

BUTTER HIT BY WAR FARMERS TELL OTTAWA

Cost Of Production Increase Greater Than Selling Price, Gardiner Informed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (CP)—Far from profiteering because of the increase in the price of butter, Canada's butter producers are in an unfavorable position than before the war a deputation today told Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

It was represented to the minister that the cost of feeds and other things dairy herd owners must buy has increased more than has the price the producer receives for butter.

The deputation said that at July 1 dairy herd owners were not receiving the cost of production for their output and since that time the margin between costs and receipts had unfavourably widened. Recent increases in the price of butter have not overtaken the gap which now is wider than ever.

The agricultural supplies committee set up for the war emergency and headed by A. M. Shaw, marketing director of the Department of Agriculture, also received the deputation. The deputation's brief showed large increases since July 1 in the cost of concentrates, ingredients and feeds that must be purchased to combine with home-grown grains in order to maintain maximum efficiency of production.

The brief also said: "Already the present crisis has virtually affected the cost, supply and efficiency of farm labor. It has been conservatively estimated that the cost of farm labor has already risen and will undoubtedly continue in an upward trend—due to the requisitioning and the drift from the farm to manufacturing centres where shorter hours are in effect and where more favourable wages are available."

All manufactured articles that a farmer must buy are continually rising in price, the brief continued.

C.N.R. Express Handles Odd Diet Shipment

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 18—Forty bundles of poplar wood arrived here by Canadian National Express this morning, strictly as an item of diet. They are food for two sleek beaver from Jasper National Park waiting to sail next week for Wellington, New Zealand, where they will be added to the Municipal Zoo.

Arriving with the beaver today were also three year old bear as playful a consignment as ever reached the coast.

All are the gift of the Jasper Parks Department from Canada's largest outdoor game sanctuary. $5 no one will be fooled by their rollicky antics the game wardens instructed all concerned in the export papers "do not put your fingers through the wire a bear is faster than a cat." The beaver who dine at night get four to six sticks of poplar, a quarter cabbage and four carrots daily. The sticks have to be removed when peeled.

Doing their best for the current apple campaign the bear consume a pound of the fruit each day together with two leaves of lettuce and a pound of carrots. All food supplies are travelling with the animals who are consigned to E. P. Norman, Town Clerk, Wellington.

SOUTH FREETOWN & VICINITY

The South Freetown School has reopened again after the summer vacation. It is progressing favorably under the management of Miss Grace Deacon.

The farmers are now busy harvesting the potato crop and report the yield very good.

On Oct. 5th a miscellaneous show was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Power in honor of her daughter Miss Cynthia Reeves who is one of the season's most popular brides. To the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. Emory Mulligan, Miss Reeves was accompanied to the seat of honor by her little brother Jimmy Power and Mary Reeves acting as bridesmaid. The shower was largely attended by friends and neighbors. The many numerous gifts showed

Belligerent Subs Banned From U. S. Ports

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt decreed today that submarines of belligerent nations could not enter United States ports or territorial waters, except when forced to do so by storms or other "acts of God."

The President said he found that a ban on submarines would "serve to maintain peace between the United States and foreign states, to protect its citizens, and to promote the security of the United States."

He said submarines driven into American ports or waters by "force majeure" should enter and leave "while running on the surface with conning tower and superstructure above water and flying the flags of the foreign belligerent states of which they are vessels."

Experts defined "force majeure" as circumstances over which a submarine had no control.

The principle of force majeure would permit a submarine chased by an enemy warship to take refuge in an American port, but the vessel could not remain more than 24 hours.

The President did not state what would be done with belligerent submarines entering American ports or waters in violation of the proclamation. Experts said they could be interned. The proclamation spoke of "trial and punishment" of any offenders. The commander could be tried under the Neutrality Act, and if convicted could be sentenced to five years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

American territorial waters still are defined as three miles from shore, hence any submarine forced into an American port must rise to the surface at the three-mile limit, and upon leaving must remain on the surface until the three-mile limit is reached.

Called Eddie Cantor Metzger, a grandfather has anything to say about it—are doing very well.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18—Eddie Cantor has a grandson at last. An eight-pound boy was born today to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Metzger. The mother is the former Natalie Cantor, second of the screen and radio comedian's five daughters.

BOSTON, Oct. 18—"Boy, oh boy, am I happy! Is that perfection! Ida told me on the phone from Hollywood."

That was Eddie Cantor's reaction tonight to a transcontinental telephone call telling him he had become a grandfather—of a grandson—an eight-pound, nine-ounce boy born to Mrs. Joseph Metzger (Natalie Cantor) in Hollywood early tonight. Cantor has five daughters but no sons, and has always longed for a male offspring.

Eddie, dressed in a short skirt and wearing a golden wig in an impersonation of Shirley Temple, announced his joy to an audience of 5,000 at a Boston theatre where he is completing an engagement. Off stage as soon as his act ended, the veteran entertainer couldn't wait to change his clothes before putting in another call to Hollywood to talk again with Ida (Mrs. Cantor) and Joseph Metzger, a building contractor and father of the new bride and joy.

"Ida, Joe, isn't it wonderful! At last a boy in the Cantor clan," Eddie shouted into the phone. Mother and son—who may be

WESTMORELAND W. I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Westmoreland Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Mayhew. There were six members present. Meeting opened by repeating the Ode followed by a Club Woman's Creed in unison. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Committees were then appointed for the coming month. Sick and School committees were reappointed. Lunch committee, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Verner Moore, Mrs. Heber Confield; program, Mrs. Harold Oakes, Mrs. Heber MacVittie, Mrs. Roy Crossman, Mrs. Fred Fall. The annual meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Fall. Roll call to be answered by a two minute talk on a selected subject. A very interesting report was given of the T. B. League meeting held in Charlottetown and lunch was served by committee in charge.
