GOOD FOR AUTO DEALERS—As a result of the opening up of the Prince County roads to automobile traffic, as announced in yesterday's Guardian, four new automobiles were purchased yesterday by Summerside citizens, and several others are "tickling." The married couple left by the afternoon train for Charlottetown en route to Montreal and other Canadian cities. The newly married couple were the recipients of many congratulations, coupled with valuable gifts.

CANADA, THE GREAT.

God bless our own Canadian land, United all, we firmly stand. Her honor to maintain; May He, Who rules the nations all, Hear us, as for His aid we call, And bless with prosperous reign. May peace within our borders dwell, And loyal sons and daughters tell Of grandest unity; But should dread war our realm invade, Our dauntless sons on land and wave, Will lead to victory. Then let our flag to breeze unfurl'd Be emblem true, throughout the world. Of all that's true and brave; 'Neath Union Jack and Maple Leaf, We'll force the foe, and sword unsheath. Fair Canada to save. Blest land, bright gem in Britain's Crown, May statesmen true, of good renown, Guide on the Ship of State; Ruled well by noble Queen or King, We'll trust in God, and proudly sing, Of Canada, the Great.

BACK FROM MAGDALENS—His Lordship Bishop O'Leary, Very Rev. J. C. McLean, V.G., of Summerside, and Rev. F. X. Gallant of Blomfield, returned yesterday from the Magdalene Islands, where the Bishop conducted confirmation; these islands being in his ecclesiastical jurisdiction.

SUCCESSFUL ISLANDER—Another example of a hustling islander who has made a success in the United States is Mr. Wm. A. McCallum, a native of Mt. Herbert, Lot 48. He attended the public schools, and married Miss Annie Racham of Wheatley River, in 1878; three years later leaving the island and settling in Iowa, where he spent a number of years in hogs and took up mixed farming. In this business, he was more than ordinarily successful. He now owns real estate in Iowa, valued at over $75,000, as well as a quarter of section in Saskatchewan, valued at $4,000. He is here on a visit to his old home and is spending a very pleasant summer, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Hannah and Pearl, renewing old acquaintances. He is proud to say Charlottetown has made rapid progress during his absence and he is enthusiastic about the many improvements which have been made in this city since 1881. Mr. McCallum sent from this province to his ranch in Iowa, in one shipment, over 200 head of cattle, one of the largest shipments of cattle ever made from this island by a private individual. After fattening the above on his ranch, he re-shipped them to Chicago where he realized an average of $60 per head, or $12,000 in all. It is nothing unusual for Mr. McCallum to have 200 or more hogs in process of fattening at one time. A farewell was held at Shaw's shore previous to Mr. McCallum's departure. There assembled over fifty of his relatives from different parts of the province. Among those present were Messrs John Mackham and family, Samuel Saunders and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, Chester Backham and family, Wm. Racham and family, L. H. Craswell and family, Willard Sellers and family, Elijah Saunders and family, Malcolm Racham and family, Mrs. Judson Dingwell, and daughter of Fortune Bridge. The above made up a very happy gathering which will no doubt be long remembered by Mr. and Mrs. McCallum.

A CANADIAN TO THE CORE.

A thoroughly Canadian institution is the Cowan Co., Ltd., and to use a colloquial expression, "It does not care who knows it." The business was founded back in 1855, by the late J. W. Cowan, in a small and unpretentious factory, corner of Front and Wellington Streets, Toronto, where the manufacture of cocoa was begun. In those days "Made-in-Canada" products had not the popularity and prestige that they have today.

Herbert N. Cowan succeeded his father as president and general manager of the business. Ever since he has been fourteen years of age the son has been a familiar figure around the factory, absorbing all the details of manufacture, and representing the company on the road for a number of years. During the eight years that he has been at the head of the concern, H. N. Cowan has never lost an opportunity to place its interests first and foremost, and expansion has been the watchword. Many new lines of chocolate confections have been introduced, until Cowan's Maple Buds, Medallions, Milk Chocolate, and Queen's Desert Chocolate are literally household words.

When the European war broke out the Cowan Co. was the first Canadian firm to make a patriotic offer to the Militia Department. A contribution of five thousand pounds of chocolate was very graciously received by the Premier of Canada for the "Tommy's" at Vancouver camp. Firms in other lines soon followed the splendid example set. The credit for starting the welcome array of benevolences to the boys in khaki belongs to the subject of this reference. At the inception of hostilities, the Cowan organization announced in full-page advertisements that there would be no increase in the price of its products, that a full force of employees would be retained, and added to as far as possible, and the cheerful spirit exemplified by the firm had a steady influence when many other concerns were somewhat inclined to be panic-stricken. The "Little Miss" (Maiden) Canada trade mark, which was registered, appeared, and at once, "taught on."

We have no base ball team—no foot ball team, no athletic association the same as we had two years ago," remarked Mr. Cowan. "The reason is that practically all the available men of military age in our large establishments are now in the trenches in France, or are engaged in active training. Our company pays married men the full amount of their wages, and single men half the amount, from the time they leave the shores of Canada, until their return."

H. N. Cowan is a genial, companionable gentleman, whose guiding principle and highest ambition is to place Made-in-Canada products to the fore front, in which he has succeeded to a remarkable degree. His chief re-

"Good, Isn't It, Grandpa?"

Yes, Sonny, Postum is good, and much better for you than tea or coffee—you'll know why, sometime. In fact, children should never drink tea or coffee—and most grown-ups would be better off without either.

"In tea and coffee there's a drug that is harmful, especially for children, and it often causes troublesome conditions in older folks."

is fine for both children and grown-ups. It is made from good wheat, roasted with a little wholesome molasses—nothing to hurt anyone. There's a delightful flavor in Postum—the pure food-drink for those who want to be healthy and happy.
