Jersey City Hurler Has Low Average

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Rated on effectiveness as shown by earned runs averages, Ray Combs of Jersey City was revealed today as the leading hurler of the 1942 International League season by the official records.

The sturdy righthander limited opposing batters to an average of 1.99 earned runs per nine-inning game to top all hurlers who pitched 200 or more innings.

Emphasizing the lack of heavy hitting that cost Toronto a place in the playoffs, the records showed three Maple Leafs among the first 10 most effective hurlers.

Strung out behind him were Ewell Blackwell, Syracuse 2.02; Charles Barrett, Syracuse 2.06; Nick Strinsevich, Toronto 2.49; Hugh East, Jersey City 2.64; Jack Hallett, Toronto 2.88; Nate Andrews, Syracuse 2.93; Al Sherer, Montreal 2.98; William Brandt, Toronto 3.08; and Tommy Byrnes 3.10.

Special Meeting Of Major Leagues Will Likely Be Held Early In February

By JUDSON BAILEY (Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Baseball's quagmire over spring training seemed likely today to bring about a special meeting of the major leagues early next month.

Pressure for such a session has been growing for several days with Edward G. Barrow of New York Yankees in the American league and William E. Benswanger of Pittsburgh Pirates and Warren Giles of Cincinnati Reds in the National league all urging steps be taken to end the confusion.

Frick also expressed a willingness to train at home provided other clubs do likewise, although he said he has not yet been convinced such a drastic change in policy is necessary. If training in the north is agreed upon, he wants opening of the season delayed.

As the situation now stands, Philadelphia Athletics are berthed at Savannah, Ga., which is in the same Army Corps area as Florida; some of the clubs still are hopeful of returning to Florida; some have definitely decided to train near home; some want to compromise on the mid-south—North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky; and some want to delay the opening of the season.

In view of this lack of agreement on procedure baseball spokesmen said they expected all arrangements will be delayed till Landis calls a meeting or charts some sort of united action.

Knickerbocker Goes Back To The Yankees

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Bill Knickerbocker, 31, who spent three years as a reserve infielder for New York Yankees from 1938 to 1940, will be back with the American league champions again next season.

The Yankees announced today they had signed the veteran, who was made a free agent last month by Philadelphia Athletics.

Knickerbocker has played 10 years in the American league with Cleveland, St. Louis, New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Christmas Greeting

The following verses were attached to parcels sent by local citizens to several Norwegian Airmen recently residents here, where they made many friends:—

Best wishes, men of Norway, That firm and rugged land, Which always stood for freedom From Nordkyn to Christiansand.

We're proud to know you, worthy sons Of Olaf, Leif and Sverre. Your mighty deeds on land and sea, Your equal in the air.

A new saga will be written For all the world to read; How free Norwegians, every where, Again, their country, freed.

And so, God speed you, gentlemen, With wishes upon your breast, Till Haaakon's beck in Oslo, We know, you'll never rest.

We are glad to have you with us, But we're hoping, for Christmas, Eat your next Christmas dinner In Norway, Christmas Day.
