CALEDONIA PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH - The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper which was celebrated on Sunday June 30, was very well attended. Not everyone was able to get into the church. The Preparatory Services which began on Thursday previous were also well attended. And the messages which were brought by the Rev. Homer B. Henderson, D. D., of Grove City, Pa., were most helpful and inspiring. His simple and striking development of the themes, his fluent and clear delivery, and his magnetic and pleasing personality so impressed themselves on everyone who heard him that his witness to the Gospel was very effective indeed. On Sunday eleven people united with the Caledonia Presbyterian Church. Dr. Henderson left on Tuesday morning from Charlottetown and goes to Montreal where on July 4th he sets sail for Europe where he will travel for six weeks. His eldest son, Homer, Jr., will accompany him on his European tour. The Fourth Annual Summer Bible School of the Caledonia Presbyterian Church opens today at 9 o'clock. This year there are eighty pupils enrolled and ten teachers have been secured to instruct.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES FOR THE KING'S RECOVERY HELD YESTERDAY IN THE CITY CHURCHES

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

Notwithstanding the lure of the motor car, and it must be admitted that it does mean people away from attending the churches, still good congregations continue to be attracted by the Bible services. At the morning service, after the prayer, Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Raymond sang as a duet "O Divine Redeemer," which was very much appreciated. Rev. Dr. Ramsay took as his text Gal. 6-17, "I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus." Brands denote ownership. In many references Saint Paul shows Christ's ownership of him. Brands denote advertisement. The marks of the Lord should be manifest in his followers as a distinguishing badge, a visible sign. A brand denotes quality or genuineness, thus we have trade marks, Hall marks, Paul in 1 Cor. 13, tells of the characteristics of love. A brand is sometimes received with pain and so it is that we have not entered into the full meaning of our profession, unless we suffer with Him. We may acquire the marks of the Lord Jesus by obeying and loving His will, by long meditation and prayer. It is said of St. Francis that he had the stigmata of Christ's wounds on the cross. It may have been the influence of mind over matter or the result of intense meditation on the Cross. Be that as it may, we can have the marks grow on our spirit, and we may grow into this likeness by close fellowship with Jesus, by long meditation and prayer. The evening worship was a service of thanksgiving for the recovery of King George at which His Honor Lieutenant Governor Hearz attended officially and in uniform. His Honor was accompanied by Mrs. Hearz, and by his aide, Dr. S. R. Jenkins, also in uniform. Mr. George Johnson sang "The Lord is my Light." The text was from Psalm 21, "The King is the joy of thy strength. Thou hast given him his heart's desire and hast not withholden the request of his life. He asked life of Thee and Thou gavest it to him." Dr. Ramsay said in opening, "Today His Majesty the King sits to worship in Westminster Abbey and with his Prime Minister and representatives of Church and State, give thanks for his final recovery from a prolonged and tedious illness, and all through the Empire the people have similarly gathered in worship to praise God for his mercy in sparing him to rule over us. I should give thanks for the British type of royalty. He is not ruler of the Empire so much as the personification of it. He is the living symbol of the nation, a good man with head and heart and conscience. We are wont to take the Lion as the British symbol, but that is a symbol only of its strength and courage. The deeper and nobler qualities of our nation and Empire cannot be represented by any beast. Royalty with us is representative of a humane, wise, conscientious Empire, not only as it exists today but of the past. 2. We should give thanks for King George as a worthy representative of that royalty. He has as firm a seat in the hearts of the people as any of his predecessors. He is the ideal citizen, his personal integrity is unimpeachable, his understanding sympathy and compassion for the unfortunate, his devotion to duty, his self restraint, his courage, his domestic felicity, his piety, all give us cause for thanksgiving and praise. 3. Thanksgiving for his recovery. His illness was due to the performance of a patriotic and pious duty. We are to thank God for the medical skill which successfully combated the progress of the disease. 25 years ago a case like his would have been hopeless. Medical science is a revelation of God and for it we give Him thanks. We must thank God that He heard a people's prayers for recovery, for His goodness in saving the King to his family. And let us recognize God's hand in that recovery and let us be better patriots, more worthy of our country and our inheritance. Let us renew our vows to the Great King. Let us make Him the King of our hearts who liveth and reigneth forever.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The services at the Central Christian Church yesterday were well attended. At both services reference was made to the national thanksgiving service for the recovery to health of our gracious Sovereign, King George the Fifth. At the morning service the subject of the sermon was "The Secret of Real Living," taken from the text Phil. 1: 21. "For me to live is Christ and to die is gain." The evening subject was "Complete in Christ," taken from the text Col. 2: 10-12. The music of the day was as follows: Anthem by the choir, "Near to the Heart of God," Mr. C. Rupert MacKay taking the solo part. At the evening service the congregation was favored with a solo by one of Sydney's noted singers, Mrs. Robert MacNeill, a daughter-in-law of our well known citizen, Mr. R. H. MacNeill. The ordinance of Baptism was administered to two candidates at the close of the evening service. The service was closed with the congregation singing the National Anthem.

Fire At Prince County Jail

It is not so very long ago that there was an incipient mutiny in the Prince County Jail when an endeavor was made to put the prisoners to work on the road. On Friday last fire of unknown origin broke out under somewhat suspicious circumstances into which an official inquiry is to be made. But for the prompt action of John Grady, one of the prisoners sentenced at the recent sitting of the Supreme Court and now awaiting the result of his appeal, the jail would probably have been destroyed. The fire was discovered by Grady in the basement where it had made good headway in the joists and walls. He immediately informed the jailer and between them they managed to put out the fire without having to call upon the assistance of the Fire Department. Considerable damage was done by the fire and water. The walls of the first floor, where the County offices are situated, are very badly discolored by the smoke which came up from below. Besides the Government investigation an enquiry is being held by the insurance people. -S

AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

"We who have rejoiced oftentimes to think that our flag of Empire encircles the globe, will remember with still deeper feeling that to-day the sun will not set on our prayers and praises," said Rev. H. D. Raymond at the morning service of St. Paul's Church yesterday. This service was attended by His Honour, Lieutenant-Governor Hearz in official uniform, with his naval aide, Lt. George Buntain, Mrs. Hearz and Miss Hearz. Mr. Raymond, continuing, declared that first we must thank God that we have a King who with his consort, our Queen are pious, God-fearing people who find the strength for their physical task and the mandate for their sovereignty in Him. It is no light thing that the headship of our Empire is found in a man and woman of devout faith and life.

"Great events have marked the reigns of other sovereigns of the Empire and there have been great victories in peace and war, but none so momentous as have marked the reign of George V. His Majesty's message tells us that for him there is great cause of thanksgiving—the realization of his constant and earnest desire, the trust and confidence of his people. We look with him further to the consummation of a greater ideal, when love, prayer and sympathy will reach across international borders, when the love of God and of our fellow-man shall have away. Let us tell ourselves, how this can begin and end in triumph." Mrs. Frances Holl Trainer beautifully rendered a solo.

STORMS TAKE TOLL OF 28 LIVES OUTLOOK (Continued from page 1) information brought out by the completed demonstration. Demonstration Farms Established When the agreement with the Provincial Government, something more than a year ago, put full control of the Prince Edward Island oyster industry in the hands of the Fisheries Branch, it was decided to begin the establishment of demonstration farms at once. Notwithstanding that the Malpeque Bay waters had been almost barren of oysters of late years the Branch was convinced that a successful oyster farming industry could be developed. At the same time, it was realized that as conditions in Prince Edward Island may differ in various ways from those prevailing in other parts of North America, and elsewhere in the world where oyster farming has become a lucrative enterprise, some modifications in farming plans and practice might be necessary in the province. For this reason it was decided to employ an experienced and expert oyster farmer to take direct charge of the work of building up several demonstration areas. In order that there might also be scientific study of the local conditions and that practical and scientific work might go hand in hand, with mutual helpfulness, it was also decided to arrange for the appointment of a thoroughly qualified scientist to make investigations.

BALDWIN'S ROAD SCHOOL The annual examination of Baldwin's Road School was held on the afternoon of June 28, with a large attendance of visitors and relatives. The pupils were examined in the various subjects by their teacher, Miss Mary McQuaid assisted by Edward Baldwin, student of St. Dunstan's University, and showed by their ready and accurate answers that they had done an excellent year's work. After the examination the teacher presented the pupils with "School Day Souvenirs" and a prize for general proficiency awarded to Betty McQuaid. Miss Lily Carter read a very pleasing address to the teacher accompanied by a number of valuable gifts presented by Miss Margaret Corcoran to which the teacher fittingly replied. Remarks were passed by Mr. John Corcoran and Mrs. Peter Carter congratulating the teacher on her good work during the past two years and their regret at her departure. All present were then treated to ice cream, cake and chocolate candy, the last mentioned donated by Mrs. Peter Carter. Following is the address: Miss Mary McQuaid, Teacher, Baldwin's Road School. Dear Teacher:—Once more the closing day has come and we welcome with smiling faces the many pleasures of summer vacation. Yet each and every one of us can say that the day is tinged with sadness, for we have learned of your intention to discontinue teaching in our school, and we must say good-bye. We shall miss you, dear teacher! During the two years you have been with us, you have been so kind, so considerate and so earnest in your efforts to help us in all our undertakings. Both in the schoolroom and on the play ground you have been our companion as well as our teacher. We are aware that a teacher's life is not all sunshine and as we look back over the years, we can remember the many times we have caused you displeasure through neglected lessons or perhaps misconduct, but we trust that in your kindness you will forgive and forget. Please accept these little gifts a remembrance of your devoted pupil of Baldwin's Road School. May your undertakings be beset with few trials and your efforts be crowned with success. Signed, The Pupils of Baldwin's Road School

Additional Areas Cleaned off During last summer an area of considerable size in the bay was cleaned off and prepared for the "farm." As it is inadvisable to transfer oysters, and particularly young oysters, from the less salty waters of the upper portions of tidal rivers, an area was also prepared at Gillis Point in the Grand River, which flows into the bay, and it was here that the spat and mature oysters collected from different sources were placed. Additional areas suitable for spat collecting are now being cleaned off in the Grand and Bladford rivers on these areas, it is hoped, sufficient spat will be collected this year to meet all the requirements of the demonstration beds, and it will also be shown in what measure seed may be developed in the two rivers. At the head of these rivers a few mature oysters are still left and in order that they may be saved for reproductive purposes all fishing at these points is being prohibited. (Canadian Press) WIMBLEDON, England, July 6 - Henri Cochet, of France, won the British Tennis Championship, today by defeating his countryman, Jean Borotra, in the final match. Cochet overwhelmed the Bounding Basque to win in straight sets, by scores of 6-4, 6-3, 6-4. Signed, The Pupils of Baldwin's Road School
