THE QUEEN'S COUNTY GUARDIAN

It pays to buy in this Province.

E. Parkman, Montague, was in Charlottetown yesterday.

T. A. O'Connor, Tignish, was among those in Charlottetown yesterday.

J. R. Mathieson, Cardigan, was among the visitors in Charlottetown yesterday.

Dodd Dwyer, Picton, was among those arriving in Charlottetown on the C.G.S. Minto yesterday.

Ernest Coffin, Charlottetown, returned yesterday from an enjoyable trip to Vancouver.

The farm of Mrs. Jenima Orr, of French River, was purchased last week by Charles McGregor, of Clifton, for $6,650. The farm is a good one, consisting of 160 acres and has good buildings. Walter Found, of Chicago, bought the farm of Charles McGregor by private sale and proposes residing there.—Ex.

The many friends and relatives of Robert Carr, formerly of Brookfield, Princetown Road, will regret to learn of his death, which occurred on March 31st at Sheldon, N.D. The deceased Carr was a brother of the late Mary Ann Carr of Charlottetown and was a very highly respected Christian. He left this Province over thirty years ago for North Dakota, U. S., where he has resided ever since. He was twice married, his first wife, Sarah Jane Johnston of Brookfield, died 37 years ago, leaving seven children, five of whom are now settled in Dakota, besides one son in Montana, and one daughter in Manitoba. His second wife was a Miss Howe of Murray Harbor, P. E. Island. She also predeceased him. (Other papers please copy.)

That the white slave traffic has a grip on Canada and that the agents were discovered by him working in St. John, was one of the startling statements made last evening by Rev. T. Albert Moore, D. D., superintendent of the moral and social reform department of the Methodist church in Canada, in his sermon in Centenary Church last evening. Rev. Dr. Moore is in the city for the purpose of addressing the purity convention in Centenary today and if his utterances yesterday can be taken as a criterion the address at today's meetings should be decidedly interesting. Dr. Moore said he had overheard a young man talking to a girl in the railway depot here and as a result handed the young man his card. The latter then turned away with an oath and took the next train for the United States with her mother in Prince Edward Island. Dr. Moore made reference to the forward movement in St. John and said he had heard of "Busy St. John," in Vancouver, Ontario and the West but when he arrived here he found a man on the street who had no supper and when he took him to a restaurant for supper, at as if he had had nothing all day.—St. John Telegraph. (Rev. Mr. Moore is well known in Charlottetown.)

Miss Katherine Hughes, Edmonton, has just returned from a three months' sojourn in those beautiful South Sea Islands. Miss Hughes, buoyant by nature, rose to the very heights of enthusiasm when talking of her recent trip. The wonderful atmosphere, the sound of the sea breaking over the coral reefs, the happy-hearted natives with their weirdly beautiful music, and the gorgeous flowers, all made such an impression on this Edmonton woman that she will doubtless incorporate it as a chapter in a book which she already has in her mind to write. Asked what interested her most, she replied without hesitation: "The people—I never saw such happy-natured people in my life. And they are the most hospitable people, too. Almost lavish, overpowering. And every man and woman seems to be a natural musician. They all play and sing—and they seem to be always playing and singing. And another remarkable thing is that the native Hawaiians speak excellent English; that is, the educated ones, even of the poorer classes." "One thing I nearly forgot to speak about," laughed Miss Hughes, "which was amusing to the stranger—though really a very pretty custom: the native's custom of welcoming the visitor with wreaths. Everywhere you go—banquets and house parties—you have wreaths of flowers thrown over your head and about your shoulders, and when I was leaving Honolulu I found myself with six or seven garlands of various colors and lengths around my neck. So that I felt like a native."—Edmonton Exc. (Miss Hughes is the author of the life of Father LaCombe and a native of Emerald, P. E. I.)

The York Excelsior Institute has passed another strong resolution against the repeal of the Auto Act. The resolution reads as follows:—That whereas it has been intimated in general that the repeal of the Auto Act in Charlottetown and vicinity is contemplated, the present session, therefore resolved, that we, the members of Excelsior Institute, wish to place ourselves on record as being unalterably opposed to repeal at present in any part of our island. Rev. A. Mallett, Secretary, The York Excelsior Institute has received notice that the Commissioner of Agriculture is going to introduce a bill at the present session for the encouragement of horse-breeding in P. E. I. The chief provisions of the bill are that every stallion standing in this Province for public service shall be enrolled, and that a certificate of enrollment shall be kept posted by the owner on every stable or building where the stallion is used for public service, which certificate shall state whether the stallion is pure bred, grade, or cross bred, not eligible for registration. We as an institute suggest that a heavy fine be put on veterinarians who would inspect such horses, if they neglect their duty. This bill was unanimously carried by York Excelsior Institute. B. A. Mallett, Secretary. (Pat. and Exam.)
