CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

'Wake Island' Is Gripping Film

—Out of the soul-stirring stand of a handful of Marines battling against tremendous Jap odds to hold a strategic patch of desert soil in the Pacific, Paramount Pictures has fashioned a truly great picture—"Wake Island."

It opened last night at the Capitol Theatre, an epic document of American fighting courage and skill. In it is enshrined the shining heroism of that little band of Marines and civilians that held out for days, outnumbered, out-equipped, out-stripped in everything but courage and determined fighting spirit; in it are enshrined the meaning of this war and why it must be won.

One feels impelled to shout hurrahs for the realistic re-enactment of the Wake Island struggle, for the direction that John Farrow gave it and for the splendid acting of the hand picked cast. Heading the list of actors giving memorable performances are Brian Donlevy Robert Preston, Macdonald Carey, Albert Dekker, Walter Abel, Barbara Britton and William Bendix

Before enlisting, LAC. Deckendorff lived in Charlottetown and was employed for about six years with the firm of Hall and Stavert here.

Surviving besides his wife, the former Miss Marion Hume of this city, and his parents, are three brothers, Gordon with the R.C.A.F., Harold and Russel, at home and one sister Lillian Mrs. Stewart Davison of Hamilton, Ont.

Sea Cadet Corps Kent Is Inspected

The Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps was inspected last night and won warm praise from the inspecting officer, Lieut. Charles A. MacKenzie.

After the ceremony was over he said "never have I seen such a fine body of young men. Their smart appearance, general carriage and precision drill are worthy of a peace time Royal Navy review."

Lieut. MacKenzie who is area commanding officer, said that the Navy "needs Sea Cadets and if other corps are one-half as efficient as the R.C.S.C. Kent the recruiting to the Senior Service will never suffer."

The inspecting officer was accompanied by Lieut. Ian Burnett who was commanding officer of the corps when it was organized in July, 1942.

Last night regular classes were carried out as part of the inspection. Capt. C.N. Myers' seamanship class and Instructor J.W. Cummings' class in rigging were of a particularly high standard. All other classes were well instructed and attended with great interest.

The ceremony was held at Prince of Wales College grounds and was witnessed by a large group of interested relatives and friends of the cadets.

About 100 cadets turned out for inspection.

The Sea Cadet band, under Petty Officer Clive MacKay made its first appearance and received much favorable comment.

Following the inspection of the cadets by divisions the ship's company moved off in column of route and Lieut. MacKenzie took the salute at the reviewing stand. Later the inspection party made a tour of quarters and saw classes at work and divisions at field training, physical and recreational training and signals. Evening quarters and colors concluded the ceremony.

HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT —Dr. B. C. Keeping, city health officer, in his report to the City Council last night, stated there were 164 chest examinations conducted during the month of May. There were five cases of communicable diseases, four of which were tuberculosis and one scarlet fever. Immunization clinics were concluded in all city schools. There were forty home visits by public health nurses during the month. The vital statistics report for the city of Charlottetown showed 56 births, 19 deaths and 19 marriages.

COL. HEMMING IN TUNISIA— The London correspondent of the Financial Post writes: "Colonel Harold Hemming dropped in recently to say good bye. He was waiting for a 'plane to take him to Tunisia. Hemming was born in Toronto, 50 years ago, was educated at McGill and won the M.C. with the Canadian artillery in the last war. He was full of theory and is the author of one of the gunnery textbooks used by the British army. After the last war, he joined a financial house in London and specialized in Canadian securities. When war came again he abandoned the city and, with the rank of Major, was put in charge of an important "hush hush" Artillery school. He has been telling me that British gunnery now has no rival anywhere. In Tunisia it apparently made the German technique look like something from the Boer war." (Colonel Hemming above referred to is a son of Mr. H. K. S. Hemming, Charlottetown.)

POLICE REPORT—In the report submitted by the Chief of the City Police last night covering the month of May, it states there were 24 arrests, 22 convictions, and 2 dismissals. There were three convictions under the Prohibition Act for the unlawful sale or possession of intoxicating liquor, one under the excise act for unlawful possession of spirits, three for speeding with motor vehicles, and one for non-support of family. There were eight prosecutions and convictions under the Defence of Canada regulations, seven being for permitting lights to be externally visible, and one for operating a motor vehicle without lawful excuse during the period of a blackout.

ROTARY MEETING — Emphasizing the importance of early diagnosis and treatment in the cure of pulmonary tuberculosis, Dr. Eric Found, assistant medical superintendent of the Provincial Sanitorium, gave an interesting and informative talk on "Common Diseases of the Lung" at the Rotary luncheon yesterday. Dr. Found stressed the fact that tuberculosis responds readily to treatment and is quite curable when caught in the minimal or moderately advanced stages. He also referred to the movement now in progress to provide more bed accommodation at the Provincial Sanatorium and cited the need for greater interest on the part of the public in the fight against the disease. In his opening remarks, Dr. Found referred to his pleasant relationship with Dr. Creelman, the medical profession of the province, and the general public which made his first year here an enjoyable one. Guests at yesterday's meeting included a Rotarian who has not missed a meeting in sixteen years. He is Rotarian Harry Wyatt of St. John's Newfoundland. Rotarians who are away from home can maintain their attendance by attending the meeting of a club in the city or town in which they may be. Other guests were Rotarian Frank Hilton of the R.A.F., Capt. N. W. Lowther Charlottetown and Ted Bayer of Halifax. G. G. Hughes and W. E. Scantlebury were joint chairmen. Mr. Hughes presided.

Tyne Valley Airman Is Reported Killed

Flying Officer Vincent Sanford MacAusland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burns MacAusland of Tyne Valley is reported to have been killed in an air raid over Germany. The parents of the airman have been informed that his death was reported by German authorities through the International Red Cross.

FO. MacAusland was reported missing earlier. He was said to have been one of the airmen who participated in the raids on the two great German dams, Eder and Mohone.

The parents of the flier, who was serving with the Royal Canadian Air Force, have received a letter of sympathy from Rev. Arnold Hart-Davies and Mrs. Davies in England. They were formerly stationed at Tyne Valley where Mr. Hart-Davies was rector of the Church of England.

Following is the text of the letter:

Dear Mrs. MacAusland—

In this dark hour we want you to know how deeply we share and sympathize in your great loss. During the past two years Vincent has endeared himself to us in so many ways that his going leaves a blank in our home which words are utterly inadequate to describe.

All our friends here were his friends and now they are telling us how he seemed to embody in himself all those qualities of your Canadian manhood, which people in this country are in these days learning so much to admire.

The raid from which Vincent is listed as missing was the one which has resulted in the devastating floods, an operation which no doubt will be remembered as one of the most gallant exploits of the war. For some weeks he had been training for a very dangerous job, from which it was certain that many of those taking part would not return; but he counted it an honour to be chosen for such a task and was willing, if need be, to give his life in a great and noble cause. He telephoned us on the Saturday and wrote on the Sunday, a few hours before leaving on the fatal mission, and the dominant characteristics of both the conversation and the letter were his magnificent courage, his self-sacrificing devotion to duty and his strong faith in God.

You may well be proud, Mrs. MacAusland, to be the mother of such a son, as we are proud to have had him as one of our little family during his stay in England.

May "the Peace of God which passeth all understanding" be very real at this time to you and yours is the prayer of.

ARNOLD AND GRACE HART DAVIES.

War Poster Display

The window display in R. T. Holman's store, Charlottetown, is attracting the attention of thousands of passers by these days. War posters graphically portray the great need for materials to help the oppressed people throughout the world. "Produce for Victory" is the theme of the display which is interpreted by appropriate slogans depicting the various people who are now fighting the battle for freedom.

One picture shows the utter desolation and discouragement on the countenance of a woman refugee and her two children who stand beside the burning ruin of her home.

The most pathetic is that of a native of France, who with tear dimmed eyes, watches a parade of Nazi soldiers through his country in the first year of enemy occupation. He says: "Yesterday I was a free French citizen; today I am the slave of the invader."

There are portraits of English, American, Australian, Chinese, Poles, Danes, Greeks and a Canadian boy. The words, "Together with you we will win" convey an idea of the meaning of these pictures, which merit the attention of all citizens.

To Address Retailers

W. A. Congdon of Toronto, Footwear Consultant with the Management Service Division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is scheduled to address a meeting of retail merchants in the Charlottetown Hotel, Charlottetown, in the evening of June 17 at 8.00 p.m. The subject of his talk will be "A WARTIME PLAN FOR THE RETAILER"

Retail Merchants of Charlottetown and surrounding districts are invited to be present at this meeting. The talk is designed to awaken greater consciousness of economies in operation necessary in order that the retailer may profitably remain in business. It will include a frank outline of the steps the Board considers necessary in order that the small retailer may survive the price squeeze, short supply and other factors influencing his future.

Merchants attending the meeting will be given an opportunity to discuss Board policies freely and candidly. A Representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board will also be present.

City Council

chief Hansard reporter, who was formerly on the staff of The Guardian.

Coun. Sterns gave notice of motion that he would bring in a change in the traffic by-law.

Speaking of the changing of "stop" signs, to "slow thru traffic" signs, Coun. MacDonald objected to the change, fearing that leaving the avenues of approach to the city "wide open" might lead to a bad accident.

Coun. Sterns explained that it was still necessary to stop if there was traffic visible. "All the stop signs have not been removed," he said, "just those situated where there is a clear view of traffic." He believed that the change is worth a trial at this period when the traffic is lessened by war restrictions. Several councillors voiced their approval of the change.

Coun. Butler recounted some observations of disorder on the streets last Saturday night and suggested that the policemen should "double up" on Saturday nights for three or four hours.

Criticism for taking the new pumper out to the fire at Shaw's Hotel at Brackley Beach was voiced by Coun. McKee. Fire Chief McEachern who was present, was asked to give an explanation. He said that the A.R.P. pumper didn't belong to the city and besides they had no means of towing the A.R.P. pumper. The equipment, he said, was needed in a great hurry if it was to be of any use. Personally, he would welcome being requested to stay within the city limits. He thought if the new pumper wouldn't stand a 34 mile drive without nuts and bolts becoming loosened as Coun. MacKee had stated, it wasn't much good.

Mayor Holman said that he was willing to give his permission to use the A.R.P. equipment for such emergencies.
