor is a loss not merely to the university but to the City of Montreal which he had served with unwearying zeal and a profound knowledge of municipal economies. His ability to 'speak French like a native' made him an invaluable member of deputations from English-speaking societies to the municipal government, among whose French members he was esteemed as an earnest supporter of the interests of their race and language. The City Improvement League, in its present flourishing condition, is in a large measure a monument to his energy and devotion."

Fur Sale Now On Moore & McLeod The Millinery People All furs price cut. Fur Sale Now On Complete Clearance Sale of new Furs of all Kinds FURS OF EVERY SORT—FURS OF EVERY STYLE and furs of every price—go on sale to-day at a series of discounts that should empty the department within the month. The assortment shown is excellent—the qualities, as you know—are the finest shown in P. E. I.

Here are the prices as now reduced

Special cuts on all Marmots Marmot scarfs regular 3 95 now 3 16. Marmot scarf regular 6 00 now 4 80. Marmot scarf regular 9 00 now 7 20. Large marmot caperines 12.00 now 9.60. Marmot muffs, regular 9 00 now 7 20. Handsome marmot "Barrel" muff 17.00 for 12.00.

Price cuts in Columbia Sable Black Columbia Sable scarf 7.50 now 6 00. Rich Brown Columbia Sable 12 75 now 10 20. Black Columbia ruff 15.75 now 12 00. Black Columbia Sable muff 7.75 now 6.20.

Real Alaska Sables—Price cut Handsome Alaska Sable neckpiece 17.50 for 14 00. Handsome Alaska Sable neckpiece 19 50 for 15 60. Handsome Alaska Sable neckpiece 24 00 for 19 20. Handsome Alaska Sable neckpiece 35 00 for 28 00. Alaska Sable muffs Special 19 00 for 12.75. Fancy rug muffs, (Sable) 24 00 for 16.00.

Large Persian Lamb muff 37.50 for 30.00. Handsome Mole Throw 15.00 for 12.00. Grey Squirrel Ties 7.00 for 5 60. Grey Squirrel Muff 10 75 for 8 60. Grey Lamb Scarfs 7.25 for 5 80. Grey Lamb Muffs 9.00 for 7.20. Persian Lamb Scarf 19.50 for 15.60. Rich Mole muff 15.00 for 12.00. Grey Squirrel Ties 10 50 for 8.40. Grey Squirrel Muffs 12.75 for 10.20. Grey Lamb Muffs 6.00 for 4.80. Swell Coon Set 22.00 for 17.60.

Brown Hare Muffs Special 2.25 now 1.80 Brown Hare muff 2.75 for 2.20. Black Coney muff 2.00 now 1.60. Brown Hare muff 3.25 for 2.60.

Brown Hare Stole Special 1.75 now 1.40 Brown Hare Stole 2 50 for 2.00. Brown Hare Stole 4.50 for 3.60. Brown Hare Stole 5.75 for 4.50.

Intentions Good but "Doing It" is better Did you get that HOT WATER BOTTLE yet? If not call in today and get our prices, etc. We can save you money. Would so many people be recommending this store if it were not above the average? Johnson & Johnson

You Can Hear With the Auris All people with impaired hearing should call in and test the merits of the Auris—the smallest, lightest and neatest aid to the deaf that has ever yet been invented. The Auris is so small that its presence cannot be detected, the complete instrument of three parts weighing only seven ounces. Free demonstration now being given at our store. Call in today and test the merits of this instrument. The 2 Macs 149 Gt. George St.