THE name and fame of the Bee Hive Lumber Yard is known throughout the land, no doubt, and among many letters received are very peculiar ones at times. It is some time since the following was received and THE GUARDIAN was shown the original yesterday. Needless to say the offer of posts was ultimately accepted.

NOW I FEEL REAL WELL.

Mr. W. H. La Blance, Bonfield, Ont. writes: "I was once a sufferer from catarrh, and while using Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure I was recommended to use also Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to build up the system. My nerves were exhausted and I was weak to do a day's work when I began using it, and now am strong and healthy, and feel real well. I am perfectly sure that anyone who uses Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will believe as I do, that it is the best strengthener and restorative obtainable."

HIS 84TH BIRTHDAY

Mr. Enoch Paige of Boston Honored.

IN A GOOD OLD AGE

Ministered to With Loving Care By Devoted Family Circle.

Every day shows us what time can accomplish. Time, which by the few has been called the consolator, because it obliterates; but by many more it is called the heartless, the extinguisher. Yet to some of us time comes with a flattering mien and as he steals from us the flowers of youth, also takes much of the sharpness from the thorns he leaves behind.

This is made evident upon such an occasion as presented itself to the near friends of Mr. Paige as he received our congratulations upon his 84th birthday. His never robust organism shows somewhat the encroachments of years, and as we wished him "many more" we had a mental reservation as to the number.

Today he occupied his place of host with all dignity of the past, and looked with tranquillity upon the banquet with its suggestive number of 84 roses. As glasses were about to be filled to honor the occasion he requested that the medium should "be simply water."

At each side sat a grandchild while at the next remove was a relative ten years his senior, she being the great great aunt of the little ones.

As he addressed the guests, from the oldest to the youngest, it was with a vigor and gracefulness of expression which a much younger man might wish were his own. Mr. Paige is possessed of that rare power of conciseness which, had he put it to use, as he should have done would have given to the world a powerful writer.

Before dinner he gave to the writer with much spirit, a resume of his earliest years; beginning at the time of his birth, 81 years ago, when, "I, a little puny pindling child was born, coming into the world in a big snow storm. The snow was so deep that my advent in the family preceded that of the family physician, who was caught in the drifts; and ere he could render assistance I had already asserted my presence, so they said, with no uncertainty, and though they looked upon me as a failure, admitted that I had strong lungs."

He was a delicate child, and grew to manhood contrary to the fears of his parents, and the prognosis of the doctor. And so he has continued throughout his 81 years; scarcely ever having three consecutive months passed without the aid of a physician, and several times he has been given over to die. Still to-day he stands erect and his mind is unimpaired.

What has kept this frail body here so long; has it been wholly due to medical skill, coupled with the power of utilizing and turning to advantage all the accessories which wealth can give for one's comfort? Not these wholly, for, with all the artificial warmth, and pungent and revivifying draughts which money and form a constitution reported, and the articles as on page 23, in report for 1900 were adopted, with the exception that four additional persons, were added to the executive committee, viz.—Rev. A. J. MacNeill, Rev. A. S. Stewart, Rev. J. C. Spurr and Rev. W. Wass.

Rev. A. J. MacNeill's paper on S. S. work in general, contained some very practical points for teachers. Rev. Mr. Opie followed with the "History of the S. S." He traced the work from its infancy, down to the present day, and showed its growth and expansion.

The Home Department and Normal Work was Rev. Mr. Raymond's subject. He spoke of the importance of both, especially the former, and urged the different schools to be in earnest in the matter and do everything possible to promote the work.

A strong appeal was also made to have the schools evergreen. The question box at the close was an interesting feature, and the answers brought out new ideas in the different phases of Sabbath school work.

Suitable selections were sung by the V. R. choir throughout the meetings. A vote of thanks moved by Rev. J. C. Spurr, was tendered the people of Vernon River and the meeting closed with benediction pronounced by President.

THE new staff of Prince of Wales College commenced work this morning. Mr. G. M. Robertson, representing Eckhardt Casket Co., of Toronto is in the city.

Mrs. J. H. B. Call of Alberton came to the city yesterday and left last night for St. John, to visit her daughter who is quite ill.

Hon. Benj. Davies and Benj. Davies, jr. left last night by the mail special. The former will visit Ottawa and the latter is returning to St. Paul, Minn.

THE strong west wind of the past few days has greatly facilitated winter navigation and the captains of the steamers report that the Gulf is wonderfully free of ice.

YESTERDAY afternoon Rev. J. W. McConnell, pastor of Grace Church addressed a meeting of young men in the Y. M. C. A. Parlours. His subject "Profit and Loss" was ably dealt with and evidenced care in preparation. The attendance and interest in the meetings is increasing.

It is understood that the House of Assembly will open on the 19th inst. The different election petitions are set down for hearing on March 21st, April 3, April 23, May 1st and May 3rd. According to law the hearing of election petitions cannot be commenced during parliament and such being the case all members declared elected will enjoy one session.

At the service in the First Methodist Church last evening forty persons were received on trial for membership as a result of the special meetings held since the beginning of the year. The pastor, Rev. G. M. Young, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion. At the close of the service the regular dominion was administered.

A meeting of the Local Council of Women was held on Saturday evening in P. W. College, the President in the chair. After routine business the President reviewed the subjects dealt with during the past year including the resolutions that are to be brought before the affiliated societies. She also mentioned the different matters to be taken up by the National Council at its next meeting. It was agreed that a resolution be placed on the agenda of the National Council dealing with the matter of making provision for juvenile criminals in P. E. Island to be sent to an industrial home. A report from the committee on the organization of the Historical Society was read and adopted and the committee thanked and discharged. It is probable that two papers on subjects hereafter to be announced will be prepared by members of this Local Council to be read at the National Council, which meets at London, Ont., early in May next. The subject of ventilation in the public schools was also discussed.
