HER FAT IS MELTING FAST AWAY

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free-from-fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration. Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses. Every morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning. Kruschen daily means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system. At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body, and this is followed by health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

SPEEDY CURE OF FREDERICTON MAN

The following speedy recovery was due to the fact that the Farador got in its work before the case had become very chronic.

Fredericton, P. E. I., Aug. 6, 1930.

Dear Sir:— I wish to state that my younger brother suffered very severely from rheumatism during the spring and until a month ago. Up to that time he was quite unable to work or even to walk across the floor.

He decided to try the Farador and began its use a month ago with the result that he is now entirely cured and able to work. His sleep has returned and he seems to be in perfect health.

We cannot speak too highly of the Farador and strongly recommend it to suffering people.

Yours sincerely,

FRED BERTRAM. The above letter is addressed to W. E. Heman, Farador Representative, 268 Sydney St., Charlottetown. Ask for literature including long list of cured P. E. Islanders. Mr. J. S. Perry, is Summerside Representative. 6061-11.

ATTENDED CHARLOTTETOWN EXHIBITION—Mrs. J. C. Mills, of Chelmsford, Mass., Dr. and Mrs. Ross Mills, of Philadelphia, and Mr. E. D. McIntyre of Sussex, N. B., motored to the Island to attend the exhibition at Charlottetown last week. They also visited Summerside and whilst there were the guests of Mrs. L. I. Siliphant. Mrs. J. C. Mills left on return to her home with the party. S.

FUNERAL OF MR. NATUS STANLAKE—The funeral of the late Mr. Natus Stanlake was held from his late residence, near Summerside, to St. John's Church, St. Eleanora, on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Coleman, of Port Hill, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Dr. Hunt, of King's College, Halifax, at present visiting his home in St. Eleanora. The service was largely attended. Burial was in the Cemetery adjoining the church. The pall bearers were Messrs. Benj. Cairns, John Hall, M. L. Bradshaw, Stanley Yeo, Frank McEwen and William Gillespie. S.

IN THE POLICE COURT—A number of appeal cases for assessment were heard before Stipendiary Wray in the Police Court at Summerside on Monday. They were mostly of a trivial nature, owing to unavoidable mistakes as regards ownership of the property having been disposed of between the two assessments. Some of the cases were adjourned until Saturday next. Two drunks, who were admitted to bail on Saturday, did not appear and their bail of $10, each was forfeited. S.

SEAPLANE AT SUMMERSIDE—The Atlantic Airways, St. John, N.B., had a seaplane operating at Summerside over the week-end. In spite of unfavourable weather many people availed themselves of the opportunity of taking a spin in the air. Mr. Ira Clark took an hour's trip round the Island and enjoyed the experiences very much. He was flying at an altitude of 6,000 feet. Mr. Bruce Callbeck flew from Charlottetown to his home in Summerside in the plane. The pilot is Mr. Harry Hayler and the engineer, Mr. F. H. Harley. They were the guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Callbeck. S.

PROVINCIAL COUNTY COURT—The case of Frederick Wesley Jones vs. [unclear], action for wages as farm laborer, was concluded on Saturday morning when judgment was given for the plaintiff for $90.50 and costs, Heath Strong, K. C., for plaintiff, and Morley M. Bell for defendant. The case of Firth Bonness vs. William Clark, action for $125 balance due on the sale price of a pair of black foxes was then proceeded with till one o'clock when the case was adjourned till Sept. 12th for a witness, who would be absent from the Province. T. Lowell Compton for the plaintiff, Ernest H. Strong, K. C., for defendant. The Court meets again on the 28th inst., when a case of a breach of contract is to be taken up. S.

A NOTABLE BOOK

land and the rise of a landlord system were some of the factors that had sent them in large numbers over the border. Governor Lawrence also, carrying out his pet scheme of settling deserted Acadian lands with Protestant settlers, especially farmers and fishermen, made tempting offers to these maritime people, which led to a large group emigration, families chartering vessels and bringing their effects to occupy townships laid out for them. Here they were free from any dread of Indian attack, an ever-present menace in any trek toward the westward. When the threat of the American Revolution arose the Home Government strongly encouraged the founding of sea-board colonies of people of undoubted loyalty.

Very interesting are the details given by Dr. MacKinnon of the beginnings of the various settlements. Halifax, for instance, founded by the dismayed New Englanders at the suggestion of Shirley, the "spearhead of New England interest in Acadian affairs," after hard-won Louisbourg had been handed over to the French in exchange for Madras; its cosmopolitan population a thousand settlers from Massachusetts who came in their fishing vessels, soldiers and sailors, Sicilians from the Azores, Acadian French working on the fortifications, Jews and a few Welsh and Irish.

Between 1750-52 Lunenburg was founded by a large migration from Germany, exiled because of the troubled history of their homeland—intermittent war for a hundred years, accompanied by persecution of Protestants, principally in the Palatinate, with changes in agricultural methods, and congested conditions of living. About 100,000 of them came to America, many of them "indentured," driven through the country like cattle and sold to the highest bidder; but all that were brought to Halifax at this time by the British Government were "free-willers." Of the Lunenburg German settlers it was said that "they left an unusual legacy, a breed of sailors sprung from those who were inland people set down by the shore of the sea, and whose prowess has rarely been equalled in the story of Maritime nations.

A line drawn from Halifax to Truro would mark the limit of districts settled from America. All to the east of this were settled from Europe, largely from the Highlands of Scotland, where over-population and high rents drove the crofters across the sea. The writer describes the settlement of St. John's Island prior to the Revolution; the founding of Truro, Londonderry and Onslow by Ulstermen under Colonel McNutt; the settlement of Pictou, and of Cumberland by well-to-do York-shiremen sent by Governor Franklin—these and other groups make an interesting record.

Space does not permit even a mention of the rise and growth of the various congregations, as set forth in Part II. Just as the first period of settlement under British Rule was definitely brought to an end by the outbreak of the American War, so a corresponding change took place in the life of the Protestant churches. Before this period friendly relations existed between the Church of England and Dissenting churches, but the war brought sharp antagonisms. "When it closed, all dissenters in Nova Scotia lay under suspicion of disloyalty because of their sympathetic attitude towards the rebels." Prior to 1776, the Congregational church was the most important numerically, but in the succeeding period it almost disappeared from view. Mather's Church in Halifax, for instance, became St. Matthew's Presbyterian. Most of the New Englanders had removed when the war began.

Dr. MacKinnon says, "The external features of religious life, and not theology, are studied here. The student need only be reminded that Nova Scotia reflected the double aspect of conditions elsewhere in the eighteenth century; a century in which Latitudinarianism had spread widely to the neglect of dogmatic teaching, tending toward laxness in morals, but preparing the way for religious liberty; and a century which beheld the greatest revival in the history of Christianity."

All Canadians, and especially the people of the Maritimes, are under a deep debt of gratitude to Dr. MacKinnon for this profound study of their past, and for this added knowledge of "the rock whence they are hewn."
