FRISCH'S PAY STILL HIGHER

"Fordham Flash" Highest Paid Ball Player in New York, Except the "Babe"

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Frank Frisch, second baseman and field captain of the New York Giants, is believed to be the highest paid ball player in New York except Babe Ruth. Frisch's pay is reported to be $52,000 a year, Rogers Hornsby, second baseman of the Cardinals, and leading slogger of the National League, is said to get $45,000. Ty Cobb, as manager and member of the Detroit Tigers is one of the best paid athletes in baseball, but his salary has remained a secret.

DUNC MUNRO JOINS UP WITH MONTREAL PROS

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—After considering for several weeks, an offer from the Montreal professional hockey club which was recently granted a franchise in the National Hockey League to represent the English speaking people of Montreal, Dunc Munro, who captained the Granites, has accepted terms and will captain and play with the Montreal club this season. James Strachan received a wire from Munro last night, stating that he would accept terms and play with Montreal in professional ranks this season.

Turnbull's (Knitted) UNDER-CLOTHING

For men who require a warm serviceable garment at a moderate cost Turnbull's E88 is specially satisfactory. It is closely knitted, double back and chest.

It is made to give service and can be had in shirts and drawers or union suits as desired. It must be good or it would not be so popular—every year shows a greater demand for it.

For boys we make the same style and quality and call it "E37".

SPORTING COMMENT

Hockey followers in Ottawa are hearing with equanimity of reported changes, and shifts in personnel of the sometime world's champions. There is no trepidation or fear that Senators will crack wide open under the reconstruction that is gradually going on. They have faith in the combination that guides the destinies of the club. Fandom knows that Tommy Gorman is too astute to be satisfied with anything less than an assemblage of players who can go right out and give as glorious an account of itself as did those Ottawa teams which he has had under his control in the past. They know that Frank Ahearn can test the temper of the multitude with that unerring accuracy that professional sport has ever had. They know he appreciates their patronage, and that the spending of money in any quantity will not deter him from gathering the best obtainable, and that due deference in this quest will be given local talent. Coupled with these the Ottawa public has a faith in the judgment of Pettie Green, which has been proven through many years of experience, and they know what to expect when Ottawas take the ice a few weeks hence.

There are, of course, the Jeremiahs who view only the remnant of a once great team, and wring their hands, and whose desolate utterances predict the downfall of the Senators, and their tenancy of some position down fourth or fifth on the list. They take note of the discrepancies in the ranks, and their gloomy forebodings fail to vision the possibilities of the future.

ARE WELL SATISFIED

Ottawa owners are chary of discussing their team. Their manoeuvring and tactical displays are not finished. Behind their assurance that all is well in the Senators' camp, and that Ottawa will have a team that will be a revelation there is an optimistic note. Neither Tom Gorman nor Frank Ahearn are worried. If they share the gloomy forebodings of those whose predictions consign Senators to lower depths than they usually occupy in a league race they do not show it in their demeanor. They are rather buoyant and cheerful over the situation. In fact complacency and satisfaction over the outlook would hardly convey an idea of their attitude. It may be taken for granted they have a pretty tidy combination ready to swing into action, and when they let down the barriers of reserve which so far has hedged about the doing of the team it will be seen that they have been right on the job.

GUESSING AT THE LINE-UP.

Guessing at the possibilities for this winter one is inclined to hazard the opinion that Ottawas will have an eventual line-up something like the following: Goal, Ironstone, and another; defence, Boucher, Nighbor, Hitchman, Clancy and another; forwards, Frank Boucher, Frank Nighbor, Hooley Smith, Cy. Denny, Clancy, F. Campbell and Hitchman. Out of that aggregation a pretty sweet looking hockey team can be welded together. There is that tempering of youth and experience, that dash and abandon coupled with calculated coolness, and interwoven an element of speed that should make of this year's team one to be considered as in every way a worthy successor of those that have gone before.

MIKE TO SUE FOR $250,000 IF NO LICENSE GRANTED

Details of McTigue's Threat to Take Action Against Boxing Commission.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, has threatened to institute court proceedings against the State Athletic Commission to compel the boxing governing board to show cause why he should not be granted a license. The title holder announced he already has discussed the situation with his lawyer, Alex Tendler, and plans to take positive action on his case within a few days.

McTigue said he will seek a license from the commission. In the event that the license is denied, McTigue said he will instruct his lawyer to start court proceedings against the commission immediately.

Board Recommended One-Year Ban

McTigue said he will base his proposed court action on the disposition made of his case at the last meeting of the State Athletic Commission. The board then recommended to the license committee that McTigue be denied a license here for the period of one year. Chairman George E. Brower explained in announcing the commission's decision that the action was taken because McTigue declined to defend his title in a bout against Gene Tunney, recognized as foremost challenger for the championship. This challenge blocked plans for a bout between McTigue and Paul Berlenbach, of Astoria, which was scheduled for Nov. 14 at Madison Square Garden.

Maintaining that Tunney was entitled to preference with regard to the championship, the commission at first ordered the McTigue-Berlenbach bout cancelled, but later consented to permit the match if the principals would agree under an agreement whereby the winner consented to defend the title against Tunney within sixty days after the Nov. 14 bout. McTigue declared this arrangement satisfactory to him and was prepared to post $10,000 to bind the agreement.

Billy Gibson, manager of Tunney however, announced that Berlenbach declined to enter such an agreement. The McTigue-Berlenbach match then was prohibited by the commission and Tunney's challenge was forwarded to the commission. It was this challenge that Chairman Bower said McTigue did not recognize or acknowledge.

FORMER BOXER YOUNG STRIB. IS BACK AT SCHOOL AGAIN

Georgia Prize Fighter is Taking an Academic Course—Some Ready Answers

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Young Stribley, the prizefighter, has gone back to school. You see him pictured at his desk in the classroom at a University School Atlanta, where he is taking an academic course.

One imagines his mind is not always on books and that now and then his vision of a triumphant man with Dempsey, the champion lying in a battered heap, flare up to charm his fancy.

Into this reverie breaks the interrogative voice of the professor who commands, "Name some of the old masters."

"Sullivan, Corbett, Gans, and Nelsen."

"Define ambition."

"It is the desire to get to the top of the ladder, round by round."

"What is meant by the known quantity?"

"You must be referring to Berlenbach."

"Beyond the Alps lies what?"

"Johnny Dundee's garlic ranch."

"Where is the land of the sacred cow?"

"I don't know, but the Wild Bull came from Buenos Aires."

"What is meant by the Great Divide?"

"Sixty-four and the manager always takes the sixty."

"Who invented the corkscrew?"

"Ed McGee, and it's a doozie if you land right with it."

"What do you know about Samson?"

"He was a pretty good boy until he lost a hair-line decision to Delliush."

"Is cauliflower a fruit or a vegetable?"

"It always has been an ear."

"Who is the heaviest man in the world?"

"Tex Rickard, and the next nurse I get from him has gotta be."

"At this point the bell rang, proclaiming the noon recess, and the scholar-student leaped from his desk and began filling the scholarly atmosphere with left hooks.

"Say what round is this anyway?" he asked.

THE DIFFERENCE

Mother was very careful indeed about the upbringing of her little son, Tommy. Particularly careful was she to make him say grace before each meal.

Recently in a restaurant, after the waitress had served the tea, mother said to Tommy:

"Now say grace, please, Tommy."

Tommy looked up in surprise and said: "That, mamma, objected the small boy, 'we're paying for this, aren't we?'"

the Ontario Hockey Association, whose services have been sought by practically every manager in the National Hockey League, is no longer free, according to the claim of Newsy Lalonde, manager of the Saskatoon Shiels who says that he has Cooper under contract and that he may trade him to Canadians of Montreal.

L. OF C. BOWLING TOURNAMENT OPENING GAME TONIGHT

The League of the Cross Bowling Tournament on the League Alleys will begin tonight at 8 o'clock.

There are eight teams entered and the men are selected from the twelve teams that took part in last season's struggle for honors. This looks like a case of the "survival of the fittest" and promises a great competition with big scores, something the fans can enjoy as well as the players. Come and see them.

The teams rolling are the Yachtsmen under Capt. Lund All Stars under Capt. W. Larter Barbers under Capt. J. Walsh Alerts under Capt. V. Coyle C. N. R. Freight Dept. under Capt. C. Craswell Invincibles under Capt. P. Ready

News-papemen under Capt. J. Duffy Band Boys under Capt. C. Kelly The opening game will be rolled between the Yachtsmen vs. Band Boys and will no doubt bring a large crowd of the fans as well as the other teams out to size them up and figure out their chances of landing the silverware.

The games for the balance of this week will be as follows, viz: Tuesday the All Stars vs. Barbers Wednesday the Alerts vs. C. N. R. Thursday the Invincibles vs. News-papemen

The balance of schedule will appear later. The play will be conducted under practically the same rules as last season, except that in the second section, with eight teams entered, it may be possible, and more satisfactory, to play twice around so that each team would have a return match with every other team.

JACK GREETED LUIS FIRPO

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 2.—Jack Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo renewed acquaintances tonight in the ring of the 113th Infantry Armory. The world's heavyweight champion arriving at the arena just before the Walker-Malone bout, stepped into the ring to acknowledge a wild demonstration from the crowd. Recognizing Firpo in a ringside seat, Dempsey stepped quickly over, and leaning under the topmost rope, extended his hand with a smile of welcome. Then Firpo climbed into the ring, while the crowd continued its cheering.
