appetizing evidence of Mrs. McDonald's expert culinary art. The rooms were now cleared and dancing began. Music for the occasion was furnished by violins in the hands of such well-known performers as Joseph A. McPhee, Big Pond, Frank Bell McDonald, Hermaville and the McPhee brothers. The dances consisted mostly of lancers by the younger folks interspersed with step-dances, jig, reel and fere-a-naff by the old-timers proficient in the good old "break-down" dance of some years ago, to the tunes of Tulloch orum.

—B. AND S. ROAD WHIST.—The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Byrne glowed a glad welcome on the night of Feb. 3rd when the Whist Club gathered for their weekly game. The commodious barns too were almost full when they stabled eighteen horses but in and out all were made heartily welcome. The game started on time and amid much merriment went on until ten o'clock when the count was taken and Mr. John Kenny with 31 points named winner of the prize a stag-horn handle pocket knife and Mrs. Herbert Kenny with 33 points carried off the ladies' prize a beautiful box of stationery. Then a bounteous table was spread to which all did ample justice but next came the surprise of the evening as the violins made their appearance and the fun which we all thought ended only commenced. Music was furnished by the Messrs. Varban and John Bambrick, Will Connolly and Hector McDonald. To hear any one of those is a treat but when you have all four it is beyond praise. Step dancing by Messrs. Walsh and Connolly was a special feature of the evening. Although Mrs. Byrne is a newcomer among us she made all feel like old friends by her capable manner as hostess. In this she was ably assisted by Mrs. Byrne, Sr. The time passed all too swiftly and it was with regret the fleeting hour proclaimed its time to go. All departed for their homes with the superb music still ringing in their ears and hoping they'd soon have another jolly time together.—Onlooker.

—RECEPTION.—Mr. and Mrs. Neil J. McDonald, Hermaville were at home to their many friends Wednesday evening. The evening with bright moonlight in the country so that friends were able to come from quite a distance. The rooms were nicely prepared for the occasion, card tables to the number of seven were brought into requisition and the game of whist played for some three hours when supper was announced. This repast was dainty and

Was Just a Dream

HAMBURG, Feb. 10.—The dream of revolutionizing navigation by means of the "rotor" principle, invented out to be just a dream after all. The notoriety Buckau, upon which Flettner mounted his twin revolving towers, and which he sought to convince ship-builders that the day of screw propulsion was done, is to be auctioned. Attempts to sell the Buckau so far have not produced a single bid.

Britain Made no Concessions to Italy Protective Policy and Interprovincial Trade

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Premier Baldwin, answering questions in the House of Commons today, said no political or commercial arrangements or concessions were entered into with Italy in connection with the recent war debt settlement, as reported in some sections of the press.

MRS. DENNIS WHALEN (A Tribute.)

In Calvary Cemetery, near Boston, tenderly laid away to rest beside her beloved daughter Minnie, is all that is mortal of this dear old lady. Another long useful life has come to a close. Although her home of late years was far from that of her early life, tender indeed was the spot in her heart for Prince Edward Island and her old home at Lot 40. How she cherished the memory of her friends who still remember and speak of her as fondly. She liked nothing better than to meet an old friend from "down home" and to chat over old times. Her memory was as keen as her wit and her cheerful personality endeared her to all. Her hospitable island home was the meeting place for young and old from far and near, and many a tired traveller "dropped in" for the fragrant cup of tea by her cheerful fireside. Being an excellent needlewoman, one of her greatest pleasures was to fashion little garments for little friends who were known to "run away from home" for the privilege and joy of spending a few days, or even a few hours with Mrs. Whalen. Her last years were spent in the company of her three beloved little grandchildren on whom she lavished her sunny smile and devotion, and passing, as do we also whose thoughts and daily prayers follow her into the great beyond.—Friends preceding 20 years, the total amount 32,000 more than in 1885-86. The export from the mines of Canada show an increase of 13 p. c. over the average of 20 years, but a decrease of 150,000 compared with the previous year. The forest export shows a decrease of 7 p. c. compared with the 20 years average and a decrease of 500,000 compared with 1886. I referred before to the fact that the great drought and want of means to get the lumber and the material for the manufacture down the rivers, had a serious effect. In checking our trade in lumber, the export of agricultural products show an increase of 80 per cent over the 20 years' average and an increase of $1,200,000 over the year 1886. The export of animals and animal products show an increase of 50 p. c. over the twenty years average and of $2,200,000 over the export of 1886. The imports for home consumption were 8 p. c. more than the average of 20 years, and $6,000,000 more than in 1886. The total imports were $8,400,000 more than in the previous year's average and the imports of woollen manufactures were 28 per cent more than the 20 years average and $2,250,000 more than in 1886. The tons of freight brought into and carried out of Halifax in 1887 as compared with 1878. The shipping cargoes into and from Halifax in 1887 was 125 p. c. more than in 1868." "Proceeding Sir Charles said: "I do not intend to ask the House in going into Committee of Ways and Means to make any alteration in the Customs Tariff. As I said before nothing is more important in regard to the trade and business of a country than confidence in the part of commercial men in the permanence of existing arrangements, and I feel that we can scarcely do a greater service to the country and to the development of our best interests than by showing that it is not necessary continually to change your tariff arrangements. I am satisfied that no gentleman who has ever held the position that I now occupy as Finance Minister, has been less troubled than I have been with applications for a change of tariff."

THE SALVATION OF OUR RAILWAYS AND OUR COUNTRY—READ SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S COMPARATIVE STATEMENT IN 1888 IN HIS BUDGET SPEECH

Historical Our readers will remember that there was only one railroad (the I. C. R.) in Eastern Canada in the period covered by Sir Charles' figures. In fact we only had one as far as Quebec, but the increases of freight and passengers were so rapid and so enormous that railway construction east as well west created a tremendous enthusiasm, which has grown so strong that the people of both east and west have exceeded their needs, which fact is seen by no less than three lines east. And we venture to assert that this unparalleled plunge was inspired by the rapid and profitable growth of Inter-provincial Trade under the National Protective Policy then in operation. Today that inspiration has almost fled and is substituted by mild despair, in so far as rail transportation affects it. These remarks are not based on visionary speculation. They are deduced from the official facts and figures thundered into the ears of the members of Parliament at Ottawa and from the public platforms and Press of the country. Here is the resume of the War-Horse of Cumberland: (Sir Chas. Tupper Bar) as Minister of Finance who said: "If hon. members will allow me I will here state to the House that the chief results of the Canadian Trade in 1886-7 were pretty much as follows: "Total exports exceeded those of the previous fiscal year by $4,250,000 being 8 per cent. in advance of the average of the 20 years of Confederation. The export of the fisheries show an increase of 15 per cent over the average of the

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING

If you want to keep your hair looking its best be careful when you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing to use is FRISCELLA DEAN's beautiful hair shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises up easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. You can get Multisified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

—B. AND S. ROAD WHIST.—Although the roads were bad and the night stormy the members of the Whist Club gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kenny on the 27th of Jan and enjoyed a pleasant game. Twenty-eight members present. The gentleman's prize went to Mr. Thomas Kenny, Sr., the veteran of the party—a handsome pipe. He made 34 points. Miss Agnes Duffy won the ladies' prize. A gold-plated Amethyst Rosary by making 33 points. The largest single score went to Mr. M. O'Brien and Miss M. McQuaid, who made seven points. The keenest contest was over the "Booby" there being three aspirants it going finally to Mr. Henry Trainor amid much merriment. Supper was then served and all left for their homes not minding the points or storm. The next game is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Byrne. Everybody come.

FAINTED ALMOST DAILY Mrs. Brant Suffered Seven Years Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Hamilton, Ont.—"For two years I fainted almost daily and was so weak I could not do my work. I would be sick for twelve to fifteen days at a time. This made me so weak and faint that I could not be trusted alone at such times. I was troubled this way for about seven years. I found a booklet in my mailbox telling of the Lydia E. Pinkham medicine, and my husband read it and insisted that I take the Vegetable Compound. I have been taking it for six months and intend to take it a year, as sickness such as mine cannot be cured in a day. I have not fainted since I took the first box and I have noticed a lengthening of time between each period. This last month I didn't have to go to bed in my own work now, excepting the washing, and the noise from the street and the children don't bother me like it did."—Mrs. JOHN K. BRANT, 293 Jackson Street West, Hamilton, Ontario.

Do you know that in your neighborhood there are women who feel just like Mrs. Brant does about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? These women have tried out this well known and reliable medicine and have found it suited to their needs.
