Now it is possible for some of the most stubborn cases of deafness due to catarrh to be relieved by the application of the formula called Spantex. This treatment has been successful in many countries. Mr. D. D. 67 years old, writes: "I have used the treatment for weeks and my hearing is much better. The relief was prompt and long lasting." presentation in Parliament. "You have no one to speak for you." He stressed the importance of the qualifications of Hon. Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, but said that "in three long parliamentary sessions Dr. MacMillan has only raised his voice once, and it was on subject particularly affecting Prince Edward Island."

Mr. Hanson referred to his own championship of Island claims. He said he was glad to raise his voice on the subject. He said that during three sessions of Parliament mine should be the only voice raised on the subject. He outlined the programme shown by Provincial Liberal Legislatures in these days of war when the people are being called upon to fight their battles as never before.

On the whole, he said, Canada's part in the war has been disappointingly small. He explained the air training programme, but recalled that two years ago, on this very platform, he had proposed for the first time since the war that the R.A.F. schools were being established in Canada. Mr. King had refused to allow such training previously on the ground that it would interfere with Canada's status as a neutral country. He was pleased that today the Commonwealth Air Training plan has had "such magnificent results."

"But I am appalled," he added, "at the attitude of this Government on the manpower question."

TRIBUTE TO P.E.I.
"No Province in Canada has done so much for the war as far, has given so willingly of its best young blood, as has Prince Edward Island, in this war," declared Mr. Hanson in a tribute to the other Provinces had the same sense of national obligation there would not be any need for compulsion in getting our young men into the service.

"And the great indictment I make against Mr. King is that he and his party have done nothing to help the cause of isolationism in this matter."

So far, he said, "Mr. King has established a record of maladministration of the young people of Canada. But the country has paid a heavy price for this maladministration."

"When Mr. C. O. P. leader tells England that they have never seen an independence when India has declared her ability to govern herself."

He regretted that after three years, the magnificent Canadian spirit which has been shown in the province except at Dieppe. He did not know whose fault it was, but certainly it was not the men of Dieppe. He said that the men of Dieppe were not to invade Europe. It may be that the lessons learned will be the price of one thing only: we are sure that our troops conducted themselves with such bravery that the whole nation is proud."

Dr. MacMillan touched briefly on provincial matters, stressing the importance of being organized to meet any contingency. He referred to the successful conventions held in the afternoon, and added, amid applause: "We propose to put candidates in the field who will be able to stand in the Legislature and fight for your interests. He particularly emphasized the importance of seeing that our farmers and returned men get fair play."

He condemned the price ceiling on potatoes as "an express injury to this Province," and recalled the successful efforts of the Opposition in the Legislature in connection with promoting a petition against such a policy.

He also cited the treatment accorded Prince Edward Island in the matter of war industries and railway employment, and scored the federal members for remaining silent on these matters in Parliament.
