Judge's Address

At the outset of his address, Mr. Justice Arsenault paid a very high tribute to the late Judge Inman, who he regretted to say had passed away early that morning.

His Lordship said, it was his sad duty to announce the death of Judge George Strong Inman, which is a great personal loss, as they were very close friends. Judge Inman was a splendid student, both in Charlottetown and at Dalhousie. He was well grounded in the law, and had a remarkable record as a Judge, and he did not remember his judgments ever being reversed in appeal. In fact very few of his decisions ever went up for appeal.

He was a great student of law and gave careful consideration to the cases that came before him; and no matter was too small for his consideration. He stands out as one of the finest Judges in the province and his passing is a great loss to the County Court Bench.

Out of respect for his memory the court will adjourn on the day of his funeral.

His Lordship then referred to the fact that there were no criminal cases on the docket. Prince County is comparatively free from crime, but, said His Lordship, not as free as King's County, which in his 17 years on the Supreme Court Bench he had yet to try a criminal case in King's County.

In speaking of the large list of inmates in the County Jail for lesser crimes, 123 during the last six months and thirty seven at the present time, many for infringements of the Prohibition Act and 54 for being drunk and disorderly. His Lordship said it was not an indication that people generally are drunk and disorderly or offenders against the law, but that a certain number are in and out of trouble all the time.

His Lordship referred to the particularly dry season of the past summer, which resulted in light crops, but in spite of all this residents of this Island are much better off than the people in the west, where for seven years they have not had a crop.

Many farmers in the West were on relief and over 2,000 cars of food had been sent to the West from the East.

Prices might be low, but at least farmers were not reduced to having to ask for help.

His Lordship spoke of dairy farming as the Island's basic industry and anyone who practices dairy farming can always make a living. His Lordship regretted that owing to the industrial centres of the United States being closed to young men from the Island, there are now many young men not able to make a living, but he hoped that something would be done to provide farms for these young people either here or in the West where the drought does not prevail.

Pays Tribute

Hon. Thane A. Campbell, in addressing the court, said he wished to pay a tribute to the late Judge Inman on behalf of the Bar of Prince County particularly, and also on behalf of the Bar of the province as well as the Government of the province.

He was in sincere concurrence with what His Lordship had said in regard to the regrettable death of Judge Inman, who was very well known to the public of the province.

He was associated with the public life of the province in various capacities as a barrister, judge, minister of the Legislature, and on the Executive Council. In his private life he was held in very high regard and esteem, and his passing will be greatly regretted throughout the province, Hon. Mr. Campbell continued.

1 for assault.
5 for petty larceny.

Respectfully submitted,
Sheriff of Prince County.

Appeal Case Called

When the appeal of Large vs. Bryan was called Mr. Heath Strong, K.C., acting for the respondent, made objection that the court had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal and that it should be struck from the docket. His Lordship stated that he was inclined to agree but would give the appellant's counsel, C. D. MacCallum and Wilfred Tanton a chance to argue on the matter before him on Tuesday, December 7th.

This morning the cases of Steeves and Lowther vs. Moore will be heard. These are automobile damage cases.

On motion of Hon. Thane A. Campbell, K. C., Mr. Harold Buell, Charlottetown, was made a commissioner for taking affidavits in Prince, Queens and Kings Counties.

Grand Jury's Report

The Honourable Aubin E. Arsenault, Presiding Judge;
May it please Your Lordship:—

"We the Grand Jurors beg to submit the following report. We learn with sincere regret of the death of G. S. Inman, Judge of the County Court of Prince County and feel that the judiciary of this province has met with a great loss. We extend our sympathy to his family.

"We have listened with interest to your remarks in reference to general conditions in this province and heartily agree with them.

"We submit to you our report and recommendations concerning the conditions of offices and jail. We find several ceilings in bad condition, plaster gone in many places. Floor of registry office needs repairs. We think that the greater part of damage to various ceilings is caused by faulty plumbing and heating; we recommend a check-up of these. We found cells and quarters for the prisoners in good condition excepting ceilings as mentioned above."

Signed, Emanuel F. Gallant, foreman, for self and fellows.

GRAND LODGE A. F. & A. M.

TAX REVISION

Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations today.

Dr. Upgren held this indicated a need for some remedy to prevent any particular section of the country suffering unduly from natural and economic disturbances.

The decline in agriculture was out of all proportion to the decline in business generally and the decline in Manitoba and Saskatchewan was far worse than in agriculture generally, he said.

From 1926 to 1935, Canadian manufacturing declined 21 per cent, while agriculture declined 56 per cent and Manitoba agriculture dropped 71 per cent.

With a population of 6.75 per cent of the Canadian people, Manitoba's income since 1928 has averaged slightly less than five per cent of the national income.

"The significance of the difference between these two figures is that the demand for expenditures is determined by the numbers of our people," said Dr. Upgren "but our taxable capacity is determined, not by the numbers of our people, but by their income.

"Our taxation when measured on a per capita basis is substantially in line with other provinces, but when that taxation is measured as a proportion of the income of our people it is found to be much higher than for the rest of Canada."

While Canadian income as a whole declined 34 per cent from 1926 to 1935, Manitoba income declined 51 per cent, and Ontario and Quebec declined 24 and 30 per cent respectively.

Municipal and provincial taxes per capita in Manitoba in 1933 were $33.65, compared to an average for all provinces of $32.32, but that sum was 14.36 per cent of Manitoba's total income while the provincial average was only 10.34 per cent of total income. Incidentally, total taxes, including Dominion, were 18.11 per cent of the national income in 1933.

advantage should not be taken of it."

Opponents of the application said earlier that the effect of an increased tariff on employment would be negligible; but Mr. Jones countered with the statement that while factory workers might not be greatly increased, the advantage would be felt by thousands of potato growers in the Maritimes.

On this point Mr. Meijer said that in Holland only 100 workmen were employed to produce 40,000,000 pounds of potato dextrine. This would mean that, at the most, added employment would be given in Canada to not more than seven or eight individuals. The starch content of Dutch potatoes ranged from 18 to 20 per cent, that of the Maritime product from 12 to 14 per cent. Also the quantity of potatoes grown in Holland per acre was three times that in the Maritimes.

Hon. F. W. Pirie, New Brunswick's minister of lands and forests, H. H. Hatfield, a New Brunswick manufacturer, and Col. G. E. Full of Prince Edward Island, supported Mr. Jones request.

The application was opposed by R. P. Sparks on behalf of the Netherlands' manufacturers. He claimed imposition of a higher tariff would result in the two Canadian starch companies enjoying a monopoly. H. P. Edds, for the Canadian Bureau of Envelope manufacturers, protested against tapioca dextrine being included in any projected increase. W. M. Berry, for the primary textile institute, urged the necessity of preserving the low rate on sago and tapioca dextrine for the textile industry.

Declares Strike Violates Act

(By The Canadian Press)

GLACE BAY, N. S., Nov. 30—President D. W. Morrison of United Mine Workers District No 26 said tonight he had been told in a telegram from Federal Labor Minister Norman McL. Rogers that "the Minto strike was called in violation of provisions of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act."

The telegram followed application of the Union Head to Federal Labor authorities for forms on which to apply for appointment of a conciliation board to probe the dispute between miners and operators in the New Brunswick coal fields.

Morrison declined to comment on the reply from Ottawa until he had conferred with other district officers and leaders of the Minto local union.

Keen Interest In Fox Educational Features Shown

Hundreds Throng Demonstration Rooms To Hear Experts—N.B Minister Of Agriculture Guest Speaker.

The Fox Educational and Demonstration Committee had another busy day yesterday looking after the hundreds of foxes that came in from early morning and continue to come. East and west of the province are equally represented and some very fine foxes are to be seen. Hundreds of visitors not only from all over the province but from outside points throng the demonstration rooms and watch with interest the good and bad points of a fox being explained by experts.

Interesting Feature

An interesting feature is the Experimental Farm booth in charge of Mr. G. Ennis Smith. This booth is fitted up with charts showing seasonal variations in weight, normal growth, line breeding, reproductive organs in male and female and comparisons of the digestibilities of meats. There are microscopes through which can be viewed the various stages of fur in its prime and unprime condition. As this is a most important feature in the development of the fur, every rancher who visits the demonstration building should make a point of visiting the Experimental ranch booth.

Mr. T. D. Carruthers gave a most instructive demonstration of the correct method of pelting and stretching fox furs which was followed with keen interest. Mr. L. W. Hancock put on a moving picture display of the champion foxes of the Charlottetown, Amherst, Borden, Alberton and other fairs which was an excellent educational feature.

Fashion Display Today

For today's program there will be a lecture of Dr. Cummings of Truro and a display of fashions latest in capes and furs which should be of particular interest to the ladies. On Thursday Dr. Howlett of the National Research Department at Ottawa will demonstrate the physical traits of the light and dark foxes.

Guest Speaker

Hon. A. C. Taylor, minister of agriculture for New Brunswick was the guest speaker yesterday afternoon and gave a most forceful address. In his opening remarks he congratulated the Summerside Board of Trade, foxmen and Department of Agriculture on this Educational Week which is unique in the fur history of Canada. In years to come foxmen will realize the value of this demonstration as this is only the beginning of research work in connection with ranching, breeding and marketing of foxes. He congratulated Hon. Mr. Dennis on the organization of the fox industry on the Island and also in their being so fortunate as to have such an outstanding man as Mr. Burke to take charge of the work.

Mr. Taylor said New Brunswick hopes to follow Prince Edward Island's lead as they recognize that it is important that a definite program must be followed to some ultimate goal if we are to retain the reputation of producers of the world's finest foxes. Mr. Taylor said he did not believe that the Maritimes had fallen back in fox ranching as he believed there were no better foxes anywhere than he had seen in the Maritimes. But if we are to retain this position there must be vigorous culling of poor foxes which is a result of over-production.

Extension Work

Mr. Taylor spoke of the extension work of the illustration farms in New Brunswick which is an educational feature working with groups instead of individuals. It creates a cooperative spirit and could be used to advantage in the fox industry. He considered the Island had made a splendid start in this direction. Herd improvement organizations had accomplished much for the improvement of livestock and could well be followed with fox herds. For success however, ranchers should be prepared to go the limit and cull out all poor foxes. If a definite standard were set, and made known to the world as a Canada-wide standard for silver foxes, then we will have accomplished something. Mr. Taylor concluded his remarks by asking for the support of Island foxmen in organizing the fox industry in New Brunswick.

Prominent visitors to the demonstrations are Dr. A. B. Teakles Sussex, N.B.; W. L. Todd, Boston; J.O. Hyndman, John Webster, Hon. Walter Jones, B. Roy Holman, Charlottetown; Leon Chappel, Paris, France; Tannenbaum, New York; Mr. MacLeod, Maritime Farmer, Sussex, N. B.; and Dr. Cummings of Truro.

Boss: "Now be careful with that money I gave you, son. Remember the saying, 'a fool and his money are soon parted'."

Boss' son: "Yes, Dad, but I want to thank you for parting with it, just the same."
