Should Have Tried The North Pole

QUEBEC, June 24.—(By the Canadian Press)—The green garb of summer may be a delight to some of Quebec's visitors but it is a pain in the neck to four young women from a small New York town. Blushing with humiliation and smarting under the ill-concealed laughter and grins of Quebec, the four vacation girls today did their best to hide three pairs of brand new skirts they had brought up with them and natty winter sports costumes that will not see the light of day either.

Appropriately equipped for two weeks in the bracing northern air of Canada, the girls got a nasty shock when they were ushered into a countrified nodding drowsy under a warm summer sun.

Canada's Governor General, was

Mgr. A. V. J. Plette, Rector of the

Ain.ee's Husband Faces Breach Of Promise Suit

LOS ANGELES, June 24. (A.P.) —Attempting to break down the story of Myrtle St. Pierre that she was overcome with grief when David Hutton forsook her after a proposal of marriage, defense counsel drew admissions from her today that she had attended parties with other men during her period of "sorrow."

She seeks damages of $200,000 from Hutton, now the husband of Alma Temple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, for alleged breach of promise.

Once, as Hutton's lawyer, Mark Jones, questioned her about alleged illicit relations with the choir singer, she began to cry and quickly collapsed, forcing a recess.

Questioned about treatments she claimed she gave Hutton in her health salon in Pasadena, she told of giving him alcohol rubs.

Can The Leopard Change His Spots?

Mr. Mackenzie King, Professed Free-Trader And Anti-Imperial- ist, Cuts A Strange Figure Spon- soring The Empire Trade Policy Of The British Conservative Leader.

Judging by his speech at Sussex on Thursday night, the anti-Imperialism of Mr. Mackenzie King has undergone an astonishing change in the past few months. Who would imagine that the gentleman now professing to sponsor the Empire trade views of Mr. Baldwin, British Conservative leader, was the same who, at Winnipeg last January, characterized trade preference within the Empire as a new form of "economic isolation" and declared dramatically:
"Canada must decline to become a subsidiary unit of an Imperial holding company?"

Mr. Baldwin, like Premier Bennett, stands for a policy of "Empire First." Where, it may be asked, does Mr. Mackenzie King stand? His own words, delivered in Winnipeg on Jan. 11 last, are on record. They are as follows:

"From the Liberal point of view, economic nationalism and economic Imperialism are both wrong, and we might as well state the matter plainly, and face the issue boldly. If economic nationalism is to be the inspiration and objective of our policies, we might as well abandon at once all thoughts of world trade, and expect instead to incur, in our international relations, the enmity of every other nation upon earth, not excepting the nations of the British Commonwealth, which include Britain itself.
Equally, if the inspiration and objective of our policies are to be an economic Imperialism—an enlarged economic isolation, only more pregnant with dangers from within and from without—we may expect to find very much in the way of strife and discord between the different nations of the British Commonwealth, and at the same time a world situation greatly aggravated by the contending economic units on a scale hitherto unparalleled.

"I think the time has come when it is necessary to speak very plainly. I do not hesitate to say that neither of these paths, the path of economic nationalism or the path of economic Imperialism, is a path to peace in our own land or to world peace, but that each is a path to certain destruction."

Imperial holding company," Mr. King asserted. "Our position on the American continent, our position as a great exporting country, demands the organization of our trading relations on a world-wide scale. Anything less than this would be a denial of our birthright."

That is Mr. Mackenzie King's attitude toward the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference—an attitude of hostility such as might be condoned in the representative of a country outside the British Empire, having no interest or share in its destinies, but incomprehensible in one professing concern for the success of its deliberations. Mr.
King has done his best to damn the Conference with faint praise; his recent volte face in favor of Mr. Baldwin's policy will convince nobody that he has experienced any sincere conversion from the anti-Imperial trade views which he expressed so recently and so emphatically at Winnipeg.

CHILD BIRTH IS DISCUSSED BY MEDICOS

Elimination As Far As Possible Of Op- erative Deliveries Urged.

TORONTO, June 24.—(By The far as possible of operative deliveries in child birth was urged tonight by Dr. George W. Kosmak of New York, in a public address at the

Dr. Kosmak maintained the risks

Revolt In Siam Ends Monarchy

Members Of Royal Family, Cabinet Ministers And Gov't. Officials Captured.

BANGKOK, Siam, June 24.—(A.
P.)—One of the world's few remaining absolute monarchies toppled today when the army and navy of this picturesque land suddenly revolted and set up a "constitutional monarchy."

The coup was almost bloodless.
The army chief of staff was believed shot to death by his own men when he resisted their demands for surrender. Most members of the Royal Family were captured immediately by the soldiers and sailors who invaded the principal Roy-also taken.

The navy commanders ordered a
