Bound And Robbed

(Special to the Guardian)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Richard Hofferman, of Brooklyn, who was the first robbery victim of the "bob-haired bandit," Colla Cooney, who with her husband was sent to prison for their series of crimes a year ago, was held up by two thieves soon after he had opened his store one day this week. They bound and gagged Hofferman, took his diamond pin, emptied the register and fled.
Hofferman later released himself from the chair to which he had been tied, but he couldn't free his hands or remove the gag, so he went for help to a neighboring store. The thieves got several hundred dollars.

DOUBLE STARS

A double star is one which consists of two stars lying close together and revolving in an orbit. For some time Professor Comstock, astronomer of the University of Wisconsin, has made a particular study of this feature of the heavens.
A new phenomenon is a double star which is noticed as that two stars "swobbed" and did not have the usual steady appearance. At length the conclusion was reached that this condition was caused by a dark star in close proximity to the two bright stars. Such a star is called a "dark star" and is considered impossible at present. Analysis revealed that the two bright stars without breaking down. Although the dark star has never been seen, there is sufficient proof to justify the belief that it is the cause of this double star's peculiar behavior. It revolves about the double star about once in a little less than twelve years.

STILL GOING TO U. S.—Between July 1st and October 31st, this year, 431 men women and children received their passports in the United States Consulate in Charlottetown as emigrants going to the United States with the intention of taking up their residence there. In addition to these it is estimated that during the same period at least 150 persons from this province received their passports in the consulates at Halifax, Yarmouth, Moncton and St. John for the same purpose, about 600 in all.

THE WATER SUPPLY.—Water faucets and drinking fountains in Charlottetown still continue to pour forth brackish water, and many citizens have resorted to drawing their supply at several of the outlying wells of the city, principally those at the Golf Links and Spring Park. The Water Commission has been working steadily during the past week to find and remedy the trouble and started repairs on the offending well at Gates' Mill last week, but not in time to stop an overflow of sea water during Tuesday's extra high tide. Repairs here, however have been almost completed. The Guardian has been informed that the supply will be growing noticeably purer for the next few days, probably being restored to its usual condition by Wednesday or Thursday.

Students Entertained At "Y"

Over 200 students, boys and girls gathered at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night when a program of entertainment and games was very successfully carried out.

These gatherings which will take place every Saturday night during the college season are under the auspices of the Students' Christian Movement and many enjoyable evenings are assured those who attend.
At the conclusion of the program which appears below everybody went up to the gymnasium where an exhibition of apparatus work was given. Special mention might be made of the work of little William Henry which drew loud applause from the audience.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Donald R. McLeod, who died Nov. 2nd, 1922. Days of sadness still come o'er us. Secret tears do often flow. But memory keeps her ever near us. Though she died two years ago. She suffered much, she murmured not.
We watched her day by day. Until at last with broken hearts. We saw her fade away.
Inserted by her Son and Daughter.

Moncton Girl Killed By Motor Car

MONCTON, Nov. 2.—Little Gertrude Gaudet, 9 years old, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Gaudet, residing on St. George Street at the corner of Lewis street, was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Weldon Palmer of this city last night and died on the way to the hospital.
The accident occurred shortly before 7:30 o'clock and although it happened in front of the very door of the child's home, it was some two hours before the parents were aware that it was the child who had come to such an untimely end.
On account of the little girl being masquerading as a boy it was some two hours after the accident before the parents were aware that the child was theirs, as a little boy was reported killed.

It was not known how the accident happened but it is supposed that the child stepped from behind another car and in front of the car that ran her down.
(The little girl who met such a sad and untimely death in the midst of her Halloween innocent enjoyment was a grand-daughter of Mrs. George Gaudet, and a niece of Mr. W. A. Gaudet, and Mr. Fred Gaudet of this city. Her father formerly resided here.)

Prohibiting Sale Of "Looney Gas"

(Special to The Guardian)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Gasoline containing tetra-ethyl, the mysterious "Looney Gas" compound, may no longer be sold in New York City. The Board of Health has adopted a resolution prohibiting its sale after the death of the fifth of the 33 laborers affected by the fumes while experimenting with the mixture in the Bayway, N. J., laboratories of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The Health Board also made it a misdemeanor for anyone to use the gasoline in motors in the city. In addition, the officials authorized Health Commissioner Monaghan to make a thorough investigation of the elements in the mysterious death-dealing gas and seek a mode of effective treatment for its victims.
Herbert Fuson, 29, of Elizabeth, N. J., was the fifth man to die of the gas poisoning.

SUITING YOUR PERFUME TO YOUR PERSONALITY

The modern woman has been cleverly classified by the perfumer whose output must of necessity be offered on a large scale. He does not see her individually, but he relies upon type.
For the very young girl there are perfumes of spicy flavor, such as carnation or heliotrope. These scents, mark you, are for the brunette type. The blonde may find expression in the fragrance of the yellow firefly rose, while the "red-head" can easily tone down her personality with modest yellow violet.

The slow-eyed Oriental type, rather delicate in appearance, may find an appropriate blend in a odor that frankly interprets her personality, or "Smyrna" exotic, a perfume that contains a hint of fragility—for instance, a superfluous, natural jasmine, or a pure santal-wood.
The magnolia flower has an exotic fragrance that is considered by perfume chemists to resemble the Hlyrose, with just a suggestion of ylang ylang. Yet this southern magnolia, combined with the extract of tuberose and jonquil, is offered as a perfume complement for the pale and languid beauty. A blend essentially fresh and youthful for this same type may be found in a combination of vetiver, oilbalm and ylang ylang—the latter used freely, as is the way of French blenders.
Individual perfumers in general feel that the rose is the perfect complement for the woman of the material type. Many do not care for that distinct smoothness which is the essential of a well-balanced rose perfume. A delightful substitute is found in a carefully compounded selection of bergamot, neroli, jasmine and tuberose. This is a floral bouquet that will result in an equalized fragrance which reminds one who is country-hungry of a springtime garden.

A famous preacher made a neat pun on one occasion against an anonymous correspondent. While in his pulpit one Sunday morning a note was handed to him by the vergor, and upon opening it he found scrawled across a sheet of paper the word "Pool."
Rising to the occasion, he exhorted it to his congregation, and said: "In my time I have received much anonymous correspondence in which the writer has written the letter but forgot to sign his name. But here is a strange thing—a man has signed his name and omitted to write the letter."

The Last Straw.
"MacDonald's subordination of England to the Third Internationale was the last straw in this case."
It also foresees difficulties for Herriot in dealing with Great Britain because of French recognition of Russia.

The Radical journals make no attempt to conceal their chagrin, but express hopes that the policies of co-operation can be continued.
"The new cabinet cannot reverse the diplomacy of King Edward," says the "Ere Nouvelle." "The Franco-British Entente is the logical conclusion of every attempt at European pacification."
"Le Quotidien," official Radical mouthpiece, explains that MacDonald's defeat result from an absence of a majority in Parliament, and adds that the Radical majority in France as the support of a majority in the Chamber of Deputies.
"It is absurd to make comparisons—Herriot's hands are not tied as a result of the British elections."

REFUGE

By Harold Willard Gleason
And what's to cure an aching heart Beneath a jacket blue For a lass's lips and a lass's vows And all she while untrue? Why the whistle of the wind, lad, And the bloodied moon arising From the harbor of Bombay.
And what's to dry the tears that fall well And smart w'ithin the eyes For fond old hands now folded, Fond hearts beyond the skies? Why, following the whale's path Afar from carking land, With a chanty drowning the captain's crew— "Bound for Rio Grande."

And what's to bring forgetfulness Of sodden days ashore, And nights—black, burning memories Of liquor, lust and gore? Why, tight ships and taut sheets And surges white-and-blue. For, race or roll, sail safe or wreck, There's mastery for you!
And what's to end it all, lad, When heads are old and gray, For him who dreads the willow's weep, The churchyard's mold and clay? Why, let him slip to leeward— One plunge—green water's roar And sleep among the coral caves With shipmates gone before.

—ASSAULT CASE.—As an outcome of the fracas in Summerside on Saturday, Oct. 22nd, Alfred Cahill appeared before Stipendiary Wyatt on Wednesday on summary trial, standing charged with the indictable offense of committing an unlawful assault upon Chief of Police Corrigan in the execution of his duty. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and after legal argument, the charge was reduced to one of common assault. The hearing of the evidence lasted until Thursday, when a case against Charles Cahill, for assault and battery, was also heard. Judgment was reserved till Saturday when each was fined $20 and costs or thirty days in jail.

VOTE RIGHT OR STOP KNOCKING
Voting in this enlightened day, carries with it obligations. According to The Progressive Grocer it is an obligation to vote for the best cause and the best man—obligation to break away from tradition and party, if need be—to keep free from passion and prejudice—co-operate the mind open—to entertain new principles—to think independently—to cherish new hopes—and to judge wisely. How many of us are going to use the ballot this fall to deliver a sturdy blow for good Government.
