Field Day

WHY YOU SHOULD VISIT AN ILLUSTRATION STATION ON FIELD DAY

Can agricultural conditions be changed and bettered by simply talking? No. By demonstrating? Yes. The truth of the above statement of this Division of Illustration in Canada and led to the establishment of the Division of Illustration Stations by the Dominion Government in 1915. This division is comparatively new, yet it has proven to be very valuable for the demonstration of the chief findings of the experimental farm system.

In order that the neighbors in the vicinity of an Illustration Station may have an opportunity of visiting the Station and learning at first hand of the various demonstration carried on a Field Day is held. By a Field Day is meant a general gathering of the neighbors in the vicinity of the Station on an appointed day.

At each Field Day a systematic survey of the Station is made by all present, the method of growing each crop is explained and various fertilizer tests examined. Live stock and poultry demonstrations are held on most stations and garden and home beautification schemes dealt with. Usually at each Field Day there are a number of addresses given on special agricultural topics by men efficient in their chosen work. These lectures are all the more practical when it is realized that the atmosphere is right and material for demonstration is at hand.

Each year sees some new demonstration, as well as the continuing of the better of the older ones. New features in 1931 on a number of stations include an experiment with varying amounts of superphosphate for the potato crop, effect of limestone on the growth of clover and alfalfa, a rotational hog pasture and fertilizer experiments on grain. Live stock will be especially featured in 1931.

Field Days serve another very important purpose in that they bring the neighbors together and afford an opportunity to discuss matters of mutual concern; Therefore, when the time comes for the annual Field Day on your nearest Illustration Station, lay aside your work and attend it. You will be assured of not only a profitable afternoon, but an enjoyable one as well. You will be welcome. R. C. Parent, Supervisor, Charlottetown.

MALPEQUE

It is a real pleasure to congratulate Miss Gertrude Crozier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Crozier, Darnley, on the successful termination to her years training in Worcester State Hospital, Boston, Mass. The best wishes of citizens will follow her in her chosen profession.

Miss Lila Mahar, R. N., has returned to her duties in Charlottetown after a pleasant holiday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mahar.

Darnley Bridge is being newly planked and it is understood that the work will be completed by the 1st July.

The call extended from Princetown United Church to the Rev. Malcolm MacMillan of Baddeck, C. B., has been accepted and Mr. MacMillan is expected to take up his charge here the middle of July.

Fanning School, Malpeque, has closed until after the summer holidays. The teachers, Miss Alice Fraser and Miss Margaret Waller, has decided not to return but purpose continuing teaching in some other district. These young ladies have done excellent work as teachers and they have filled a large place in the life of the community especially in connection with the Young People's Society and the Choir of Princetown United. The best wishes of this community will follow them as they continue their chosen profession of teaching wherever they may go.

PARISHIONERS HONOR PASTOR AND WIFE

United Church Minister at Oak Hill Leaving to Take Church at Oromocto

(St. Croix Courier):

The Community Hall of Oak Hill was the scene of an interesting event on Monday evening when a large number of friends and parishioners of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Browne gathered to do honor to their beloved and respected pastor, prior to their departure for Oromocto, to which church Mr. Browne has recently been called. Coupled with being a farewell function, the occasion was the thirty-first anniversary of their wedding.

The earlier part of the evening was spent in games and amusements in which the young people participated, after which Ralph Parker, in brief but well-chosen words, commended very highly the work that has been accomplished by the honored guests during two years pastorate in the community.

"It is the custom to say many nice things upon such an occasion as this" continued Mr. Parker, "but I can assure Rev. and Mrs. Browne that every word that may be uttered by the people of this community in commendation of the intellectual, spiritual and moral contributions you have made in this community during your stay with us is backed by a feeling of profound appreciation, pleasant memories and keen regret that you shall soon leave our midst to take up your duties in other fields."

Mr. Parker then presented in behalf of the people of the community, a basket laden with gifts of a various nature, requesting that those material gifts be accepted, not for their intrinsic value but for the spirit in which they are given. Mr. Browne replied very fittingly in behalf of himself and his family, recounting many pleasant reminiscences they would carry with them, and expressing their sincere appreciation

FRIENDS PAY FINAL TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF JOHN D. COBB

Pioneer Citizen of More Than Thirty Years Standing Dies At Home Here After Long Illness

(West Palm Beach, Florida, June 19, 1931)

Scores of friends gathered yesterday afternoon to pay their final tribute to John David Cobb, one of the last of West Palm Beach's pioneer citizens, who passed away early Tuesday morning, after a long illness. He was 81 years old. The brief funeral services at the home were read by the Rev. C. K. Vliet, while two vocal selections, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Sweet Hour of Prayer" were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clegg.

The entire lower floor of the house was banked in flowers, mute evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Cobb was held by hundreds of local people.

Following the services in the home, a cortege moved to Woodlawn Cemetery, where the body was sealed in a beautiful mausoleum. Pall bearers included H. H. Curtis, Frank H. Matthews, B. D. Cole, Elmer Jacobs, John Wilder and W. Littrell.

Wallace O. Clements acted as usher at the home.

John David Cobb was born in Charlottetown, Prince, Edward Island, in 1850 of English and Scotch parents, whose ancestors came to America on the Mayflower, later migrating northward.

As a young man, he came to the United States, settling near the home of his forebears in Massachusetts. There he met and married Bessie Clarkin.

For many years he lived in Winthrop and Revere, Mass., where he owned and operated a large fish business and a resort restaurant at Revere Beach.

He first came to West Palm Beach more than thirty years ago, for the kindnesses and hospitality they have been shown by the people of the community during their stay with them.

The evening was brought to a close with delicious refreshments served by the ladies of the congregation.

Rev. H. A. Brown is well known in P. E. I., having served successfully some years in Souris, Montague and Alberton churches. Mr. Brown has one son in Charlottetown engaged with Bruce Stewart's.
