

Palpitation of the Heart Nerves Bad - Could Not Sleep

Mrs. Fred Bingham, Swift Current, Sask., writes: "I was bothered with palpitation of the heart, and my nerves were so bad I could not sleep. I was getting desperate and confided my trouble to a friend who recommended me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I purchased a box and got such relief I would gladly recommend them to all who are troubled as I was."

For sale at all drug and general stores; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

The Double Act

A Romance of the Theatre BY MARION TOMLINSON

(Continued from Page 2)

brows—Rosemary meanwhile sending looks of delighted amusement to the severely solicitous Nell. But true to her promise, Rosemary said nothing flippant to the earnest cultivators of her beauty. Her part, as Nell remarked, when in private she could relax from her role, was to be beautiful and dumb. Between these solemn consultations over her beauty—or, was it, she asked herself, Grenoble's beauty?—she lay on the upholstery of pale blue silk, looked out on the garden, for Grenoble did not allow her to show herself except at the specified hours, or, occasionally, obeyed a telephone call from Grenoble to present herself at the theatre. Presenting herself at the theatre had always meant, in Rosemary's experience, climbing off a bus, creeping through the stage door with a cheerful word to the doorkeeper, and then making her way over coils of rope and disused scenery to a half-lit stage where she waited quietly till she heard her cue.

There was nothing of that now. The telephone in her blue silk boudoir would ring.

"I suppose I'm not allowed to answer it?" Rosemary would inquire with a grin of amusement.

"Certainly not." Nell stiffened into her role of watchful duenna. "It might be that some one on the Press has got hold of your private number. Or it might be Grenoble, and it would be terrible if he heard you answering the telephone yourself."

It would generally be Grenoble at the other end.

"Mrs. Forrest? . . . If Madame Marigold is at liberty and quite well the stage manager would be glad if she would come and inspect a scene that has been prepared for her. Shall I expect her at three o'clock?"

Rosemary would bubble with laughter when this conversation had been retailed to her.

"Grenoble is talking for the benefit of possible listeners," she would remark. "He's not so respectful when he comes here and says, 'Good heavens, child, that way you've done your hair won't do—won't do at all. Screw it back like that when you wash your face, if you like, but for heavens' sake let it out a bit—down in your neck, like this.'"

Rosemary ruffled her hair till her small face looked out whimsically from the mass of gold.

"He doesn't care if I've got the brains of an oyster so long as I make my hair look like a hay stack. Oh, I'd like to work a bit for a change."

But at a quarter to three a big grey limousine came to the door and Rosemary in a frock of white silk embroidered in gold, sat obediently on its blue velvet cushions opposite a severely composed black silk Nell. At the stage door a respectful stage manager met her and she was led to where a carefully prepared setting awaited her as its centre.

And instead of an abrupt, "Take up your cue a little quicker, can't you, Miss Gall? I can't stand here on one foot all day," she heard, "If Madame would raise her chin a little higher, and turn a bit to the left . . . ? The effect is charming against the black velvet. Thank you."

(To be Continued.)

make my hair look like a hay stack. Oh, I'd like to work a bit for a change."

But at a quarter to three a big grey limousine came to the door and Rosemary in a frock of white silk embroidered in gold, sat obediently on its blue velvet cushions opposite a severely composed black silk Nell. At the stage door a respectful stage manager met her and she was led to where a carefully prepared setting awaited her as its centre.

(To be Continued.)

Burns Concert At Montague

On Friday night one of the largest audiences greeted the performance of Burns' Concert held under the direction of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church choir. This annual event is looked forward to with keen interest by the residents of Southern Kings and the exceptional merit of the members left nothing to be desired.

An orchestra under the direction of Mr. Archie Hume with Mack MacKinnon and Frank Bell, provided music that would have done credit to a much larger place. This was followed by Bagpipe selections by Mr. Hugh MacPherson of Wood Islands formerly of the Highland Dress and Pipe Band of Boston, Mass. Mr. MacPherson is an outstanding piper and his pipe solos and dance accompaniments were extremely artistic. Next came a group chorus of thirty voices. Scots Wae Hae and There Was a Lad were Born in Kyle.

The next number was a solo by Mr. R. Walter Burdett the popular Scottish vocalist who is so well known throughout the province. Mr. Burdett was heartily encored. Then came the Highland Fling and Fishers Hornpipe by little Eileen Bennet and Hammond Dewar of Murray River, whose dancing was exceptionally good and who received a hearty encore.

Miss Marjorie Hyndman gave an interesting reading which was much enjoyed and later delighted the audience with the Highland Fling. The next number, "Roamin' in the Gloamin'" by four young couples was prettily acted.

Young Walter Jamieson in costume convulsed the audience with laughter by his clever rendition of "Mr. Muleahey, Esq." This was a planologue and for an encore "I Love a Lassie" he also appeared in step dancing.

Mrs. W. R. Garrick who is well known as one of Montague's best soloists certainly did herself justice in the rendition of her Scottish songs, she was heartily encored.

The next number was something very unique namely a "Thickening Frolic" and had to do with the customs of the Scotch people who combined work with pleasure. This group sat around a table with the web of cloth passing from hand to hand and sang the Gaelic songs keeping time with the work in their hands.

Mr. Bennet of Murray River gave

SUMMERSIDE GUARDIAN and Prince County Chronicle

—This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a new nature may be inserted at 2 cents a word strictly payable in advance.

—BOLTS, rivets, welding compound and blacksmith supplies, all kinds sold at Brace's. 7861-2-1-21.

—WEEKLY WHIST—The regular weekly whist of the Summerside C. M. B. A. was held on Monday evening. There was a good attendance; fourteen tables were in play. The prize winners were: Ladies, Mrs. G. Gallant, Miss Angie Arsenault; gentlemen, Henry Martin, Phillip Gallant. S.

—TRINITY 9, PRESBYTERIANS 3—in the sixth game of the Summerside Badminton League held on Monday in Trinity Hall, Trinity Club had a decisive win over the Presbyterian Club with a score of 9-3 in their favour. There were a large number of spectators. S.

TRAPEZE ARTIST DIES OF INJURIES

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 30.—Harry Borcharding, 33, of West Reading, Pa., a trapeze performer who was injured in a fall to the stage of a local theatre, died last night at St. Johns' Hospital.

Borcharding was a member of a vaudeville act billed as the "Three Lordens." He fell 20 feet from a trapeze bar, receiving a cervical fracture and compression of the spine which left him paralyzed from the neck down. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lorden appeared in the act with him.

a clever rendition of the Sword dance and was much appreciated. Mrs. Walter Daziel gave a group of Scotch songs in her own inimitable manner and had to respond to the second encore.

Then followed a pleasing male Trio by Messrs Munroe, Beers and Bruce. Then a solo beautifully given by Miss Vivian Armstrong. Miss Jean MacDonald very gracefully danced the Highland Fling and responded to an encore.

The late Miss Campbell, or "Pat", as she was familiarly known to her numerous friends, was a great favorite in this city. She was a young lady of most attractive personal appearance, possessing a rare charm of manner and lovable disposition.

She leaves to mourn besides her sorrowing parents, six brothers, Cornelius, Michael, Thomas, Lawrence, Peter and Cyril, and three sisters, Cecelia, Margaret and Lucy.

The remains will leave Montreal at noon today accompanied by her sister, Miss Margaret Campbell, R. N., and are expected to arrive on Thursday. The Guardian extends sincerest sympathy.

Grey Hair Banished BY RAMKA

You NOW can restore the natural beauty of your Hair with absolute certainty, by using RAMKA.

RAMKA does not paint the hair, but penetrates the hair shafts, and is guaranteed harmless to hair or growth. RAMKA is not affected by Shampoo, Rain, Sunlight or Perspiration. RAMKA cures dry and brittle hair, and removes all scurf and dandruff.

Ninety-five per cent of the people formerly using colouring are now using RAMKA.

Price $1.00 per bottle from all reputable Drug Stores.

Distributors for Prince Edward Island

FOLEY'S Drug Store SUMMERSIDE

7859-1-ws-81.

—HORSE SHOE NAILS, special price on some sizes at Brace's. 7861-2-1-21.

EASTERN GUARDIAN

..This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a new nature may be inserted at 2 cents a word strictly payable in advance.

..SUBSCRIPTIONS to The Charlottetown Guardian may be handed to their Rep. Archie Hume, or left at H. J. Mabon's Drug Store, Montague. 12-13-dtl.

..FROM WHIM ROAD—Mr. Angus MacMillan, U.S.A., is spending the winter at her old home in Whim Road. Mr. George Clarey, Whim Road, spent Sunday visiting friends in Sturgeon. Mr. Lester MacDonald, Montague, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacDonald, Whim Road.—H.

..The use of Miller's Worm Powders insures healthy children so far as the ailments attributed to worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. These sap the strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle for life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it.

MISS CATHERINE M. CAMPBELL

About 3 p. m. yesterday the sad news came by wire from Montreal of the death in that city of Miss Catherine M. Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Charlottetown, and a niece of Reverend Dr. Terence Campbell of Alberton.

Four years ago she was employed as stenographer with the Patriot and later left for Regina where she took a similar position with the General Motors Company.

She subsequently went to New York and then returned to Charlottetown.

Last November she went to Montreal and took a position there. About two weeks ago she became ill with pneumonia and had apparently improved, but following a relapse, she suddenly passed away.

The late Miss Campbell, or "Pat", as she was familiarly known to her numerous friends, was a great favorite in this city. She was a young lady of most attractive personal appearance, possessing a rare charm of manner and lovable disposition.

She leaves to mourn besides her sorrowing parents, six brothers, Cornelius, Michael, Thomas, Lawrence, Peter and Cyril, and three sisters, Cecelia, Margaret and Lucy.

The remains will leave Montreal at noon today accompanied by her sister, Miss Margaret Campbell, R. N., and are expected to arrive on Thursday. The Guardian extends sincerest sympathy.

EX-RAISER RESIGNED TO FATE OF EXILE

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—A message from the former Kaiser occupied the front page of "Der Aufrechte," organ of the Hohenzollern family, today, in observation of his 74th birthday.

"I bear my fate with resignation, for the Lord knows what He is doing," the one-time monarch wrote, "He knows why He laid this test of faith upon me."

"Only one thing grieves me—the fate of my country and my people. I am pained at the severe suffering of my German fellow-men which, while I am compelled to live in exile, I cannot help them to bear."

"Here is my loneliness I think only of and for the German people. Even harsh criticism never can subdue my love for my land and people. I shall remain true to Germany no matter how some Germans may look upon me. Those who are faithful to me in misfortune help me to bear up. They assure my homesickness for my beloved German Fatherland, which gnaws at my vitals."

Do you know her secret of Youthful Charm?

"ONLY the woman who looks it is afraid to admit her age," says Nazimova. "But I am proud of mine—I am over forty!" "It is easy to be lovely at sixteen, but to be still lovelier at forty . . . well, that is easy, too, if a woman is wise! Actresses rarely look their age, you notice. Like me, they guard their complexions with Lux Toilet Soap. "It is a marvel, that soap. For years I have been faithful to it—and my skin is so soft, so smooth." Nazimova is only one of countless stage and screen stars who use Lux Toilet Soap to guard complexion beauty. It is so gentle and beautifully white—as no soap less pure and carefully made could be! 9 out of 10 screen stars use it. Of the 694 important Hollywood actresses, including all stars, 686 use this fragrant white soap. That's why all the great film studios have made it their official soap!

This famous stage and screen star says: "For years I have used Lux Toilet Soap and my skin is so smooth."

LUX Toilet Soap 10¢

Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto Soapmakers by appointment to their Excellencies the Governor-General and Countess of Beasborough

Kensington 5 Cape Traverse 1

The first home and home game between Kensington and Cape Traverse for the right to meet Victoria in the finals for the MacLean Cup was played in Kensington, January 27, and resulted in a win for the home team by the score of 5-1. The game was hard-fought, and not so one-sided as the score would seem to indicate, though the visiting team were out-played during the second period, when the Granites scored three goals, and were through the Bloodhound defence on many occasions. The Bloodhounds broke up their old first string forward line of MacWilliams, Howatt, and MacWilliams, dropping W. MacWilliams to defence, and the switch was an unfortunate one for the visitors, as the advance trio simply did not click as of yore. Their smooth passing game was for the most of the evening conspicuous by its absence, and C. Howatt, in centre, was badly off his stride, letting many passes get away from his stick, while in position to score.

The Granite rearguard, assisted by unusually effective back-checking from their buddies on the forward line, never worked to better advantage, and G. Webster, who, by the way, has shown improvement on every appearance this winter, was with the timers when the Cape boys registered their lone tally. Wedlock at centre and Hickey between the posts were outstanding for the victors, but every man back of them was in there contributing his bit towards a clear-cut victory.

Kensington got the initial score after about five minutes of play when Wedlock beat Waddell on a shot from centre ice. The visiting goalie who appeared weak on long shots looked bad on the play. Cousins, kid defenceman for the Granites, made it two-nil on a spectacular dash down the left boards and a beautiful shot from just inside the blue line, shortly after the middle session got under way. Four minutes later O. Darrach, burly de-

LONG CREEK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Long Creek Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Annie Stretch on Wednesday evening, Jan. 4th, with thirteen members and three visitors present, and were pleased to welcome one new member. The meeting opened with the President in the chair, by singing O Canada, and The Island Hymn, and repeating the Creed. The roll call was answered with "A New Year Resolution." The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. The sick committee gave a favorable report. A bill was presented and ordered paid. It was decided to start a mite box, each member to contribute every calendar holiday. Mr. Norman Stretch and Mrs. Alexander MacKenzie were appointed on a programme committee for next meeting.

The following programme was enjoyed: Piano selections, by Mrs. Hector Currie; Paper on "Making the Meetings Interesting," by Mrs. Albert MacDonald, also a number of contests. Lunch was served by the hostess and the meeting closed with singing. Mrs. Alex MacLeod invited the members for the next meeting, roll call to be answered with "What part of the Creed impresses you most." On Friday evening, Dec. 23 the members of the Long Creek Women's Institute called on Mr. and Mrs. James MacKenzie, to welcome Mrs. MacKenzie, a former member, back to her home, after an absence of about six years through illness, each member presenting her with a bottle of preserve or pickles. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and contests. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies present and after singing Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King, all departed wishing Mrs. MacKenzie many years of health and happiness.

White organdie makes an unusual top-off for the dull black crepe evening gown. One seen recently flounces of this material. Another had pleated organdie epaulettes extending to the waist.

Y. BOWLING Rebekah League

Table with columns for names and scores: Canucks, M. Adams 112 130 168, G. Beer 131 133 158, M. Lowther 110 53 112, N. Youlker 139 151 146, J. Cousins 116 94 159, Total—1993.

Table with columns for names and scores: Pals, H. Harper 142 120 163, H. Finlayson 219 152 145, C. Mathieson 120 128 99, E. Sutherland 163 159 108, Total—1912. Majority for Pals, 81 pins. High single, H. Finlayson, 219 pins. High three, H. Finlayson, 514 pins.

Table with columns for names and scores: Kan-Dooos, O. Lowther 197 154 233, I. Lafferty 112 232 134, A. Garhnum 115 170 83, B. Vanterdine 119 103 85, J. Crockett 128 116 84, Total—2137. Zipper, J. Howatt 56 137 94, S. Sentner 141 121 134, B. Stewart 128 153 157, B. Laphorne 154 206 161, M. Stewart 114 116 121, Total—1994. Majority for Kan-Dooos, 143 pins. High single, O. Lowther, 233 pins. High three, O. Lowther, 584 pins.

FLUTTERING FROCKS FLATTER WEARER

Chiffon dresses will be important for spring. A black chiffon dress with a lipstick red cire chiffon jacket was shown in a recent fashion promenade and also an all-over shirred black-cire evening dress with black cire ribbon ruffling over one shoulder, contrasted with white mousseline de soie ruffling over the other. A Calot-nude chiffon gown showed the important higher-placed skirt fullness, and shirred chiffon evening bags with incidental pearls finished the story. Those softer, flatter, fluttery things will offer intriguing relief for evening after a day in your Fedora hat and tailored suit.

Lumber Lumber advertisement for L. M. POOLE & CO. Paoli's Wharves. Lists prices for various lumber products like Spruce Sheathing, Planed Pine Boards, etc.

BRINGING UP FATHER comic strip by George M. us. Panels show a man talking to a bird and a woman talking to a bird, with humorous dialogue about bird seed and eating habits.