

ILLUSTRATION STATION FIELD DAYS

The first of a series of twelve field days to be held by the Division of Illustration Stations in P. E. I. was held at Glenwood, Monday, June 28, when 150 people were in attendance.

A special attraction at this field day was the demonstration put on by the Holstein and Ayrshire calf club members, under the direction of Messrs. W. R. Shaw and L. Roper.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorrill had the station in excellent shape.

The field day at West Devon on Tuesday, June 30th, was attended by about 25 people. Special features at this field day included a poultry culling demonstration by Mr. Fred Nash, Poultry Promoter for the Province and an address on "Hog Pastures" by Mr. F. Baird, Sheep and Swine Promoter for the Province.

Previous to the arrival of the visitors for the Field Day, Mr. Grigg, the Illustration Station operator, mowed a portion of his clover, planning to cut the remainder the next day.

The Field Day on Wednesday, July 1st, was held at Palmer Road and attended by upwards of 50 people. At this field day the Experimental Farm exhibit was again shown and Dr. Clark explained the value of fertilizing pastures.

A live stock demonstration featuring Mr. Peters' pure bred Ayrshire bull and a number of grade Ayrshire heifers was also put on at this field day.

The Basque Trims Baer

RENO, Nev., July 5.—Paulino Uzcudun, sturdy Basque won the decision from Max Baer of California after twenty bruising rounds yesterday. Battling steadily at a fast pace from the opening gong, the pair reached the final session in even terms.

Referee Jack Dempsey made his decision on the outcome of the final round, in which Paulino took the lead away from his younger and heavier opponent in decisive fashion. The fight was extremely vicious with the heavyweights using rough tactics frequently.

INSPIRING MESSAGE

At the close of a masterly sermon on Psalm 96, verse 6, dealing with the beauty of God's House and the influences of worship on the life of the individual and the community Dr. Leatham said:

"As a visitor who has already learned to love the exquisite beauty of your island home, I count it a high honour to bring from the capital of our Dominion a message of congratulation for this historic Church and congregation at this new hour of its destiny. I worshipped here two years ago, and the changed aspect of your church building today fills me with a deep appreciation of what you have accomplished. Your beautiful memorial chancel, sacred by reason of the worshipful uses for which it is designed, sacred also by reason of the devoted Christian lives therein commemorated, will be a constant source of strength and joy to those who love this place, and to whom its very stones are dear.

"I congratulate your minister who has been your untiring leader in the task that has come to its fulfillment today. I count happy the elders and office-bearers who are called to the service of this beautiful sanctuary, and I pray that all who have by labour and sacrifice contributed to this great work may have the reward of their piety and devotion in a new sense of the presence of God in Public Worship.

"There is nothing sadder in church life than when such an achievement as you have achieved is regarded as the high-water mark of a church's life. But there is nothing nobler and grander than when a congregation inspired by a vivid sense of the honour and majesty, the strength and beauty of God's House, goes forward to realize new and nobler ideals through the corporate life and worship of the church.

"Things are not right in this Canada of ours. The most sacred things are falling into neglect and disuse. The precious things that our forefathers handed down to us are dishonoured. God's House, the Lord's Day, the great and beautiful things of religion, are profaned. What the founders of Canada revered, the children of Canada too often despise. On this high and holy day in your Church's history may we not, every one of us, take a stand in the power of Christ, and declare that for us, so far as our power and influence and example extend, these things that hurt and weaken the religion of our land shall no longer be? If there is negligence elsewhere, it shall not be found here. If there is carelessness about the great privilege and opportunity of worship, it shall have no place in this historic Church of St. James.

"We are claimed by the past which this day we have held in sacred honour. We are claimed by the present hour, so challenging and wonderful an hour in the life of our Presbyterian Church in Canada. And we are claimed by generations yet unborn, who will be betrayed in their most precious rights, if we fall through any carelessness or weakness on our part to hand on to them the Apostolic Faith and the Apostolic worship that have come down to us.

"One claim yet greater rests upon every one of us, the claim of the love of our Redeemer. O, if by the power of the Holy Spirit the young lives in this congregation might but Christ today the vision of the Saviour Christ claiming each one of them in the joy of their youth for His service! He is here, your Saviour, the Captain of your Salvation. He is here, and it is for you that He is here, because there is a place for you in His heart and in His service. You stand facing that supreme opportunity of life today. Be not disobedient unto the Heavenly Vision."

In the evening Dr. Leatham spoke eloquently upon the text: St. Matthew, 16: 18: "Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church."

Devotional Features

The devotional part of the services was taken by the Minister, assisted at the morning service by the Rev. Fred Williamson, of Malpeque, and, at the evening service, by the Revs. Dr. M. E. Genge, of Marshfield, and W. E. Davies, B. A., of Cardigan.

The newly installed organ console was used for the first time by the organist Mrs. Keith Rogers. The choir under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Lawson and augmented for the occasion, rendered with fine effect the anthems "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," (Mauder) and "O Divine Redeemer" (Gounod) at the morning service. At the

MCKENNA — MACINTYRE

NUPITALS — St. Mary's Church, Indian River was the scene of an interesting event on Monday morning, June 29th, when Miss Mary Florence MacIntyre, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. MacIntyre, New Annan, became the bride of Mr. Joseph F. McKenna, of Lynn, Mass. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance.

Rev. Basil Croken, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. F. McDonald, pastor of Indian River. The bride was charming in a lovely wedding dress of flowered peach chiffon, large picture hat and bouquet of yellow roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Clare McLellan, wore a becoming dress of blue and carried pink roses. Mr. Herman Lambie was groomsmen. As the bridal party entered the church, the Wedding March was played by Miss Mary Ready. Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal party, accompanied by a number of invited guests, motored to the bride's home, where a delicious wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. McKenna left by motor for their future home in Saginaw, Mich. The bride, who was the popular and efficient Sec'y-treas. of the New Annan Women's Institute, was pleasantly surprised shortly before her marriage, when the members of the Institute gathered at her home and presented her with an address and suitable gift. She was also the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts having been showered at a very enjoyable function held at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Edgar Hickey, Indian River. Mr. and Mrs. McKenna have the evening service, the solo "Open the Gates of the Temple" (Knapp), was finely sung by Mr. Arthur Bruce, the choir rendering the anthem "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" (Maker).

A description of the structural renovations in the church has already appeared in The Guardian. The improvement effected was very favorably commented upon by many present at yesterday's service.

Of special interest is the Memorial Chancel, which bears the following inscription: "To the Glory of God, and in loving memory of the Reverend John Goodwill, born December 11, 1831, and entered into rest January 22, 1905, for forty years a Minister of the Established Church of Scotland; and his wife Euphemia Jane Cooper, born September 11, 1847, and entered into rest February 20, 1930; Both of whom were Missionaries on the Island of Espiritu Santo in the New Hebrides from 1869 to 1874. This Chancel is Dedicated."

For planning and remodeling the church interior, much credit is due the building committee appointed by the congregation, consisting of Messrs. A. E. Morrison, chairman; J. J. MacKinnon, secretary; S. A. MacLeod, W. A. Stewart, the Minister, together with the following representatives of the ladies' organizations: Mrs. G. E. Henderson, Miss Catherine MacLeod, Miss Edith M. Rogers.

The offerings at yesterday's services will be devoted to the building renovation fund.

BEDEQUE

The home of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Reynolds of Centreville, Bedeque, was the scene of a very interesting event, on Friday evening, June 26th, when a large crowd of men and women, boys and girls, gathered together to tender a "miscellaneous shower" and a host of good wishes to one of Bedeque's most popular young ladies, Miss Jean MacKay, in honor of her approaching marriage. Little Miss Adele Callbeck, flower girl, sprinkled the bridal path with flowers, as the bride-to-be passed through the bridal path, into the reception room, accompanied by her friend, Miss Mabel Millar, and was seated by the "old-fashioned bride." Mr. Fred Moyle sang, while the bride-to-be was entering the room, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. John Stuart. In a few well chosen words, the "old-fashioned bride," (Mrs. Fred Moyle), unveiled a spacious corner of gifts. Miss Ruth Carruthers, opened the gifts and Miss Doris Muncey read the many witty and humorous verses, accompanying the gifts. The gifts included linen, china, silver and glassware, and all went to show the esteem in which Jean was held in the community. Miss MacKay, in a few words, thanked one and all for their beautiful gifts, after which Miss Winnifreda McKay sang very beautifully "Mary of Argyle," accompanied on the piano by Miss John Stuart, of Central Bedeque. The bride-to-be looked very beautiful in a gown of white flat crepe, with black pumps. The assisting hostesses, Miss Ila Collet, Miss Mabel Clark, Miss Doris Muncey, Miss Winnifreda Wright, Miss Ruth Carruthers and Miss Alesea Jewell, then served dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake. After extending to Miss MacKay a pleasant "goodnight" and every happiness through life, everybody left for their respective domiciles, feeling that a very enjoyable evening was spent with Miss MacKay.

Mrs. Howard Schurman, of Central Bedeque, was a visitor to Crapaud recently, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wood.

Mr. Ralph MacCaull, and Mr. Wilbur Stavert, of Wilmot Valley, were visitors to Cornwall on Thursday, attending the Provincial Women's Missionary Rally.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burns and two children, of Albany, were visiting some old friends in Freetown on Sunday last.

The Bedeque Tea, which was held on the Central Bedeque Rink grounds on Wednesday, June 24th, proved an entire success. Although the afternoon was not so warm and pleasant as it might have been, it certainly favored the boys in the races and other sports, not forgetting the "young boys' tug-of-war" in the evening, when North Bedeque won from Central Bedeque, Lower Bedeque and Centreville Bedeque, well done the "old boosters."

The ice cream and fruit buffets were well patronized. Just a word about the dinner and tea, which certainly exhibited the "eats" of the Bedeque folks, not only for the immense quantity, but for the splendid quality, and the way in which the table waitresses attended to their duties. A very large sum was realized, which goes toward the rink, which was built in Bedeque last fall.

The election of elders in the Freetown United Church and the North Bedeque United Church, resulted as follows for the North Bedeque Church: Mr. Austin J. Jardine and Mr. Archibald Stavert and for the Freetown United Church, Mr. Brewer Auld and Mr. Louis Cairns. These four elders will be ordained at the usual preparatory service in the North Bedeque United Church on Saturday afternoon at half past two o'clock. Rev. George N. Somers, of Margate United Church will give a special address.

The many friends of Mr. William Gillespie, of Read's Corner, regret to hear that he had to enter the Prince County Hospital with blood poison in his hand, but are glad that he is again recovering as well as can be expected.

Little Master Alexander Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, of Emerald, was taken to the Prince County Hospital on Tuesday morning and underwent an operation for appendicitis. He is resting comfortably as can be expected and his friends join in wishing him a speedy recovery.

A large number of friends and relatives gathered to tender a miscellaneous shower party to Miss Jennie Waugh on Friday evening, the 19th, on the eve of her approaching marriage. The house was very beautifully decorated for the occasion and as the bride descended the stairs to the reception room, the strains of the Wedding March, played on the piano by Miss Bessie Smallman, of Summerside,

Mrs. Robert Waugh, of Lower Bedeque opened the gifts while Mrs. Brewer Waugh, of Freetown, read the many witty verses and good wishes accompanying the gifts. The presents were numerous and costly and consisted of silver, linen, glassware and many other articles, which will prove very useful in her new home, all of which goes to testify the esteem and popularity of which Jennie was held by her friends. In a few well chosen words, thanked the donors very graciously for their beautiful gifts and their good wishes. The remainder of the evening was spent in games on the lawn, later indoors, after which a very dainty lunch was served, followed by a pleasant "goodnight" to Miss Waugh and host of good wishes for her future happiness. All left for their respective homes feeling that a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Among the visitors to Summerside from Bedeque and vicinity last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacFarlane and little daughter Norma, Miss Verna Schurman, Miss Dot Dawson, Miss Erma Baker, Miss Doris Crossman, Miss Alice Bagnall, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leard, Mr. Alden Leard, Mr. Leonard Leard, Mr. Wilfred Burns, Mr. Basil Taylor, Mr. Lorne Waugh, Mr. Jack Baker, Mr. Lorne MacCaull, Mr. and Mrs. Colby Lewis, Mrs. Brewer Waugh, Miss Jean Callbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacMurdo, Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Guy MacCaull, Miss Florence Stavert, Mr. Wilbur Stavert, Mr. Horace Clark, Mr. George Cahill, Mr. Charles Leard, Miss Gladys Drummond and Miss Olga Drummond.

Not often does our married folk have the pleasure of living sixty years together, generally there is always one left alone before they have reached this beautiful age, but here is one couple who have been wedded for sixty years, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard MacCourt, of Emerald, who celebrated the 60th anniversary of the wedding day on June 23rd, 1931. As a special entertainment for this day, Mr. and Mrs. MacCourt, together with their five sons and five daughters, namely, Patrick, Michael, Lewis, John, Walter, Annie, Catherine, Emma, Katie and Prescilla, (there being one death in the family, a daughter Beatrice, Mrs. Everett MacKenna, having passed away some few years ago), motored to Summerside, where Mr. and Mrs. MacCourt were the guests of honour at a beautifully arranged dinner party at the Queen Hotel, a special table having been reserved for the entire party. Among the outside guests at this entertainment, included Mr. and Mrs. MacCourt's two grand-children, Messrs. Neil Croken, Emmet Clow and Thomas Hammill. After the guests had enjoyed this well prepared dinner, provided by Mrs. Perry, the genial hostess of the Queen Hotel, heartfelt congratulations were then extended to the happy couple and many complimentary speeches were made by some of the guests. The party then left by motor to their respective homes in Emerald, where a reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. MacCourt, at their own home, where a host of friends and neighbors gathered to extend their warmest congratulations. An address was read and Mr. and Mrs. MacCourt were the recipients of many lovely gifts. Although they are now past sixty years of married life, they are both enjoying good health and their many friends join in wishing them many, many more years of wedded health and happiness.

Heartiest congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Trainor of Emerald, on the arrival of a lovely baby girl in the Prince County Hospital on Wednesday, June 24th.

A quiet, but interesting event, took place at the Centreville Bedeque United Church on Tuesday afternoon at 3 p. m. when Miss Jennie MacCallum, daughter of Mrs. MacCallum and the late Mr. MacCallum, of Lower Bedeque, became the happy bride of Mr. Walter Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Craig, of Middleton. Rev. A. J. Reynolds performed the ceremony, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The bride looked very winsome in a gown of sand crepe-chene, with hat and shoes to match. The couple were unattended. The bride and groom are two of Bedeque's most popular young people, having been very popular in the different societies for the welfare of the community. The groom is a very prosperous and efficient farmer in Middleton, where the newly-weds will reside. The young couple left on Tuesday afternoon, on an extended motor honeymoon trip through the Maritime Provinces. A host of friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Craig every happiness in their newly wedded life.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Campbell, of ed 50 years ago had grown to large proportions. More missionaries were needed to conduct the work and they could only be sent out by the generosity of the home churches.

Miss Archibald was greeted with enthusiasm when she came to the platform. Many in the audience remembered her father when he had different pastorates on P. E. Island. Miss Archibald dealt chiefly with her work among the women and girls in India, which she described in a pleasing and delightful way which captivated her audience.

Evening Session

At the evening session the ladies choir of Bedeque took part in the program and delighted the audience with many hymns beautifully rendered. Rev. R. W. Lindsay led the devotional exercises and spoke on the reality of divine guidance in this world of perplexing problems. Mr. Winchester of Belmont and Dr. A. C. Vincent assisted. Dr. Vincent also made an appeal for funds to carry on the work of the church. Dr. Boyer was the next speaker and in an eloquent and forceful address dealt with the problems confronting the church today. He also pointed for his listeners in a vividly connected picture the value of money in connection with the many activities of the church. Dr. Boyer, who is the General Secretary of the Maritime Baptist Denomination, said that it gave him much pleasure to have been asked to speak at the 64th annual meeting of the Island Association. It is 18 years since his first visit and it was always a delight to visit the beautiful Island of the Gulf. His address was an appeal to the people of the Baptist churches, to be loyal to every department of the church and to look at the program as a whole. Home missions and foreign missions were of equal importance and had vast possibilities. There is great danger as a people of failing to promote a deep broad law abiding spiritual life. Another important part of our lives today which is very much neglected is prayer. In this hurrying age people say they have not time to pray, but the speaker questioned whether we worked any harder than our forefathers who toiled hard to develop this great country and who always found time for family prayers. The romance of the offering which was taken up each Sunday was described in a very inspiring manner. We grumble at our financial burden, but if we could get a vision of the many avenues into which that money, dedicated at God's altar, flowed and the far reaching possibilities of its use we would have a different feeling in regard to that part of our church life.

Home Missions

Dr. Mason was then called upon and spoke in glowing terms of the growth of home missions. In the early days the missionaries went to the church and from their uniling efforts the Baptist churches were established. These hardy christian men carried on without any association or convention to guide them. It was 33 years ago that the home mission board was established and every feature of the denominational life owes its existence to the home mission board.

Speaking of the growing tendency of the people of the present day to get away from the observance of the Sabbath, the speaker said we are living in a new age, which brings new problems to the church. The days of the Puritan Sunday is gone. Sunday is now taken up largely with sport and car driving. The church of today does not gather round it all the attractions of the community. In years gone by the church concert was about the Shelton, on the birth of a wee ladie, on Wednesday, June 17th.

The wedding bells of June are still ringing amid the many flowers, which adorn the bridal path, and as we welcome to our midst Mr. and Mrs. Walter MacCallum, Lower Bedeque, after enjoying a very pleasant honeymoon tour, by motor through the Maritime Provinces. On Monday evening, the bridal couple arrived at Lower Bedeque, where a reception was held and later a large crowd of cheveriers gathered to extend to Mr. and Mrs. MacCallum a host of good wishes for their future happiness. All were very generously treated to cake and sandwiches, before bidding "au revoir" to the newly-weds.

Miss Hester Inman, teacher at the Cornwall School, spent the week end very pleasantly at her home, (Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus Inman), Central Bedeque.—B.

S' Side Racket Wielders Were Guests of Locals

Summerside Club players were guests of the Charlottetown Club last Saturday afternoon to the first inter-Club Tournament played here this season.

Summerside players were: Mrs. L. Schurman, Misses S. Linkletter and D. Kirwin, Messrs. D. O. Stewart, C. Moore, A. MacDonald and G. Lockhart. The men's doubles matches were very hotly contested resulting in a win for each club. Mr. McDonald of Summerside, last year's closed Provincial Champion and runner-up in the open tournament, proved as formidable as ever though he and his strong partner Mr. Lockhart, bowed to the powerful combination of Alan Stewart and Stuart Dickson, Charlottetown; they came back with vengeance on another strong Charlottetown team, G. F. Hutchison and "Red" Doucet. If "Red" is as agile on skates as he is on a tennis court there is no question about hockey honors next winter. Miss S. Linkletter of Summerside, is far in advance of her years and will be heard from in senior lady events this season. Excellent refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Cudmore, Mrs. H. Cudmore, Mrs. N. D. McLean and Miss Jean Munn. The Summerside Club will entertain Charlottetown players at Summerside on Wednesday afternoon next.

The following is a summary of games played:

Only amusement for the country people. Now they have their dance halls, radios and moving picture places. Those things are counter attractions to the religious life of the community and which the pastor is called upon to cope with. The ministry is encountering greater difficulty to get young men willing to devote themselves to the ministry of God. There are so many more professions for them to take up than formerly, although the speaker said we have just as good men today who have devoted themselves to the call of the divine Dr. Mason made three appeals to home missions. First, our obligation to our fellow men to give them the gospel and our duty to Canada first, especially the Maritimes. Secondly, our responsibility to the rest of the world. No salvation can come to us unless we help others, the speaker remarked. Thirdly, orthodoxy to the truth to hold fast to the great faith of christian religion and to present it in orthodox form, in other words to preach "Jesus."

Rev. Mr. Beacock extended a hearty vote of thanks to the speakers and urged a desire for service in the work of Christ among the christian people of today. At Saturday's meeting, Rev. W. S. Quigley of the Christian Church of New Glasgow and Baptist Church at Cavendish, were welcomed by the Moderator on behalf of the Association. The Boy Scouts of the 1st Bedeque and Freetown Troop assisted in placing the delegates at their different entertaining homes and also acted as ushers at the church. This service on their part was much appreciated by their Scoutmaster, Rev. Mr. Crowe and also by the delegates.—S.
