That Car Of Yours

By WILLIAM ULLMAN Heart-to-Heart Talks With Automobile Owners and Drivers on How to Get the Most Out of Their Cars at the Least Expense.

TRY EASY WAY FIRST

If a wax polish was applied to the car the last time it was cleaned, the motorist may save himself considerable energy if before trying to wash the car again he tests out the results of rubbing the finish with a soft cloth. The dirt, regardless of quantity, may be found to be less than polish deep, and if it comes out without excessive rubbing, the car owner is that much ahead.

ABOUT CLEANER TUBE

Faulty carburetor adjustment is blamed unjustly for much of the engine stalling traceable to leaks in the rubber tube of the vacuum windshield cleaner. When the engine stalls in traffic, many motorists are prone to think that the carburetor idling jet is cut down too far. Inspection of the cleaner tube is a simple matter. If a leak is found, replace the tube. Then if the engine still stalls, blame the carburetor.

IT, TOO, NEEDS GREASE

The breaker cam in the distributor is one unit that rarely gets consideration in the automobile lubrication process. Of course, it rarely needs it, but the thoughtful motorist who wants to keep this unit functioning at its highest efficiency will get around to the task once a year, at least. Each side of the cam should be treated to a thin coating of light grease. The best way to apply it is by using a toothpick or a match stem.

THESE SPRINGS DO BREAK.

There is a little point in being puzzled if there is a hum in the starter but it fails to turn the engine over. This effect, in nine cases out of ten, has but one cause. The starter spring is broken. In the early days of motoring this trouble was much more common than it is now, but despite the improvements made, starter springs are susceptible to breakage. Their replacement is neither a difficult nor an expensive task.

DON'T BLAME THE PEDAL.

Some motorists who like to tinker around the car themselves make the mistake of thinking that a slipping clutch is to be remedied by re-adjustment of the pedal. The pedal has nothing to do with the slipping and its readjustment may mean a serious reduction of the clearance between it and the toe-board. The effect is the same as driving with the clutch only partly disengaged. Slipping of the clutch is remedied within the unit and unless the car owner is equipped with knowledge of this device, he should leave the task to the service expert.

IT CANNOT BE DROPPED

In removing front wheel bearings for cleaning or some other purpose, it is well to exercise caution against dropping these units to the floor. Many a bearing has had its efficiency reduced by being pulled off with the wheel with no thought given to the fact that its cage may be flattened by the impact against the floor. Incidentally, it will be found just as simple to leave the inner bearing on the spindle if cleaning is the only care it needs.

RIGHT START ESSENTIAL

The car owner can save himself

TO MANY WOMEN EMBARRASSING BODY-ODORS ARE A SOCIAL HANDICAP

When you meet a girl or woman afflicted with offensive body-odors you turn from her with disgust. The cause is deep-seated, usually due to clogged-up bowels and overloaded intestines. No woman can make her body sweet and clean if it is loaded with poisons and wastes that should be eliminated. A sure way to end body-odors is to clean up your insides. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they don't gripe or cause distress—the day's routine amount of decay material is brought down from BOTH the upper and lower bowels. You'll be free from headache—your digestion will improve, pains in the back will disappear. For good health fine spirits, get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c at all dealers.

a great deal of time and trouble, if before retiming the engine he makes certain that the defect is not traceable to wear on or maladjustment of the breaker contacts. Even if these parts are not found to be at fault, the timing adjustment should start at this point.

MR. J. A. FALK.

Executive secretary of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies and Financial Federation. Mr. Falk was born and educated in England but has been engaged in social work in Canada for twenty years, during which time he has been chiefly concerned with the co-ordination of community forces in Councils of Social Agencies and federations for co-operative financing. He organized such co-operative enterprises in Winnipeg and later took over similar work in Montreal. Mr. Falk, both in thought and in accomplishment is ranked among the leading spirits in Canadian Social Work, and is consulted on every hand on questions of standards, co-operative organizations, finance methods an interpretive publicity. He is a member of the faculty of McGill University in connection with the Social Workers, and a member of the Committee on Publicity Methods, of the National Conference of Social Work the United States, in which Canadian Social Workers have participated up to the present time. Needless to say, he is a frequent contributor to Social Work Journals and the press. His work is much sought after as a speaker and has great resources to draw upon. Last November, in one brief visit to Halifax, he addressed a general meeting of about four hundred people, the Rotary Club, the Sociology Students of Dalhousie University, The Community Chest Group, and the annual meeting of the Welfare Bureau. He visits here this week.

In any work of an intellectual nature for the blind, whether in connection with the schools where instruction is given or in the larger field of service in which are embraced adults as well as children, the one great desideratum is a system of Braille Raised Point. Books are carried by the Canadian Postal Authorities between the library and the reader free of charge. What this service means for the sightless is difficult for those who are blessed with sight to understand. It has opened up a new world for them and helped greatly to lift the overwhelming burden of these unfortunate. The Central Executive in the Fund of $300,000 to finance the work for the adult blind in the Maritimes and Newfoundland, has the assistance of three blind men, Dr. John A. MacDonald, Field Secretary of the Institute and H. B. Campbell, Superintendent of the Maritime Division, are engaged in organizing local committees in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. S. R. Hussey, Principal of the Literary Department of the Halifax School for the Blind, is doing similar work in Newfoundland. All three are remarkable examples of what the blind can do if they are given the opportunity.'
