Yachts Set For Fourth Race Of Series

PLAY OFF GAME WON BY BATTERY

Opening Tilt Softball Semi-finals At Georgetown Yesterday — Score Is 19-8.

Fielding faultlessly after a shaky start in the opening innings, and wielding potent bats throughout, 8th Battery softball team pounded out an 19-8 decision over the Georgetown team in the opening tilt of the semi-final series yesterday afternoon.

Trailing five to four going into the fifth the winners started their victory march in said frame and from then on were in complete command, although required to display some smart fielding to put down several threatening Georgetown rallies.

Power of the Battery team got the only homer of the game when he connected for the circuit in the sixth.

Unfavorable Weather For Race Forecast

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 21.—At 11 p. m., E. S. T., the moon hid behind some of the clouds which speckled the sky off Newport.

Perhaps the man in the moon wanted to shed a private tear because conditions for a resumption of the America's Cup races on the morrow were not more promising. There was little or no wind at that hour.

The official forecast for Saturday reads: "Cloudy; probably occasional showers; not much change in temperature."

Bingoes Win Softball Title

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 21.—Sackville Bingoes today won the Maritime women's softball championship, defeating Amherst Red Wings 28-20.

Outfielding and outplaying the Red Wings, Bingoes piled up their huge score with 25 hits compared with 20 for the home team.

The Red Wings used three pitchers in efforts to stop the tide of Sackville hits, but A. Bourgeois went the whole way on the mound for the visitors.

Leafs Win Three Straight

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Toronto Maple Leafs made it three straight over Rochester Redwings in the International League play-off series tonight, earning a 3-2 decision in 12 innings.

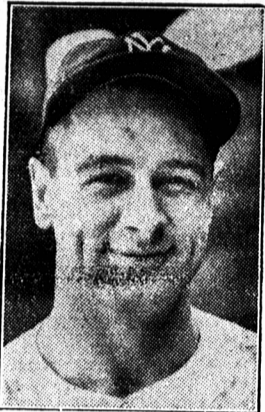

Toronto now needs only one more victory to gain the right to represent the International League in the little world series against the American Association champion.

ABEGWEIT MEETING

Meeting of Able Intermediate baseball team tomorrow morning, C.A.A.A. Grounds, at 11 o'clock. Important.

Amazing
One Sunday a little fellow was on a visit to his uncle and grandfather.
"Uncle," he said, after his grandfather had left the room, "how old is grandpa?"
"I couldn't tell you," answered his uncle, "without looking it up in the family Bible."
"My word!" gasped the child, "is he old enough to be mentioned in the Bible?"

SPORT BRIEFS

Leslie H. Pawson of Pawtucket, R. I., won the ten mile run at the Brookton Fair, covering the course in 52 minutes 32 2-5 seconds, nearly a minute faster than the previous record made by James P. Henigan in 1920.

At Tokio last Saturday, Shozo Makino won the National Collegiate meet final 800 metres free style event covering the distance in 10 minutes 7 2-5 seconds, a new world's record. The former mark of 10 minutes 15 3-4 seconds was set by Gene Paris at Cannes, France, in 1922.

A written guarantee has been given by the German Government to Avery Brundage, Chairman of the American Olympic Committee, that Jewish athletes will be accorded fair treatment at the 1936 Olympic games.

The Ford Motor Company of Detroit have paid $100,000 for the broadcasting rights of the world's baseball series which opens October 3rd. Baseball fans all over the country will be able to listen in either the National or Columbia broadcasting systems to the games play by play. $42,000 of the $100,000 paid will be shared in by the players in the series.

W. Wallace Myers, President of the International Tennis Club of Great Britain and an international authority on tennis, rates the following as the world's ten greatest tennis players: Frederick J. Perry, England; Jack Crawford, Australia; Gottfried Von Cramm, Germany; Henry Austin, England; Wilmer Allison, Jr., United States; Sydney B. Wood, Jr., United States; Rod-erich Manzel, Czechoslovakia; Francis X. Shields, United States; Agostino de Stefan, Italy; Christian Boususs, France.

Poland claims to possess the best flyers in Europe and it looks as though their boast has been made good, as in the fourth International Challenge round Europe race the results show Herzy Bajon of Poland leading with 1861 points, and his team mate Stanislaw Pionczyk next with 1821.

At Chessington, England, last week the English flier and parachute jumper Ben Turner, floated down smoothly to land on a lion's den. The lions were kept from grabbing Ben by trainers firing pistols and hosemen playing the hose on them until firemen arrived to effect a rescue.

Tommy Gorman has Sammy McManus signed on the dotted line, so Tommy says, and he ought to know. And it won't be long before Aubrey Webster will be keeping Sammy company. The astute manager of the Montreal Maroons figures that these two players who have been working so well together on left and right wing will be a valuable addition to his team.

The bicycle races at the Exhibition Grounds Thursday afternoon take us back in retrospect to the year 1895 when to the best of our recollection the first championships of Prince Edward Island were decided. Events of that Labor Day afternoon are still fresh in our memory.

Over 2,000 people were present Monday, Sept. 2, 1895, at the Charlottetown Driving Park. The weather was superb, track perfect and sixteen events were run off. A. E. Ings, now Lt.-Colonel Ings, was starter and among other officials, who are still in Charlottetown, we remember S. C. Moore, Dr. H. D. Johnson, Howard Dingwell and Frank Hutchison. The clerk of

ALL CANADIAN FINAL IN GOLF CH'SHIP

Ada Mackenzie Defending Champion, and Mrs. W. G. Fraser, Will Battle For Title.

(By Edwin S. Johnson, Canadian Press Staff Writer) (C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TORONTO GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, Toronto, Sept. 21.—An all-Canadian final for the Canadian women's open golf championship was assured today. Combination of brilliance and an indomitable determination, served as stepping stones for Ada Mackenzie, Toronto, defender of the crown and Mrs. W. G. Fraser, Ottawa, in their advance against plucky opponents.

Gunning for her fifth open title, Miss Mackenzie continued her uninterrupted march by eliminating the last of the British contenders, Molly Gourley, champion of Surrey County, by 5 and 4. Mrs. Fraser, however, had a more difficult assignment and not until the 17th green was she able to break through the defensive armour of Mrs. C. B. Ford, of Vancouver to gain the decision, 2 and 1.

Miss Mackenzie and Mrs. Fraser, the Dominion's greatest rivals for supremacy on the links, but otherwise boon companions, will battle for the title tomorrow over a 36-hole route.

Both finalists are right at home in the limelight of titular duels. Miss Mackenzie having won the championship title in 1919 and repeating in 1925, 1926 and 1933. She was also runner-up to Glenna Collett in 1924. It was as Alexa Stirling, that Mrs. Fraser gained most of her golf glory, winning the United States open three times. She was three times runner-up in the U. S. event while the Canadian diadem fell to her consistent play in 1920.

In the only meeting between the two stars for the open title, Miss Mackenzie took the decision at Ottawa back in 1925 by a 5 and 4 score.

By shattering the ambition of Miss Gourley to be the first Briton to win the championship since 1922, Miss Mackenzie kept her record clean in four successive international contests. She first blasted Mrs. John Arends, of Detroit, Mich., out of the picture, and followed up with victories over Mrs. J. B. Walker and Davis Chambers, two of Britain's most formidable match players.

Morley Frisco, 20 1/4 who recently hung up a world's record for three heats trotting over a half mile track, goes to the show rings at the close of his racing campaign this fall. This gelding had the same show with the Ohio State Fair recently. His great speed, gait, style and carriage caused some of the best authorities to claim that in proper flesh for show purposes and after the necessary schooling he would be a sensation.

Our Charlottetown Riding Club friends take notice of the above and also of the fact that Senator Crawford 2:06 1/4, another trotter, is proving an unbeatn entrant in the Ohio State Fair shows where some of the finest horses in the world are paraded. It may prove a surprise to many that the trotters can show so successfully as many are of the opinion that it takes a thoroughbred or half-thoroughbred to win in the show ring. There is a horse in the Southport that I think will make good if given a chance.

Golden 2:12. A few years ago he won the blue ribbon at Madison Square Garden ridden by Mrs. E. Roland Harriman.

W. J. Tomkinson was so seriously injured a few weeks ago while loading his horses at Christ Church, New Zealand, that he died. He was the leading driver of that far away country and among the notable horses he rode were Realm 2:03 3/5, Happy Voyage, 2:01 1/5, holder of the mile record on sod and Indianapolis, which set the two mile record for three-year-olds at 4:23 1/5. Our horsemen friends will not doubt be surprised when they read the above and note that away in the Antipodes, the bottom of the world, trotters and pacers go so close to the two minute mark.

Here's something that will make you sit up and take notice. L. Woo, executive director of the Industrial Bank of China and Peter Murroun, director of the Metropolitan Sporting Association, Shanghai, recently purchased 150 trotters and pacers in Australia and signed up fifteen trainers in that country with the object in view of inaugurating night harness racing on an important scale in Shanghai. What do you think boys of hiking for Shanghai? We should know as much about training and driving trotters and pacers as the Aussies. It would be a wonderful life for the winter anyhow as Shanghai is one of the greatest sporting cities of the world.

A fourteen year old boy, Maurice Caddy, turned in a sensational performance at the recent harness horse races at New Brighton, N. Z., when he rode the trotter Princess These a mile under saddle in 2:03 1/5. The American record for a mile trotting under saddle is 2:08 1/4 and is held by Country Jay, a thirteen year old gelding. He was ridden by R. Macey at Toledo, Ohio, in 1909. The above is therefore a new world's record.

Harry Brusler, who last fall deserted the trotters for the runners only to come back again to his first love, and who is a grandfather and answers to over three score years and ten, swept the entire card of four races at Burlington, Vt., the opening day and on the third day grabbed off three more events.

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Toll Gate 2:00 1/4 has two track records in the Maritimes to his credit as a result of his efforts at Charlottetown where he stepped in 2:05 1/4 and Halifax where he tramped that track in 2:06 1/4. He did not succeed in lowering the record of the Fredericton course, his effort of 2:06 being 1 1/2 seconds behind the track tab held by, according to our friend John A. McDonald, Single G. 1:58 1/4, Guesswork 2:01 1/4, Ruby P. 2:04 1/4, Janette Royal 2:04 1/4, Sir Roach, 1:59 1/4 and Margaret Dillon 1:58 1/4.

By the way, we heard the story of the Free-for-All at Fredericton from one of our horsemen friends who witnessed it. There was a big effort to beat Toll Gate, the other starters were lined up against him. The first heat Toll Gate showed decided superiority, coming the last quarter very fast and out-brushing the field. In the second heat Billy Strathmore was sent away several lengths ahead, Toll Gate being last horse. There was a terrible roar from the crowd who sensed unfairness on the part of the starter. It looked as though it would be useless for Toll Gate's driver to try, but try he did and he gradually gained until entering the stretch he was only two lengths back. He continued to gain but could not have beaten Strathmore. Just about fifty yards from the wire while still leading, the Strathmore horse took a shoot sideways towards the grandstand, crossing over in front of Toll Gate and finishing out in fourth horse position but nearly a length to the good.

Sweeney immediately went up and claimed the heat for Toll Gate, backed up by the roars and cheers of over 2,000 people on the grandstand. When it looked as though mob rule would prevail the judges announced Sweeney's horse victor and peace was restored. Rule 26 Sec. 9 reads: "When entering the home stretch the foremost horse or horses shall keep the positions first selected."

We received an invitation from Dr. Ogden M. Edwards, Jr. to visit Walnut Hall Farm tomorrow, Sunday, September 23rd, where a program has been arranged to begin in the late forenoon with luncheon served at noon. At 11:30 there will be a formal unveiling of the new bronze life-like statue of Guy Axworthy 2:08 3-4 and a dedication of the horse burial ground. The statue of Guy Axworthy has been pronounced a wonderful likeness by those who have viewed it in the making. The re-designed and re-year old horse burial ground will be thrown open for the first time. New granite headstones have been placed on the graves of the noted stallions and brood mares who died at Walnut Hall Farm. In the afternoon there will be a showing of

Both Contestants Equipped With New Riggings

Skippers Are Eager To Resume Series — Endeavour One Up On Rainbow Defender Of Cup

(By Andrew Merkel, Canadian Press Staff Writer) (C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 21.—Endeavour will go out tomorrow in further quest of the America's Cup with a brand new Genoa jib.

Not to be outdone, Rainbow will go out in defence of the trophy with a new and much larger spinnaker than she has been accustomed to sporting, borrowed from Yankee. Moreover, to ensure the new kite will be handled properly, Harold S. Vanderbilt has added to this after-guard no less a personage than Frank C. Paine, designer of Yankee, runner-up against Rainbow for the honor of defending the cup won at Cowes 83 years ago by the United States.

Decision to use Yankee's big spinnaker, which proved to be the Boston yacht's trump card in the elimination trials, is significant. Yankee, fitting to the same spinnaker, overtook Rainbow and trailed her over the finish line by a scant six feet in the final race of the eliminations. It must be remembered the New York Yacht Club feels it is fighting with its back to the wall in view of the impressive two wins already chalked up by Endeavour to the credit of all members of the Royal Yacht Squadron.

But it is doubtful if Rainbow will find an opportunity to break out the new kite in tomorrow's race. If the wind holds true the course will call for two broad reaches and a beat to windward. Of course the wind cuts all manner of capers in Narragansett Bay, as elsewhere, and may bring a downwind or even turn out to be a run down the wind. In which case Rainbow would be afforded an opportunity of flaunting Yankee's spinnaker.

Whether or not it will pull her as fast through the water as Sopwith's perforated parachute puffs the British challenger remains to be proved. Certainly it should do better work than Rainbow's own spinnaker which helped to lose six minutes for the defender in Thursday's run down the wind.

Today Endeavour's crew were put through their paces with the new Genoa, which Sopwith refers to as his guinea, because, it is said, it cost approximately $2,000. He can afford to be facetious about it because on Thursday an lifting Genoa cost him the race. Rainbow's crew too were instructed in the use of Yankee's huge spinnaker, although the defender did not leave her anchorage.

Thursday, after sailing a magnificent race to the outer mark, Sopwith found the breaks were against his challenger, but as he put it himself, he should not have placed Rainbow in a position where the adverse breaks happened.

The significant thing about that rounding the buoy and setting Vanitie's old Genoa, his speedometer, set up dash board fashion, forward of his binnacle, dropped from over six knots to around four. With a brand new Genoa he should fare better tomorrow, if faced with similar conditions.

Today was sunny and beautiful and a spanking north-east breeze that got as high as 18 knots blew across the ocean course off Newport Reef Lightship where the Endeavour sailed both early and late. Weather prospects were not as promising for tomorrow, however, with the forecast predicting an overcast sky and possibly light rain.

With a lead of 2 to 1 in matches, Endeavour, admittedly the most dangerous challenger Britain ever has sent after the ancient cup, was still the favorite at about the same figures. The experts feel that she's simply too fast a boat in too many ways to be forestalled overlong in winning the necessary four decisions. Rainbow has had a chance against her so far only in ghostly light airs.

The sloops race again tomorrow, starting at the usual 10:40 a.m. E.S.T., rest up again Sunday, and continue Monday unless one of the skippers again asks for a 24-hour postponement, his privilege at any time.

(C.P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire) ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 20.—Hard-pleading Pat Kelly won the St. John's Telegram 10 mile race here this evening for the second consecutive year.

He was closely followed most of the way by M. Brown, who finished just over one minute behind Kelly in second place.

Thornburn was third. Kelly's time was 55 minutes 49 seconds for the long grind, about four minutes slower than the record set by Clifford Stone in 1927. The road was wet and slippery to recent rain.
