Kensington And Vicinity

Mr. Leigh Tombs of Charlottetown was a business visitor to Kensington recently.

Mr. Joseph Joelchman, Mr. Leonard McInnis and Mr. William Hughes were visitors to Charlottetown Wednesday.

Mr. Merrill Craswell of Charlottetown, was in Kensington on Wednesday on business.

Mr. William Ready and son Charles of South Boston, Mass., are enjoying holiday in Kensington, the guests of Mr. Ready's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McLellan, while on a tour of the Province.

Mr. Leo McKenna and Mr. Arthur Watson have completed painting Mr. James Kennedy's Service Station.

Nine additional younger men were visitors to Summerside on Wednesday undergoing their examinations for entry in H. S. Majesty's force overseas service. All but one, it is understood, passed with flying colors and will in the near future be in uniform.

Congratulations to Mr. Joseph L. Davidson on the excellent cement platform he has laid in front of his well known tea rooms. With a few more such repairs being done on the front of several of the business places the main street will be one to be proud of.

Mr. Ray Stewart on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Campbellton, N.B., arrived home on Wednesday afternoon where he will spend his annual holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stewart. Ray, a general favorite among the younger set receiving a warm welcome from his many friends.

Your scribe, along with many others in this busy town would like very much to know what has become of the large sign that showed the many strangers on their way to the eastern section of the Province the proper direction to Charlottetown and other places, that up to a short time ago adorned this busy corner. It is approximately nine coming both ways have to come to a complete stop to enquire for search in their road map for the correct route. One wonders just why this one has, along with many other such signs been removed and replaced. Everyone wants tourists to come to the fair Province why not treat them right and have these signs attended to at once?—H.

fine as an "unfair labor practice" of an employer to re-hire a worker who has returned from training.

Language also was approved covering "conscientious objectors" who would be exempted from combat training or service "by reason of religious training or belief."

Public hearings on the training bill continued before the House military committee with a war department witness estimating the first year cost at $1,100,000,000.

Major George L. Everle testified that this cost included construction of barracks and similar items.

Besides questions of defence, security, neutrality and safeguards against fifth column activity, the conference considered the desirability of a broader system of trade cooperation.

Delegates were heartened by the indicated desire of Argentina to swing with the tide of pan-American solidarity. She has leaned toward European trade influence because of her profitable commercial traffic in that quarter.

The Argentine delegation prepared four proposals for the conference. These embraced foreign possessions, inter-American neutrality and the security zone, protection of children, co-ordination of defence measures.

In proposing only a broad outline of economic steps to meet existing and future emergencies, the United States was understood to have recognized the difficulty of working out full details at a conference of this character.

Some of the measures, it is understood, will require extended and detailed negotiations among individual governments in respect to specific commodities.

The United States delegation was understood to be privately placing details of its economic plans before various delegations so they could take them back to their governments to hasten agreement.

These were believed to call for some plan similar to a cartel developed in preliminary form by a cabinet committee under the direction of President Roosevelt to deal with the export of surpluses.

ST. ANDREWS, N.B., July 25.—(CP)—After a long illness, Sir Thomas Tait 76, retired railway and business executive, died here today at his summer residence, Links Green.

Announcement of funeral plans had not been made tonight, but it was presumed the body will be taken to his home city of Brackley, Columbia, 69 cents. To other countries of the British Empire from all offices in Canada the rate is 60 cents. There is an additional charge per word for messages exceeding 6 words. Because of obvious difficulties, Canadian navy personnel is not included in the arrangement for the present.

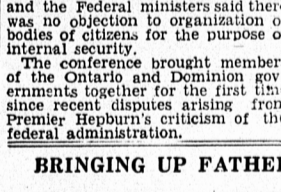

OTTAWA, July 25.—(CP)—Agreement on the formation and operation of volunteer civil guards in Ontario was reached today at a conference attended by Defence Minister Ralston, Air Minister Power and Naval Minister Angus L. Macdonald, representing the Dominion government, and Premier Hepburn, Attorney-General Conant and Lab. Minister Hipel, representing the Ontario government.

The Ontario ministers assured the Federal war ministers the civil bodies would not interfere with recruiting of armed forces under the Department of National Defence and the Federal ministers said there was no objection to organization of bodies of citizens for the purpose of internal security.

The conference brought members of the Ontario and Dominion governments together for the first time since recent disputes arising from Premier Hepburn's criticism of the federal administration.

KELOWNA, B. C., July 25.—(CP)—Representatives of British Columbia's fruit industry will leave tomorrow for Ottawa, where they will discuss with Minister of Agriculture J. G. Gardiner, marketing prospects for the 1940 apple crop. Also present at the conference will be representatives from apple-growing districts of Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia.

Low Rates On Cables To And From C. A. S. F.

MONTRÉAL, July 25.—A valuable contribution towards promoting exchange of family news between overseas members of the Canadian Active Service Force, nurses, members of the R.C.A.F., and their families at home, is announced by the wireless companies effective today.

This new "E.F.M." (Expeditionary Force Message) service, providing as it does extremely low rates, is expected to result in a heavy increase in the exchange of news between the boys "over there" and those who keep the home fires burning.

An added feature of this service provides that the sender will pay for the message text and signature. The full name and address of the recipient being carried without charge. Under this plan the rates to Great Britain from offices in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, for a six-word message is 42 cents; Manitoba 48 cents; and Saskatchewan 48 cents. In British Columbia, 69 cents. To other countries of the British Empire from all offices in Canada the rate is 60 cents. There is an additional charge per word for messages exceeding 6 words. Because of obvious difficulties, Canadian navy personnel is not included in the arrangement for the present.

STATEMENT BY HOWE PROVED MISLEADING

Correction Issued By Australian Govt. re Air Training Plan.

SYDNEY, Australia, July 25.—(CP Cable)—The Australian ministry of information today issued a statement correcting earlier press dispatches published in the Commonwealth reporting that Canada had compressed two years' operations of the Empire air training scheme into one.

The ministry said the earlier reports were based on the statement in Ottawa of Transport Minister J. G. Power that a large part of the two-year aircraft production program had been compressed into one year by mass production of elementary planes.

The statement added that Defence Minister C. G. Power informed Sir William Glasgow, Australian High Commissioner, at Ottawa, that while the Royal Canadian Air Force is endeavoring to accelerate training this is dependent on Canada, as it is in Australia, upon the supply of advanced training planes.

For that reason, the ministry suggested that Canada is unable to take Australian air trainees faster than at the Dominion's original schedule.

Today's statement is regarded as a reply to criticism that Australia should speed up the dispatch of more trainees to Canada.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(AP)—Government officials declared today the pan-American meeting now going on in Havana is the United States' answer to Nazi economic aims as outlined today by Walter Funk, Nazi Economics Minister.

Funk said Germany proposed to organize Europe to deal with the rest of the world on a barter basis. Officials here replied that in preparation for such a possibility they evolved the so-called "Carte" plan and other proposals for inter-American economic co-operation.

They said that apparently Germany proposed to organize European business in such a way that the combined purchasing power of totalitarian areas of the continent could be wielded against the trade policies of other countries.

The "Carte" plan was proposed to offset European buying power by a combined American selling power. The idea is for all American countries to co-operate in one central organization, which would be the only company in the new world authorized to sell goods to Europe.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 25.—(CP)—Photography is aiding the metal production of airplanes at the Glenn L. Martin plant.

By use of a huge camera, engineering drawings are reproduced on a scale of 10 to 1. The method saves time and money in re-drafting, speeds actual engineering and production.

Here is how it works: Pictures of large drawings are snapped by an immense camera. Negatives are developed and the images printed on sheets of sensitized sheets of aluminum alloy metal.

When the sheets, 10 by five feet, are placed in developing tanks, the drawing appears on the surface in exact scale, or fractional or multiple scale, if desired.

Thus in a few minutes there can be reproduced a number of drawings that might have required days in re-drafting. The company estimates it has saved more than $50,000 in drafting alone. Moreover, the method enables tool-designing and other tool-making to get under way rapidly.

When an experimental airplane is to be built, master drawings can be reproduced on the structural metal, and the parts cut directly from it. The camera can scale down the pattern in a jiffy for making wind-tunnel models.

Nazi Plan For Barter System Is Frowned On

By CLAUD A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—A vast trade system covering much of the world based on barter, as outlined by German Economics Minister Funk today, can only mean a poorer world, in the opinion of economists.

Because of the great economic advantages of a freer movement of goods permitted by freely traded currencies based on gold, some leading experts declared, German claims that the United States' $20,000,000,000 in gold, which becomes useless, could be taken with several grains of salt.

In a world of barter, it was explained, the Empire air training scheme into one.

The ministry said the earlier reports were based on the statement in Ottawa of Transport Minister J. G. Power that a large part of the two-year aircraft production program had been compressed into one year by mass production of elementary planes.

The statement added that Defence Minister C. G.
