DUNK RIVER DAM BREAKS
—The dam on the Dunk River, from which electric power is supplied to Kensington, Margate, Kelvin, Free-town, Kinkora, Middleton and Bedouque, gave way Friday night last due to tremendous pressure of water against it, and a large section of the dam was carried away with the flood. Austin Scales, manager of the plant, reported that temporary resumption of service, after a day and a half of being shut down completely, had been effected with gasoline auxiliary power. This is supplying the town with power for 16 hours a day, and will continue until such time as the dam can be repaired. Mr. Scales said he believed from two weeks to a month would go by before anything could be done.

Gov. General Gives Advice To Students

K. P. By Guardian's Special Wire
MONTREAL, March 17—(Wednesday)—My word to you on the value of University training is that it enables a man to lead a Double Life," wrote Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, in the McGill News, issued today.

"That sounds a shocking piece of advice for your vision to give you. But if you think it over, I believe you will agree that it is sound," the Governor-General said as he concluded references to hobbies that "lift the mind out of its groove and give it a happy playground to which it can constantly return for refreshment. They preserve your vitality and they keep old age at bay."

The university enriched private life. "It provides certain permanent intellectual interests which are always there in the background as a refuge and a refreshment."

He had always tried to have one or two subjects on hand on which he worked and which engaged a different part of oneself from that which was employed in earning one's bread. "You may call it a hobby but it was a hobby taken quite seriously."

Such interests kept a man or a woman young. Lord Tweedsmuir referred to the late Lord Balfour using his leisure from politics for relief "in the purer air of science and philosophy." Walter Leaf, a leader in British banking, became perhaps the greatest authority on the Homeric poems. There were many other examples he cited as visitors to the University. Lord Tweedsmuir wrote "A Message to McGill Graduates" for the quarterly published by the Graduates' Society.

He recalled his three years at Glasgow University where "I had to walk four miles to the eight o'clock class through all the varieties of unpeppery weather with which Glasgow, in winter, fortifies her children."

He was "an inconspicuous student, and I won prominence only at the electoral elections. One especially I remember where, against my convictions, I chose to support the Liberal candidate, Mr. Asquith, but not of his opponent. I nearly came to my end at the hands of a red-headed Conservative savage, who is now the ex-Cabinet minister, Sir Robert Horne."

Introduces Amendment To N.S. Liquor Act

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
HALIFAX, March 17—An amendment to the Nova Scotia Liquor Control Act, introduced in the Legislature today by Attorney General MacQuarrie provides that the permit or license of a person who has been convicted of selling liquor or keeping liquor for sale must be cancelled by the commission and that an order must be made by the commission prohibiting such convicted person from purchasing liquor at any government store.

If a permit or license has been so cancelled by the commission the holder of the permit or license will not be able to obtain a new permit or license or purchase any liquor from a government store until after the expiration of one year from the date of cancellation.

If a person has had his permit or license cancelled a second time for an offence of selling liquor or keeping liquor for sale his privileges are taken from him for a period of five years.

QUESTIONING OF CONDON AWAITED

Hauptmann Still Confident Of Escaping Chair.

(By Samuel G. Blackman)
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
TRENTON, N. J., March 18—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's chief counsel, C. Lloyd Fisher, said today the delay in questioning Dr. John F. (Gastis) Condon, Lindbergh ransom intermediary, is checking the defence in any move to save Hauptmann from the electric chair.

Unless a new stay of execution is granted Hauptmann will die the week of March 30, probably on the night of Tuesday, March 31.

The Court of Pardons, which rejected Hauptmann's plea for clemency Jan. 11, will meet next Tuesday to hear the application for mercy for Charles Zied, Philadelphia gangster, who is scheduled to go to the chair with Hauptmann.

A. B. Hermann, Clerk of the Court, said the court would not hear Hauptmann's case at that time.

The convicted killer of the Lindbergh baby, despite this gloom outlook, was reported to be still confident he will escape execution at the end of the month.

German Father's Strange Killing

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
VALPARAISO, Chile, March 18—(A.P.)—George Phillips, a German citizen, charged approximately 5,000 pesos (about $250) to a clamorous crowd under an hotel balcony today, pushed his wife and daughter off the balcony and jumped off himself.

The wife was killed when she hit the pavement in the scattering crowd which had listened to a long harangue by Phillips, a former employee of the Chilean Exploration Company. His 11-year-old daughter suffered minor injuries and Phillips died in a hospital two hours after his jump.

The crowd, attracted by the German's speech, scurried for hundreds of feet when Phillips tossed down.

Shortly after his speech was ended he disappeared from the balcony. Appearing shortly afterward he pushed his wife and daughter before him. With a shove, his wife was propelled from the overhanging platform.

Then Phillips picked up the girl and threw her over the side. Workmen in the crowd below broke the child's fall.

Then the German jumped from the balcony himself.

Relief Worker Found Nailed To Wooden Cross

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OCALA, Fla., March 18—His lips sewed tightly with two slitches of twine and a heavy hunting coat thrown over his head to muffle his groans, George J. Timmerman, 39, unemployed bricklayer, was found nailed to a wooden cross in a heavily wooded hummock inside the city limits here today.

While en route to his work at Camp Roosevelt, headquarters for construction on the Florida Ship Canal, James White, a friend of Timmerman, heard groans in the woods beside the road.

After a search he found the man lying on the ground with 3-penny spikes driven through each hand and both feet and shoes.

Removing his coat, he said he recognized his friend, Timmerman. "He was dazed and semi-conscious," White said, and immediately telephoned police.

Officers removed the spikes and stitches and took Timmerman to a hospital, where his condition was described as painful but not serious.

When he regained consciousness Timmerman was not able to give any reason for the assault. Officers said he recently had been engaged in labor difficulties on the cross-state canal and had been a critic of the government.

Weak and still unable to talk distinctly, Timmerman said he saw only one of the three or four men who nailed him to the crude wooden cross with his own hammer. He declared he did not know this one man but was "sure he was a northerner."

COMMITTEES TO FUNCTION SOON

Radio Broadcasting And Wheat Marketing To Be Investigated.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, March 18—Two important committees of the House of Commons will begin sitting soon. They are the committee to inquire into radio broadcasting, and that authorized to investigate wheat marketing under guarantee of the Dominion government.

Personnel of the wheat committee was announced yesterday, while that of the radio committee was placed on the order paper of the House of Commons today by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Marine.

First act of the committees when they meet for the organization will be to select chairmen. For the chairmanship of the committee on radio, the name of A. L. Beaubien, Liberal member for Provence, is prominently mentioned. If it is decided to have a minister as chairman of the wheat committee, Trade Minister Euler would be the likely choice. If not, Dr. T. J. Donnelly, Liberal member for Wood Mountain, Sask., is a possibility.

The committee on radio, in addition to investigating administration of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Act of 1932 by the commission, is authorized to advise what changes, if any, should be affected in the present system of broadcasting, and whether or not there should be amendments to present laws and regulations governing radio. It will also investigate the extent, if any, to which there has been abuse of broadcasting privileges.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

Closing Of Textile Plant Investigated

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
SHERBROOKE, Que., March 17—Evidence to show that J. G. Kershaw, acting superintendent of the Sherbrooke rayon plant of Dominion Textiles, Limited, was carrying out instructions from his superiors when he caused a notice to be posted on Jan. 17 announcing the indefinite closing down of the plant was adduced before the royal commission probing the textile industry here today. Mr. Kershaw was the only witness and was on the stand from 10.30 to 5 p.m.

J. McRuer, commission counsel, questioned him closely in connection with the shutting down of the plant and its starting up again on Jan. 29. Letters were produced to show that on Jan. 24 Mr. Kershaw had issued instructions calling the workers back, and had done so following telephone conversation with G. Blair Gordon, Montreal, the general manager. It was indicated that the government's appointment of a royal commission was not a factor in determining the reopening of the mill.

Just before the commission adjourned, Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon told J. P. Lanctot, counsel for the primary textile industries, to get together with Mr. McRuer and canvass the question of having representations made and witnesses heard in connection with Japanese competition.

Helen Holman of Summerside, was elected Vice President.

A committee comprising Gordon Lea, Smith MacIvor, Fred Barton and Henry Ross was appointed to deal with revision of the constitution in co-operation with Dr. Hugh Bell of the faculty and Murray Rankin, permanent Secretary-Treasurer of the Council.

Lorne Valley And Vicinity

Mrs. Joseph MacAulay of Cardigan Head, spent a few days in Charlottetown lately.

Mrs. George Douglas of Charlottetown has been spending the past few days in Lorne Valley, the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Dome MacLeod. Mrs. Douglas expects to return to her home on Saturday.

We are very sorry to know of the illness of Mr. Phillip Sullivan of Cardigan Head. Mr. Sullivan is threatened with pneumonia.

The Guardian regrets to report of the illness of Mrs. MacDonald of Lorne Valley. Her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hutton recently returned to her home in Providence, Rhode Island. All the people of Lorne Valley and the neighboring districts hope for Mrs. MacDonald's speedy recovery.

Her friends are sorry to know that Mrs. Donald MacLeod of Lorne Valley is not feeling as well as usual.

The March meeting of the W. M. S. of the Lorne Valley Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Mrs. Reuben MacCarnel on the evening of March 11th. The president, Mrs. James MacLeod was in the chair. The meeting opened with hymn no. 374. Scriptural reading Luke 10th chapter. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. The minutes of the February meeting were then read and approved. Roll call was answered and one new member joined. A silver collection was taken which amounted to considerable sum. Daniel J. MacArthur read an article entitled "You and Your Wife". A letter received from Miss Mary MacKenzie, deceased at Glace Bay was read by the president Mrs. James MacLeod. Mrs. MacLeod also gave a very interesting reading. Mrs. Daniel Shaw also read an article, entitled "An excellent report from the Rev. East". This was followed by singing Psalm No. 74. The business of the evening was carried on. A lunch was served by the hostess after the meeting concluded.

The Cardigan Head Dramatic Club presented their play in Cardigan Hall on the evening of March 17th. The actors performed their parts splendidly. Their play was entitled "The Red Acre Farm."

Mr. Murdoch MacDonald of Lorne Valley has not yet captured his female fox which recently escaped from his ranch. The fox escaped by cutting a hole in the caped by cutting a hole in the wire, and as far as can be learned no one has seen or heard of this beautiful silver haired animal.

The service held in Lorne Valley Presbyterian Church was on account of the very bad roads. Our clergyman, the Rev. T. Owen Hughes preached the sermon.

Miss Jessie Mustard of Cardigan Head has spent the past few weeks in Charlottetown.

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

There is no solution of our under-consumption problem. It is simply impossible to borrow our way out of debt. It is not more debt, but more consumption that is needed as the only way to get them as to permanently get purchasing power into the hands of the masses. If the profit motive is not controlled and the reward for individual initiative is not regulated, capitalism will eventually be replaced by Communism, Fascism and Nazism as has taken place in Russia, Italy and Germany respectively. "The poor will always have with us," for no matter what their opportunity may be, some will not work and others will waste the fruits of their labors. "Soaking the rich" with excessively high income taxes is not a desirable or advisable means of the more equitable distribution of wealth, because surplus capital in co-operation with labour is absolutely necessary for continual industrial prosperity, but it is absolutely necessary to control money wage or interest, and establish a permanent labour wage. Man's right to work and to own property is a natural right.

It is practical and businesslike to provide work rather than pay relief that destroys the morale of a large part of the population. What is a social remedy suggested? A trial of social credit as expounded by Major C. H. Douglas, a British construction engineer. The following appeared a short time back:

Maurice Colbourne — Economic Nationalism.
A. L. Gibson—What is This Social Credit?
M. Gordon-Cumming—Introduction to Social Credit.
H. M. M. — Outline of Social Credit.
The Douglas Manual.
E. S. Holter — A B C of Social Credit.
C. M. Hattersley — This Age of Plenty.

The return of a new party to power in Alberta some months ago has roused great interest in the subject of Social Credit. Born in the mind of a British construction engineer, Major C. H. Douglas, the idea has, during the last ten years, been disseminated all over the world. Nowhere else but in Alberta, however, have they been bold enough or convinced enough to make a practical experiment of it. "The plan is regarded by its devotees as providing a solution to the world's economic troubles and a means to abolish poverty and depression. Its opponents regard it as a notorious economic heresy.

As expounded by Douglas, Social Credit was meant for use in an area with full control, legally or constitutionally, over its money mechanism. To apply this scheme to Alberta meant that considerable changes had to be made. The amended plan "The Douglas System as Applied to Alberta" was published in pamphlet form by Mr. Aberhart but Major Douglas after examining it disclaimed any responsibility.

Mr. Aberhart's leaflets are evidently not procurable but there are a number of pamphlets which deal
