British Members Demand Removal Potato Embargo

Shortage In Britain Is Forcing Prices Up, Is Contention. Gil- mour Still Urges Need Of Safe- guard Against Beetle.

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, April 11.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Removal of the embargo on Canadian potatoes because the shortage of supplies in Britain is forcing up the price was demanded in the House of Commons this afternoon by members who had questions on the order paper.

Sir John Gilmour, Minister of Agriculture, replied the embargo on potatoes from countries where the Colorado beetle was prevalent was imposed solely on sanitary grounds and its enforcement could not be made dependent on seasonal fluctuations of prices. The Minister added he had not heard of any undue shortage of potatoes in the British market.

Delegates from Canada, including representatives of Maritime Potato Growers' Associations, visited England in February to urge removal of the embargo but were unsuccessful in their attempt. The Ministry of Agriculture declared it could not remove the embargo so long as it considered there remained a danger of the introduction of the Colorado beetle.

DE VALERA AS FIRM AS EVER

In His Determination To Strike The Oath Of Allegiance From The Constitution — Great Britain Is Equally Insistent The Oath Is Integ- ral Part Of Irish Treaty.

LONDON, April 11.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Parliament anxiously awaits the next step in the discussion between the Governments of Great Britain and the Irish Free State over the intention of the Republican Government to abolish the oath of allegiance to the King, and to withhold payment of the land annuities. For in their frank exchange of notes the two governments have reached an impasse. President Eamon De Valera is as firm as ever in his determination to strike the oath from the constitution. Great Britain is equally insistent the oath is an integral part of the Irish treaty and that by the treaty the Free State is bound in the most formal and emphatic manner.

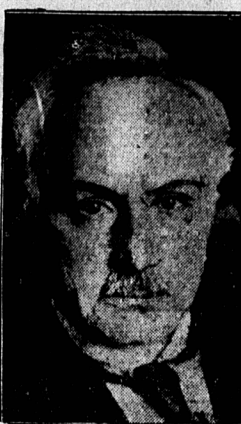

The text of the notes was made public this afternoon by J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, with the brief remark that Great Britain in unmistakable language stands by the terms of the treaty. The house cheered his state-

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

U. S. Delegates Pro- Pose Abolition Of Aggressive Weap- ons Of Land War- fare—Are Support- ed By Gt. Britain.

(By P. I. Lipsey, Jr., Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
GENEVA, April 11.—The United States delegation to the Disarmament Conference today proposed the abolition of aggressive weapons of land warfare—tanks, mobile heavy artillery, and gas—and received the cordial support of Great Britain. Ambassador Hugh Gibson, who presented the United States recommendations, pointed out that if adopted they would do much to root out fears for national security and that they would permit reductions in the cost of arms at a time of "insistent demand for economy throughout the world."

Approval for the suggestions, for the most part guarded, came from the representatives of Germany, France and Italy, and the programme was referred to a conference committee for decision after it had been discussed with kindred proposals from other nations.

Mr. Gibson made it clear that his suggestions were inadequate in

"Inside Story" On Scurvy Trick

Kidnappers With Lindbergh's $50,000 And Baby Again Fade Into Thin Air.

(Associated Press)
HOPEWELL, N. J., April 11.—An "inside story" of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's unsuccessful ransom negotiations for the return of his son came tonight as the famous flyer waited tonight for a renewal of his contacts with the kidnapers. The Colonel held a definite means of identifying the men to whom he turned over $50,000 in $5, $10 and $20 bills, should they wish to communicate secretly with him once more, but from the Lindbergh home came word that "no further contacts had been established."

While the Colonel waited for some message, explaining the failure of the abductors to live up to their promise and return the baby, it was learned from an authoritative source that he had received at least seven notes from them, in addition

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11.—(By the Canadian Press)—Lashing out in a multiple attack on the Bennett Government's record Col. J. L. Ralston, financial critic for the Liberals, led off the budget debate today. The last two years, he said, had been noted for rising taxation, increased debt, stifled trade and unemployment.

Directing his chief offensive against the trade policy of the administration, the former Minister of National Defence criticised "putting a barbed wire fence" around Canada, primarily an exporting

(Canadian Press)
GREENWICH, Conn., April 11.—Police were notified tonight that a woman attempted to pass a $20 bill bearing a serial number of one of the Lindbergh ransom notes at a bakery here, but when the proprietor identified it, the woman grabbed the bill and fled.

The woman proprietor, who had a list of the ransom bills posted beside the counter, said the serial number was KB 0337-529 A.

"Why, that's one of the Lindbergh bills," the shopkeeper, whose name police did not reveal, said to the woman.

The woman at the counter, who had given the note in exchange for an order of pastry, grabbed the note and ran outside to a green automobile, which sped eastward. She was described to police as wearing a brown dress, gray hat and coat, and was middle-aged and of medium height.

He will supervise the operation of the twenty-five or thirty revenue cutters on the Atlantic seaboard, his headquarters being at Moncton, N. B.

Famous String Quartet Heard In Fine Concert

Large Audience Thrilled By Mag- nificent Programme Of Chamber Music By Hart House Quartet.

It is more than doubtful if the musical annals of this city bear record of an event comparable to that of the programme given by the Hart House String Quartet in Trinity Church last night. The Hart House Quartet is indisputably one of the two foremost on this continent—the other being the Flonzaley String Quartet of the United States.

Each of the members of the Hart House ensemble is an artist of the very first rank, as no one who was so fortunate as to hear last night's very largely attended performance could doubt. The beauty of their tone production was beyond praise. And only those familiar with the difficult technique of the Viol family of instruments could properly praise and fully appreciate the exquisite precision of their bowing and the brilliance of their attack.

The Haydn Quartette in D Major, the first number on the programme, was well chosen as being characteristic in an eminent degree of its

MINISTER OF TRADE RESUMES BUDGET DEBATE

Stevens Scores Col. Ralston's Criticism Of Gov't. Methods In Masterly Speech In Commons Yesterday.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11.—(By the Canadian Press)—H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, resumed the Budget debate after the dinner recess. Not one word of analysis of the world conditions or any word that would assist the Government in the solution of the problems with which they were confronted had been expressed by the Liberal critic (Col. Ralston) in his speech today, Mr. Stevens declared.

"His was a subtle, bitter and I may say petty criticism of the Government's position and difficulties," Mr. Stevens stated. He was reminded by the pessimism expressed by Col. Ralston of Shaw's definition of a pessimist as "one who thinks everyone is as nasty as himself and hates them accordingly."
