YESTERDAY'S STOCK AND BOND QUOTATIONS

MARKET GOSSIP

(By John L. Cooley, Associated Press Financial Writer.)

NEW YORK, June 21.—Stocks loafed through most of todays market, but quickened their step in the last hour when the recent deadlock was broken by a definite sag.

Rails again tried to lead the list higher. They were nearly successful during the first hour, but their improvement lacked conviction and omission of American Smeltings preferred dividends found all groups ready for a let down. Prevailing dullness made brokers rather gloomy, although it was pointed out that this would prove a blessing in disguise if it signalled final cessation of important liquidation. Doubtless the short interest has been substantially reduced, thus leaving prices susceptible to even slight increases in selling pressure.

Today's sales totalled 491,088 shares agan yesterday's eight year low of 388,165. Until the final hour volume was about duplicating Mondays.

Consolidated Gas, North American, Allied Chemical American Tobacco B, Santa Fe, Public Service of New Jersey, Union Pacific; Eastman; McKeesport; Westinghouse and Standard Oil of New Jersey lost from a major fraction to 1¾, while American Can, Auburn and Coco Cola were off 2 or more.

BONDED WHEAT

NEW YORK, June 21.—Bonded wheat closed quiet. Close: July 49¼; Oct 51½.

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, June 21.—Lack of support in the face of heavy selling from Chicago in the waning hours of today's market gave a downward turn to wheat prices here today. Prices at the close were ⅝ to ⅞ lower.

July eased ⅝ to 54⅜; October dropped ½ to 56½ and December receded ⅞ to close at 57⅝.

Export trade worked overnight and during the session was disappointing. With support on the light side there appeared to be no resistance available to take care of the burst of selling near the close.

The market was one of the narrowest of the season and through much of the session trade was at a standstill. There was no pressure to sell and little disposition to buy. Coming into effect of the new sales tax in Chicago has practicaly eliminated spreading with that market.

Reports today from Minnesota and the Dakotas told of damage from an increasing grasshopper menace. Congress is beng petitioned for assistance to fight the pests.

A call for no 2 northern to complete export cargo featured cash wheat trade, spreads were unchanged. Coarse grains were dull with prices moving within a narrow range.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 21.—Business dwindled on the Chicago board of trade today to what was said to be the smallest aggregate witnessed in many years.

Imposition of 400 per cent increase of taxes on dealings in future delivery contracts appeared to be chiefly responsible. Except near the end of the day, the wheat market appeared almost inert. A late break of about 1 cent a bushel was ascribed to selling on the part of farm board allies.

Wheat closed unstable ¾-1¾ under yesterday's finish, corn ¼-½ down, oats ⅝ off and provisions varying from two cents decine to an equal gain.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS

MONTREAL, June 21.—There were 941 cattle, 679 calves, 1868 hogs and 246 sheep and lambs for sale on the two Montreal livestock markets today, including about 800 cattle and 1,300 hogs held over from yesterday's markets.

Cattle buyers and sellers were dead locked over prices and trading was at a standstill.

The Salacia and the Manchester Citizen are sailing this week with cattle for Great Britain. To date 347 head of cattle have been received and over 20 cars reported.

Calves were unchanged. Common drinkers and grasers brought around $2 to $2.25 with fair to good quality calves around $3.75.

The bulk of the lambs offered were sold for $8 per cwt. Sheep were easing. An odd sale was made at $2.50 for good handyweight sheep. With common kinds as low as $1.

Hog trading was unsettled. An odd small sale was made at $4.25 to $4.50 for selects, bacons and butchers, fed and watered. Between 400 and 500 of the hogs held over were feeders.

Montreal Market Sidelights

MONTREAL, June 21.—Directors of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Candaa today deferred action on the half yearly common stock dividend.

An official statement, issued at the meeting, said estimated earnings including income from investments show a moderate surplus over operating expenses for the first half of the year, but no provision was made for the depreciation and depletion. Unsold stocks of metal are below those at the beginning of the year.

"General conditions are such that the conservation of cash resources is the only safe policy to pursue, the statement said.

"If, at the Ottawa Conference the existing preference be permanently established and the British market assured thereby, it will be possible to plan for the future in a way not now practicable.

"The directors have therefore decided to defer action on the dividend until the full year's results are known by that time the general situation should have been clarified."

MONTREAL, June 21. (By the Canadian Press)—Announcement that the current half yearly dividend was to be deferred caused a five point break in the price of Consolidated Smelters common shares on the Montreal Stock exchange today. The sag which developed in Wall Street during the final hour was not reflected here to any extent although the close showed eight losses compared with four leaders such as Brazilian Traction, gains.

Increased activity in a few of the leaders such as Brazilian Traction; Canadian Pacific and Montreal Power brought total sales to 5,349 shares almost 3,000 above those of yesterday. Brazilian on sales of 1649 held unchanged at 9⅝; Canadian Pacific, with 1,192 sales lost ¼ at 10. Dominion Steel B dropped ⅛ at 1⅛ on sales of 590 shares.

Montreal Power was up ¼ at 25¾; Smelters off five at 27; Bell up 2¾ at 82½; B. C. Power up ¾ at 16¾; Canadian Hydro Electric Preferred off ½ at 30; International Nickel off ⅛ at 37; and Winnipeg off ¼ at 3. Royal ¼ at 4⅞; Lindsay Preferred off 1 Bank lost a point to 129.

Bond sales totalled $16,300, with a higher tendency reported in the government issues.

Sterling closed at $4.1930 and United States funds at a premium of 15¾ per cent.

Grand Jury Charge

Mr. Justice Arsenault in addressing the Grand Jury, referred to the long service of His Lordship Chief Justice Mathieson, who was now enjoying leave of absence, and pointed out that it was the first time in many years that His Lordship had not addressed the Grand Jury. He was now on a holiday in Europe and Mr. Justice Arsenault felt all would be benefited by his experiences.

He noticed by the returns there were thirty-two in the County Jail, 10 for prohibition violation; 5 vagrancy; 2 drunks; 1 for driving a car while intoxicated; 1 stealing; 8 breaking and entering; 2 attempting to pass forged cheques; 1 stolen goods in possession; 1 appropriating money to his own use.

In referring to the unemployment situation His Lordship said he did not know what relation crime bears to unemployment, but when men are unemployed they are more apt to drift into crime. There was no excuse, he said, for any man or boy unemployed drifting into crime. He hoped that before the year was out conditions would change. He pointed out that after the United States elections were over a change could be expected. The Lausanne Conference would also aid in shortening the time of depression.

We must remember, he said, that we are very fortunate in this province. We have no such things as soup kitchens and other places where the unemployed were compelled to go to receive meals.

There was a number of cases to go before the Grand Jury, and all they had to do was to see if there was enough evidence to place the party on trial. It was not their province to decide whether the man was guilty or not.

His Lordship briefly reviewed the criminal cases, and in conclusion referred to the rebuilding of Falconwood Hospital, which he understood, would be in every way modern and up-to-date.

He gave instructions regarding the inspection of public buildings and asked that the Jury give an accurate report on conditions as they found them.

The Grand Jury then retired to take evidence in the criminal cases.

On motion of Mr. Alban Farmer, Mr. Francis E. Doiron, recently admitted to the Bar at Summerside, was appointed a Commissioner for taking affidavits in the Supreme Court.

Report of Grand Jury

To the Hon. A. E. Arsenault, of the Supreme Court of Queens County, presiding Judge of the June term.

The Grand Jury of Queen's County empannelled at the June term of the Supreme Court, report that we have visited the different public institutions and found in the infirmary on Richmond Street, thirty-one male and forty female inmates, clean and comfortably housed, slightly overcrowded; if electric fans were placed in some of the rooms it would assist materially in ventilating the rooms and make the air cooler for the patients.

The patients in the Sims building, numbering one hundred and twenty-four males, are comfortably housed, and under the circumstances are receiving as good care and attention as can be expected.

The infirmary of Falconwood, where one hundred and fourteen females, and twenty males are taken care of, we found the quarters were well kept and the patients are well provided with good wholesome food. The new refrigerator is a valuable asset in keeping the food in a clean and sanitary condition. We recommend a pressure pump be provided to secure additional fire protection.

At Queen's County jail we found confined therein four females and thirty male persons. We recommend that some provision should be made to keep the juvenile persons separate from those of more mature years.

The Sanitary conditions are good. The cells are clean and well kept.

JOHN MCKENNA,
For self and fellows.

Dated at Charlottetown this 21st day of June, 1932.

At the conclusion of the Grand Jury's report on public institutions His Honor Justice Arsenault thanked the jury for their services, which were most efficiently and promptly executed. He thought that never before had they as intelligent and sincere public-minded men on the jury.

The Court adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

mental nursing in Ontario is reported following establishment of an under-graduate course in mental Hygiene and psychiatric nursing at the Toronto psychiatric Hospital and a post graduate course in mental nursing at the Ontario Hospital Whitby. A nursing matriculation course has been proposed as a standard requirement for entrance to schools for nurses in Ontario. Approval to introduce the course into high and vocational schools next September will be sought from the Senate of the University of Toronto and the Ministers of Education and Health.

In Saskatchewan, representations have been made to the Minister of Public Health requesting that only registered nurses be allowed to hold hospital positions in the province and recommending the discontinuance of training schools for nurses in hospitals having less than 75 beds.

A loan fund for unemployed nurses in Alberta was sponsored by the Edmonton Graduate Nurses' Association. Nurses in permanent positions subscribe to this fund, safeguarded by a committee who grant loans to nurses needing financial assistance due to economic conditions. Unemployment had become the greatest problem of private nurses in Manitoba. The ten hour day was inaugurated "with more or less success" for members in this classification.

In British Columbia two principals of Vancouver are working with a committee of nurses to evolve a nurses course for the high schools curriculum. An effort was made to obtain a summer course at the University from granting this, although it will do everything possible to help nurses in the field to obtain their certificate by attendance at sessions.

Address To Nurses

"Our present system of nursing in Canada is fraught with both waste and injury, declared Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian Minister to Washington, as he addressed a public meeting at the biennial convention of the Canadian Nurses' Association tonight. He was speaking from the public viewpoint concerning the report on one survey of nursing education in Canada, sponsored by the Canadian Medical and Canadian Nurses' Associations and conducted by Prof. George Weir, of the University of British Columbia.

"Only three out of eight people in Canada so ill as to require the care of a trained nurse can afford to engage one," states Mr. Massey. "Two fifths of the trained nurses in Canada are unemployed. Nine-tenths of the trained nurses reach geographically less than half of our population.

"Can we escape a fundamental reorganization of these services so that this serious gulf between supply and demand can be permanently bridged," asked Mr. Massey. He thought it was possible. "It can be done, I believe, in only one way, by the assumption of this responsibility by our community as a whole and by the organization of nursing on a basis of a public service, giving the public the benefit of nursing at low cost and the nurse the boon of security in employment."

High Tribute

Mr. Massey paid high tribute to the nurses of Canada. It seemed incredible that the number of nurses and student nurses in the Dominion had increased from fewer than 6,000 in 1911 to more than 30,000 in 1930, although in relation to population there were fewer medical doctors in Canada today than ten years ago. This increase in the number of nurses, he said, "most certainly makes clear that there is no dearth of young women who are prepared to enter arduous service."

He congratulated Professor Weir on the latter's survey. "The thoroughness of the examination is most impressive. Nothing seems left out." He was in entire agreement with Professor Weir that the time had come when a history of nursing in Canada might well be written.

"I am glad to see Canadian nursing aproached as a national problem," said the speaker later in his address. "It is only in so viewing it that we can deal with it appropriately. Nursing is a peculiar relation to Canadian history and tradition. It represents a significant thread in a national fabric."

While representing Canada at Washington, Mr. Massey was very conscious and proud of the position the Canadian nurse occupied in the American community. "Nursing, as you probably know," he remarked, "represents one of three or four occupations through which Canadians have acquired an important position in the United States. The presence beyond our boundaries of so many nurses whose services are so eagerly sought, suggests the fact that some of the qualities which the outside world recognizes are represented by Canadian nurses, born in Canada, educated in Canada and trained in Canada. All honor to them."

In the intense specialization of medicine in the United States there was a definite evil to be avoided in Canada, thought Mr. Massey. "One of the greatest dangers with which society is confronted today, in my opinion, is the danger that comes when a specialist directs instead of remaining an adviser. Society would collapse without the expert, but when he is in control the whole will inevitably be sacrificed for the part."

Mr. Massey considered that Professor Weir seized the needle boldly in advocating a socialized nursing service based if possible on state health insurance, but the speaker felt it was not fair to say something must be done to re-organize the nursing system on an equitable basis. "In any consideration of state control, which may settle, it is to be assumed that each province must settle matters for itself," he remarked.

"State medicine, health insurance, socialized nursing, these are terms which I am sure will evoke murmurs of paternalism and socialism on the part of those who have honest doubts as to the wisdom of innovations." He thought there would be criticism of such action, as "weakening the moral fibre" of the people and suppressing healthy competition in the nursing profession.

Near the conclusion of his address and with reference to the Victorian Order of Nurses, Mr Massey said it was "one of those essentially Canadian institutions which make us proud to be Canadians."
