Bob Montgomery And Virginia Bruce At Prince Edward

A new comedy team that bids fair to rival any screen combination of the past makes its debut in the persons of Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce, teamed for the first time in "The First Hundred Years," now screening at the Prince Edward Theatre.

Presenting Montgomery in all his accustomed comedy deftness, the picture further offers Miss Bruce in what is certainly her most important role to date as the theatrical-agent's wife who cannot bear to give up a successful career inorder to make a home for her boat-designer husband. Warren William, proves himself thoroughly at home as Miss Bruce's business partner.

The semi-serious theme of the film gives Montgomery more latitude for expression than he has enjoyed in his previous familiar playboy parts and though the climax and denouement are all on the comedy keynote, the star again proves that he can handle any assignment.

A brilliant supporting cast of "name players" gives the story its body, among the outstanding names being Binnie Barnes, Alan Dinehart, Harry Davenport, Nydia Westman, E. E. Clive, Torben Meyer, Bodil Rosing and Irving Bacon. Miss Barnes makes a thoroughly convincing feminine "heavy" and Dinehart is excellent as the divorce lawyer.

Richard Thorpe's direction stresses smoothness and continuous motion, the entire picture having an interlocking quality that permits no gaps in entertainment.

Mr. Murray leaves in a few days to take charge of the main office at Halifax.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR HERE—Mr. George Young, now of Halifax Maritime Regional Director of Programs for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, arrived in Charlottetown last night. Mr. Young, here in connection with his program work with C. B. C. will remain probably until Thursday, it was learned last night. He is a guest at the Canadian National Hotel.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT HIGH TEA —A record in attendance was believed to have been made at the Notre Dame Academy bazaar and high tea yesterday afternoon. From 5 o'clock until 7.30 four large tea tables were crowded while booths, stacked with exquisite articles of handicraft, made at the institution were most generously patronized. During the supper hour delightful music was furnished by members of Miss Kathleen Hornby's Orchestra. Beautiful decorations, featuring cut flowers were on tea tables while booths were very attractively arranged. The sale and tea continue today.

SUGGESTS SPECIAL CLASSES —Dr. J. D. Griffin of Toronto left Charlottetown yesterday, concluding a short visit to Prince Edward Island. While here, Dr. Griffin suggested the formation of study classes for handicapped children. (In such classes opportunities are given to children to learn improved habits of work, to a smaller degree, trades. Regular school subjects are taught while at the same time the child is given instruction in manual work.) Dr. Griffin said that every Province in Canada had classes for handicapped children except Prince Edward Island. In Nova Scotia, where the movement was begun 10 years ago, there were 15 classes. In Halifax City there were 11 classes. There they were conducted by special teachers who had received training for the work.

SHIP PLOW TO SUMMERSIDE —A snow plow was shipped to Summerside by rail yesterday to work at opening the Malpeque Highway from that end. Department of Highway Officials said last night. There were no plows of any description in the western Capital, it was said. Shipment of the plow was made by rail as roads were very soft from the warm weather and it was feared the plow would if sent under its own power cut deep tracks in ice and snow over the pavement. Motor traffic was proceeding as far as Brookfield on the Malpeque Road. Beyond deep banks still blocked wheeled vehicles but two days of above freezing temperatures had cut away much of the snow. All plow crews were off the roads yesterday. Another plow, only other one available was undergoing repairs but would be ready for work today.

WEDDING BELLS —A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, November 16, when Miss Gertrude Turner, daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. Edward Turner was united in marriage to Mr. Harold Mulligan, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Martin Mulligan, Kinkora. Rev. E. J. Dalton, performed the marriage ceremony. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was becomingly attired in dress of wine transparent velvet fashioned on princess lines with accessories to match. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Turner, while Mr. Bert Hammill ably supported the groom. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's father. After breakfast the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to the mainland where they visited friends and relatives. When they return they will reside in Kinkora where the groom is a prosperous farmer. Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McIvor, of Kinkora, where she received many lovely and useful gifts, also at her home in Hope River, where there assembled about two hundred friends and relatives who showered her with many useful gifts and all best wishes for future happiness.

Wedding Bells

A very pretty wedding and one of interest to a large circle of friends was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Nicholson, Orwell Cove, at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening Nov. 24th, when their youngest daughter Sadie Jean was united in marriage with Richard L. Jenkins son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Jenkins of Pownall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. MacPhail B. D., of Belle River. The drawing room was beautifully decorated, and the arch under which the ceremony was performed was arranged with evergroom, pink and white roses with Geraneums, potted plants and ferns attractively displayed throughout the room. The bride was given away by her father and entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. Ilett Richards of Cherry Valley. The bride presented a picture of girlish loveliness in her bridal gown of pink silk organdy and carried a bouquet of Premier white roses, ferns and Scottish heather. Her veil was arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms.

The matron of honour was Mrs. Ilett Richards who wore a gown of blue silk organdy and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. D. J. MacKenzie of Orwell Cove. Following the ceremony, congratulations were extended to the happy couple by the large gathering of 90 relatives and friends who were present.

When supper was served to all the guests the charming strains of the bag pipes was heard, played by that excellent musician Percy Groom of Charlottetown, a splendid opportunity to try out his new set of pipes received recently from Scotland. Mr. Groom also played the violin to the delight of all present. Scottish songs were played and sung by Mr. Ilett Richards of Cherry Valley. The large array of costly wedding gifts attested to the popularity of the bride and groom, who will make their home in Pownal and will carry with them the heartiest wishes of their friends for happiness in their married life.

Development Of Northern Canada Urged

NORANDA, Que., Dec. 4 —(CP) Development of the mineral and other resouces of northern Canada may prove a solution for the country's unemployment problems, it was suggested Saturday night by speakers at a gathering of political leaders, railway officials and mining executives assembled here to celebrate the opening of the new Canadian National branch line from Senneterre, Que., to Rouyn, Que.

The 100-mile line brings transportation facilities to a rich mineralized area and new farming settlements spring into existence under the Quebec Government colonization scheme. Along its route are some 20 producing mines and a great number of prospects at various stages of development.

The opening ceremony took place at Val D'or yesterday with Transport Minister Howe driving the last spike, Hon. Onesime Gagnon, Quebec Minister of Mines, cutting a golden ribbon stretched across the track, and S. J. Hungerford, C. N. R. President driving the locomotive of a special train through a canvas barrier depicting a golden sun.

The official party were guests of the Western Quebec Mine Managers' Association Saturday night at a dinner at which Hon. T. A. Crerar, Federal Minister of Mines and Resources, declared the construction of the line would assist materially in the development of the wealth of Northwestern Quebec.

A. Kirk Cameron, President of the Montreal Chamber of Mines, said if there was any solution to the railway problem it was in the north. If mineral development advances as rapidly in the next 10 years as it had in the past 10, the railways would have enough traffic to make their operation financially profitable.

"If the Dominion and Provincial Governments would get together on a program of developing this north country and really co-operate I believe we would get ahead faster than if we go on as we have in the past, where there has been some criticism and perhaps some lack of co-operation," he said.

Jobless Mass In Jamaica Capital

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 4 — (CP Cable) —Observers reported today unemployed in the city reached "alarming numbers" and are insistent in demands for work or money so they will have funds for Christmas.

Scores of Hooligans raided a Chinese shop in the heart of the city last night and looted it of food valued at $50. Police stopped several other attempts at looting elsewhere in the city.

Kingston started a $25,000 relief road-building program today. The Colonial Government last night advanced $5,000 for a similar purpose to 12 other parishes on the Island.

SHIP TO LOAD TURNIPS AND SEED TUBERS

S. S. Birgit To Take Last Large Produce Cargo From Here This Season.

The S. S. Birgit unloading a cargo for the Island Fertilizer Company here would load seed potatoes and turnips later this week, it was learned last night. Cargo, two-thirds supplied by the Prince Edward Island Potato Growers Association and the remainder by Canada Packers would total approximately 75,000 bushels. It would be the last large shipment by water from Charlottetown this season, dealers said. Another ship to load tubers and turnips was expected at Georgetown about the middle of the month. The Birgit loaded produce here for American markets earlier this season and brought the cargo of fertilizer from Baltimore on the return voyage.

Price of seed tubers to the farmers remained at 60 cents per bushel, it was said. Turnips were still quoted at 10 cents a bushel while table stock potatoes were moving slowly at 50 cents a bushel. December was a poor month for shipment of table tubers usually, dealers said. They looked for some strengthening of markets after the New Year.

Warm weather of the past few days brought mixed blessings to farmers shipping tubers and turnips. Fear of frost damage was removed but roads were fast becoming too soft for heavy hauling.

Stresses Problem Of Vacant Farms And Unemployment

"Surely a Province which can spend a million dollars in a short time on hard surfaced roads, can find finances for rehabilitation of our farms", said Lt. Col. K. S. Rogers in addressing the Rotary Club yesterday. Speaking on "Some Aspects of the Current World Situation and Prince Edward Island's Relation Thereto", he said that if democracy is to survive it must be by resuming the original basis of democracy, defined by Lincoln as government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Urging the need of leadership in public affairs, Col. Rogers said there were at present hundreds of cases of desditution and poverty, not only in our towns and cities but in our more remote agricultural areas. "People are living, right here in Prince Edward Island, in poverty and disease such as the refugees of Europe hardly experience. These people, in some cases squatters, in others people with run down land and lacking the means to fertilize and cultivate their acres, must be lifted out of their squallor, no matter whether they want to be or not. Their children must be clothed, fed and sent to school. The parents must be healed in body and mind and supervised and assisted in the process of agricultural pursuits. If they are unsuited for agriculture, they must be provided with other more suitable work in processing the products of other farmers and their acres turned over to those who will work them. Prince Edward Island needs a militant type of social service to minister to hundreds of people who have lost heart and thrown over all ambition."

The speaker advocated the formation of an economic commission or committee to tabulate interprovincial trade. It might reveal that there are many thousands of dollars worth of poultry imported into the Island, canned milk and other products which should be processed in our own province.

He also advocated "back to the land" policy, whereby many of our young men who are now out of work might become rehabilitated on run down, vacant farms. On a per capita basis the Island is the second lowest in wealth of all the provinces. Our average per capita wealth is only $1558, while the average for Canada is $2413. The only way they can be equalized is by processing more of our raw products, increasing our production and improving our provincial balance of trade.

Rotarian Leslie Stacey, presided yesterday. Wallace E. Scantlebury, a new member, was introduced by Dr. Giddings, the Rotary charge being read by Past District Governor Percy W. Turner.

Large Audience Sees Production In Baptist Hall

A near capicity audience greeted the production of the Norwegian lyrical dramatic satire Peer Gynt, when presented in the Baptist School room last evening by members of the Charlottetown Women's Music Club. This was presented under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of Zion Presbyterian Church and the Philathea Class of the Baptist Church

Combined in this one work are the foremost dramatic genius and the most original composer of Norway. In the characterization of Peer Gynt Ibsen's idea of the Norweigan race is embodied, and Grieg's music is permeated with northern quality and Scandinavian touches.

Recorded selections from Grieg's two suites of Incidental music to "Peer Gynt" —the first, "Morning Mood" —provided the proper atmosphere as Mrs. Keith Rogers read a brief introduction and described the scene about to follow. And the curtain rose on Act I Scene I of 'Peer Gynt" with Peer and his old mother Ase presenting a lively picture.

The part of Peer was taken by Mrs. Arthur Roper and Ase was portrayed by Mrs. J. A MacMillan. The setting was simple and effective and the interpretations excellent. The audience was carried right along into the spirit of the play and at the close of the scene the continuity and interest of the story were cleverly upheld by Mrs. Rogers.

Grieg's "Hall of the Mountain King" was heard by means of recording and then came the poignant scene of Ase's death, very realistically enacted by Mrs. Roper and Mrs. MacMillan.

Mrs. Rogers continued her paper including excerpts from the drama and as she progressed, Grieg's Anitra's Dance was played; and Mrs. Roper, now costumed as the character Solveig, sang, very feelingly, "Solveig's Song" and concluded with the lovely "Cradle Song."

The whole presentation was exceptionally well carried out and the evening of Norweigian drama and music an unusual and most enjoyable one.

The radio used in the production was loaned by the Robert Simpson Co., and the record attachment by Miller Bros. This made effective musical accompaniment.

At the close of the programme the members of the cast were entertained at lunch by the two organizations sponsoring the dramatization.

FOX PROGRAM

into the hair shaft. As the pelt gradually approaches primeness the fur hair assumes a more vertical or upright position. This is the reason that the fur of an underprime pelt is flat. As a pelt becomes prime there is also a migration of the hair roots towards the centre of the skin; in other words in a blue or underprime pelt the hair roots actually project through the inner side of the skin (after the pelt has been scraped) whereas in a prime pelt the hair roots have travelled towards the outer surface of the pelt and the lower ends are protected by an adequate covering of leather. The priming process of a silver fox pelt follows a regular sequence commencing with the belly and following up the sides. The area along the middle of the back especially at the nape of the neck and the root of the tail is the last to become prime.

Liquor Law Not Enforced In Manitoulin

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

TORONTO, Dec. 3—Liquor law enforcement ended temporarily today on Manitoulin Island when the Ontario Government abandoned its attempt to enforce the 11-year-old Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

Attorney-General Gordon Conant announced he had notified the Dominion Government of the step. He told Ottawa authorities that from now on enforcement was a Federal responsibility under the 60-year-old Canada Temperance Act.

A "local option" district for more than three decades, Manitoulin Island has no Ontario Government stores. Sale of beer and wines is prohibited, under both the Ontario and Federal Act.

But Attorney-General Conant has found that convictions for infractions of the Ontario Act won't stick. Recently a person convicted of selling liquor made a successful appeal on the ground that Manitoulin Island is not subject to provisions of the Ontario Act.

"The Province positively will not enforce the Canada Temperance Act," Mr. Conant said. "As the Liquor Control Act of Ontario has been held not to be in effect in Manitoulin, we can not enforce it."
