THE many friends of Miss Ethel M Owen will be sorry to hear she severed her connection with Falconwood Asylum on the 1st inst. THERE has lately been added to the equipment of C. E. Rodd's harness shop (St. George Street, a practical and ingenious little machine designed for trimming traces. It does its work well, giving a finish to the traces which makes them look very even. The machine enables an operator to produce even work and to do it quickly, and shows that this shop is bound to keep up to date in the manufacture of good harness.

MANY tourists and visitors who visited the Market yesterday, were delighted with it. Very few cities in Canada or elsewhere could show a better variety of fruit at this time of the year. There were red, white and black currants, gooseberries, strawberries, cherries, blueberries, garden and wild raspberries, etc. Beef, lamb, fish and poultry were in splendid and attractive supply, and lots of fresh vegetables were on sale. Perhaps the greatest pleasure for the visitors was the display of flowers, especially sweet peas, of almost every shade and variety. One woman had large quantities of these in bunches of separate colors, put on sale at four cents a bunch. They were all sold before noon, showing that the most people love flowers.
