As of February 26 this year there are 513 unplaced males and 102 unplaced females. This is a considerable increase over the figures of the end of January when there were 405 unplaced males and 69 unplaced females. Mr. Cannon says that there are practically no openings for men and for women, the only openings are for stenographers and domestic help. Approximately $4,000 weekly is being paid out of the Summerside office in unemployment insurance benefits and not all of those unemployed are eligible for benefits. At present 341 males and 75 females are receiving benefits. The unemployment figures compared with this time last year show fewer males unemployed but more females. However, Mr. Cannon states that the situation is generally worse this year as a year ago among those listed as unemployed were many men recently discharged from the services who had not had time to reinstate themselves.—S.

S'Side Member Stresses Auto Traffic Needs

That compulsory automotive protective insurance be given consideration at the present session was urged in the Provincial Legislature on Monday by Mr. Lorne H. McFarlane, Fifth District of Prince. He was speaking on the Draft Address.

As the highways are improved, it is reasonable to expect that highway traffic will greatly increase, Mr. McFarlane said. The placing of directional signs was a good policy, but it was important that more "slow" signs and night reflectors be erected at dangerous curves and railway crossings without delay.

Another urgent need was the establishment of new industries to give employment to the young people. In this respect Summerside had numerous advantages to offer as to prospective locations, electrical power, water supply and availability of workers.

The speaker stressed the need of a quick freezing plant in Summerside for the storage of bait and other fish, as a facility of inestimable value to the fishermen of Prince County. He also urged the Government to take up at Ottawa the need of better accommodation for the fishing fleet at Summerside. This could be provided by extending Queen's wharf to its former length.

Potato Industry

As a potato grower and shipper Mr. MacFarlane said he appreciated the outstanding work being accomplished by officials of both the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture. Already the Act passed last year by this House, whereby only certified seed could be planted, has shown good results. He was convinced that with the high quality of Island potatoes, there would always be a reasonably good market.

"We all realize the importance of the dairy industry," Mr. McFarlane continued, "but sometimes I wonder if the value of the potato industry in relation to the dairy and beef business is fully understood. It is common knowledge that the soil of this province must have additional tertilizers, and the potato crop using commercial fertilizers. provides a basis for larger yields in the rotation crops that follow. We all know that the potato crop does not provide any humus for the soil, but it does not exhaust the entire application of fertilizer which has been applied. The balance of this fertilizer is of considerable value to the grain and hay crops which should follow. By pursuing a proper rotational system the potato crop, in my opinion, is of great value to the crops coming immediately after.

"One of the important needs in our province is good pasturage and an increased production of grain, which of late has become a matter of urgency on account of the high cost of imported feeds. It is my contention that the potato industry, through the use of fertilizer followed by proper crop rotation, is of substantial assistance in the building of our dairy industry. I emphasize that this could also be said of our hog and poultry industry.

"I have heard discussions recently on the amount of fertilizer imported into this Province, and while it is true in regard to the basic chemicals that large quantities are brought in, it may not be generally realized that approximately seventy percent of these chemicals are mixed within the Province, in the proportions best suited to our soil, according to the standards laid down by the Maritime Fertilizer Council. The mixing of these chemicals creates considerable employment for our local people, besides providing a great source of revenue for those who own trucks. At least $150,000 is spent among our people in these ways. Not all of the fertilizer imported to this Province is used for the growing of potatoes, but on the contrary, increasingly large tonnage is being used for the growing of turnips, grain, hay and pasture."

The speaker commended the Provincial and Federal Government for having put into effect a program of assisting in the establishment of potato storage warehouses in different parts of the Province.

Newfoundland Trade

He also noted with approval the rapid increase in trade with Newfoundland. Labrador and northern Quebec trade will, he believed, grow in importance also. Summerside, as the capital of the most productive County in the Province, should be made a regular port of call of subsidized steamers engaged in the Newfoundland trade.

"At this time," Mr. McFarlane said, "I wish to pay special tribute to Mr. J. W. Boulter, who has given of his all to the potato industry of this province. Mr. Boulter has always worked untiringly on behalf of the potato producers and farmers in general, and his advice has always been respected and listened to by the respective boards and committees at which he has appeared, both in Canada and the United States. I regret that Mr. Boulter is presently indisposed, and I know it is the wish of every citizen of this province that he will soon be restored to his usual health and vigor, and able to take his place once more in his capacity as the leader of the potato marketing interests of Prince Edward Island.

Rural Electrification

"Our people generally" Mr. McFarlane added, "are greatly interested in the extension of rural electrification, making it possible for our agriculturists to have electricity available for their mechanical and domestic needs. In my opinion there is no class of people who are more in need of this service than the citizens of our rural areas. Some unfair criticism has been levelled at this government regarding their tardiness in implementing past promises in this regard. Many of these critics know little of the problems to be faced, or just what has been accomplished. In the past few years many miles of new rural power lines have been constructed and more are under careful consideration. Both the Maritime Electric Company and the Town of Summerside civic electric plant built considerable mileage last year, and with the co-operation of this government, I believe, there will be a steady development of rural electrification in this province. Critics should give careful study to the high cost of power lines and distribution, and they would then realize that if electric services are to be provided, it must be proven that revenues will be sufficient to pay cost of operation, maintenance, and a reasonable profit on capital invested."

Mr. McFarlane noted that in this Province the people do not have to face the evils attendant on industrial development, the worst of which today is labor unrest. As producers of raw materials they have to depend on their own ability to dispose of these to the consumers in other provinces and countries.

"We can face the future with confidence," he concluded, "but we must watch carefully the quality of our products, keep steady and apply sound business principles in the conduct of our business."

Hill scored twice, when he skated through the defence and out witted Richards by two hard shots. The third period was a battle royal. MacEntee getting a goal at the ten minute mark for Freetown and tie the game 3-3. However, R. Murray scored for Middleton at the fifteen minute mark while R. Reeves was serving a penalty of his teams goalie, E. Taylor, Taylor was given the penalty for deliberately holding the puck, first penalty handed out for such an offence in the history of the rink.

Dr. Nemec remarried in 1946, four years after his wife, daughter, mother, brother and sister were executed in a German concentration camp.

A journalist by profession, Dr. Nemec said he did not know what he would do. He had no home, no job, but he was happy. Canadian friends had flooded them with flowers, offers of help and places to stay. "Canadians are the most wonderful people in the world," he said.

Mr. St. Laurent asked by a reporter if they would be allowed to stay in Canada, said the question "has not yet come up." Dr. Nemec said he had applied for ordinary immigration visas for himself, family and staff through the External Affairs Department.
