Jewels are worn with the frock, though earrings and bangles are much in evidence. A chain of square cut rubies or a strap of enormous crystal squares is an essential part of its design. Among the new dances that have come to London this year the Baltimore is receiving most attention. In its original form it was too intricate for the ordinary dancer, but a simplified form has been arranged and demonstrated. The Baltimore, which at present requires special music, is considered to be an advance towards the long desired ballroom dance which would combine the best qualities of the fast and slow foxtrots. Its steps are something like the Charleston done to quick time music, with a lot of small steps in between done at a slow foxtrot tempo.

The closing concert under the auspices of the Caledonian Club, was one of the nicest musical events of the season, and enjoyed by a most appreciative audience.

Miss Kathleen Logan returned to Halifax Thursday after spending Easter with Mr. and Mrs. James Paton.

Mrs. W. Alfred Gordon, formerly Miss Eileen Keenan, received on Tuesday for the first time since her marriage at her home on Church St., Alberton. Mrs. Gordon wore a charming gown of ecru lace with sleeves and stockings to match. Her mother, Mrs. W. P. Keenan, in Poudre blue canton, and Mr. Gordon's mother, Mrs. R. H. Gordon, in a gown of peach georgette, received with her. The house was beautifully decorated with Spring flowers. Mrs. Herbert Clark and Mrs. Jack Wilson poured tea and coffee. The table was set with yellow daffodils and yellow candles in silver candlesticks added to the attractiveness of the table. Mrs. J. Larkin cut the ices, and Mrs. F. L. Rogers ushered the guests to the dining room. Mrs. Fred White, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Miss Katherine Gordon and Miss Janette Larkin assisted. Little Miss Florence McLean opened the door. A large number of friends took this opportunity of calling on the bride.

The illness of Mr. Vincent Windsor is causing his relatives and friends much concern.

Mrs. Benjamin Rogers, who is still in the hospital in Halifax, is gradually regaining renewed health, according to advices received by friends here.

Sir William and Lady Stavert, of Montreal, who are at present guests at the Colonial Hotel, the Bahamas, are not expected to return home until the end of April.

A cable received by Mr. J. J. McKinnon announced the safe arrival in England yesterday morning of Mrs. McKinnon, who has gone on an extended holiday visit to the Old Country.

The tea and bazaar in St. James' Hall on Thursday afternoon, made a very pleasant change of entertainment, being widely patronized. The tea tables were delightfully arranged and bountifully supported, while the fancy work tables, candy and refreshment tables were all much admired by the visitors who brought liberally. Upwards of $800 was realized.

Although only 12 years old, when she left Canada in 1921, Lady Anne Cavendish, youngest daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, still recalls with happiness the time she spent in Ottawa. Now 19 years of age and a modern girl in every way, she is recognized as one of the most beautiful titled ladies in the British Isles. The Duke of Devonshire was Governor-General in Canada from 1916 to 1921. Lady Anne's sister, Lady Rachel, was for some time mentioned as the future Queen of Great Britain, but her name has not recently been linked with that of the Prince of Wales.

After the answering of roll call with Easter verses, the unfinished business concerning the framing of war memorial pictures, and securing a sign board for school was settled. The report of the sick committee was then given. The correspondence which concerned a letter on "The Great Need of a Sanitorium on P. E. Island" was read by the Secretary. All the members present were willing to help along this movement. A very interesting paper on "Weekly Routine in Housework" was read by Mrs. Charles MacDonald. Before the meeting adjourned and refreshments were served, a vote of thanks was tendered the teacher and all others who helped in any way to prepare Aneta MacDonald for the oratorical contest.

Motherhood!
Peterboro, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription" was very beneficial to me. I had become all run-down, tired, weak and miserable, had no appetite and my nerves were all upset. I saw the "Prescription" advertised as being helpful to prospective mothers so I decided to try it. It built me up, quieted my nerves, gave me an appetite and I got along fine the remainder of the time—was able to do all my own work. I had comparatively no suffering and my baby was very strong and healthy."—Mrs. Lottie Murney, 201 Townsend St.

INDIGNATION MEETING HELD AT MURRAY RIVER

Sir,—A meeting was held on Friday evening, April 7th by a number of the leading Liberals of Murray River to protest against the manner in which the representative from Murray River had recommended certain parties to work on the roads under the new Road Act without consulting any of the electors; not even the Committee were interviewed concerning these appointments. I should like if you would make this announcement and hope to send further details. I am, Sir, etc.

MOTHER! WATCH THE LITTLE FEET

Mother! watch the little feet. Climbing o'er the garden wall. Bounding through the bushy street. Ranging cellar, shed and hall; Never count the moments lost. Never mind the time it costs. Little feet will go astray. Guide them, mother, while you may.

Mother! watch the little hand. Picking berries by the way. Making houses in the sand. Tossing up the fragrant hay. Never dare the question ask. "Why to me this heavy task?" These same little hands may prove Messengers of light and love.

Mother! watch the little tongue. Prattling eloquent and wild; What is said and what is sung. By the happy, joyous child; Catch the word while yet unspoken: Stop the vow while yet unbroken: This same tongue may yet proclaim Blessing in the Saviour's name.

Mother! watch the little heart. Beating soft and warm for you; Wholesome lessons now impart; Keep, O keep that young heart true. Extricating every weed. Sowing good and precious seed; Harvest rich you then may see.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say "a while since." Say "a while ago."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED: Balmy, a as in "father," not as in "am."

OFTEN MISSPELLED: Salary; not ery.

SYNONYMS: Eject, emit, exude, disperse, dissipate, radiate.

WORD STUDY: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: IMPLICIT; trusting in the word or authority of another. "I have implicit confidence in what you say."

An Attic Salt Shaker

WHILE crossing the stage on his way to his dressing-room, Booth became aware of the din on the other side of the curtain. The audience had grown frantic at the long delay and was becoming riotous. Running to the curtain, he pulled it aside and shook his fist at the howling mob.

"Shut up! Shut up!" he yelled.

The apparition of the glaring eyes and the threatening gesture checked the racket for a moment, eyes and the threatening gesture "Keep quiet," he cried, "you just keep still and in ten minutes I'll give you the damndest 'King Lear' you ever saw in your life."

And he did. His first scene had hardly more than begun before he held the lately infuriated spectators in the hollow of his hand.

In his reminiscences "By the Clock of St. James," Percy Armitage, a Gentleman Usher-in-Waiting to King George, tells a story about the old Duke of Cambridge, who, as is well known, had the habit of thinking aloud. While staying at a country house the Duke unexpectedly came down to breakfast one morning to find all the family and guests on their knees in the hall and the host in a pious voice reciting family prayers.

THE DUKE gazed for a moment zini balancing on the rim of the
