Fate of Gander Airport Discussed

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 17.—(CP Cable)—Return of Gander to military purposes to Canada, was the main consideration of the Newfoundland delegation to the Canada-British-Newfoundland civil aviation conference here this week, Commissioner J. S. Neill of public utilities declared yesterday.

The chairman of the Newfoundland group said the airfield, shared by Canada with Britain and the United States during the war years, was the key to the Ancient Colony's future in aviation.

Squadron Leader H. Pattison of Gander declared the airfield was undoubtedly the best in Newfoundland, with no obstruction within 27 miles and being 200 miles nearer Europe than any other field in the country. He added it was understood while Newfoundland now was in a solvent condition as a result of the war-time boom and could financially handle Gander's operation for the time being, some contribution from main airlines would be expected over a period of time.

Newfoundland's immediate difficulties in taking over the airfield would be administrative, he said, explaining when Canada took over the airfield, military personnel employed and replacement by civil authorities would have to be done gradually. This action already had started, although the actual return of Gander was a matter for discussion at the conference, he added.

Preliminary talks began today as Hon. C. D. Howe, Canada's reconstruction minister, was anxious to clear away a number of items. The British delegation, with the exception of Lord Winster, Minister of Civil Aviation, arrived today. The delegates included W. C. G. Cribbet, deputy director general of civil aviation; Major J. R. McCordie; N. J. Dunlop; and maned J. A. L. Drummond of the

Graves of Canadian Victims Opened at Ardenne Abbey

(By The Canadian Press)
 AURICH, Germany, Dec. 17.—Lieut. Roger Cloutier of Quebec City, No. 2 Canadian Graves Concentration Unit, Saturday described the opening of graves of 11 Canadian victims at the Ardenne Abbey.

Identification of the bodies was made from the discs the soldiers still wore around their necks. The bodies were removed and placed in a permanent cemetery at Beny-Sur-Mer, five miles north of the Abbey.

The dead Canadians were: Lieut. T. A. Windsor of Montreal, of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers; Pte. L. L. Crowe of Stewiacke, N.S.; Pte. W. M. Doherty of Sackville, N.S.; Pte. G. R. McNaughton of Sydney, N.S.; Pte. G. E. Millar of Amherst, N.S.; Pte. R. Moore of Kentville, N.S.; Pte. H. A. McDonald of New Glasgow, N.S.; and Cpl. J. P. MacIntyre of Sydney Mines, N.S., all of the North Nova Scotia Highlanders; and T. Lockhead of Rouyn, Que., and Tr. H. G. Philp of Manilla, Ont., both of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers.

At Meyer Trial
 Col. MacDonald read an affidavit from Pte. J. J. Mills, Toronto, of the North Nova Scotia Highlanders, in which he said there were 102 Canadian prisoners taken to the Abbey June 7 after the battle of the Ardennes. Pte. Mills said a German corporal asked for 10 volunteers out of the group and when none came forward they were selected.

But he never saw again any of the men selected.

Lt.-Col. H. Mackeen of Rothesay, N. B., New Brunswick provincial pathologist, detailed the various injuries received by the Canadians exhumed at the Abbey.

Capt. P. Bell, Windsor, Ont., of No. 2 Canadian Graves Concentration Unit, said he received a report that an unknown Canadian officer was buried in the Abbey. He found a grave in the park marked with a cross put up by the Vico family. In it he found the bodies of six Canadian soldiers in a grave two feet deep, and of the feet square, with three soldiers lying side to side in the bottom and three others lying the opposite way on top of them.

not Off The Grill

The homes of the future may be run by pressing a button, but many of us are still struggling with present crowded living quarters. Frequent requests for help in planning main courses are received by the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture. Many of these calls come from those who must cook on a grill. Among the suggestions offered to help add variety and scope in grill cookery are:

1. Recipes which call for oven poaching, such as scouffees and baked custards, may be cooked in the top of a double boiler.
2. Scalloped dishes may be cooked, or pudding steamed at the same time in the boiling water in the bottom of the boiler.
3. Quick meat stews may be made by browning ground meat in a little fat until tender, adding diced vegetables, tomato juice, canned tomatoes or condensed soup and desired seasonings, until the vegetables are tender. This allows for quite a variety to any menu whether prepared in the most modern kitchen or a closest kitchenette.

Cottage Patties
 1-4 cup finely chopped onion
 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper (optional)
 1 tablespoon bacon fat
 1 cup cottage cheese
 2 cups day old whole wheat bread crumbs
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1-4 teaspoon paprika
 1-2 teaspoon sploy meat sauce
 2 tablespoons milk
 Flour
 1 tablespoon fat

Cook onion and green pepper in the bacon fat until tender. Combine with cottage cheese, bread crumbs, seasonings and milk. Mix thoroughly. Shape into flat patties. Drop on all sides with flour. Brown quickly on both sides in hot fat. Serve with catsup, sploy meat sauce or pickle.

Two to three servings.
 Note:—Cottage cheese varies in consistency so if mixture is too thin, add additional bread crumbs.

EGGS FIQUANT
 1-2 tablespoon chopped onion
 1-2 cup boiling water
 1-2 cup cottage cheese
 1-4 teaspoon salt
 1-8 teaspoon paprika
 3 eggs
 1 egg yolk
 1 egg white
 1 egg yolk
 1 egg white
 1 egg yolk
 1 egg white

Chop onion and mix with boiling water in a saucepan. Add salt, pepper, potatoes, carrots and onion; cover and cook over slow heat for about 15-20 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Do drain. Add butter, cheese and crumbled crackers; heat in covered saucepan until cheese melts. Stir gently once or twice. Browned crumbs may be sprinkled over potatoes before serving. Three servings.

MAKE THIS
A Happy Christmas
 FOR THE VETERANS

HELP THEM FIND A PLACE TO LIVE

Six years ago this month Canada's First Division landed in England. On the 25th of December, 1939 they spent their first Christmas away from home. This year thousands of them returned. December 25, 1945, will see them reunited with their families for their first Christmas since 1938.

It is a day they have looked forward to for many years, but for thousands of them it won't be a real Christmas. They will be spending it in one room. They will be eating Christmas dinner in restaurants. It will not be the Christmas they expected.

You Canadians who have unused space in your homes, however, can help. You can make this unused space available to a veteran. You can provide them with a place where they can be together with their wives and their children.

There is provision under Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations for short-term leases of five months or less in which the non-conviction regulations do not apply. Accommodation for five months or less would see many veterans over the winter period and would give them an opportunity to find more permanent accommodation.

There is provision also under which a large portion of the money received for rent of rooms can be exempt from income tax if the revenue is designated as the income of the wife or blood relative. Two-thirds of this income may be deducted as expense.

Canada's veterans need accommodation and need it badly in every section of the Dominion. They are looking to Canadians who can assist them in this emergency. Won't you be a good neighbour and rent to a veteran?

If you have space which you can make available, list it with the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, or the local branch of the Canadian Legion; advertise it in the newspapers or list it with a real estate agent. Inquire at the nearest Rentals Office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board about five months or less rental agreements. These are exempt from normal Wartime Prices and Trade Board non-conviction regulations, and five months tenancy will help many veterans through the winter.

Mysterious Death Felled Nazi Plan
 BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEWBERG, Dec. 18.—(AP)—German intrigue to stir up revolution in Ireland through the Irish Republican Army failed largely because of the mysterious death of an Irish revolutionary agent on board a U-boat in the English Channel, says Maj.-Gen. Edwin Lahoussen, wartime German intelligence official.

Lahoussen, surprise witness for the prosecution at the war crimes trial here, said in an interview yesterday that death of the agent also felled plans to sabotage British industries from Irish bases, and that other sabotage agents were nabbed the moment they set foot on British soil.

He said the operation bore the code name "Midson," and was considered politically so important that it was given top priority.

Patrolman Henry Dunn answered the police headquarters phone early today to hear an excited voice shouting: "somebody stole 1,800 bodies 'High'!" exclaimed Dunn, slightly bewildered. "Oh, I mean hat bodies, of course. This is the Trent Hat Company. The unfinished men's hats were valued at $8,000."
